Sororities Elect New Officers, Plan Events

Sorority nominations and elections are underway now although complete results are unavailable. Alpha Sigma Nu and Omega Chi will announce their new officers at their respective dinner dances, while Phi Alpha Psi has not yet elected its new officers.

The two remaining sororities, Kappa Delta Kappa and Tau Sigma Gamma, have announced their new slates. Kappa Delta's officers are: president, Doris Fite '52, vice-president Clara Hamm '52, recording secretary Evelyn Scharf '53, corresponding secretary Betty Rinne '53, treasurer Jerry Diehl '53, chaplain Adele Boyd '53. Tau Sig's officers are: president Marty Daniels '52, vice-president Marion Johnston '52, recording secretary Marion Matteson '52, corresponding secretary Jean Ostermayer '53, treasurer Jane Gulick '53, chaplain Jean Cilley '52.

Along with elections and dinner dances, sorority week-ends crowd the scene. This past week-end was chosen by Kappa Delta Kappa for a trip to Medford Lakes and by Phi Alpha Psi for its week-end at Ocean City, where about 20 girls stayed at Mary Lou Henry's home. Omega Chi's week-end will begin May 29 at Ocean City, while Sigma Nu will also be at Ocean City the following day. Medford Lakes will again be the site for sorority merry-making May 30 when Tau Sig will end its spring activities.

Y Members Plan 1951-52 Activities At Camp Retreat

by Don Brown '52

One of the best attended and most active retreats in recent years was conducted by the YM-YWCA this past week-end at Camp Fernbrook, south of Pottstown. Approximately 55 students and ten faculty members attended. Molly Hall and Jay Ely, incoming co-presidents of the YW and YMCA respectively, were in charge of the program which began on Friday with a discussion of general Y aims followed by a square dance with the Rev. Paul Scheeler of Pottstown as caller. A wiener roast and games completed the first evening's activities.

An 8:15 breakfast, volley ball, and discussions filled the retreat program for Saturday morning. Topics such as "Can we enlarge the Rec center?" and "How can the freshman orientation program be improved?" were discussed with exceptionally enthusiastic interest on the part of the entire retreat group. An evaluation of the past year's activities such as the Fireside chats, the Professor's Panel, the Y supper at Trinity church, and the Rec center were accompanied by many new suggestions for 1951-52.

Saturday afternoon contained, besides a half-hour quiet period and an outdoor discussion of cell groups the campus community chest, numerous softball and volley ball games.

After the Saturday evening meal, the retreaters divided into commission groups of self-choice for an evaluation of past activities and a discussion of future plans for each of the Y commissions, the Campus Affairs commission, the Political Action commission, the Social Responsibilities commission, and the Student Worship commission. Next year's commission leaders made reports to the entire group after the individual meetings adjourned.

PANEL SPEAKERS: Dr. Donald G. Baker tells his audience that Christian principles can be applied to international relations at the first Y Professor's Panel held last Wednesday night. Listening are Dr. Maurice Armstrong and Dr. Charles D. Mattern, who also spoke on assigned topics, and the Rev. Alfred Creager who moderated.

Professors Tackle Broad Questions in First Panel

by Sally Canan '53

YM-YW Name Cabinet, Heads Of Commission

Jay Ely and Molly Hall, incoming co-presidents of the YM-YWCA, have announced the new commission and committee leaders for next year. These leaders, together with the six recently elected officers, will compose the 1951-52 cabinet, the group which has final authority on all projects undertaken by the YM-YWCA.

The Rev. Alfred Creager is faculty advisor for the Y cabinet, which this year contains 21 members with voting power, meeting once each week at a designated time.

Besides Ely and Miss Hall, other incoming officers of the Y are: Ken Weisel '53, vice-president, YMCA; Jean Cilley '52, vice-president, YWCA; Joan Kacik '54, secretary of the Y; Jim Bright '54, treasurer of the Y.

Newly appointed commission co-chairman are: Boyd Schellhase '52 and Jane Carey '54, Campus Affairs commission; Don Brown '52 and Mary Ann Simmendinger '53, Political Action commission; Bill Beem-

"A man must not be religious if he is ethical"; "The principles of Christianity should be applied to the present international situation"; and "The ultimate purpose of Christianity and the higher religions is getting into closer companionship with God and becoming less unlike him." These were the answers given by Dr. Charles D. Mattern, Dr. Donald G. Baker, and Dr. Maurice W. Armstrong at the Professors' Panel sponsored by the Y, last Wednesday evening in Bomberger chapel. The meeting was conducted by the Rev. Alfred L. Creager.

Dr. Mattern, the first speaker, based his opinion to the question, "Must a man be religious if he is ethical?", upon the atheistic naturalists who have written books on ethics. He went on to state that these men have drawn their ethical ideas from a large fund of religious enthusiasm and that, without religion, in the long run, mankind would not be ethical. He believes that the higher implicit type of morality would die out without the presence of an external force to encourage it.

