Extreme Campus Makeover

Message from the Dean's Office

In accordance with the Ursinus College Student Handbook, students cannot work on campus for more than 20 hours a week during the fall semester. This means that students are not allowed to work on campus during the fall semester. This is to ensure that students have enough time to focus on their studies and extracurricular activities. Students who are interested in working on campus during the fall semester should contact the Student Employment Office for more information.

Grizzly Guide

Grizzly News Editor

"I'm looking forward to a change, meeting new people, having fun, and everything that comes with moving out. I'm looking forward to freedom," Carrie O'Connor.

Four hundred and fifty freshmen like Carrie O'Connor moved into Ursinus College on Thursday, ready to leave home and experience college life as they made the transition into college life a little easier. The freshmen were in the top five percent of their class and the quality of the incoming freshmen was in the top ten percent of their class. The class also reflects a change in the admissions office.

"Admissions relied on Ursinus's reputation to bring students more than we ever have in the past and it worked. They are a bright class and behind the Quad. Staff, students formed a host of new friends and have an experience unlike any other."
Freshmen Move-In Experience: Great Expectations!

By Lisa Jo

On Thursday, August 21, 2003, the freshmen checked into Ursinus, their new home away from home. Entering the Floy Lewis Bakes Center at 10:00 AM and seeing the masses of one of the largest freshman classes of Ursinus brought back flashes of the anxiety and anticipation felt during my freshman registration two years ago. It seems as though such feelings are universal, for becoming freshman feel a mix of mixed emotions and expectations.

At the freshmen and their parents began the journey into the Floy Lewis Bakes Center, bright-eyed and lost amongst the sea of people, I was curious what the incoming class of 2007 were expecting from their first Ursinus experience — moving into UC dorms. Since they were all simply checking into the center and did not yet have the chance to move in, I asked several on freshm facing freshman what they anticipated about their moving experience into Ursinus and away from home. Most of the responses were along the lines of:

1. Having a clean room.
2. The roommates.
