Homecoming Massacre

Homecoming Court candidates lined up during halftime of the game on Sunday, unaware of their fate. The king and queen nominees were eliminated one by one during the weekend by an unknown assassin.

Main Street Murderer to Strike Again

What Goes Clap in the Night: Medical Mistake Infects Students

Ghostly Writer

A routine vaccination has left Ursinus students with a side effect they never expected. Along with new sweaters and scarves, the winter season also brings with it that nasty virus, the flu. Each year, more and more people attempt to prevent themselves from getting the flu, using various methods. Becoming more popular is the flu shot, a simple injection that can last up to two days. An even smaller percentage of people have mild side effects such as headache or low-grade fever for about a day after vaccination.

Unfortunately for the several dozen Ursinus students who chose to have the shot, a simple injection turned out to be more than they bargained for in a shocking turn of events. All of the students vaccinated with the vaccine this week must return to the Wellness Center within the next few days. Normally, the medical supply company sends a shipment of vials containing the bacillus Chlamydia trachomatis, the sexually transmitted disease Chlamydia. Chlamydia is a hard disease to detect, because people often show no symptoms.

navigates or symptoms. This is why it is so important for anyone who received the vaccination, as well as their sexual partners, to immediately visit the wellness center, even if they show no symptoms.

Those who go untreated may develop more serious problems, including cervices, urethritis, endometritis and pelvic inflammatory disease in women, and urethritis and epididymitis in men. Junior Una Condotta stated, "I was absolutely horrified that something like this happened. I can't believe that I went in for a simple flu shot and came out with an STD! I've never even had sex!" If treated promptly, these infections can expect a full recovery. Treatment consists of taking antibiotics.

In the United States, health professionals report they have Chlamydial infections in each year. The Department of Health and Human Services can inform your sex partner or partners that they also need treatment.

The Wellness center wishes to apologize for this incredible error. Lawsuits are expected to be filed against the medical supplier on behalf of those infected early next week.

In the United States, health professionals report they have Chlamydial infections in each year. The Department of Health and Human Services can inform your sex partner or partners that they also need treatment.

The Wellness center wishes to apologize for this incredible error. Lawsuits are expected to be filed against the medical supplier on behalf of those infected early next week.

In the United States, health professionals report they have Chlamydial infections in each year. The Department of Health and Human Services can inform your sex partner or partners that they also need treatment.

The Wellness center wishes to apologize for this incredible error. Lawsuits are expected to be filed against the medical supplier on behalf of those infected early next week.

In the United States, health professionals report they have Chlamydial infections in each year. The Department of Health and Human Services can inform your sex partner or partners that they also need treatment.

The Wellness center wishes to apologize for this incredible error. Lawsuits are expected to be filed against the medical supplier on behalf of those infected early next week.
Dear Ghostly Staff Writer,

Did you hear that? No. You can run, you can hide, but at Ursinus College, you've 'escaped' the fact there are some spooky occupants on campus. We'll hear about the ghostly rumors floating around campus that Ursinus is haunted and the whereabouts of these ghosts gameplay.

There's that blonde beauty who was hugging herself on the third floor of Shriver Hall. You may have even heard of her sidewalk, that adorable little boy who unfortunately got stuck on Main Street in front of Hobson.

These two friendly ghosts are regulars on campus and even befriended some students here. However, we would love to know more.

The Ghostly is produced by and for the students at Ursinus College. The Ghostly is supported by advertising and subscriptions and strives to be an accurate source of news. Any questions, complaints, or comments should be sent via e-mail to Ghostly@ursinus.edu.

Subscriptions/Advertising

To receive a subscription (two issues per year) or if you are interested in advertising within our paper, please e-mail at Ghostly@ursinus.edu or send mail to:

Student Subscriptions

SenatorPlace

Ursinus College

Collegeville, PA 19426

The price of the subscription is $5.00 per year to the U.S. and $7.00 to all countries outside of the U.S. The subscription fee includes postage. If you are interested in advertising in the Ghostly, please contact us.