Dr. Baker changed his original question "Can Christian principles be applied to the international order?" to "Should Christian principles be applied?" He stated that the army motivated by unchristian ideas of destruction is the largest bloc against the application of Christian principles.

Dr. Armstrong discovered his answer already stated in the last part of the question given to him. He went on to define religion, in John Wesley's words, as "the life of God in the life of man." He stated that Christianity is the highest religion, because it contains the best of all the religions.

The questions from a large, alert audience, ranged all the way from "Must a man be ethical?", to "In a time of crisis should one be guided by religion or necessity?" Dr. Baker was given an opportunity to clarify his philosophy and to state that pacifism can only be an individual matter until all countries get rid of their armies.

Graduation announcements for the Senior class will be distributed in Freeland Reception room Thursday after lunch, it was revealed at a recent Senior class meeting. Copies of pictures from the 1951 Ruby will be given out to those who ordered them May 15 in the Supply store.

A very important meeting of the class will be held Wednesday after lunch. The proposed class gift will be discussed as well as the class party. The price for the party has been determined at $1.50 per person. A date for this party, to be held at the home of Jack Arthur, must be set. All members of the Senior class are urged to attend this meeting.

Campus Ready for May Day; Pageant, Play to be Big Events

Finishing Touches Put On 'Arsenic and Old Lace'

by Susanne Deitz '51

Ursinus students will view the familiar comedy, "Arsenic and Old Lace," which the Curtain club is presenting Thursday, Friday and Saturday as its spring production. The play centers about two maiden-lady sisters who have a mis-guided sympathy for lonely elderly men. The plot is complicated by two of their nephews who have unorthodox personalities and a third, perfectly sane, who attempts to straighten everything out.

Starring as the two sisters are Mary Lou Henry as Abby Brewster and Nancy Bare and Jackie Keller sharing the role of Martha Brewster. Nancy will be seen Thursday and Friday and Jackie will act on Saturday night.

The deluded nephew Teddy is played by Murray Grove and Hal Terres is the maniacal Jonathan. His accomplice, Dr. Einstein, feature Emile Schmidt. The love element is introduced by Howard Roberts as Mortimer, the sane nephew, and Marjorie Justice as Elaine Harper, daughter of the Rev. Mr. Harper, played by Douglas MacMullen.

Officer O'Hara, the playwright cop, is played by Bucky Ross. Officers Brophy and Klein are played by Bill Hefferich and Gene Pas-

'Artists Life' Narration To Feature Students

by Jane Gulick '53

For the first time on an Ursinus May Day, narration, written and directed by Audrey Harte '53, will relate the story of the pageant, "Artist's Life," by Ruth Feidler, during the presentation Saturday at 3 p.m.

The quest of the artist in the pageant for a means of glorifying the May Queen will be narrated through poetry written by Miss Harte to fit the tempo of the background music and voiced by her, Norma Marmor '51, Susie Dietz '51, Marge Taylor '51, Nancy Bare '51 and Jen Price '54.

The pageant will be enacted on Patterson field. However, in case of rain, May Day will move indoors to the new gym. Rehearsals this week will be as follows: Monday night the first half of the pageant will rehearse in the new gym; Tuesday night the second half will be held outdoors.

After the pageant, there will be a father-daughter softball game and a buffet supper for students and their guests. Dorm teas and receptions for parents have also been planned by some of the dorms. As a finale to May Day, visitors are invited to remain and attend the Curtain club presentation of Arsenic and Old Lace in the T-G gym Saturday night.

Students Cast Primary Votes For Officers

Final Elections Set For Tomorrow; Prexy Candidates Give Platforms

by K. Lin Loesch '52

As a result of the primary elections held on campus last Wednesday the following final candidates for class officers have been announced:

For the class of 1952, president, Bob Henderson, Dick Kiszonas; vice-president, Paul Doughty, Gene Pascucci; secretary, Laura Bechtle, Joan Farquhar; treasurer, Herman Lintner.

The Weekly interviewed the candidates for the presidency of each class so that the students might have an idea of their platforms for next year. The question asked was, "If elected, what do you plan to do as president of your class?" The comments of the candidates follow:

Bob Henderson plans "continued class participation in activities; truly representative class government; and making the class a stronger, closer-knit organization."

Dick Kiszonas: "I advocate a senior committee to serve in the capacity of aiding and assisting would-be chairmen of our final year's activities. In the past worthwhile and able people have been unable to participate in these responsible jobs because of small conflicts. Consequently, the same few have taken on all the jobs. The more even distribution of responsibility would result in a more united participating class spirit. An extended effort at the beginning of the year to work with the Ruby staff would aid their financial drive. The regular insertion of a senior column in the Weekly would keep all the class members informed of all events all the time."

