Honor Systems Investigated

The work of investigating the fraudulent practices in the Selective Service System is being continued this year by a special committee under the chairmanship of Dr. John C. Compton. It is still the duty of the committee to investigate and generate a system of one-year rather than a system to the student body in order to better comprehend the actions of the committee.

This is their main purpose—the building of an honor system rather than a workable system which will be published in the future. The committee in order to get in on the ground and to get the structure of the system to the point where it is ready to be published. The new system will begin in the fall and it will be called the "Selective Honor System," a system that will be designed to prevent students from cheating.

In the general discussion at the first meeting, the students were divided over the honor system problem into two groups. The first group felt that the social aspect of the honor system would be the most important aspect. This group was able to convince many of the other students about the importance of this aspect.

The second group felt that the academic aspect of the honor system would be the most important aspect. This group was also able to convince many of the other students about the importance of this aspect. The committee is working on rules, regulations, and penalties for the honor system and is looking into the possibility of an honor system being implemented at the university.

Mr. Glenn believes that the degree of importance of the two aspects-social and academic—will vary from student to student. Therefore, the committee is working on a system that will be flexible and able to accommodate the needs of individual students.

Dr. Glenn is aware that there are many people who are opposed to the honor system. He understands their concerns and is working towards creating a system that will be fair to everyone.

The committee has been working on the honor system for the past year and has made progress. The system is now at the stage where it is ready to be presented to the students. The committee is confident that the system will be successful and that it will improve the academic and social environment at the university.

Observation on Honor System Plans

The student body has recently voiced its opinion concerning the proposed honor system at Ursinus. This opinion is particularly emphasized by the fact that the president of the student body decided to take a day off school and write a paper concerning this. The paper is now available to the members of the student body.

The Proponent of the Honor System

The President of the Student Body has been the leading proponent of the honor system. He has written a paper in which he expresses his opinion. The paper is available to the members of the student body.

The Opponent of the Honor System

The President of the Student Body has been the leading opponent of the honor system. He has written a paper in which he expresses his opinion. The paper is available to the members of the student body.

Boothes Shut Out Lehigh 1-0, Face Drexel, F-M Next

by Lee Lashock ’54
The Ursinus Bockerman bounded back into the win column after losing straight showdowns by blanking Lehigh 1-0 Saturday. Drexel invades Ursinus Tuesday and Franklin and Marshall entertain the locals at Lancaster in the season’s finale Saturday.

Zartman Breaks Ice

As usual Lehigh, the Bruins came through in the second period when Larry Zartman booted home his first goal of the season to provide the margin of victory. The Booms showed excellent form with accurate passing and speed. Led by the chancing and supported by the halfbacks, fullbacks and wings, the Grizzly squad carried the attack and pressed Lehigh goalie Rubin throughout the tense contest.

Local goal-tender Dave Burger again shut the door in the face of the opposition, and has certainly proven his mettle in his first season of competition. Special credit should also be given to Chuck Davis, Baker and Captain Gerry Cox for keeping the team in top flight condition.

An injury-riddled Ursinus eleven came to life in the second half to score a 19-0 victory over the winless Brooklyn Kingsmen, 19-0, on the latter’s rock-like field in Brooklyn. The Bears now stand at 5-2-1 for the season.

Carver Breaks Shoulder

The victory was a costly one, however, as the Carens of the services of their star halfback, Don Carver, who was forced to break the shoulder in the second period of play. The victory went to previous conferences to Bob Slattery, Jerry Nunn, Dick Backerman and Frank Rus, greatly hampered the play of the Bears.

Walker Boits for 12, TD

The first half was a slow-moving, dull affair. But at the start of the second half, it was evident that the Bears meant business. After John Conti returned the kickoff to the Ursinus 37, the Bruins marched 43 yards in 12 plays for the score, climax by Ken Walker’s 12-yard bolt into paydirt. Walker’s extra point attempt was blocked.

Success Story... AND HOW IT STARTED. Fred Birmingham says: “I’ve wanted to be an editor ever since I worked on a boy’s magazine at age 8. After being an editor of the Dartmouth literary magazine (The Dart), at my college, took up as a graduate student at Cambridge University, gave me a great insight into the editorial aspect of magazine work—after struggling as a newsweekie cub, cartoon and essay writer, advertising copy writer and trade paper editor.”