Disclaimers

Unedited elders appear in this section representing the views of the Ghostly. All other articles represent the opinions of their authors and are not necessarily representative of the editors or this paper's position.

The articles published in The Ghostly are strictly fiction and are not intended to be seen or otherwise read by any of the students, faculty, or other readers of the College. Although the College has no control over the policies of this publication, we reserve the right to edit Letters to the Editor published in this paper.

Letters to the Editor should be sent to Ghostly@ursinus.edu. The staff of the Ghostly reserves the right to edit Letters to the Editor prior to publication.

October and Halloween at Ursinus College is definitely a homecoming week. It's the arrival of cold weather and costume parties. With scarves and socks on the brain, residents of certain houses on Main Street start to question all the ghosts about their houses that don't quite add up. Rumor has it that there are many doubts about these are haunted.

The line between fact and fiction gets pretty blurry around this time of year. Stories swirl and wander throughout the academic year. Direct any questions, complaints, or comments via e-mail to Ghostly@ursinus.edu.

The line between fact and fiction gets pretty blurry around this time of year. Stories swirl and wander throughout the academic year. Direct any questions, complaints, or comments via e-mail to Ghostly@ursinus.edu.

The truth about Shriners

Dear Ghostly Staff Writer,

When do you know about the tunnel? Nearly, almost ever since you walked through the tunnel. The only one that I know about the tunnel is the one that the Wall Street Journal wrote about.

Accordning to rumors, the tunnel starts from the basement of the quad and runs to the basement of the basement. While doing laundry in the basement, there are a number of doors that are always locked, which makes the whole laundry process all the more fun.

What is the history of the tunnel? It was not for a long time. However, it was never used. The head of the tunnel was a little boy and it was never found. We just never knew what happened to the tunnel.

We were never informed. We were not building an insane asylum. In order to get the blueprints released, the board for the hospital permission, the person behind it had to sign off. They did. They made it an elaborate plan to get the girl's father to sign off. To the surprise of the girl's father, he signed the papers. And so the decision to make it real.

This is going to be far from a perfect walking center for students. It's going to be a side hospital for people with unexplainable problems.

How can this possibly be? We left the direct line. We were ready to be informed. We were not building a building for patients in a mental institution.

We are fascinating. We are building an insane asylum. In order to get the blueprints released, the board for the hospital permission, the person behind it had to sign off. They did. They made it an elaborate plan to get the girl's father to sign off. To the surprise of the girl's father, he signed the papers. And so the decision to make it real.

Why don't we have those park­ing spots again? Because they are building a parking area! It's not.

We were never informed. We are building an insane asylum. In order to get the blueprints released, the board for the hospital permission, the person behind it had to sign off. They did. They made it an elaborate plan to get the girl's father to sign off. To the surprise of the girl's father, he signed the papers. And so the decision to make it real.

This is going to be far from a perfect walking center for students. It's going to be a side hospital for people with unexplainable problems.

How can this possibly be? We left the direct line. We were ready to be informed. We were not building a building for patients in a mental institution.

We are fascinating. We are building an insane asylum. In order to get the blueprints released, the board for the hospital permission, the person behind it had to sign off. They did. They made it an elaborate plan to get the girl's father to sign off. To the surprise of the girl's father, he signed the papers. And so the decision to make it real.

Why don't we have those park­ing spots again? Because they are building a parking area! It's not.

We were never informed. We are building an insane asylum. In order to get the blueprints released, the board for the hospital permission, the person behind it had to sign off. They did. They made it an elaborate plan to get the girl's father to sign off. To the surprise of the girl's father, he signed the papers. And so the decision to make it real.

This is going to be far from a perfect walking center for students. It's going to be a side hospital for people with unexplainable problems.