SYSTEM A SUCCESS

A glance at the MSGA and class nomination lists before the primaries held last week showed two things: the merits of the new system and the interest shown by students in these elections.

We have already commented upon the merits—the wider representation made possible because of the petition method of nomination and the resulting more democratic process of election.

As for the interest shown by the students, several facts stand out. If there had been only luke-warm response, the results might have been that only one candidate was put up for an office. He would have been automatically elected—a potential defect of the system. This happened in only one of the offices; in all others there was an abundance of candidates and students had a real choice to make.

Therefore, because Ursinus students really cared about who they put up for office, the new system was an out-and-out success when put to the initial test.

Final voting takes place tomorrow. Since a majority of votes is necessary for election a heavy vote is urged. Voting will take place outside Freeland so there can be no excuse of not being able to find the place. If students show the same degree of response to actual elections as they registered toward nominations, a heavier vote than has ever been before will be cast tomorrow.

Citizens, VOTE!!

The Making of Foreign Policy

by Eugene H. Miller
Professor of Political Science

Critics of the U.S. State Department find little to please them. They object to Mr. Acheson's policy toward the Soviet, to his stand on Asia, and to his attitude concerning Latin America. The more rabid maintain that there is no such thing as American foreign policy. Are they justified?

In attempting to answer this question it may be helpful to examine the process by which policy is made. Contrary to the impression held by the barbershop critic, the policy maker rarely has a clear-cut choice between black and white, between good and bad. More often he must choose between several alternatives, neither of which is truly desirable. Within a limited range, he decides—not on a perfect course—but on the one which offers the fewest disadvantages. In March, 1947, for example, we were confronted with an immediate Communist threat to Greece. Alternative one involved no action on our part. In that case Greece would undoubtedly have fallen to the agents of Moscow. Alternative two involved extensive financial and economic aid to the government to Greece, an administration that was corrupt, inefficient, and not too popular with the Greek people. In the final analysis we chose to rescue an unpopular, anti-communist government rather than see a popular, pro-Communist government come to power. This second alternative was adopted—not because we preferred to support poor governments—but because it was the lesser of two evils. If Greece had been handed over to the Communists by default there would have been no hope for the future. If, however, it could be kept out of their hands, there was always a possibility of eventual reform. Such has been the case. First, the Truman Doctrine saved a not too worthy Athens government; then, under American tutelage, that government has reformed and earned the respect and support of the Greek people.

Based on Choice

Our policies toward Europe and Asia likewise illustrate the premise that ultimate decisions are usually based on a choice of imperfect alternatives. The ideal course would be an absolute check on Communist expansion in both Europe and Asia. In reality, we do not have the power, at the present, to carry out such a program. The alternative to "total diplomacy" in both Europe and Asia is to conduct a limited holding action in one sphere while putting our major effort into the other. This second alternative admittedly is far from perfect. If war comes we would like to hold both Europe and Asia. However, in the face of our inability to save both regions, the denying of Western Europe to the Russians is much more vital than the reconquest of Communist Asia. As in World War II, World War III will be decided in Europe not in Asia.

Let us examine another group of alternatives. From our point of view the ideal situation would be one in which a policy suggested by our government would be followed by other non-Communist governments without question. Actually, no such possibility exists. The true alternatives are to insist on our own unilateral line of action, which would bring us to the brink of World War III without friends of allies, or to admit some modification of our policies in order to secure the cooperation of the free nations. When confronted with the decision of fighting World War III, with or without allies, the choice seems obvious (to everyone except General MacArthur).

Policy Evolved

Since 1945, within the limitations imposed by imperfect alternatives, we have evolved a foreign policy. In Europe, the Truman Doctrine, the Marshall Plan, the North Atlantic Alliance, and implementation of that Treaty, have checked Soviet imperialism. In Asia, aid to the French in Indo-China and leadership in United Nations action in Korea have limited Soviet aggression. At the same time support for the independent Philippines and sympathetic cooperation with the new Republic of Indonesia have indicated our concern for Asian nationalism. In Latin America, our Good Neighbor policy suffered from neglect while we were meeting more immediate Communist challenges elsewhere. However, last month's special Inter-American Conference held in Washington breathed new life into the body of Western Hemisphere amity. Finally, our continued participation in the United Nations still represents the best hope of a united free world.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

To the Editor:

In response to the editorial published in the April 29th issue of the Weekly, I should like to answer the questions which were asked so that anyone interested will know what the situation really is. First of all, there are more than two copies of the WSGA Constitution on the Ursinus campus. There is one in every dormitory, one in the Dean's Office, and I have one in my possession. Should a copy of this Constitution be distributed to every woman student? Yes, very definitely. There is only one thing that I would like better than knowing that each girl had a copy of the WSGA constitution. That is, to know that each girl had actually read that constitution. The WSGA, like other campus organizations, operates under a budget allotted to it by the Committee on Student activities. If we could possibly afford to print new copies of our Constitution for every Freshman class, I assure you we would. The fact that we don't does not give anyone an excuse for not knowing its contents. After all, we are not all given copies of the United States Constitution when we are born, but a good citizen can and does manage to read it if he is truly interested in his government.

