THE CHRISTIAN COLLEGE
Churches and Church-related colleges of all denominations marked the observance of National Christian College Day yesterday. We have been aware since our reading of the historical sketch in the catalogue that Ursinus is a Church-related college, founded by the German Reformed Church and under the aegis of the United Church of Christ. However, we are not fully aware of the meaning or purpose behind this affiliation.

There are certain traits which distinguish a Church-related college. These colleges have a deliberate and conscious purpose and program. They are bound by origin, tradition, history and sentiment to a Christian communion;
the administration is aware of its indebtedness to that communion; the faculty is usually composed of active members in some branch of the Christian church; various means, provision is made for the individual's expression and cultivation of a vital faith. These traits in turn are derived from the underlying philosophy or need for education which is related to a faith. The founders of Church-related colleges believe in a purposive universe with God as a sustainer. They believe that human life is an ultimate end, as well as a means, to a Christian communion; they are convinced that human beings are trust from God to be cultivated for His glory and to be measured by the requirements of the Christian faith.

The education provided by a Church-related college

The girls' varsity badminton team remained undefeated for the third straight year when they closed this season's year with a 9-6 win over Penn. For the past five years the girls have only dropped one match—that being to Southwestmore four years ago.

Not only did the girls have a 9-6 team record, but they also held every opponent from scoring a single point in every match by an identical score of 4-2. Only one game each was dropped during the entire season.

Of the 12 varsity players only three will be returning next season. They are sophomores Mary Heffelfinger, the No. 1 singles player and the Delaware Valley Intercollegiate Singles Champ, and juniors Andy Rudney and captain Jennie LeCato of the No. 1 doubles team and Delaware Valley Doubles Champions.

Other events of some importance to the team that participated in during the season were the Delaware Valley Class B Tournament where Liz Wilke and Carrie Heffelfinger were runners-up in the women's doubles and Jeanne LeCato and her partner were runners-up in the mixed doubles. The Modified Atlantic Badminton Championships, and a practice match with Chestnut Hill College's Women's A Class team.

Brownback-Anders Meets Thurs., to Hear Bennett

Dr. Bennett, who graduated from Ursinus Pre- medical Society will meet on Thursday at 3 p.m. in F-12 of Pfaehler. The speaker for the session, whose son Bob Bennett is a freshman at Ursinus, will be Dr. Robert E. Benn- ett of Princeton, New Jersey.

Dr. Bennett, after graduating from Ursinus and the University of Pennsylvania Med- ical School, continued his studies by specializing in psychiatry. Dr. Bennett is now the superintend- ent of the New Jersey Neuro- psychiatric Institute. Dr. Ben- nett will speak on entrapments in the fields of psychiatry and alcoholism.

pages on the magazine-will auto- matically be entered in the competition. Details will be un- announced later.

According to the circulation men, THE DIAL will republish an excerpt from the film "The Color of Morning." Among the questions previously presented in THE DIAL were those by Thoma- mas Mann, T. E. Elwood, Anselm Wilson and D. H. Lawrence.

The new DIAL will appear in October, November, December and January and will be available through bookstores and newsstands and by subscription at $5 a year. The price of THE DIAL on newsstands, or will the magazine accept advertising?

What are some areas for improvement?

"For one thing, this town offers no intellectual pursuits; no art gallery, no symphony, no opera, no museums. Without a car or a friend with a car you are completely isolated. With a car, however, there are countless possibilities-twenty minutes to Norris- town where the gallery is located, to a central point in Philadelphia where the Academy of Music is located. After seven miles of driving, you will have to park public transportation. This is a complete repeat of the Philadelphia "trip"...it is a complete rest for the body and a complete rest for the mind."

What about the inferiority complex of Ursinus students? "I think this is the name. When a person is not capable of seeing the truth, of thinking what he sees, and placing it into its proper context, he is in a state of inferiority."

Some students would like a more modern, streamlined student government. "What would you do to improve the student government?" "We would like a more representative student government."

What is the most popular course at Ursinus? "The most popular course is the one you have just finished. It is the easiest one to get away with."

The best stores are those that are located in the heart of the community. They are often the ones that offer the best selection and service. They are also often the ones that are the most convenient for customers. This is because they are located in the heart of the community, where there are often other businesses and services that people need. This is why it is important to support local businesses. They are the ones that keep the local economy running and help to create jobs. They are also often the ones that are the most resilient in times of economic hardship. Support local businesses and you will be helping to support your community.

TRAVEL TIPS

A little traveling music, made to brighten your trip. (and ten to one you're trying to impress your friends who are ever so anxious to make your vacation as comfortable as possible, for instance from the post office bulletin board: "You're getting into the blue or riding the white of the world, a life of a capitalist!"

You'll be on your way by ship, by plane, remember, you meet the men in the middle of the Atlantic or waded into the center of some little island, to draw an individual; stay with this, the human spirit, brain and talent you make progress. Once you're on your way, man, or men, or a creature in the cocked hat, don't mix your drinks if this is the chain which has your mastery or may let it be. Remember that sea can be rough. Write easily, if necessary.

You'll find an elastic cloth is a great help on the job, and it is a good idea to have one in your various trips in Europe, and to have it in the city's place if you come. You can all use it as a weapon by quickening one or the other of your movements, in the short time you have to do it. It is a good idea to have one in your various trips in Europe, and to have it in the city's place if you come.
