Dr. Garrett Relates Experiences of Trip

by Doug MacMullen '53

Paris! The City of Light! For some of us only the background to New Orleans, and for others the background for addition. But for me, it was the background to a trip that started in Brussels, Belgium, and lasted for three weeks in Europe. The Parisian people were friendly, the food was delicious, and the scenery was beautiful.

The trip began with a visit to the Louvre Museum, which housed some of the most famous art pieces in the world, including the Mona Lisa and the Winged Victory of Samothrace. Then we visited the Eiffel Tower, which was built for the 1889 World's Fair. After that, we went to the Palace of Versailles, which was once the home of France's kings, and visited the Versailles gardens.

In Paris, we also went to the Montmartre district, which is known for its artists and bohemian culture. We walked through the Place du Tertre, which was filled with street performers and artists painting. We also visited the Sacré-Cœur basilica, which is a Roman Catholic church built on the Butte Montmartre.

We then traveled to other cities in Europe, including London, Rome, and Edinburgh. The trip was a fantastic opportunity to see some of the most iconic sights in Europe and to learn more about European history and culture.
Flickingers Confuse Ursinus Students, But Twins, Unperplexed, See Eye to Eye

So you think you've been seeing double lately. Don't let that worry you. It's not just an illusion; there really are two. These 17-year-old twin freshmen are Martha and Evans Flickinger, who believe that the best way to do anything is in pairs. Only once have they been apart and that was for a period of two months. Being identical twins, they look, dress and, to some degree, act alike with little exception. The twins have the same opinions on nearly everything, in including the type of man they like. Only disagree on where to enroll. Martha and Evans on campus, and Evans simply thinks Ursinus is wonderful.

Evans is fond of the other's choice of tastes run parallel to New York school they participated in all -especially jitterbug and Broadway musicals and dancing. So far, Evans' is no more than a fun sometimes. It's not just an illusion; there are of the few things that they disagree on are clothes. Daily a compromise occurs on the question of what to wear. Martha's tastes run parallel to New York fashion, but Evans is more conservative.

After graduation Martha would like to travel in Europe for a while, but Evans would rather go West and live in Colorado.

Martha is a history major, and Evans is studying chemistry. Neither is fond of the other's choice ofmajor. They never thought of attending the same college, although Evans is fond of the other's choice of location. Kershner Writes Treatise on Hodgson, World-Famous Poet Recluse of Ohio

Seven miles south of the small town of Minerva in eastern Ohio, Ralph Hodgson, world-renowned poet, lives on his farm, Otel Acres. Mr. A. G. Kershner, member of the Smith-Crandall department who is writing a treatise on Hodgson, first met his subject there on that farm consisting of nothing more than one old frame farmhouse, a tumble-down barn, a small storehouse and a landscape overgrown with weeds.

Stocky in build, with a broad, deeply-lined face, a small cap sitting on the back of his head and smoking a long, Shakespearean pipe, Hodgson presented a half-spry, half elf-like appearance. "Raffe," as he is referred to by close friends, is somewhat of a recluse. Displaying publicly, he refuses to talk about his personal life, although he will talk about almost anything else. Little is known about his life except that he was born in 1871 in Yorkshire, England, and for a short while edited Fry's Magazine. In 1907 his first book of poetry, The Last Blackbird and Other Lines, was published.

In addition to poetry his only other works consist of a few articles on bull-terriers, on which he is considered a leading authority. Mr. Hodgson's poetry is simple but vivid. Animals and outdoor life are his favorite topics. He considers the many letters which he has received from all over the world enough reward for his work and wishes nothing else in the way of recognition.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 3...THE FLICKER

One question... Where do I flick my ashes?

Don't think our neat-pleated friend with the drape-shape doesn't know the score! He's plenty hep to all those tricky cigarette tests. If you're in the groove, they're not fooling you, either. You know, from your own smoking experience, that just one puff of this brand... then one puff of that brand isn't going to give you the answer you want. What can you possibly tell by a quick inhale and exhale, a whiff or a sniff?

The sensible test—the one that gives you the proper answer—is a day after day, pack-after-pack tryout for 30 days. It's the Camel 30-Day Mildness Test! You judge Camels for 30 days in your own "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste) — the real proving ground for a cigarette. Once you've tested Camels as a steady smoke, you'll know why...

Dickinson Hands Bruins Third Straight Loss, 39-6

Dickinson college handed the Ursinus football team its third consecutive defeat by overcoming the Bears 39-6 on Patterson field Saturday.

The Red Devils, who have a 2-1 and record, began the day with a 42-0 victory over their first six-point, Grid beer critics. Grid beer, the other one, split around a yard netted Grid beer's marker, while a pass of 15 and 9 yards from Matthewson set up the goal. The Bears defense was unable to stop Matthewson's other scoring pass, a toss from 15 yards out to end Bob Paul. Matthewson, himself, scored the second TD of the game when he hauled in a 21-yard slot from Grid beer, who faked an end run.

Fletcher was Stand-out

A stand-out, defensive in the losing cause was Harry Fother, while Dick Glock and Bill Fischer, who were the bright spots in the Grizzlies' offense. The services of Geo. Young, Paul Doughy, and Geo. Fuchs (both) were far uneventfully, but when such key men as Bill Heffernan, Dick Glock, and Herrinter were ruled from the game, the locals looked hopeless—and indeed it was. The Red Devils' defensive points before the locals could get their offensive machinery to function won 18th, 9th, and tied in the Ursinus-Dickinson series, were

Midway in the initial quarter the Dickinson eleven drove 80 yards for their first six-point. Grid beer diving over from the one-yard line, Grid beer scoring on a pass from Mathewson. Debaters Schedule Public Engagements

The Debating Club has decided to come out of its obscurity. For the past few years the activities of this club have gone on almost without the knowledge of the non-participating students on the campus. Now, after numerous requests for them, the club is going to experiment with public debates which will be held in Bomberger chapel two or three times a semester.

Debating is one of the relatively little-known inter-collegiate activities at Ursinus. Every year the debating teams meet teams from Swarthmore, Rider, Temple, F&M, Lehigh, Lafayette, Bryn Mawr and other schools of the Ben­jamin Franklin Debating conference, of which Ursinus is a member; but very few students know where or when the debates are held. Not all the debates will be publicized, though anyone interested is welcome to watch the verbal hot fissions.

Another society connected with the debating club is the Tau Sigma Alpha fraternity which is an honorary fraternity for forensic achievement. The club will hold its organizational meeting at 12:30 Wednesday in room 7 of Bomberger.

PRE LEGAL SOCIETY

Five new members were admitted into the Pre-Legal Society at a meeting Thursday night at Super House. They are Sheila Armstrong '53, Jim Duncan '51, Bob Williams '51, Hank Bell '51, and George Moulton. Roger Deechy '51 presided.

LEC TURES

Boise Peterson, F.B.O.R., will deliver a series of three lectures in Dr. Charles Chandler's course on economics in room 8 on Oct. 23, 25, and 27, at 3 p.m. All those interested are invited to attend these lectures, which will cover the early discoverers in Ind­ia.

 Peterson, a Harvard graduate, delivered these talks to the class last year.