It is true that there is a provision in our Constitution calling for four mass meetings of women students throughout the year. In recent years this number has been narrowed down to one meeting held for the purpose of planning and explaining the May Day program. If you have been to any of these meetings, I'm sure you will agree with me that none of them have been even fairly attended. I do not believe that having four compulsory meetings per year and fining those who do not attend 25 cents (which is what the constitution calls for) is a good way of making the students feel that they have a more active part in their government. Perhaps a revision of this Constitutional article is a better idea. If there is any other portion of the WSGA Constitution which is not used I should like very much to have it brought to my attention.

The last copies of the WSGA Constitution were printed in 1947. At that time every member of the Freshman class received a copy. Since then adequate funds have not been available for printing new issues. However, each Fall the new Freshman girls are called together for an after dinner dessert. At this time the functions of the WSGA are explained to them. Besides the explanation, they each receive mimeographed sheets of paper which contain an outline of the Student Government association and its various committees. If any girl is interested in reading the Constitution, all she needs to do is ask her dormitory preceptress, Miss Stahr, or the President of the Student Council for a copy.

Now to answer the questions which apparently have been asked by "dissatisfied voters":

1. The Central Nominating committee is composed of nine members: three appointed by the Student council, one each from the Senior, Junior, Sophomore classes; three appointed by the WAA (one from each class) and three appointed by the YWCA (also one from each class). It is not an "all-powerful" Committee. Any woman student who is not satisfied with the nominations made by this committee has the right to start a petition for the candidate of her choice. This fact was announced on the PA system in the dining room and was printed in the Weekly. If any girl was ignorant of this fact, she has no one to blame but herself.

2. How could a committee possibly be more representative than to be chosen by the three campus organizations which together include every single woman student in Ursinus College?

3. How did the committee decide on who should be nominated for any office? They decided the same way that any committee would in choosing candidates for office. They judged on the ability of the person to do the job; they considered such qualities as conscientiousness, dependability, interest and leadership.

4. This committee has the right to decide how many candidates they want to nominate for office. Any number of petitions may be turned in. There is no limit to the number of candidates which is finally placed on the ballot.

ally placed on the ballot.

Healthy, constructive criticism is a good and necessary thing. Needless griping is not. The WSGA needs the support and cooperation of every woman student in order to make it an effective organization. Please bring your complaints and suggestions to the members of the Student Council. You elect them. They are willing to try to make improvements wherever you think they are needed. The council which has just recently been elected is composed of capable, enthusiastic hard working girls. They will want to know your problems and they will do their best to help you in every possible way.

Let's work together to keep the WSGA a worthwhile organization!
—Mary McPherson

(Ed. Note:—The Weekly made the following survey Friday afternoon: eight women's dormitories do not have a copy of the constitutions; six do have a copy; three were not able to be reached at the time the survey was taken.)

To the Editor:

I want to thank the editor of the Weekly for her editorial of April 30. I think I may be a better student of Ursinus college now, for I have finally realized that there is a final authority behind the Women's Student Government association. This authority is the Constitution of the association. I obtained the constitution, and I have read it, re-read it, and still cannot believe it. I will cite two sections that will certainly explain this to any Ursinus woman.

Article IV, Section 6—The Student Council shall direct the following committees appointed by the Student Council: (1) Womens Dormitory, (2) Booster, (3) Central Nominating, (4) Sophomore Rules, (5) Junior Advisory.

In substance: The Student Council appoints and directs the Central Nominating committee. Article VIII, Section I—The nominations for President, Vice-President, Secretary, and treasurer of the Student Council, shall be made by the Central Nominating committee and posted for five days before the election. During this time additional nominations may be made by petitions signed by at least fifty (50) women students. Women students shall sign one petition only for each office.

In substance: The Central Nominating committee appoints the nominees who lead the Student council.

Conclusion: Even the government of the United States has anti-trust laws. Irrelevant perhaps, but thought-provoking.

I know, now, the answers to the questions which the Weekly editor asked on behalf of Ursinus women. It is because I know them that I am writing this. I think others should know them too, and I am sure they may be as amazed as I. Since it would take too long to cite all the articles and sections at length I will give a brief summary of the answers I found to the Editor's questions.

1. We cannot complain that the CNC nominated only two candidates for president of the WSGA. The CNC is at liberty to nominate one or ten, any member they see fit.

2. There are no criteria for electing these nominees, except the personal opinions of the CNC. The Constitution states no criteria for this official business.

