The “Night of January 16th" To Be Curtain Club Fall Play

With announcement of the playbill, the Curtain Club will take the various steps in the construction of the setting, begin and finalize stage studies toward the production of “Night of January 16th" by Ann B. Ross. The director, according to Mr. H. Lloyd Brown and James Brown, is preparing the setting.

The important members of the cast remain to be chosen, but they forwardly seek to diversify by choosing and will be selected from the candidates available for their respective performances. The jury who will select the members of the cast are under the verdict on which will depend the play will be used. Initially, the decision was made without a heroine, but Dot Patterson, according to the production director, that of Karen Andre, defendant in the present murder. Although no hero, there has the principal male role, that of the prosecutor, which will be taken by Dick Hector. The rest of the cast is still under consideration.

"Y's" Plan for '54-55

Fall retreat, a costume ball, and dormitory functions were some of the events that occurred this week-end in the International Relations Club.

God, Our Help in Ages Past Theme for Week-end Retreat

Members of the Ursinus YM-YWCAs retreating from the University of Pennsylvania’s YM-YWCA, Camp Green Lane, last week, and returning this week, will have the theme of "God, Our Help in Ages Past" for their week-end retreat at the University of Pennsylvania’s YM-YWCA, Camp Green Lane, this week.

Transportation to and from the University of Pennsylvania’s YM-YWCA, Camp Green Lane, will be provided by bus. The students and faculty members are expected to return to Ursinus College on Monday, October 11, at 5 p.m.

Since the last fall retreat held by the Ursinus YM-YWCAs, the camp authorities have installed a new Pioneer YWCA building where the Ursinus girls will sleep. The new building was open on this coming Wednesday night at 6:30 p.m. as a Pilgrim YWCA. A group singing will be led by Mary Cilley, a member of the Ursinus Class of ‘54.

The next retreat will be held on the next week-end and arrangements will be made to attend the retreat next week-end. Arrangements can be made by the students to attend the entire week-end. Sign up with your dormitory advisor for an inexpensive, inspiring week-end retreat at the Ursinus YM-YWCA at the University of Pennsylvania.

Help in Ages Past

On Monday morning, October 11, the International Relations Club at the University of Pennsylvania will hold its first meeting of the year.

The theme of the retreat is "Heating Apparatus in the Building." The retreat is open to the student government so far this fall.

The air vibrates with cries of "Break." Freshmen stand undecided as to stay and take the story of sororities or head for the green Eastern gymnasium.

Isn’t there some way the freshmen could band together to terminate the meeting? After all, their only interest is to survive. What is the best way to do this? Is there a way of leaving this meeting, or is it mandatory to remain?

The meeting adjourned and the freshmen were left to face the controversial national topic this year. The group dispersed to their rooms and halls, some for a little practice teaching, others for a little practice teaching, and still others for a little practice teaching. The very able leadership of the Spirit Committee is why they have been chosen.

A Continental Observer

by David Garlich '55

The publication's policy making body is aware that the cost of living is increasing. Fred Godshall, a Junior through 1959, recently returned from a trip to Monaco and Lichtenstein. Shortly after his return, he was pressed by Yugoslavia, which was at war with its neighbors. Fred tells of a man he met who was touring Spain (Yugoslavia) which was still dominated by the Russian occupiers. The man spoke of the cost of living and the effect it had on his way of life. He was able to provide for his family with the help of a small wage. The food was basic, consisting of bread and potatoes. The prices were high due to the war and the shortage of goods. The man was frustrated by the lack of variety in his diet and the lack of food security.

Fred's itinerary included travelling mostly by car. He visited the Wye River, Fred related, is about 100 miles long and is navigable for most of its length. It is a beautiful and serene place. Fred also travelled to France, where he visited Paris and other major cities. He was impressed by the art and culture of the country and made a point to visit several museums and art galleries.

Fred's trip included a visit to England and Wales. The Yorkshire Dales, he noted, are incredible for their landscapes and hiking opportunities. He enjoyed the scenery and the challenge of the hike. Fred also visited the historic city of York, which is a UNESCO World Heritage Site.

During his trip, Fred met several American students and tourists. He noted that most American students were very interested in learning about foreign cultures and ways of life. They were eager to learn about the history and traditions of the countries they visited. Fred also noted that the British students were very friendly and helpful.

Fred's trip was a vacation, but he also learned a lot about himself and the world. He gained a broader perspective on the challenges faced by people in different parts of the world. He also realized the importance of traveling and the benefits of exposure to different cultures.

How I See It...

The PRICE of ORIGInALITY

Originality, whether it be in the form of a new invention or merely a simple theme for a composition, provides a person with tremendous opportunities for the expression of his ideas. Originality also provides a topic for debate which has gained man since he first attempt-ted to express his thoughts by means of a crude drawing on a rock.

Playwrights, a word which has drawn the downfall of some of the world's greatest authors and caused the exhaustion of many college freshmen, can be consoled by the simple word "copy".

The temptation to turn in a paper written on material already submitted by another person is great. It has always been a problem in colleges and will, undoubtedly, continue to be a problem as long as there are students to write theses.

A brief summary of the advantages of plagiarism shows that it saves time, wear on the brain cells, ink and paper, and to a lesser extent the time spent by the professor in reading the papers. The disadvantages are one in number and can be classified briefly; the loss of a career.

An entire lifetime sacrificed for a few seconds. Think of these advantages and disadvantages and see why you should never use plagiarism.

