Thinking Out Loud
by Bob Armstrong '54

FROM PENNY TO SEX

When you go to the movies you are aware of one very important factor. There is some- thing that you have to take into account: if one thing were omitted which you take very much for granted, it affects everything from scenery to story. That one thing is background music. Here are a couple examples which might prove my point.

When you see a house up a hill that looks exactly as if you had visited it, it has very little effect on you. However, if the proper music is in the background, the place might really look that it was haunted, or that a killer is around there. That same house might be made seem like a haven of beauty and contentment.

An airplane is heard overhead at night, and the place might seem that it is far from civilization. Without music you are not sure. Think about it.

A gray haired mother is handed a telegram concerning her son in Korea. Is it news that he is com- ing home? Is it news that he has been killed in Action? The background music which you take so very much for granted tells you the news.

A girl is seen on the beach in a bikini. Is this a very suggestive, very demure, very modest girl? Is she a siren, raucy, same thing same color? You know not beyond a doubt.

You see the movie last year called "The Thief"? Not a single word was spoken in the whole picture, yet you understood every ac- tion, every emotion of every bit of the plot. You know if the man in the corner went to see the agent without the spoken word. Simply, the background music is a movie by itself. In this exciting mo- tion picture it tells the people, it affects everyone in a movie.

Western Pennsylvania has even been given three assignments which offer a sneak preview of their future. The contest is limited to those who were not present last year for the promotion and art. Also, the organizers have given a chance to become one of next year’s stars. Each kid will get a complete set to realize one’s dream. It is a competition for the kids to realize the idea of making a picture for the downtown district in the community. The picture will be used in a department store.

This program provides wonderful opportunities for any girl interested in any magazine. It is hoped that there are several entrances for this project.

Further information concerning this con- test may be obtained in the Weekly office.

"HEY FELLAS. HE'LL GO TO LANSING-" "HE"... and the Glory of Lansing. Possibly, no one was ever more pleased or more time this holiday, for the past four years we've been the "Monday night" off through the efforts of a victorious team. We beacon the same good fortune to the brain class, however believe they'll make it, too, with the material at hand. Year 1953 is going in the corridor.

The fall running season is on again. At Ursinus, everyone surely the process of bringing girls, with basically the same ideas together. They also make a nice contact which can make after graduation. They are not cliques. That is something of which the girls on campus may not be proud. Only you can know, which to which you become most completely attached. Make your choice on this basis.

The public address system in the dining room is on the blink occasionally. Too bad—extinguish through douse. Perhaps a few letters to the Editor may get it into working order permanently, especially for non-scheduled meetings.

Old Timers’ week-end was a big and wonderful affair on campus. This particular one will be remembered for quite a while by a few couples. It will be, "Honey, remember the fall week-end at U.C.?—" as Charlie washes dishes while due piles the blue mountains, and while Kit dance sets down as old dad Bill smokes his pipe — and while Fred and Gert all holding hands in front of the TV set.

The Valley Forge Sing Quartet presented a varied program for Ursinus music lovers when it appeared for the second time in Bomberger chapel Sunday afternoon, October 18, at four o'clock. Members of the quartet were Jere Donath, violin; Joseph Brosh, violin; Erwin Groe, viola and Thomas Elmer, cello.

The quartet played with the same wonderful spirit that marked their performance here last year. The program opened with "Four Old Songs," Op. 56 in F major by Anton Dvorak. The quartet demonstrated their versatility by playing music of composers from different centuries and countries. The oldest selection was a minuet by Bach, an Italian of the eighteenth century. The quarter played "Weddingsong at Trolldagen" by Grieg, of Norway, and after a humorous bit of contemporary music, "Freiblick," by Inac, concluded the program with "Trum-

System of Alternates

This year Dr. Philip, the director, has worked out a system of alternate voices. In previous years there have not really been enough voices to work out the system effectively, but now there are alternatives for every voice. In concerts here at school or in nearby areas, the alternates as well as regular members will all work together, but for tours and larger engagements, it will be necessary to un-

Another Actually, the Meistersingers is a choral group consisting of about 56 picked voices. Near the opening of the school year try-outs are held for new as well as old members in the group. In this way, there can be a more complete turnover of voices and more people will have the opportunity to be in the chorus.

For two years students may take the course for credits but, of course, they must adhere to the same "cut rules" as for regular classes for students who are in the Meistersingers, and not taking it for credit hours, there is also a system of cuts. If a member cuts more than three times without legitimate excuse, he will be expelled from the chorus.

The Meistersingers Schedule includes Tours and Concerts!