3. This question was "How is the CNC chosen?" Article III, Sec. I, previously stated, describes this, although Article X, Sec. III gives a conflicting arrangement of selection. This, however, is a fault within the constitution and quite beyond our power of explanation.

4. And finally, "Are women students truly represented?" answer to this is, read your constitution, and you will be caught in the same whirlpool I am in. I am forced to conclude that I am not sure, that is as far as the CNC is concerned, since the final decisions as to who will run actually rests on their unrestricted personal opinions.

Thank you, Weekly, for helping me see how I am represented. From now on I am going to take much more interest in the process. If every woman student did the same we should most probably have the best kind of government and if we work for what we want, we will get it. We cannot be well governed if we are so disinterested that we will not strive toward good government.

They Say...

by Jonni Graf '52

They say the Varsity Club dance, April 29, was attended by a select few, who danced to the music of "a very good" combo from West Chester State. Thanks go to the Varsity club for supplying some week-end fun. We are only sorry they did not receive more support.

Elections for this-and-that are all around us, bringing with them the usual problems and discussions. Quote—the typically well-informed voter — "who are we voting for now?"

We have some inside information from one of the better-known Senators in Washington — McCarthy! It seems one Ursinus student, Tom Shaw in name, spoke rather indiscreetly in last Thursday's Music Apprec. class. Subversive activities among the antiques?

They say people we never even saw before are beginning to take an active interest in political science. They call it the "Glorious Revolution" of Room 8.

Beverly Tuttle enjoyed the weather this past Wednesday. A big spring shower given her by her roommates, Nancy Matterness and Jane Hartzel.

Much old lace and arsenic down in the T-G gym. Mrs. Helfferich is adding the old lace with some lovely period costumes she has provided for Mary Lou, Jackie and Nancy. Mr. Helfferich is taking care of the arsenic part of it. Better learn those lines, characters!

Everyone likes the radio-in-the-Supply idea, but you should see the green complexions when they tune in "sound off".

Big question—?—Will Curtis have a subway act in the intra-murals?

The gals have replaced the men in the new gym, and the May pole has usurped the place of the basketball. Practice has really begun in earnest now with dancers, costumes, crepe paper, and much rushing about. When all is in order we should have a pretty nice May Day.

We as a column would like to request—will those who wish to have an announcement appear in the "Weekly", of an engagement or marriage, please submit in writing the necessary information. This information can be turned in to the editor or to ourselves. We would like to be able to present a formal announcement of such occasions, but we cannot do this without the proper details. We add a special plea to those persons who have information about our alumni. We think it would be very nice if we were able to keep our readers in touch with their former fellow-students.

They often call engagement or marriage "the big step," but did you know that in college tradition there is also "the little step"? They say that Betty McElroy and Frenchy Youngman; and Gene Matthews and Fred Mras have just taken "the little step." Both couples were pinned this past week. We think "the little steps" is one of the nicest traditions!

ENGAGEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Horace G. Sheffer, of Hanover, Pa., announce the engagement of their daughter, Betty, to Lt. Alfred M. Maser, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Maser, Philadelphia, Pa. Miss Sheffer '50, was a member of Omega Chi Sorority. Lt. Maser '50, was a member of Sigma Rho fraternity and is now with the air force at Langley Field, Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace C. Stringfield of Somerville, N. J., announce the engagement of their daughter Jean Claire to George C. Ott '53, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Ott of Philadelphia, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Matterness recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Nancy A., to J. Donald Paine of Lebanon, Pennsylvania. Mr. Paine, son of Dr. Howard Paine, is a junior at F and M. seminary. Nancy is a junior history major and a member of Y cabinet and Kappa Delta Kappa sorority.

MARRIAGE

Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter, Yeadon, announce the marriage of their daughter, Janet, to Pfc. Charles Mahoney, Yeadon. Miss Hunter is a member of the class of 1951.

BEYOND THE IVORY TOWER

Three Officials Embroiled

by Richard McKey '51

The Kefauver Committee announced this week that the "most shocking revelation" of its investigations was the record of "official corruption and connivance" in organized crime. Twenty-two recommendations were made for new legislation, and the report named three prominent officials as being deeply embroiled: the governors of Florida and Missouri, and ambassador to Mexico William O'Dwyer.

O'Dwyer's Case

The former Mayor of New York emerges hardly a figure of pristine lawfulness. It seems astounding also, that the Administration knew nothing about O'Dwyer's machinations with Frank Costello! More likely it was realized that investigation would prove embarrassing and O'Dwyer was shunted off to Mexico City: a reprehensible political move. The Committee's report is not as blatantly sensational as might have been expected, but this very fact lends weight to its findings. We applaud Senator Kefauver, whose probe pulled no punches and crossed all party lines.

