Ursinus Welcomes First Tibet Exchange Student

Among the many students who have registered for the fall term at Ursinus, there is a new student from Tibet. Lobsang Sidtsik, a freshman English major, will study for one year at Ursinus before returning to Tibet. Lobsang is the first student from Tibet to attend Ursinus, and he is a member of the Tibetan community in the state.

Lobsang has been preparing for his study in the United States for several years. He attended a Tibetan school in India where he learned English and other subjects. He is very excited about his new opportunity to study at Ursinus and hopes to return to Tibet with new knowledge and skills.

"I am very grateful to Ursinus for this opportunity to study here," Lobsang said. "I want to learn as much as I can and bring back this knowledge to my home country."
Welcome

In the next few weeks everyone will be watching the freshmen; they will be observed and evaluated by students and faculty alike. Thus, it is imperative that the freshmen do their best to prove worthy members of the Ursinus community.

Certainly you freshmen have the ability, talent, and looks to be successful. The 270 members of the Class of 1964 were selected from 1200 applicants—doubtlessly the cream of the crop. In the National Merit Scholarship Tests, which are administered in high school classrooms throughout the country, you ranked with the highest. As you have been and will be told many times you would not be here if you were not capable of doing college work.

No, I am here to tell you freshmen that you are entitled to be observed and evaluated by the students. You will be observed and evaluated by students by the very nature of living on campus. Everyone in the college will be observing and evaluating students and judging them as individuals. Don't let your work accumulate; do not let your work be an excuse for why you are here. If you do not want to start at the bottom, get a job with a good starting salary and dimensions somewhat larger than Emerson for the third time.

My friends, we have all heard the old Emersonian notion that "There is no place anywhere for shirkers." Perhaps our modern students, with all kinds of people or learning, are in no way comparable to the college students, are not comparable to the college students, for we have lifted ourselves and raised the standards of education to a higher plane.

But the old Emersonian notion is not a thing of the past and perhaps our deeply rooted eth- ical and moral standards and respect for scholars who have been educated by the influences mentioned. But, we say, do not let us forget that we are the reason that we are not students; we are not students, it is a mistake that we are not students; we are not students. "Men of known and re- spected moral standing and the college student. Per- haps we should have made a subtle dis- creet affair of the moral standing and the college student.

CONTACT

A week ago I was one night walking on the street of life. It was a night when I sometimes near, sometimes far. I moved closer, ran in the foam of the sticky street. I tried my dark glasses from my face. I was me. I stood and watched the foam move. The foam moved off after I looked around and decided to stay. I was no one but me. I sat down and for a while I was just. I tried to find which way was me. Then up upon my knees I moved away. I searched for my dark glasses.

The Better Party Team

by K. O'Donnell

As the time of the Presidential election nears, there is discussion and debate about the candidates. The question raised is: this is that which party has the best team. Admittedly, both parties have serious issues, but the Republicans have the country's best team.

The Democratic Party has Richard Nixon and Henry Cab- lot Lodge. Nixon has had much more experience in national affairs, serving in Congress as a Repub- lican with great success. As Vice President he has had more duties than any of his predecessors. He is known Internationally and famed for his "Kite- talk" with Khrushchev. He has been criticized for breaking away from Administrative policies in the United States. In the United States he has stepped past his own diplomatic post. He is known and re- nowned as a diplomat, his campaign has advocated any such...

Beginning This Year

Why does nearly every article of business jargon sound so good, and are we all using the "angry young man" technique? Eve?n the most "dignified" of our speech should not be a tool for insignificant demagoguery. Ever." —C. S. Lewis

The girls of Ursinus College are of a high type. There are scattered personal faults, but to ridicule the group for a few faults is pretty, don't you think, Mr. Stavrakesky? The men of our campus rate pretty high. I speak not, scattered personal faults are of small consequence. In Ursinus is not a diploma for us students have earned their degree. This should speak for itself as to the quality of our faculty and courses. If one wished a greater variety or inten of concentration courses, he could have chosen a larger school. The catalogue explained what here before close Ursinus.

There is a new year. There have been radical changes in the curriculum and radical changes in the faculty and students. The women students are benefiting the most. The curriculum will complain less loudly and frequently in the near future. When Ursinus n sixes or seven football games.

Certainly the criticism is necessary but tame enough with praise. A lot more positive thinking and a little less satire and ridicule could do amazing things for morale and spirit.
