Special Editorial

Last Monday in the WEEKLY an editorial appeared calling for a complete revamping of customs. Practically before the paper was off the press the suggestion in the editorial had become a reality. On Wednesday of last week the Men’s Student Government met and after a discussion lasting more than a half hour decided to throw out Ursinus of customs and called for a positive, not a negative, program.

This represents realizations which would take time and a motion was made and passed to have a commission work on this program over the summer. A number of professors approached the president of the MSGA and invited to help with their project. At this time (after the motion ridding Ursinus of its archaic customs program and not before) it was discovered that a number of months ago the faculty suggested that customs in their present form be continued. Both the faculty and Men’s Student Government reached their decision independent of each other. Surely this indicates that there is the time for a change . . . and not a slight change but a radical and complete change.

Any upperclassman who has witnessed customs for the past number of years and has taken any interest in the program will realize that the council is absolutely right in their decision. Customs must be radically altered. A gradual or slight change is impossible. This has been tried in the past four years and each time nothing has been accomplished.

Before the end of the year period things have slipped back into their old, worn rut. Alteration is not the cure . . . a new system is needed.

It has been advanced that next year’s sophomore class will not take kindly to this change, for they will lose their position of dominance. This will not be the case, for the freshmen will be just as willing to innovate and anger in the incoming freshmen they will command respect and admiration. This is what we are trying to get at.

Whether the sophomores accept this new program or not it will be realized. The Men’s Student Government has said it will accept it and will implement it with or without the help of next year’s sophomores, because the class will think it up and cooperate with them in a mature fashion for it will be to the advantage of both groups and the incoming freshmen if it is done. Before you let your emotions run away with you, consider what has been said above and what will be said to you in the future.

Dr. Cooke Speaks on Mental Difficulties of Our Children

Wednesday evening, May 14, the Thomas Cooke Center of the Youth Study Center in Philadelphia, in cooperation with the Social and Emotional Problems of Children and the Crusade for Better Schools, presented a program to the Ursinus and Community.

Ottenberg Speaks On The Problems Of Skid Rowers

Dr. Ottenberg, a member of the Philadelphia Area Mental Health Organization, addressed a combined group of students and sociology students and the Ursinus Boys’ Club in the annual banquet of the club.

Dr. Ottenberg spoke with experience with skid rowers. He has reasons for the existence of skid row and, consequently, skid row.

President, John Porrout, who is a member of Sigma Lambda fraternity, delivered the address.

THE URISUN WEEKLY

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mr. Editor:
I would like to congratulate the soccer team on their victory over the Academy in their game on Thursday. I think that our team is the best in the conference and I am very proud to be a part of it.

Sincerely,

Public Speaking

The first person to speak has already had the chance. Now it is the second person's turn. They have about 7,500 words per year to say. The good thing about this is that they can say anything they want. They can say that money should not be wasted on new tables, comfortable chairs, extensive bookshelves, or eye patches. They can say that the supply is good enough for our needs, and that we should not spend any more money on it. But if they want to spend that money on something else, they can do so. I am sure that the business leaders of the city would be happy to see that money being spent.

And since we are speaking of money, I would like to say that I believe we should continue to spend money on the city. This is because the city is essential for our survival. We need it to provide us with the necessary services and infrastructure to thrive.

IN INNER PEACE

by Anne C.

Maryland

A person who has made a sincere and consistent effort to bring about peace has an intangible center of rest and unity to the world. I think that the world is in a state of rest and unity because of the efforts of this person.

The poet, by his acts, has shown that世界上 There is no peace, only an idea of peace. If one is to achieve peace, one must first understand the nature of peace. Peace is not an absence of conflict, but rather a state of harmony and cooperation. The poet has shown that peace is possible, and that it is desirable.

Another person is completely opposed to peace. He believes that war is necessary to achieve peace. I disagree with this view, and I believe that peace is a more desirable goal.

The poet's sonnet in addition to its novel form of expression justifies the value and high standing. But without this year's leaders, the sonnet in addition to its novel form of expression would not have been produced. I think that the sonnet is a wonderful example of how poetry can be used to express important ideas.

There must be, however, an inflation of prize, partly because of the cost of the book, partly because of the cost of printing. But inflation is not the only thing that is wrong with the sonnet. The sonnet is also overlong. It is a four-line poem, but it is more than twice as long as it should be.

SPORTS TALK

Last Tuesday night the Varsity Club held its annual banquet. The main speaker of the evening was Mr. Donald Yonker, soccer coach of Devin Tech and a member of the Inter-College Soccer Rules Committee. Those who attended probably expected to get the usual sort of praise about that fun event which happened to Joe Hero in the Big eight game earlier. Instead of telling a bunch of pointless anecdotes, Mr. Yonker concentrated on the fun of enjoying the game, as well as it was possible. He pointed out the importance and value of spending time playing against other teams, and how much fun it can be when you know that you are playing against your peers and that your chance of setting any new records was finished are attendants on a regular basis. Washington College.