British Problems

"Our affairs," said Winston Churchill last week referring to British problems but using words applicable to the whole western world, "drift and bump and flop!" We wade in a morass of confusion, claims, counter-claims, and rebuff. In Iran a new government is in power beheaded by Mohammed Mossadeq, anti-Russian, anti-British, and anti-American, which has already nationalized the British controlled Anglo-Iranian Oil Company. The Wake Island conference report, just made public is a fertile source for any argument, from any point of view. The Pentagon fears a summer attack by the Russians and prays for "just six months" to prepare. MacArthur says that nothing is to be feared from the present Soviet army in Siberia. In Korea the Chinese drive south with massive strength while General Van Fleet claims that they have been stopped. The Administration decries its opponent's favoring of Chiang Kai-shek, but announces arms shipments to Formosa are on equal priority with Europe. Senator Taft advocates following MacArthur's advice and at the same time calls for a half-million man cut in the size of the armed forces. What are we to believe? We can only watch and wait and wonder thoughtfully. "Sensationalism" is the key-word of the day: the alarmists have the upper hand. A sincere yet aware confidence is by far the healthier course, and this is what we must try for.

Ursinus Mentioned In 'Gramercy Ghost'

Ursinus was mentioned in Sarah Churchill's new play, Gramercy Ghost, which played at the Locust theatre in Philadelphia before going on to New York.

In the first act, Robert Sterling, the male lead, a newspaperman, who eventually marries Miss Churchill is discussing his college days with a few fellow journalist cronies. He said:

"Why yes—I played a good deal of football myself in college—at Ursinus college at Collegeville. In my senior year we even beat Muhlenberg."

John Cecil Holm, the author, is not an Ursinus alumnus and the names of the schools used in the course of the conversation might have been changed at the various cities on the road to gain a dash of local color; but, regardless of the reason, and even if only for a brief time, Ursinus was mentioned behind the footlights of the legitimate stage.

May Day Histories Reveal Variety of Festivities

by Anne Neborak '53

May Day, the yearly all-coed festivity ushering in the fair spring-time, is once again to be presented this Saturday. Every year since 1905 some sort of festive celebration has been planned and executed in the merry month of May by the women students of Ursinus. The type of celebration has varied, but the spirit was remarkably the same in 1905 as that of 1951.

According to Dean Camilla B. Stahr's account in one of last year's Alumni Journals, in 1905 the campus was a lively fair ground where crowds swarmed all afternoon buying cakes and sweets from booths, having their fortunes told by a Madame Zamboni, eating a picnic supper in Bomberger hall, and in the evening, enjoying a straw ride. The fete was sponsored that year by the Young Women's Christian association to raise money to send delegates from the college to summer conferences.

The same general type of entertainment was carried on until 1917 when the Ursinus Women's club (then termed the Women's Graduate association) employed the first Director of Physical Education for women. Miss McCann, one of the early directors, introduced dancing in the physical education classes, and in 1919 the girls presented dances in the late afternoon of May day on east campus before their mothers. The first written May Day pageant was thus presented, and the first May queen, Miss Marian Jones, was crowned. She sat on a floral throne with her attendants beside her watching shepherdesses, butterflies, gypsies, beauties of a May morning and the traditional May Pole waltz. The queen was crowned by a jester at the conclusion of the program. The juniors sold ice cream, punch and candy to raise money for their Ruby.

In 1920 tickets covering all the events of May Day, the baseball game at 2:30, the supper at 5:00, the May dances at 6:15 and the outdoor musical comedy, Miss Cherry Blossom, were sold at $2.00 apiece. Miss Lois Hook, today Dr. Brownback's wife, was the king of the May. She escorted the queen, Nora Keely Mowbray, with almost every girl in the college trailing after as retainers.

Miss Helen Errett, Physical Culture directress in 1927, started the pageantry writing class. The first pageant tryouts were held and the Women's Dorm committee decided that corsages for the mothers of roses and sweet peas or roses and delphiniums would add a new and festive touch to the day. The pageant written by Florence Black '31 and performed at 3 o'clock in front of the Memorial library portrayed Father Time indicating to the May Queen how Queen Elizabeth and Montezuma lived.

Miss Adele Hathaway in 1930 won the first pageant writing prize of $7.50 offered by the Ursinus Circle by writing Woodland Queen, a fantasy performed in the college woods. The woods and the court fought for possession of the queen, Kathryn G. Beimert, with Dryado, seasons, leaves and squirrels contesting.

No wonder he blew his stack! All this double talk about quick cigarette tests was a flagrant infringement on his patent rights! ## 'Weekly' Scribe Sheds Light on Life Of Famous Ursinus College Athlete

by Paul Jones '52

This is the fourth of a series of articles designed to acquaint the students of Ursinus college with great figures in the school's early athletic history. Thus far we have discussed Thompson, Gay and Price; each of whom have been honored by the naming of a local edifice for them. But few of us realize that the greatest figure in the sports history of Ursinus had the greatest honor bestowed upon him by the naming of our large basketball palestra in his memory. Of course, I'm talking about the renowned Dr. Julius Pouncefaut New for whom the New gym was named.

