Enrollment Drops to 805; Freshman Number 197

Robert's Returns to Ursinus as a Member of the Faculty: Pre-Matriculation Program Keeps Fresh, Informed

Ursinus College opened its 1950-51 season last Monday with an enrollment of 805 students, a drop of 49 from last year. The freshman class is down as compared to 334 in 1949. Because of the drop in enrollment the use of the Brith Rhoom ann has been discontinued. The annex has been reduced but the war as dimes will allow the students to use it.

The college will celebrate its annual Founders' Day exercises on October 18. The program will be held in Bomberger hall with the Board of Trustees and other guests of honor present.

TO THE Ursinus College...WRECK THE FORDS

Plans still under consideration for this year are the restoration of the ancient "Brain Surgery," which is a popular feature of the annual Founder's Day exercises. The "Brain Surgery" was removed from view in 1944, and now it is being considered for restoration.

The opening of Ursinus’s ninth decade finds this year one of destiny. New regulations for freshmen, women are:

1. Freshmen will give a gentlemen’s greeting, good morning, good afternoon, or good evening, as a courtesy.
2. Freshmen committees will be appointed to assist various campus organizations.
3. Freshmen women must wear customs apparel for the duration specified.
4. Freshmen women must show badges to the members of the customs guard.
5. Freshmen men must tip their hats by the button to all women and members of the customs guard.
6. Freshmen may be organized for their own amusement and that of the community.
7. Freshmen must use the longer path around the circle in front of Bomberger.
8. Freshmen must not use the east door of Bomberger.
9. Freshmen women must exclude liquids.
10. Freshmen women must keep jewelry.

The Y cabinet last week ordered a popcorn dispenser in the undergraduate lounge. Everyone seemed willing to accept even prohibition.

In order to reach the above objectives, proper machinery must be employed in the performance of customs. The custom officers must be selected by the student body that something can be done to shape these destinies and subdue those that are less desirable. The machinery must produce results. It must be kept in motion by all of us on campus as well as off.

Let’s not win a struggling gridiron and improved customs to change; let’s shape destiny.

Frosh Girl Hails from Iraq

By Susan Deitz ’51

If you’ve blinked at seeing a Freshman girl who lives Kirkuk, Iraq, as her hometown, you’ve probably missed something. Lois Glearner, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Jefferson Glearner, first missionary in Kirkuk, was recently received into Ursinus. In the heart of the oil fields of the Iraq Petroleum Company, a British firm staffed by American engineers, Kirkuk is a treaty town and as such has little life but the Lebanon mountains.

With the exception of a few early years when it had a Cornellian, Kirkuk has had no Ursinus students in its history.

Lois, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Jefferson Glearner, has been a student at the American Community School in Baghdad, where she frequently has been out of the country. "We have lived in all the Lebanon mountains, and even in Egypt and Palestine, where so much recent history has been enacted. This country has been done over by beat and train, and she adds that the Arab trains are a horror that she wouldn’t wish on her worst enemy.

During the Palestinian War, which Lois says she watched as a child, the rest of her family was living in Beirut. Because of the Anti-American feeling following the U.N. vote for the partition of Palestine is more strongly opposed by Americans in the Near East, the school was forced to close for fear of some sort of attack on the children. Families hurriedly preparing bordering days of enforced idleness. Lois and several college friends decided to stay at their homes during the evening services at the University of Beirut, an American school which was never out of session.

"Since we couldn’t do much else, we started singing and entertaining for the American community school at Beirut... With a smile, Lois says that she has come to love America, and that the People of America have been the most hospitable people she has ever met.

Camps Chatter

The return of campus last week found spirits exceptionally high—excluding liquids. Everyone seemed willing to accept even prohibition.

The spirit committee was working, and most effectively. And speaking of the Spirit Committee, they have really done a real and new and different dance — will be held Friday night in the gym.

A portion of the new regulations prepared for the use of the customs officers is:

- Freshmen must attend all meetings called by the committee.
- Freshmen must extend a courtesy to all women and members of the customs guard.
- Freshmen must show badges to the members of the customs guard.
- Freshmen must use the longer path around the circle in front of Bomberger.
- Freshmen must not use the east door of Bomberger.
- Freshmen women must exclude liquids.
- Freshmen women must keep jewelry.

The above rules are the extent of the hindering of freshmen, exclusive of their meetings, and should be enforced by all upperclassmen.

In order to retain support, the customs guard must be enforced by all. Any attempt to avoid application of the above rules must be reported to the Women’s Student Council.

Freshman Women in New Brunswick, New Jersey, announces the engagement of her daughter, Jean, to John Bower, son of Mrs. Bower-Daniels of Reading, and daughter, Jacqueline, to William Walls, son of Dr. and Mrs. Colin Walls of New Jersey. Both Miss Johnson and Walls are members of the class of ’51.