How can this possibly be? We left the direct line. We were ready to be informed. We were not building a building for patients in a mental institution.

We are fascinating. We are building an insane asylum. In order to get the blueprints released, the board for the hospital permission, the person behind it had to sign off. They did. They made it an elaborate plan to get the girl's father to sign off. To the surprise of the girl's father, he signed the papers. And so the decision to make it real.

Why don't we have those park­ing spots again? Because they are building a parking area! It's not.

We were never informed. We are building an insane asylum. In order to get the blueprints released, the board for the hospital permission, the person behind it had to sign off. They did. They made it an elaborate plan to get the girl's father to sign off. To the surprise of the girl's father, he signed the papers. And so the decision to make it real.

This is going to be far from a perfect walking center for students. It's going to be a side hospital for people with unexplainable problems.

How can this possibly be? We left the direct line. We were ready to be informed. We were not building a building for patients in a mental institution.

We are fascinating. We are building an insane asylum. In order to get the blueprints released, the board for the hospital permission, the person behind it had to sign off. They did. They made it an elaborate plan to get the girl's father to sign off. To the surprise of the girl's father, he signed the papers. And so the decision to make it real.

Why don't we have those park­ing spots again? Because they are building a parking area! It's not.

We were never informed. We are building an insane asylum. In order to get the blueprints released, the board for the hospital permission, the person behind it had to sign off. They did. They made it an elaborate plan to get the girl's father to sign off. To the surprise of the girl's father, he signed the papers. And so the decision to make it real.
Ghost Looms on Men's Soccer Field

A cold, brisk breeze flutters through the air as your hair stands on end and a slight shiver runs through your body. Then if you look closely enough to catch the eye of the man who stares at you, you realize you've seen him at least a dozen other times, each time in a different place, until you begin to think he's a dangerous place for a boy his age to be sitting.

Ghosts Haunted by Devils

The Philadelphia Flyers, known for their history and their rivalry as the Broad Street Bullies, apparently have a few ghosts of their own. They are haunted and haunted by Devils.

Three Devils, who originate from the Pine Barrens in New Jersey, are commonly known by their cries as "Swamp Things," have sometimes popped down the Flyers' drive in their efforts to win a Stanley Cup.

In fact, the Devils have been so successful in scaring away the Flyers attempts to achieve wins, the Flyers have won no single Stanley Cup since the Devils began haunting them.

It is said that these cloaked, devilish Devils have taken upon themselves the Flyers' spirits and guarded their victory from them. The Devils' presence has been so successful that the Flyers are dashed by the mists, "If you can't beat 'em, join 'em."

In numerous reports and reviews, the Flyers coaches and general managers have heard these reports and have tried to claim the Devils as their mini measuring stick.

In other words, if the Devils are going to become Devils in another form, the Flyers may have successfully terrified the Flyers and all other teams are left with the same results.

The high-flying Mighty Ducks quickly found their pond-turned drought-stricken Devils in desperate need of a Cup victory last year. However, the ducks found themselves haunted by these Devils as they tried to achieve their championship goals.

Before that, the glamorous Red Wings found themselves in a boggy trap by Devils they could not escape. It would seem that these infernal Devils have not only ruled the Flyers organization, but have found themselves in the national hockey league.

Disappearance of Two Ursinus Students

There has been speculation that the two runners who disappeared from the track last Saturday night were kidnapped by spirits who haunt the football field.

After interviewing several students, who wish to remain nameless, it is believed, but not talked about, that two spirits haunt the field and take prisoners anyone who is inside the gated area on that particular night every year.

Rumors have gathered over the past few years, and many thought the spirits had disappeared. However, for these two unfortunate students the myth became a reality.

No one has ever heard from the students, Ashley Brolia and Mike Appolon.

"My guess was bees because they were waving their hands around their heads like they were trying to get something away from them." "Then all of a sudden I just didn't see them anymore."

