A Ranger's Duel on the San Juan.

By JAMES C. RAYMOND.

It was during the war with Mexico in 1847, when General Taylor's army was marching to Mexico City, that the most remarkable and improvised display of arms was witnessed in the streets of St. Louis. The enormous column of General Taylor's army had been detained at Colfax, La., by a party of especial order from General Taylor for special service.

It was composed of the 32d Regiment, under the command of Captain Ridgely, who was a son of a Chicago dentist. The 32d was a body of gallant and brave young men who a few months before had been gathered on the deck of the Oreas in the East River, and who were now on their way to the war with Mexico.

The column was composed of about 8,000 men and horses, and the baggage train was composed of great quantities of baggage and provisions. The column was composed of a band of very brave and heroic young men, and it was composed of a body of men who were going to fight for the honor of their country.

Maple Leaves and Story Leaves, which reside at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Bundick, were observed blazing scarlet and gold yesterday. They are a beautiful sight to see in the setting sun, and one of the most attractive sights of the season. The leaves are a blaze of color and good health, and they are testimony to the fact that we are in for a long and healthy winter.

Big Patches.

C. C. Spade, the popular start-up of the season, made a good showing at the recent fair. He is a favorite with the ladies, and is expected to do well in the coming season.

Accommodation

4.48 p. m.

The town of Philadelphia is enjoying a good season, and all other books at greatly reduced prices. Dickens' complete works, 15 vols., well illustrated, $2.00. The Loomis National Library Association is now in operation, and all are invited to come and see the new library.

January Bloomage.

The opening day of the Bloomage Fair, which was held last week, was a great success. A great number of visitors attended, and the fair was a great success.

Natural Gas at Valley Forge.

A new method of generating natural gas at Valley Forge has been developed, and the results are very promising.

Surgical Operations.

At the Pennsylvania Medical College Hospital, Philadelphia, a successful operation was performed on a patient suffering from a severe case of appendicitis. The operation was performed under general anesthesia, and the patient made a rapid recovery.

Deaths.

A man was killed in a farm accident last week. The man was thrown from his horse and sustained severe injuries. He died on the way to the hospital.

Efficiency.

During the past year the general improvement in wages and working conditions has been remarkable. The wages have been raised, and the working conditions have been improved. The result has been an increase in efficiency, and the workers are now better satisfied with their work.

At Queen's Points.

The newsworthy events on the local market are as follows:

- A new bridge is being built over the river.
- A new factory is being constructed.
- A new school is being built.

Organized.

The Arcadia Basketball Club was organized last week, and the boys are looking forward to the season with great interest.
