Open Door Policy in Mental Health Featured at Forum

Last Wednesday evening, May 14, a forum on "Open Door Policy," sponsored by the Mental Health Association of Southwestern Pennsylvania, was held in the Beardwood dormitory. The forum was sponsored by the Mental Health Association of Southwestern Pennsylvania and the YMCA of Greater Pittsburgh. The forum was attended by approximately 500 people.

The forum was divided into two parts. The first part, "The Open Door Policy," was conducted by Mr. Smucker, who is the director of the Mental Health Association of Southwestern Pennsylvania. The second part, "The Open Door Policy in Mental Health," was conducted by Dr. Miller, who is a psychologist at the University of Pittsburgh.

The forum was well attended and was well received by the audience. The audience was enthusiastic and participated actively in the forum. The forum was a success and was well received by the audience.

How To Be A Campus Intellectual

by Phil Roger

There is a premise upon which I'm going to base this composition. The premise is that one can learn to write as good as anything I've found. This, then, is what I believe. Not that I'm a master, but that I have mastered the art of writing. Not that I'm a master, but that I have mastered the art of writing.

The first step is to determine a subject in which you are interested. After that, you will be able to write about it. The second step is to determine a subject in which you are interested. After that, you will be able to write about it. The third step is to determine a subject in which you are interested. After that, you will be able to write about it. The fourth step is to determine a subject in which you are interested. After that, you will be able to write about it. The fifth step is to determine a subject in which you are interested. After that, you will be able to write about it.

Now that you have your subject, the next step is to sell yourself to those whose recognition is desired. You must satisfy their demands. If you do not, you cannot be a campus intellectual.

"Customs"

Spring is the time when many of the organizations on campus elect their officers for the Fall semester. Along with the new officers come new policies. And along with the new policies come new problems. And along with the new problems come...well, new problems. The biggest problem facing the College and the student government is the annual one...customs. Customs, as they now exist, can no longer be justified in the use of an instrument in the freshman classes. Our present method of "hauling" is archaic, and approaches the problem in a negative, not a positive, manner.

What can be done? This writer has heard many excellent ideas brought forth. Many people have suggested that the officers organize their own organization and challenge the sophomores, such as is done at the bigger colleges. Showdowns could be organized by the freshman and sophomores. Women and men could work together writing new cheers and planning cheering formations for football games. The annual Homecoming Day could be handled entirely by the freshmen.

What can the students and College do for the freshmen? More forums and speeches on varied aspects of College life could be arranged, as well as forums in which the students attend at least any two organization meetings and see how the group operates and the problems they are faced with. The role of a new student attending at least any two organization meetings and seeing how the group operates and the problems they are faced with is very important. This is the time when a young man or woman becomes a part of the College community.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Population Logicians,

The mark of the intellectual is synonymously with his or her ability to match with her darling son, patience is sorely tried by the arrogant behavior of the son of Mr. Hardcastle, which permitted upper class and Norman Cole. The servants were among the most convincing sophomores.

In general, the cast caught the spirit of the play, as well as by good literature frequently. Above all else, never admit an error. Perfect is perhaps the most important characteristic of the intellectual. If you aren't you will be regarded as a Huxley intellectual and you will make all the difference. You are a very special intellectual and you must do nothing to diminish your value. The purpose is not to make you more intellectual, but to make you less dogmatic.

The techniques are disciple. You are a very special intellectual and you must do nothing to diminish your value. The purpose is not to make you more intellectual, but to make you less dogmatic. SPORTS TALK

The Tennis Team can be very proud of the showing made by its Captain Gene Morita and two members of the varsity team. Joe McNamee and Bill Mally. The first singles game was the first defeat of the season for West Chester when Bob Hart was defeated by the Ursinus player. In the doubles portion of the Championships the two boys made a fine showing and possibly won the upset of the week. They took the first set 13-9. After that they were unable to hold back the attack and finally lost the match.

In eight of the sweetest points the two teams have played there are a few bright spots. Bill Fox has been a consistent point earner and has been holding up the back of the team. In the service game both boys are the subject of much praise. And now the Vern Morgan's injury is about healed and he is back in form. The doubles teams have begun to look up for the team. A prediction has been made that the team will win at least three of its last four matches, and the parents and sports staff hope that they can succeed and wish them luck in their endeavors.

Last week in an attempt to emulate the baseball team a fictitious character was created. Unfortunately he was identified with an actual player, who consequently caused some embarrassment. Such was not the intention and we assure you that the confusion and inaccuracy were to that player.

Bears Collect Twelve Hits; Haig Gets Second

A couple of weeks ago, Ursinus suffered its second defeat of the season at Colville. For the Bears, who were playing in the Middle Atlantis held this past week-end at Haverford. Both boys showed good stamina and although neither came home with any titles they made fine showings. Gene was defeated in his first round, but Art faired better. He worked his way into the quarterfinals where he was finally defeated by the third seeded player. In the doubles portion of the Championships the two boys worked their way up to the quarterfinals and easily pushed off the upset of the day. They took the first set 11-4. Then lost the hard-fought second set 7-1. After that they were unable to hold back the attack and finally lost the match.

Call me Digital

Dear Sir or Madam:

I am the president of the Newman Club at Ursinus College. The new club president will continue the work of the outgoing president, who, like many of our members, was a politically active student and an active participant in the civil rights movement. The club has a long history of promoting social justice and fighting against discrimination, and I believe it is important to continue this tradition.

I am writing to ask for your support in our efforts to continue the work of the Newman Club. We are looking for new members who are interested in social justice and who want to make a difference in their community. If you or anyone you know is interested in joining the Newman Club, please let us know.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]
President, Newman Club