Nothing was left behind. Not one trace of the students. Police dusted for any evidence that they were even on the track. The only thing they found were a few finger prints on the entrance gate to the field. Authorities will continue to search the surrounding area in hopes for any clues on their disappearance.

"Anyway, I heard those noises, and I was already half way through the parking lot when I could have sworn I saw a guy and a girl running." "The way they were running seemed like they were being chased." "My guess was bees because they were waving their hands around their heads like they were trying to get something away from them."

"Then all of a sudden I just didn't see them anymore."

Nothing was left behind. Not one trace of the students. Police dusted for any evidence that they were even on the track. The only thing they found were a few finger prints on the entrance gate to the field. Authorities will continue to search the surrounding area in hopes for any clues on their disappearance.

"Anyway, I heard those noises, and I was already half way through the parking lot when I could have sworn I saw a guy and a girl running." "The way they were running seemed like they were being chased." "My guess was bees because they were waving their hands around their heads like they were trying to get something away from them."

"Then all of a sudden I just didn't see them anymore."

Nothing was left behind. Not one trace of the students. Police dusted for any evidence that they were even on the track. The only thing they found were a few finger prints on the entrance gate to the field. Authorities will continue to search the surrounding area in hopes for any clues on their disappearance.

"Anyway, I heard those noises, and I was already half way through the parking lot when I could have sworn I saw a guy and a girl running." "The way they were running seemed like they were being chased." "My guess was bees because they were waving their hands around their heads like they were trying to get something away from them."

"Then all of a sudden I just didn't see them anymore."

Nothing was left behind. Not one trace of the students. Police dusted for any evidence that they were even on the track. The only thing they found were a few finger prints on the entrance gate to the field. Authorities will continue to search the surrounding area in hopes for any clues on their disappearance.

"Anyway, I heard those noises, and I was already half way through the parking lot when I could have sworn I saw a guy and a girl running." "The way they were running seemed like they were being chased." "My guess was bees because they were waving their hands around their heads like they were trying to get something away from them."

"Then all of a sudden I just didn't see them anymore."

Nothing was left behind. Not one trace of the students. Police dusted for any evidence that they were even on the track. The only thing they found were a few finger prints on the entrance gate to the field. Authorities will continue to search the surrounding area in hopes for any clues on their disappearance.

"Anyway, I heard those noises, and I was already half way through the parking lot when I could have sworn I saw a guy and a girl running." "The way they were running seemed like they were being chased." "My guess was bees because they were waving their hands around their heads like they were trying to get something away from them."

"Then all of a sudden I just didn't see them anymore."

Nothing was left behind. Not one trace of the students. Police dusted for any evidence that they were even on the track. The only thing they found were a few finger prints on the entrance gate to the field. Authorities will continue to search the surrounding area in hopes for any clues on their disappearance.

"Anyway, I heard those noises, and I was already half way through the parking lot when I could have sworn I saw a guy and a girl running." "The way they were running seemed like they were being chased." "My guess was bees because they were waving their hands around their heads like they were trying to get something away from them."

"Then all of a sudden I just didn't see them anymore."

Nothing was left behind. Not one trace of the students. Police dusted for any evidence that they were even on the track. The only thing they found were a few finger prints on the entrance gate to the field. Authorities will continue to search the surrounding area in hopes for any clues on their disappearance.

"Anyway, I heard those noises, and I was already half way through the parking lot when I could have sworn I saw a guy and a girl running." "The way they were running seemed like they were being chased." "My guess was bees because they were waving their hands around their heads like they were trying to get something away from them."

"Then all of a sudden I just didn't see them anymore."

Nothing was left behind. Not one trace of the students. Police dusted for any evidence that they were even on the track. The only thing they found were a few finger prints on the entrance gate to the field. Authorities will continue to search the surrounding area in hopes for any clues on their disappearance.

