The Eternal Schism

by George W. Pauld '55

I have just finished reading Robert A. Stewart's Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. It has given me a new thought process to the works I've written. It taught me to write a few lines concerning this:

A fantastic and unconvincing tale that begins with a man who has a change in his personality. The change is caused by a liquid which the man drinks every day. The liquid makes him feel happy. This brings about a change in his personality. The man is now split into two different people, Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde.

The change is caused by a liquid which the man drinks every day. The liquid makes him feel happy. This brings about a change in his personality. The man is now split into two different people, Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde. This causes problems for the man, as he must maintain both personalities.

The story is a commentary on the duality of human nature. It explores the idea that people have two sides to their personality, and that these sides can sometimes conflict with each other. The story is also a warning about the dangers of consumption and the dangers of losing control.

Jane Skinner ‘55 is Swimming Captain

The newly-elected girls’ swimming captain for this season is Jane Skinner, a blond vivacious girl who holds from Allebach. Jane has always liked sports of all kinds, in Easton High she placed basketball and baseball intramural games with the Girls Athletic Club. In her senior year she was a member of the Janta staff, Easton High’s newspaper, and was also secretary of the Student government.

Janie is in a B-A clean major and spends every afternoon in lab. In her spare moments she works for the Janta Committee.

When asked about her hobbies in addition to swimming, she replied that knitting could be considered one. Then she laughed and said, “I only taught me two and a half years to finish a pair of socks.”

Janie is certainly well qualified for the position that she will hold next year, for each summer during the past two years she has been a life guard at the Easton Municipal Bench and has been teaching swimming and life saving for a couple of summers.

Bouquets to Court Crew

Now that spring has really set in, aprons are in vogue. The boys have placed their opening baseball game, and the track enthusiasts are conditioning for their first meet at Havertord on April 30th.

The boys tennis team has been challenging for positions for two weeks in preparation for the season’s opener at Moravian on April 26th. The tennis court crew composed of John O’ Neil, Dick Howland, Bob Schreiber, and Bill Stanton under the supervision of Mag Webb has been working hard and doing a fine job in getting the courts in top shape for pre-season practice.

The newsmakers of last season. This was the second successive losing year and there is no reason to believe that in order for a team to win there must be a certain percentage of players that are good enough to win a championship. The way to win is by arranging a doubles’ team, and the boys that played varsity tennis last year are certainly a doubles team.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

April 9, 1954

For the Meisteringers:

I should like to extend my congratulations to the many flattering overtures received by the Meisteringers, which was really impressive.

Their co-operation, enthusiasm, and love of music during the entire trip was most outstanding.

The strenuous schedule of three and sometimes four concerts a day plus constant bus travel between cities might have been expected to result in frayed nerves and a shabbiness on the part of some of this cast—a credit to a fine group of students.

Their moustachios were shaved at every stop! Every trip can be called an unequalled success and the presence of Robert McCarty, James Bright and accompanied artists were an incentive in making the concerts so professional.

Primas College can be very proud of this splendid group of students for their fine reputation and artistic endeavor and I am proud to have them here.

Most sincerely,

William G. Hinz

School's Spring Concert in the auditorium at the end of the school year, an entrance to the building, Dave Weber, the young organist, took a walk into a tenth grade shop class. After enjoying a program, he tried another door with more success.

Charlie Ramsey enjoyed directing a group of students as they located the playground at Moormoor but for a while a small college group was lost. The quartet, due to a mistaken identity, found themselves turning up in various places of local interest.

The words of Bob McCarty, Stuyvesant Hall superintendent, that music can sum up the feeling of all the Meisteringers and that it was wonderful but "fat.

On the campus of a small college than in a larger college or university, in her recent opportunity to visit many colleges and universities throughout the United States.

Following her talk an informal reception was held. Jean Walker was well received on the campus and she enjoyed meeting her like her. Her approach, "living alguien act", was a very successful because she has an attractive poise, dynamic personality, and it is evident that she says what she truly believes.

Debating Teams Boast A Winning Percentage

The Ursinus Debating Club entered another victory on Thursday, March 18, when a double-debate between the national topic in Bomberger Hall with the debate being heard in America and the International topic in Bomberger, which the Imperials team was accompanied by a poise and a rally of opportunity in addition. The affirmative team, which was one of the largest for a debate in recent history, was composed of five girls, commencing their first year, and five boys, none of whom had experienced themselves very well against the opposition.

The affirmative team of Jack Born and Ted Hull and the negative team of John and Norman Scheiber both scored decisions over the visitors, but the negative team will gain a chance for revenge on Wednesday, March 24, at the same time as the Imperials.

The Ursinus teams are now sportmg winning records of nine won, five lost, and one tied, including one forfeited debate won from scholastic standing and have participated in extra-curricular activities, the age limits are 25 to 30.

Applications must be submitted to the Office of Student Services of each year prior to May 1, 1954. Any additional information may be obtained by contacting Dean Petti.