On American events

Captain Stadler, Hockey Gals Out to Beat '13 Mark by Connie Cross '57

As another sports year begins at Ursinus, fans are taking stabs at the win columns of their favorite team, as well as giving their wholehearted support to the hometown team. Sporting activity started for the fall season a week ago, when the band, under the leadership of Phys. Ed. Major, Aggie, took to the field for the first time, and knocked out of those one-stiff muscles a bit of dust from the summer vacation. As far as instruction is mostly all sports begin.

After dodging a week of rain, the hockey team began its afternoon drills. Head coach Eleanor Stoker continued the work which she has started. The team is started to play well at home and excelled to victory. The pitching and better pep rallies this week have turned out but the other team's defense has improved. As far as the girls are concerned, they can't do it all. Longing to be as President of the WSCA and Mary Jen, Jen brought fame to Ursinus as a singles champion in 1958. Jen was also a helpful tool to our noted basketball player, a steady doubles player on the tennis team, and a strong all-around player. We are all happy to have Jen Price with us. This year the girls will struggle in every way as a singles player, seem to have a lot of stamina and be able to swing in the. Another player, Edie Stadler, aggressive line player and center field player, has contributed her skillful talent and always improves the girls. Last year's star was Joan H också's. Jen'll show up, and with Joan H also's efforts, Marcia Casalino will be a steady doubles player. Jen will be assisted on the left side of the net by Beth Prince, an outstanding freshman. Jen Butler was a steady doubles player for us this past year and made All-College Standings. Jen will be a top player this year, and with Joan H also's help, we can expect Jen to make a great contribution to the team.

Spirit Committee主席的全队的队长。Jen will be assisted by Joan H also and Marcia Casalino. Jen will be the top player this year, and with Joan H also's help, we can expect Jen to make a great contribution to the team.

Fall Volley Ball Replaces Hockey In Intramurals
The girls fall intramural program got underway September 9th with two fast moving volleyball games. A strong Maples squared the girls from Colman 12-3 in the first game. The second game was won by the Grizzlies over Temple-Superhouse and Firecrackers over the Coyotes 11-3 on the top of a 21-21 score. The intercollegiate volleyball program, which will extend to Thanksgiving vacation, is under the direction of Dottie McKnight. It has been planned to take the place of the unsuccessful hockey intramurals of previous years. Two hundred girls have signed up to play, and have been divided into nine teams. This eliminates the usual dorm communism, but will result in less forgiving games. The program was designed for the purpose of being a recreational activity for all the girls, and it is hoped that they will take advantage of it.

Don't Buy Your Spirit, We Have It for Free!
by Louise White '65

As is customary during the open week of the season, the Ursinus College Spirit Committee has once again organized the 1954-55 school year. Under the capable leadership of Bill Wright, the committee has already made several spirit adjustments, and has made plans for many more.

At a recent meeting the committee welcomed new members and various committees. A large number of freshmen turned out but any others who wish to join will be accepted. Membership on the committee is free and the organization is self-supporting. This is made possible by the students selling spirit of the games, the sale of pep tags and football programs, and the like.

The committee exists chiefly to foster better student support for our athletic teams. They accomplished this by creating enthusiasm in pep rallies, making informative posters, decorating the stands, sponsoring dances, and developing lively cheering sections at the games. Along with arousing school spirit, this helps to form an attitude of good sportsmanship toward opposing teams.

The students appeared to be receptive to the first pep rally. The general consensus of opinion was that "It really rolled" after it had gotten started. Some liked it more, some liked it less, but all agreed that the band was out of those one-stiff muscles a bit of dust from the summer vacation. As far as instruction is mostly all sports begin.

The Bears Down Hill School In 5-1 Opener: Four Backs

Behind the Sports Scene

By Dick Bowman

Ursinus was defeated by Franklin & Marshall College last Saturday afternoon, 27-7. The '58 Ursinus team opened up with another TD, and was able to keep Franklin at bay. The defense was strong, and the offense was potent. The Bears played well, and were able to hold Franklin to only one point. This was the third consecutive game that the Bears have won. The next game is against a tough opponent, and the Bears will have to be at their best to come out on top.

Because of his outstanding performance in the Drexel and Bucknell games, Robert Kincaid has been chosen Star of the Week. Roberts' kicked off the game for the Bears, and his punt was returned for a 95-yard touchdown. His first touchdown was scored when he kicked a 52-yard field goal from the 30-yard line. The Bears were able to hold the visitors on the one-yard line, and Kincaid's successful extra point kicked off the Bears' lead.

The Bears are now 3-0 for the season, and are looking to continue their winning streak. The next game is against a tough opponent, and the Bears will have to be at their best to come out on top.

Thursday, October 14, will be the last time to join the Meistersingers. The younger students of Ursinus and student director H. John Neubauer are currently working on a new musical, which will be performed on the Ursinus campus. The show is titled "The Taming of the Shrew," and will be directed by student director H. John Neubauer.

The Belles dropped their first game of the season, 5-3, to the Ursinus women's soccer team on Saturday. The Belles were unable to keep the Bears from scoring, and were unable to score themselves. The score was tied at 2-0, but the Bears were able to take control of the game in the second half, scoring three goals to win.

WHAT A BUY — CHESTERFIELD King Size (at the New Low Price) and Regular

Like Ben and Perry you smoke for relaxation, comfort and satisfaction. In the whole wide world no cigarette satisfies like Chesterfield.

You smoke with the greatest possible pleasure when your cigarette is Chesterfield—because only Chesterfields have the right combination of the world's best tobaccos—highest in quality, low in nicotine.

In short, Chesterfields are best to smoke and best for you.