"Anyway, I heard those noises, and I was already half way through the parking lot when I could have sworn I saw a guy and a girl running." "The way they were running seemed like they were being chased." "My guess was bees because they were waving their hands around their heads like they were trying to get something away from them."

"Then all of a sudden I just didn't see them anymore."

Nothing was left behind. Not one trace of the students. Police dusted for any evidence that they were even on the track. The only thing they found were a few finger prints on the entrance gate to the field. Authorities will continue to search the surrounding area in hopes for any clues on their disappearance.
Haunting at Ursinus: Past and Present

Lauren Polston
Ghostly Guide Editor-in-Chief

Several buildings on the Ursinus College campus were built over one hundred years ago, and some people believe a managed home is a home if over thirty years old, and some probably declarers. Hundreds of people have passed through the various residences, and since they were used to house students, in some cases private facilities may have inhabited them as well. For decades, students of Ursinus have reported strange occurrences and unexplained phenomena in the houses. Students over the years have claimed to hear ghostly voices and have even named some of the supposed ghosts.

Streeter Hall has a long, proud history. Originally named Zoological Hall, it was built in 1876 by President J.H.A. Bomberger. The building served as the college's first residence hall when it was completed in 1901. Bomberger died in 1910 while still in charge of the building.

The most famous of these ghost stories is the one involving the Streeter Hall ghost, who has been seen on many occasions throughout the years. Some believe that the ghost is the spirit of a former student who committed suicide in one of the dormitory rooms. Others believe that the ghost is the spirit of a former professor who taught at Ursinus in the late 1800s.

In addition to Streeter Hall, there are several other buildings on the Ursinus College campus that have been reported to be haunted. These include Oak Hall, the library, and the Physical Science Building. Each of these buildings has its own unique ghost story.

In conclusion, Ursinus College is known for its haunted past and present, and there are many stories of ghosts and unexplained phenomena that are passed down from generation to generation. Whether you believe in ghosts or not, the history of Ursinus College is filled with fascinating stories that are sure to give you chills.

Price Comparison: Movie Theaters in All-Time

New Scary Movies for Halloween

Alex Williamson
Ghostly Guide Writer

Do you like to be scared of the dark? Do you long for the feeling of chill running down your spine and down your spine as you walk through a haunted house? Do you love to scare your friends? Well, if you have a scary movie fan going through your body, you will not be disappointed by this season's haunted houses.

Within the few weeks leading up to Halloween, a number of haunted houses will be released. Not only are they different, but terrifyingly different. Here are just a few:

- "The Haunting of Hill House"
- "The Shining"
- "The Exorcist"

These are just a few of the many haunted houses that will be released this season. There are many more to choose from, so be sure to check them out this Halloween season.

There are many new scary movies for Halloween this year, and they are all sure to delight and terrify audiences. Whether you are looking for a scare or a惊, these movies have something for everyone. So, grab your popcorn, turn off the lights, and get ready to be scared.

Resident Evil 3 Remake has also received positive reviews for its graphics, storyline, and overall quality. The game is set in a hospital where zombies have escaped and are now on the loose. The player takes control of a survivor who must navigate through the hospital and find a way to escape.

Sort of a disaster, the game features some clunky controls and a few bugs, but overall it's a solid experience for fans of the Resident Evil series and horror fans alike. The graphics are good, the sound is decent, and the gameplay is engaging.

In conclusion, the new scary movies for Halloween this year are sure to thrill and terrify audiences. Whether you are looking for a horror movie that is going to make you jump out of your seat or a scary movie that is going to make you think, these movies have something for everyone. So, grab your popcorn, turn off the lights, and get ready to be scared.

Some sources of Resident Evil 3 Remake have also noted that the graphics and storyline are much improved over the original game, making it a good choice for fans of the series.

Summary of movie series in film like The King of the Black Water Project. All of these films will give you good Halloween horror. And if you're not into horror, you can still enjoy the shows. So, no matter if you're into horror or not, you'll have some fun.