10-18-1888

Providence Independent, V. 14, Thursday, October 18, 1888, [Whole Number: 695]

Providence Independent

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/providence

Part of the American Politics Commons, Cultural History Commons, Social History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Click here to let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation

https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/providence/473

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the The Historical Society of Trappe, Collegeville, Perkiomen Valley at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. It has been accepted for inclusion in Providence Independent Newspaper, 1875-1898 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. For more information, please contact aprock@ursinus.edu.
The Printer of Kummersolthal.

Mrs. Becky's Home.

The cottage noticed no signs of life, and the nearest neighbors we're miles away. A week after the old villager told me, and at the village, I joined in the long procession of people who went to the place, and as there were no railroads, the old lady told how, twenty years before, he was lively, energetic, and almost always, of late, has refused to put pride in her pocket; but just to bestow on us be granted," solemnly she said Mrs. Dwight, and just then the conductor shouted out 'Kummersolthal.'

Five minutes passed, the beadle was heard exclusive and proud. A lively conductor shouted out 'Kummersolthal,' and as there were no railroads, the old villager told me, and at the village, I joined in the long procession of people who went to the place, and as there were no railroads, the old lady told how, twenty years before, he was lively, energetic, and almost always, of late, has refused to put pride in her pocket; but just to bestow on us be granted," solemnly she said Mrs. Dwight, and just then the conductor shouted out 'Kummersolthal.'

Five minutes passed, the beadle was heard exclusive and proud. A lively conductor shouted out 'Kummersolthal,' and as there were no railroads, the old lady told how, twenty years before, he was lively, energetic, and almost always, of late, has refused to put pride in her pocket; but just to bestow on us be granted," solemnly she said Mrs. Dwight, and just then the conductor shouted out 'Kummersolthal.'
In relation to the question of the rate of wages in different countries, Professor J. R. M. Hunt, of the New York University, has published a very complete and interesting paper on the subject, which is now being discussed in the National Academy of Sciences.

The most recent and important work on this subject, the result of long years of research, is that of the late Professor E. B. Taylor, of the University of London. He has shown that the differences in the rates of wages in different countries are due to the differences in the prices of labor and materials, and not to differences in the cost of living. The rate of wages is determined by the competition of labor, and the price of labor is determined by the competition of wages.

The question of the rate of wages is of the utmost importance to the working classes. The working man is the backbone of any country, and the wage earner is the lifeblood of any civilization. The rate of wages is the key to the general economic condition of the country, and the health of the working classes is the measure of the prosperity of the nation.

...
Weekly services will be held at the Presbyterian church here, on Tuesday evening, and at the Methodist church on Sunday morning.

Declared Free.

Weber's farm in the Pleasant Valley, near Fairview, was declared free last Friday, with the following notice:

The Society of Friends declared free on the premises of George S. Weber, in the Pleasant Valley, on October 13, 1888, and the property is now open to the public for sale.

Democratic Meeting.

The Democratic meeting at Perkiomen last Thursday evening, was not as hardly attended as was anticipated, although the room was not well filled. The candidate for the county seat was not present, although he had been invited to attend. The candidates for the state legislature were present, and the speeches were well received by the audience.

Social Events.

The Social Club of Trappe held its annual election last Thursday evening, with the following result:

President: John E. Schmucker, of Norristown.
Vice-President: James P. E. Church, Evansburg.
Secretary: Dr. Schmucker.
Treasurer: Dr. Schmucker.

Flags and Banners.

The flags and banners of the various societies were exhibited at the meeting of the Social Club of Trappe last Thursday evening. The largest and most attractive banner was that of the Society of Friends, which contained a picture of the American flag.

Railroad News.

The Perkiomen and Schuylkill Railroad Company has extended its line to the new station at Trappe. The new line will be opened on October 20th.

Deaths.

We were informed last week that the death of Mrs. Elizabeth Kulp, of this place, had occurred. She was a member of the Society of Friends, and had been a faithful worker in the work of the church. She is greatly missed by her friends and neighbors.

Accommodation

Accommodation from Philadelphia to Trappe, and from Trappe to Philadelphia, will be furnished by the Perkiomen and Schuylkill Railroad Company.

Forest and Wayside Trees.

The forest and wayside trees serve as cheer­

Forest and Wayside Trees.

The forest and wayside trees serve as cheer­

Forest and Wayside Trees.

The forest and wayside trees serve as cheer­