About the Belles

By Pat Garrow

As often happens, complications have reached me—second-hand with the news. Such is life, and not always available for explanations. I don't know if my first-source is out, but for their benefit and the benefit of the public, I shall try to iron out the confusions that came—so to speak. The spirit of teamwork took over the sports editing of the Weekly has popped up again. We have been accused of favoring certain teams or fraternities in the sports articles.

The complaint is justifiable. If there is one thing that makes the complaint would like to read about a minor sports figure or about someone who did nothing to benefit the team, I have tried to write the game and game-related reports of the team. The particular game complained about—O.K., that's what they'll get.

The complaint first came to my attention during baseball and track season last year. Those boys who scored most of the team's points belonged to the same fraternity. Naturally they received numerous mentions. In baseball a certain town produced several of the outstanding hitters and pitchers. They, of course, also received due mention.

It is inevitable that many players who perform outstandingly on the athletic field make an earnest effort to receive credit. The line is just one. Jim Kuhn's name may be one of its football success stories. He has been stressed out as much as anyone in the game, even when the sports writers have not included his name in their columns. As is the case with many wounded players, he is also invincible that a writer must appeal to his reader.

Therefore anyone who complains about sports articles can usually blame himself. He gets what he wants, except in a few isolated cases. As for myself, so do the sports writers! And the funny thing is, they are often the same people who have their stories cut.

The past week has seen Operation Big Switch in the varsity hockey team. Not satisfied with the performance of her team in the varsity line, Coach Eleanor Beul has made several changes in the line-up.

Captain Marcie Merrifield has been switched to inner where he is expected to do better. He will be placed into potential scoring power. In place of the alluring Marjorie, Drexel's trio is Phyllis Blayder. Phyllis performed well in the jayvee game. Ruth Mayfield has switched from goalie to the varsity line-up in the backfield. She is expected to do well in her new position.

Coach Eleanor Beul has made several changes in the line-up.

I was asked to comment on the game against Albright which was last Saturday afternoon. The home team was defeated by three goals to one. After the game, the team was sent by the opposing team to the dressing room. Fortunately, several news girls were able to see the game.

In the first few minutes of play St. Andrews' left inner, Grace Asberry brought the ball in inside the striking circle and scored a beautiful goal. The score was quickly followed by another goal by the same player. In the second half, St. Andrews scored three goals, one of which was a beautiful shot from the left side of the goal. The game was continued by the home team, and in the last few minutes of the game, Ursinus scored two goals, one by Carol Merrifield and the other by Jane Dorn.

The game was played with great enthusiasm by both teams. The home team was well-composed and played a great game. The visiting team was also well-composed and played a great game.

Bakemken Win 3rd Game; Lose Fourth to Rutgers

by Isamar Schorsch

As the nights of the Ursinus hand floated away in the darkness, Wednesday afternoon, the Ursinus soccer team continued their victory of the current campaign by soundly defeating Stevens Tech 3-1 on their home field. The Bears were to serve to keep coach Baker's jack in the Addiction while the Bears were continued. However, the game could not be called a walkover;

The Bears led their rugged opponents throughout the game. The first quarter opened the scoring in the first quarter with a goal from five yards out; and Ben Betts followed in the next quarter with a goal from a similar distance.

The second quarter was marked by a brilliant goal from Dan Reese. The Bears led 2-1 at the half.

The Bears continued their offensive play in the second half, scoring their third goal on a spectacular play by Dan Reese. The Bears took the lead, 3-1, and never looked back.

The Bears are currently ranked 6th in the nation, and will face a stiff challenge in their next game against the University of Delaware.

Bears Defeat
on 7 of 10 field goals for 70 yards, while the visitor connected on 7 out of 8 for 21 yards. On the ground there was no question of who was the better. Ursinus rolled up 342 yards net, and Swarthmore cor­ vered 140 yards of turf. Leading ground wearer for the Bruins was Glock with 164 yards in 27 carries for a 6.1 average. Glock's total of­ fense was 164 yards. His point total to date is 41, ranking him fourth in the State.

Second ballot for Ursinus was Ben McLean who carried for 11 yards in 16 carries for an average of 0.7. John Conlin's 30.5 mark was the re­ sult of 22 carries and 44 yards. Ursinus has had considerable difficulty in making good those conversion attempts. Dick Glock has booted only 3 for 14 for 29%, hardly an outstanding average. But for those who would blame the kicker, remember that a lot of other factors enter the picture.

The Swarthmore game is a good point for illustration. Glock booted 2 for 6. However, his first successful attempt was nullified by an off­ side penalty and the second try was blocked. Later, a high pass from center went over holder Maliken's head; the fourth attempt and sixth try were blocked by on-running linemen. The third and fifth efforts consumed.
