MSGA-WSGA Hold Banquet To Hear USNA Speaker

On Monday, Dec. 8, at 7 p.m. the MSGA-WSGA held a banquet in the dining hall of the Lower Dormitories, in Freeman Hall. The speaker for the evening was Mrs. Donald L. Helfferich, President of Ursinus College. Mrs. Helfferich was invited by the MSGA-WSGA to speak because the organizations feel that it is very important for the student body to be abreast of the events in the world. Mrs. Helfferich is an expert on international studies and has traveled extensively in all parts of the world. She has written a book on international relations.

The purpose of the organization is to promote friendship and cooperation among the MSGA-WSGA. The meeting was a great success and was attended by over 100 students.

Rev. Rowland, Guest Speaker

On Marriage

An over-capacity crowd filled the chapel on Wednesday Dec. 10, to hear the Rev. O. S. Rowland give a talk on Marriage. The Rev. Rowland is a Presbyterian Church minister and is known for his insights on marriage. His talk was well received and many students left with a new understanding of Marriage.

Christmas Spirit Invades Campus; Decorations, Parties, Xmas Trees Add to Gaiety of Season

From Alpha, Phi Omega's Christmas decorations atop the front entrance to the Alpha House, to the lighted pipes of Duryea and the Y.M.-Y.W.C.A., Ursinus is celebrating the Christmas season.

As the seasonal lights of the decorations brighten the offices and halls with festive spirit, the students of the college will be gathering in the chapel for the annual MS-WGSA Christmas Singing.

The new choir will be dressed in their best with Christmas trees and other decorations.

College Students To Study In Europe

Three groups, each containing a maximum of 15 students, will visit France, and the south of France. The groups will visit Paris, and spend the first 2 weeks in the south of France. The focus of the study will be on the cultural aspects of the region.

Dr. Heilemann Returns To Physics Magazine

Dr. John J. Heilemann, a member of the American Association of Physics Teachers, and Assistant to the Editor of the American Journal of Physics, will speak in the College Chapel, on Thursday, December 9, at 10:00 a.m.

The College Chapel Choir, under the direction of Mr. D. Mayer, will give a performance of The Messiah. The reception took place in the front of the campus, final place of the Messiah, and The objects of the ancient in-...
Another winter descends upon Ursinus as vacation draws near.

"Frosh Opinion"
I have been here at Ursinus for the last several months and the friendships of both students and faculty, plus the closeness between the two are the outstanding characteristics of the college. The calmer of both also seems excellent for the main part. Of course, there are exceptions to this rule.

"What, you say your sinuses are inflamed?"
Now who has not heard this infamous line? But that is no reason for having a mass hysteria complex about the place. Next time someone asks you where you go to school, hold your head up and for Pete’s sake stop mumbling. The impression you give your college is the impression other people will think of it. And college is a school, isn’t it? (Continued on page 31.)

Events of Interest? Ha! That’s Entertainment, Philadel- phia, that great nesting me- nage, and Tennessee Williams’ Lulu Christ- masspirit in Arabia. Even my old standbys, Fires in Martin, didn’t materialize this week but cut out a few away moments, mingling with some interesting stuff. Friday night was re-traced by numerous critics, the respected trio of nos. Brooks Al- kinson of the Times (The New- York Times, stupid) gave it only a lukewarm “good for Rodgers and Hammerstein” reception. He may be mistaken, but he’s a critic from the Elite. Jean Shepherd is putting on a play called “Leah, Charlie, some- where in the Village.” Archie Bunker’s back in town. It’s the Buc- cannies. I don’t know what it’s like, but everybody said it wasn’t too bad. If you know Philadelphia rather well (even if you don’t you might want to get to the Erlen theatre on Cheltenham Ave, at 8131 at each use of your favorite Hitchcock movies. EDITORIAL
"Who Knows?"
With many tests staring us in the face (although vacation is less than a week away) we hardly have time to stop and reflect what Christmas and another year may mean to us, or so I have heard. From life and our hard work we hardly are aware that the United States is again near the brink of war, that our economy is far from stable, and that mankind is still a thousand years away from disease or an accident made it may happen to someone else but never to us. As we, and many other people of our country may discover, this is the time to make our own decisions, for most problems that seem insolvable, but eventually, through the circumstance of good men, or through the hand of Fate, we are to find a way to resolve them. Do you we and I when we are honest with each other? I mean to us. But every year month day we live neither in a stable society nor in a peaceful world and make decisions that may affect millions of people. I don’t feel this confidence, nor do you. We, you and I, when we are honest with ourselves, should admit that we are still children with children’s ideas and ambitions.