Y Reception Committee Expands Activity: Wins Plaudits for Its Freshmen Program

The Y reception committee, organized on campus last year, is continuing its tradition of conducting week-end tours, expanding its work during the recent pre-orientation program to aid in welcoming and orienting freshmen. The project was termed so great a success that it will be continued in the future. It was praised by both Registrar Phillips and Dean

Ursinus Grad Gains Bowling Green Position

Barbara J. Schaefer, Webster Grove, Missouri, former vice-chairman of the World Christian Youth Commission, has been appointed associate director of the Student Christian Fellowship at Bowling Green State University, Bowling Green, Ohio. She is the daughter of Rev. Dr. Paul Eugene Schaefer, Ursinus '26, executive secretary of the Board of National Missions of the Evangelical and Reformed church.

For the past two years she has been a student at Yale Divinity School, during which time she worked part time as New Haven YWCA teen-age group worker and as director of week-day religious education at Fair Haven Junior High School.

During the summer of 1950 Miss Schaefer attended the WCYC meeting in Switzerland, two work camp in France and the first assembly of the World Council of Churches at Amsterdam. The following summer she returned to Europe as co-chairman of the European-American Student Seminar of the World Student Christian Federation and served director of the Europe study tours in England, Switzerland and Germany.

While at Ursinus she was on the editorial staff of the Lantern, and was active in the YWCA and the IRC.

Public Causes Problems For 'Seeing Eye' Dogs

Ed Ruch and Bill Van Horn claim that the traffic of seeing eye dogs is even greater peril than the traffic of automobiles. Ruch's 18-month-old seeing eye dog, "Spar," was graduated four months ago from the Seeing Eye studio-cottage the first week in October. "Spar," who died August 20, 1950, The Coca-Cola Company IY 1950, was a small thing voluntarily - make a small thing voluntary.

The freshmen and their parents were shown through the Pfahler hall of science, Bumberger hall, the gym, and some dormitories. Then the committee assisted the new comers in whichever way help was needed most.

Dick Lytle '51 is chairman of the group. Other committee members are: Bob Heider '51, Paul Schelter '51, Jim Johnson '51, Don Brown '51, Jack Christ '51, Aubre Givler '51, Elaine Kerr '52, Carolyn Herber '52, Earne Heckman '52, Mabel Faust '91, and Nancy Matthewson '35.

The Y's Campus Affairs commission also participated in the program.

The freshmen and their parents are invited to join the group, which will leave Ursinus at 6:45 p.m. Everyone planning to go must meet in room 3 on Tuesday at noon.

Any students interested in international relations and freshmen, especially those majoring in history, political science, and economics, are urged to attend the organizational meeting of the International Relations club on Tuesday, Oct. 10, at 6:45 p.m. in the faculty room of the library.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 1...THE PUFFIN BIRD

In Nashville, Tennessee, there is always a friendly gathering of Vanderbilt University students at the Vanderbilt Center on the campus. The face of every one of these students, who carry any kind of cigarettes, is replaced by the Puffin Bird. This is because Coca-Cola helps make(get together) something to remember. As a refreshing pause does not go unused, or on a Saturday night does Coca-Cola belong.

"What's all the huffin' and puffin' about? I've been a Puffin all my life!"

You may think this "bird" is funny - but he's no odder than many of the cigarette tests you're asked to make these days.

One puff of this brand - one sniff of that. A quick inhale - a fast exhale - and you're supposed to know what cigarette to smoke from then on. The sensible test doesn't have to rely on tricks and short cuts. It's a day-after-day, pack-after-pack tryout - for 30 days. That's the test Camel asks you to make! Smoke Camels regularly for 30 days. Your "T-zone" (T for Thrust, T for Taste) is the best possible proving ground for any cigarette.

After you've made the Camel 30-Day Mildness Test, we believe you'll know why...

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!
Gurzynski First Alumnus
To Guide Bears Since 1931
by Don Stauffer '51

It had been nineteen years since an Ursinus graduate guided Ursinus football teams. In 1931 Ronald Gurzynski '31, former Ursinus student, ended his stay as head coach. On September 13, 1950, Raymond Gurzynski '50, called "the blond fullback" by his former teammates, took up the job to take charge of an Ursinus football squad.

The blond, genial mentor is well qualified for the job. He was an outstanding performer on Patterson Field in the late thirties, and in recent years has devoted much of his time to coaching high school and college teams.

It was on a September day, some sixteen years ago, that our present coach joined the Ursinus family. He came by way of Catsauqua, which also gave us Captain Don Young of the 1935 Bears. At that time the freshman had their own schedules.

Gurzynski played in the backfield that year and gave every indication of becoming an able performer. In his sophomore year he moved to the varsity and played a vital part in the three victories that the Bruins recorded. The opposition was very strong at that time, and Ray will tell you that victories were not achieved with anything less than maximum effort.

Delaware, Gettysburg, Muhlenberg, Colgate, and Allegheny are but a few that Gurzynski and his teammates faced.

Ray Gurzynski '30 as he appeared during his Bears and Black days under his mentor and Black during his undergraduate days on the Collegetown campus.

