At the close of the last fall term, there were 16 students in the course of instruction of the college. The principal smelting, it is believed, is in danger of being interrupted by the winter season.

The college is open for the winter term, beginning in January. The college is located in the northern part of the state and is situated on a hill overlooking the town. The building is of brick and is two stories high, with a large classroom on the main floor.

The college is under the direction of Dr. J. C. M. and is supported by subscription. The faculty includes a number of graduates of the United States College. The college is open to all young men and women of good character and ability, and is conducted according to the tenets of the Christian faith.

The college is in the possession of a number of books and other materials, and is equipped with a large number of instruments for scientific and technical instruction. The college is also in the possession of a number of portable printing presses and other equipment for the publication of books and periodicals.

The college is a member of the American Association of Medical Colleges, and is accredited by the American Medical Association. The college is also a member of the American Association of Colleges and Schools, and is accredited by the American Council on Education.
