Art and the Student

This Wednesday the YM-YWCA is presenting the first of three seminars on Art. This is an event that Ursinians will not want to miss. We will be privileged to hear an expert in the field of painting, Mr. Martin Zippen, and it is an excellent opportunity to gain knowledge in the area that so often the student considers a mystery.

Magazines, books and newspapers are devoted more and more to the discussion of Art from the appreciators standpoint. With the countless beautiful shows in Philadelphia and area cities, the most prominent being the Picasso exhibition at the Philadelphia Museum of Art, our interest is closed. However, to view these exhibitions intelligently and with understanding, the individual must have a guide. The "Y" is providing us with an opportunity to learn the task of us all.

Students at Ursinus who have the privilege of taking the History of Art course, have studied this realm of mankind's thoughts, experiences, and dreams. This one semester course, covering art from the cave dwellers to Picasso could most profitably be extended to a full year. As shown by the student's interest, the course's importance requires more than just a skimming, for that is the common place being taken by the beginning student.

The major of interest is the tendency to liken it to the place of the minor. We shall not do with the feeling that they are two very different fields. We shall not say that they have suffered with respect to the same degree in our educational system. We do not wish to convey the feeling that all of the great and ingenious Masters of our own domestic artist, who grace us with their colorful and richly colored things, are mere clever imitations of the great men of the past. The problems of the present-day world are different from those of the past. The problems of the past are different from those of the future. The problems of the future are different from those of the present. The problems of the present are different from those of the past. The problems of the past are different from those of the future.

ODE TO IDIOTS

By Sandy Piper

As I ponder weak and foolish things,
Over Psyche's oh so dainty,
Cone's a voice to hear more clear.
"Three for a ticket!—Make for it!"
Scrap the Psyche book, ditch the Lit.
For now I've given up the last of it.
Four hearts, five spaces, pass and double OR, passing 20.
Through the night we cut and deal,
"Gutsing" it out, we deal our deal.
The clanges sound to us.
Our "just one more hand" stretched to three,
Then from one we rush to the last of it.
And we begin from scratch again.

When the cards dim before our eyes,
We give up on this devilish game.
And stumbling back to lay our heads,
Deep in the night and dreams of fame.
And dream of studies left undone,
To HELL WITH HISTORY—WE'VE HAD FUN!

OATMEAL STOUT

"This is a rich beer with a chocolate flavor and a slightly sweet taste. It is a good choice for those who enjoy a classic stout and want a slightly more complex flavor profile. The beer is well-balanced and has a smooth, creamy mouthfeel. It is a good choice for a warm evening or a hearty meal."

ARCHER'S

"Archer's Oatmeal Stout is a rich and creamy stout with a malty, toasty flavor. It has a smooth, roasted malt character with a subtle hint of coffee. The beer is well-rounded and has a satisfying, warming finish. It is a good choice for a cold day or a cozy night in."

DEGUSTIBUS

"Degustibus is a social gathering where people can come together to taste and learn about different types of beer. It is a fun and engaging way to explore the world of beer and connect with others who share the same interest."

SOMETHING NEW... Under Ur sun (us)

The usable, and we will add that not the most utilitarian, useable, and ultra-useable, take of the students to the various aspects by this group.

The seminar, in an attempt to bring light to new subjects, has assigned its ever-worshipping group of experts to the highly controversial field of women's fashions. Field is the only word that the work was proper to use in regard to women's fashion, because there is a new crop every year, and the only thing that can be done with last year's models is to take them out and put them under the bed.

The Student Government has decided to hold a meeting on Tuesday, March 12, to discuss the problems facing the college and to make recommendations to the administration. The meeting will be held in the Recreation Center in the near future.

In subsequent meetings, the Men's Student Government will discuss joint policies with the Women's Student Government. This is a pressing problem and will be considered fully. Both this problem and the eligibility rule that has been passed will occupy the time of the joint meetings of the Men's and Women's Student Government meetings to be held in the near future.

The last meeting of the Men's Student Government committee was held on Monday, February 9, and the committee was discussed. The committee decided to take up the matter of the "snag" on the instrument that sharpens old nicks.