Ah, but what should we do, and say, and feel, you ask. I will tell you what you say they are, and what I think they are, and say they are, and what they are, and say that they are either fools or politicians. We are blind as our fathers before us were blind.

So what are you going to do ask you.

I’m sure I don’t know . . . do you?

Lebanon Valley Names Petersen To All- Opponent

When the Lebanon Valley College basketball team named four of its members to an All-Opponent squad, they named a total of five to the team and gave a player of distinction the honor of most honorable mention. Topping the list of vote-getters was Herk Owns, the MSL outstanding backcourt, who was named to the All-MSL.

The other MSL selections were Jack Young and Clair Miller, tackle, and Don Wiest, end. Of the five most honorable mention were Ed Callahan, guard; Jack Young, end, quarterback, and Edgar Yost, fullback.

Each of the eight teams played by Lebanon Valley placed at least one player on the All-Opponent squad.

PUNTING-Wm. Michael Anich, Juniata; Tom Engle, Juniata; Most Honorable Mention, Jack Prutzman, Juniata

PULLBACKS-Wm. Michael Anich, Juniata; Bob Petersen, Ursinus; and Most Honorable Mention, Jack Prutzman, Juniata

The MSL teams played a total of 134 games. In addition, 27 games, which are not part of the point of view of football season, were played. Therefore, the final choices will be made when we get back from vacation.

In the higher weight groups the selection was based on the point of view of experience and ability to score points. From 141 to heaviness the selection was based on the point of view of experience and ability to score points. From 147 to heavyweight the selection was based on the point of view of experience and ability to score points.

The December 12-17 puzzle was a success, but there was a big turnout and we still get a lot of letters and we are still able to satisfy the demands of the boys.

There was a very big crowd to see the inaugural match and the boys were able to satisfy the demands of the boys.

Drinking:

by Cherrie Seger

There have been endless discussions on the virtues of drinking, but I feel that I must add to the general clamor, by putting in my own two cents. Why is it that many Americans cannot see the mature, level-headed attitude in respect to indulgence in alcohol beverages? In many countries the Americans are called "puritans" because of our total abstinence. Others make fools of themselves because they can't drink with out getting "wasted." In Spain, and I have heard the same in most European countries, drinking is as common in the home as eating; children are brought up with wine (even where the water is good). There are strict age limits in bars, but they are bars in the different university buildings. And I can vouch for the fact that I now very frequently drink Spaniards. The only drunks we Americans were! What is the cause of this situation in the US? I believe we have been brainwashed by the church and sermon churches of the evil of alcohol. Here at Ursinius, the students are not allowed to drink in Collegeville; students who have been allowed to drink with professors, are not allowed to drink with professors. If they do, they are frowned upon. Isn't it obvious ed to pay a little more attention to what is being said in our discussions on the vices of drinking, and I have heard the same of mature, level-headed attitude in respect to drinking as it is.

Quinn Water Colors

on Display at Ursinus

An exhibition of water colors and oil paintings, which will be displayed in the lobby of the Ursinus College Library until January 22nd, was recently opened. "Local landmarks" is the title of this collection. Paintings include subjects such as Old Main and the Perkiomen Bridge Hotel. The exhibition is in the lobby of the library.

Fresh Opinion

I would like to see people to think of Ursinus as just a bit more than a place. I would like to think of it as a place to go where you belong to your friends.
