The Provident Independent.
Thursday, November 30, 1883.

This paper has a larger circulation than any other in the county, and is published as the result of a recent movement among the most influential papers, feeling that the present business spirit is taking the place of humanity, kindness, and charity, which are so much needed by the poor and needy. The paper is now in a more advantageous position than at any previous time, and will be conducted in a liberal spirit.

A criticism on the recent election in various localities throughout the country indicates the desire of the people for a change in the political system. The elections were held on Tuesday, with a large number of voters casting their ballots. The voting was conducted in a fair and impartial manner, and the results were announced in time to reach the newspapers. The returns show a decided preference for the candidates of the Democratic party.

In the town of Pottstown, the election was conducted with great regularity, and the returns were received in time to be published in the newspapers. The candidates of the Democratic party were returned victorious, and their triumph was greeted with enthusiasm by the people.

The newspaper offices in the county were crowded with people, and the papers were sold at a premium. The news was received with great interest, and the excitement was great. The people were eager to know the results of the elections, and the newspapers were filled with reports of the proceedings.

A correspondent in Philadelphia reports that the elections were conducted with great regularity, and the returns were received in time to be published in the newspapers. The candidates of the Democratic party were returned victorious, and their triumph was greeted with enthusiasm by the people.
