The girls' softball team allowed the alumni two runs in the seventh inning, but still took their first game in many months. However, they still have a clean slate to keep their undefeated record for scheduled games as they dropped Temple twice and doubled Swarthmore.

In the alumni game both the Belles met and failed to come through as they evened tonight's game. Temple was behind doubles matches Jen Price and Joan Jones fell the sting of Polly's pitching 6-0, 6-1. Eshbach, the only starter graduating this year. He has shown leadership qualities in practice and in actual competition, and won a third place medal in the Middle Atlantic last season. Eshbach, incomparable in the barriers, is a three year letter-winner and holds both Ursinus records:15.2 in the highs and 29.2 in the middle distances.

Phyl Stadler

"It is no wonder," said the speaker, "that those who would easily find first among such a faith-their own soul-they know it is the supreme enemy. But if Communism be atheistic materialism then I fancy that in your country and mine "travelers" are found in many places where McCarran and McCarthy never thought of looking for them. In closing, Dr. Kaye referred to Immortal Earth's three imperatives for rational life which aside for ever-belief in God, Freedom and Immortality, "and these there are one," he said.

"As you go forth to meet the challenge of life, give to the Soul of man-to your own Soul-the supreme priority. Hold fast to faults in our priceless treasure and stand fast, never submitting to the yoke of slavery."
