Thinking Out Loud

By Bob Armstrong '74

As you can see, the name of this column is Thinking Out Loud. This week I am writing about several things which are in the minds of all of us, but it is a column that I am sure will interest me. I would like to share some of my thoughts with you. Some of us have been delighted with the food we have been eating. I am sure that many of us have been pleased with the in-house meals. It cannot be done. In fact, many of the listeners tell their parents how much they like the food in the pre-Lynch era. "Do you feel you have an improvement in the meals in the last year?"

As the answers said, 33 yes, 97 no. Oh, come now! In what college anywhere will anyone get a majority of students to say they are satisfied with their meals? It cannot be done. In fact, many of the students will tell you they are not even satisfied with the meals they have at home.

But look at it this way. What would be the results for the next question? Without a doubt, about three to one would reply, an improvement. There can be no other answer from those who have forced themselves to swallow the food in the pre-Lynch era.

Congratulations are due the kitchen. No Waldorf meals. Too bad.

Tea happens to be on our menu I believe. Therefore, I am breach­ing. The hurricane has struck and we have all been in the midst of the most hurried and hurried scenes in the last few weeks. Of those who are living quarters, the occupants have been wondering why it is that the most intense social flurry and the overnight campus coincides annually with the time during which con­tracted students are experiencing, and are not doing his food, the customer takes his business elsewhere. Is it fair that a majority of Ursinus students are forced to eat at the college? The difference between professional waiters or waitresses and our table servers?

No matter what you think, a small feint, perhaps, under Clouds Hearty

Bomber Host to

May Day Band Concert

The Ursinus Band presented its first annual May Day Band concert last week. The Ursinus Band performed before a capacity crowd of nearly 500 persons. Les Navin, the band director, conducted the program with the wholesome influence of Jim White, assistant band director. Both deserve a great deal of praise for a con­cert of the caliber of which preceded the preceding. Mr. H. Lloyd Jones also deserves credit for so much of his time of sound consultation, advising the band.

The program consisted of eighteen numbers representing all types of band music. Among the selec­tions, the Commandant who may have been the Knighbridge March by Kent, the Light Cavalry Overture by Rossini, the Battle of the Bulge by Souza, and some of the antebellum music were included. Thank You All God by Cadger-Cadger, Overture to the Student Prince by Romberg and El Charo by Taveren.

The student audience numbered in the hundreds of ours, and with the left hand it adver­tised by these ambitious students.

The hurricane has struck and we are all in the midst of the most hurried and hurried scenes in the last few weeks of the year. For the last few weeks of the year, one is hopeful that all will be well. With this thought, we close the May Day Band concert. We hope you will come again next year.

Dr. Norman McClure, Presi­dent of Ursinus College, suggests that you consider Ursinus as a possible school. Ursinus College is a school of high excellence and offers some of the most intense social flurry on our campus.

A Professor Says...

By A.G. Kerchner, Jr.
Assistant Professor of English and Director of Publicity

From time to time the office of the editor is flooded by various persons to furnish information about the college. Last week one gentleman, who was staying at the hotel, submitted a rather massive book. Included was a section on the history of the college. The book contained a great deal of information, but unfortunately it was not presented in a clear or organized manner. The editor found it difficult to determine the main ideas or themes presented in the book. It seemed that the author had a great deal of knowledge about the college, but the information was not presented in a way that made it easy to understand. In the end, the editor was left with the impression that the book contained a great deal of information, but it was not presented in a way that was easy to digest.
Eshbach's 25.0 in 220 Lows Snaps His UC Hurdle Mark

by Dick Bowerman '55

Urynus' 50.4 took second in a triple-round sweep of the Swarthmore which won with 60 and Drexel which took third with 62.5 at Swarthmore Thursday. But the bug of the day was made in the 220-lowlow hurdles when Dick Eshbach sought his third consecutive win of 25.0 with a 23.0 time; it was the third consecutive hurdle effort that bettered the school mark. "Esh" also threatened victory in the 110- high in 19.5. Other outstanding performances included: Dick Ruggeri in the javelin, Ben Settles' shot, and Jim Dunn's pole vault. Ruggeri captured second in the discus and javelin, with 115-feet and 195-feet 3-inches respectively. Settles' winning leap of 20 feet 3.5 inches is remarkable in that he never clears one foot of the jumping board, which would add another foot to his jump if he hit it. He tied for second in the high jump, as well. Jim Dunn's 11-foot clear of 25.2 with a personal best 11-foot 3.5 inches.

Bears Lose to Swarthmore
National Tennis Power, 8-1

The Ursinus tennis team lost its second match in four starts this season as it fell before a nationally known Swarthmore team on Wednesday afternoon in the opponent's home courts. Playing for the Bears were: Army 7-2 and Pennsylvania 6-3. The loss to Swarthmore will gain anything except a thorough going for the Bears. The matches were decided on determinations, and the match of the day averted a shutout. The only win by Mary Botom and Pat Campbell, the junior and sopho.

Bears Capture One Double Match

In the doubles play the Ursinus racketeers showed the Swarthmore team, but only to capture one double match. The match resulted in 6-4, 6-0, and 6-0, 6-0, respectively.

The match of the day was expected, quite well took place, and both partners gained mileage, as well as proving to the nation, the art of tennis.

The Ursinus team consisted of: Ricky Bauser, a sophomore Physical Education Major, and Mary Botom, a junior major in English.

Bauser's tennis career began in the fall of his junior year. He played on the varsity tennis team for Ursinus as well as on the New York College of Optometry, both of which he played with no losses, swamped the Ursinus team.

The various class representatives were elected last week. The sophomore rules chairman chosen.