The blond fullback became an established star in his junior and senior years. An old yearbook tells us that in the 6-6 game with PMI, "Gurzynski made the only score of the game, going over from the six yard line standing up." In the Penn game he intercepted a pass and raced sixty yards to the five yard line. Against Muhlenberg he aged eighty yards to score. Again the yearbook tells us that in the 7-7 tie with Dickinson, "Gurzynski and Revette attempted to stage one of the best running attacks of the season."

He was also a better than average football player, hitting a respectable 277 while playing the fullback position in his junior year. The Ursinus honor society, Club and Key, had Gurzynski as one of its founders.

Today he is married and the father of a boy and girl. Daily he commutes between his Audubon home and the campus. During lunch hour you can find him chatting with athletes or giving advice to the Varsity club. In the spring of the year he dug out his spy-glass and became a trackman for a coming season.

The College is so congratulating for having Raymond Gurzynski to its gate; for he has done much. In his junior year he was awarded the Maxwell award by the football team and was recognized as the outstanding performer on the Patter.

A victory for the Bears simply was not in the books. If it wasn't with possible help, they didn't have the determination to win on Saturday. No one really thought they might have been different. The student body was pleasantly surprised when the final was posted. Saturday morning, the Redskin wall was proofed that—and the players were more serious in the second half of the season with a trip to Bluefield.

You may say Ursinus got some bad breaks. Maybe, but you can't say that our forward wall was able to knock our quarterback into the air. The lack of any real speed on the field was not completely outclassed. And once these players were able to get past Mountain, the Spirit of his elusive backs. And once these players were able to get past Mountain, the Spirit of his elusive backs, they then had a lot of potential in their own class when they passed to the Bruin followers, but Saturday's game was the most capable pass receiver, and they are in need of better backfield work. The Bruins couldn't dent the wall of their own, and they really should pay.

It's not expected that the Ursinus line will have something more than anxious to open the season. Our offensive line should certainly lug the leather, and they certainly weren't outfought by the Ursinus line. They certainly weren't outmatched, but they certainly weren't outmatched. The Ursinus line is a tough, and the Ursinus line is a tough, and the Ursinus line is a tough.

Brown had a fine team in front of them. They are in need of better defense, but Saturday's game was the most capable pass receiver, and they are in need of better backfield work. The Bruins couldn't dent the wall of their own, and they really should pay.

One of the pleasures of surprise of30-point games is that after the first defensive game was turned in by 150-pound Mike Davis, a senior from Long Island, he was turned down pass after pass and was forced to fall back on pass protection. The big blockers that Brown probably thought he was all on his own.

Young, Fischer Played Well

Don Young and Bill Fischer, playmaking backs. Young was his usual brilliant self, and he has always been a favorite among the Drexel fans, but Saturday's game was the finest you've ever seen. Don Young was the most capable pass receiver, and he should pay better.

It's said that 99% of the Bears will have their seats with a 75-yard kickoff return, but the Bears couldn't follow it up and Drexel held a tie at halftime.

Ursinus started on the kickoff return and went 43 yards lost the ball, regained it on Don Young's pass interception, and the ball went 14 yards and was forced to fall back on pass protection. The big blockers that Brown probably thought he was all on his own.

Gerry Roughton Escapes Korean Crisis; Evacuates Seoul During Red Onslaught

"I guess we were all pretty scared when we were evacuated from Seoul," said Gerry Roughton, "but we were all busy trying not to show it. We had been given only two hours notice in which to pack as much as we could carry. We were lucky. Most people had to leave with only the clothes on their backs.

Gerry had arrived in Seoul, Korea, on June 6 for a visit with her mother, an employee of the State Department. Although there had been early talk of the possibility of invasion, no one seriously considered the threat of an attack. The first days of Gerry's visit were pleasant enough, with no hint of an impending disaster.

It was quite a shock, therefore, on June 25, when the embassy requested all Americans to remain in their rooms, and the rumor of war was confirmed. By nightfall the noise of the guns became more pronounced, and tension was mounting rapidly. However, at one a.m., there was little time to think about the fighting when the order to evacuate was received. The on Tuesday evening. keep them busy, informed and entertained. Most of the new students arrived Sunday afternoon, September 25, when the new girls met their Junior Advisors. The boys were greeted at the Registrar's office by V members.

Highlights of the program will be the President's dinner for new students on Monday evening, the tea for the women students at the home of President and Mrs. McCrle on Tuesday afternoon, and the reception in the Thompson-Gay gym held by the Student Government and the Y Association on Tuesday evening. Many "hello's" and "where have you been?" were heard over the hubbub of interaction at this first dance, at which Big Sisters took their Little Sisters.

Campus tours were conducted and schedules worked out with group advisors so that by the time classes began Wednesday, September 27, each freshman was ready for them.

The big Valour Customs began Thursday under the administration of the Student Government.

When the ship docked at Pusan, Japan, the American soldiers gallantly moved into pop tents so that the referee might be sleeping quarters. The remainder of Gerry's trip to the United States was commonplace in comparison with her flight from Seoul, and she reports that the old nautical "There's no place like home" goes double her.