Dr. New was perhaps the most fabulous athlete to display his talent at this school. He was born in Hot Water, Virginia, a small town about ten miles from Cold Springs. The two high schools of the town had a rather lukewarm rivalry in various sports and it was here that Dr. New first distinguished himself. In baseball, football, and jai lai, he was so skillful that many of his records still stand, more than 60 years later. His best remembered feat was the day when he hit five home runs in four times at bat. In the literary field, he was also well known; after his graduation from high school he went to Pulse Normal, graduating with a number of degrees. It was a fortunate day for the Red, Old Gold and Black when Dr. New began his undergraduate days here. "Notso", as he was known by his friends, soon embarked on his athletic career. He is remembered for his famous play in the football game against Beaver which was a well-built team, in 1917. It was at a time when the beautiful tree on the football field was part of the end zone. With Ursinus training by two points, the great Notso New sped toward the end zone, climbed the tree and caught the pass far from the outstretched arms of the nearest eager Beaver.

In the spring of '17 his school days were interrupted for as a true patriot Dr. New joined the armed forces. It was in the army he met the beautiful Wac officer, Major Mouthwater, and promptly married her. After his discharge he continued his studies and gained his doctors degree at Miami. His untimely death occurred five years later when he fell out of his cellar window and was killed.

Nancy Vadner downed Lucille Klammer 6-3, 6-1; after losing the first set 7-5. Her win was followed by Captain Jody Woodruff's victory over Marie Kerstetter 6-4, 6-4.

Cindermen Win As Eshbach, Scheirer And Loomis Are Double Winners

by Roy Foster '51

The Bears treated their hosts quite shabbily at Chester Wednesday afternoon, as they won all but one event to take the meet from Pennsylvania Military College 80 1/3 to 45 2/3.

Ursinus had three double winners. Dick Eshbach zoomed over the high barriers in 16.4 leading Ken Mammel to the string, and he nipped Al Sigel in the low hurdles in 27.2. Paul Scheirer accounted for the mile and the "880". Times were 4:56 and 2:14.6 and he was followed by Bob Mella in the former and Cadet Phil Drill in the latter. He won the mile by about fifteen yards with no strain. Will Loomis' winning times of 10.1 in the hundred and 22.9 in the "220" were remarkable considering the clinker path he had to run on, plus the fact that the "220" was run on a sharp curve. Earl Wentzel followed him in both instances.

The Cadets' lone victory came in the quarter, which they all but swept. Will Langton won in 54.7, and Mort Bayer seconded. Ed Mewing captured the broad jump and Jack Weaver the high. Clem Cumpstone only heaved the spear 172' 4", but it was enough to win. Bob Swett took the discus and Bill Helfferich the shot.

Randy DeWitt's ten foot effort won the pole vault and Mammel was second. Herm Lintner hiked eight times the rock pile to win there in 11:16.7. It was quite a duel for seven laps with the two front runners dividing the pacesetting chores, but on the last 200 yards Lintner left Drill wondering what had happened.

Bears Capitalize On Four Hits To Beat Garnet

John Anderson Gets Two Hits And Drives in Winning Tally

by Bob Odenheimer '53

With the aid of loose fielding the Grizzlies tallied in the eighth and ninth innings and thereby edged out Swarthmore 3-2 on May 2 on the loser's field. Keystone man John Anderson laced a whistling drive to center field to score Harry Light with the winning marker in the last round. Up until the breakthrough in the seventh the Bears had been handcuffed by the clever twirling of Tom Swane.

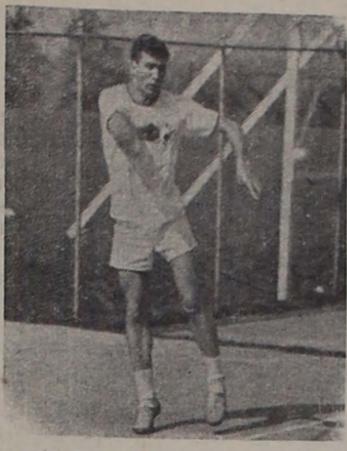

Garnet Score in Fourth

Held scoreless for the first three innings, the Garnet hopped on the deliveries of Don Stauffer for single runs in the fourth and fifth. With two down in the fourth Frank Roeder belted a two ply blow to left and scored minutes later when John Place hit through the box. They tallied their only other run in the following frame when Dick Flanty started things rolling with a single over second base. A stolen base and catcher Henning's passed ball put Flanty on the hot corner from where he scored on lead-off man Cusano's booming double in right center.

