Ten Expectations
by Cindy Buchanam
I believe we can fully expect the following:

1. Expect him to come at night. Expect him to explain what he expects and what he expects them to do.

2. Expect him to be human. Expect him to be a scientist. Expect him to be a scholar.

3. Expect him to be a scholar. Expect him to explain what he expects and what he expects them to do.

4. Don't be surprised to find him talking about something other than medicine. Did you know he is an expert in the field of sociology? He is an expert in the study of human behavior.

5. Expect to find some surprises. Expect to find that you do not know what he is thinking. Expect to find that you do not know what he is feeling.

6. Expect to find that you do not know what he is thinking. Expect to find that you do not know what he is feeling.

7. Expect to find that you do not know what he is thinking. Expect to find that you do not know what he is feeling.

8. Expect to find that you do not know what he is thinking. Expect to find that you do not know what he is feeling.

9. Expect him to be a scientist. Expect him to explain what he expects and what he expects them to do.

10. Expect him to be a scholar. Expect him to explain what he expects and what he expects them to do.