Stauffer Effective

Bruin pitcher Don Stauffer hurled inspired ball as he not only blanked the opposition for the remaining four innings but held them hitless as well. Meanwhile, the Bears were finding the range of Swane's slants in the seventh as they crossed the plate twice. Spack's error allowed Henning to reach first. Smithgall walked and both men moved up a base on a boot by Cusano. Glock sent both runners across with a ringing blow to center. With Stauffer blanking the opposition the score remained knotted at 2 runs apiece, until Anderson singled home the winning tally in the ninth.

Moravian, Elizabethtown Suffer As Netmen Extend Streak to Four

Loser's Win Only Three Of Nine Court Contests

The Ursinus netmen won their third straight match last Tuesday over Moravian on the local courts 6-3. Moravian, playing its fourth match of the season, won only two of the six single matches, only one of the three doubles matches.

Paul Jones opened the scoring for Ursinus by winning the first two sets over Harry Newcombe 6-1, 7-5. Joe Benenati, for the second straight match, went into three sets to down Don Sweeney 2-6, 6-4, 6-1. Jay Ely, number five man for Ursinus, easily disposed of Barrie Weber, 6-3, 6-2, while Will Wimberg had to really bear down to pull his match out of the fire as he defeated Fred Hege 4-6, 6-1, 6-3.

Humbert and Jones clinched the match by defeating Connell and Sweeney 6-0, 6-0. The brilliant net play by the two Ursinus men proved too much for the visitors. Ely and Lyttle added to the Ursinus scoring by defeating Weber and Hege 7-5, 6-1.

Lincoln Nine Halts Rally To Defeat Grizzlies, 6 to 3

Jay Kern Is Held Hitless as Ursinus' Host Stops Locals Bid For Fifth Victory; Light Yields Ten Hits as Mates Get Five

by Gene Pascucci '52

The Ursinus college diamond squad was edged out in a bid for its fifth victory of the season last Saturday when Lincoln University outscored them 6-3 at Oxford. The game was a pitchers duel for the first three innings as Harry Light surrendered only one base knock and sent three opposing batsmen down swinging.

The Bears also found base blows scarce in the first three innings as Lincoln's mound star Smith held them hitless.

Anderson Doubles

It was the fourth inning when Coach Pancoasts proteges solved the pitching slants of Smith. Rensburg started the inning off with a walk and was followed by a booming double off the bat of Anderson. With Anderson on second and Rensburg on third Dick Glock singled to tally both runners and send the Bears out in front 2-0. Lincoln then scored one run in their half of the fourth leaving the count at 2-1. After two were out in the sixth the Lincoln lads produced two runs on two singles and a double by pitcher Smith to go out in front 3-2. In the seventh the Bruins had the sacs loaded with one out but could not score.

Don Young singled and went to second on an error to get the Bears off to a good start in that seventh frame. Light walked and Popowich sacrificed. Kern then got on by virtue of a fielder's choice to load the bases with one out; but a strike out and a bouncer to the pitcher left all three men stranded.

Lincoln then added three more in the eighth inning on three base hits, two errors and a walk to end their scoring.

Ninth Inning Tally

Going into the ninth the Bears found themselves on the short end of a 6-2 score. With one out Harry Light knocked out a solid single to rekindle the hopes of victory. After a long fly by Popowich Stauffer blasted a tremendous triple to score Light with the last Bruin tally.

It was truly a pitchers day as Harry Light and Lincoln's Smith had eight strikeouts each and both got on base three times.

The Owl-ettes made their final bid for victory when they pushed two more runs across in the bottom of the fifth inning. The score was 6-5 and neither team was able to force another counter across the plate during the remaining two frames although both teams threatened with runners on base.

Monday the Belles will meet with the Beaver College squad here in Collegeville.

Curtis Clinches First Place Slots In Both Leagues

Both softball teams from Curtis hall clinched first place in their respective leagues last week. Curtis I will play Curtis II for the championship on Wednesday, May 16.

Curtis I downed their nearest rival Brodbeck 8-6 to complete the season undefeated. A seven run first inning goal gave the Curtismen a lead which their opponents were unable to overtake even with a three-run rally in the fifth. In another contest in League I Derr scored runs in every inning to down Stine 14-10.

In League II Curtis defeated their closest rival Brodbeck with rallies in the late innings 9-6. Although Brodbeck had a 6-4 lead going into the third, Curtis tied the score, added another run in the fourth, and scored a pair in the fifth while holding the opponents scoreless. The Brodbeck team, because they failed to appear for the Fetterolf game, lost their final game by a forfeit.

The team from 724 bowed to Off-campus 9-7. Since Off-campus had a 9-3 lead, a late rally by 724 failed to take the game. Lachenmayer hit two home runs and a single for Off-campus.

With the season approaching the end the standings are as follows:

League I	Won	Lost
Curtis	4	0
Brodbeck	1	1
Freeland	1	2
Derr	1	2
Stine	1	3
League II	Won	Lost
Curtis	3	0
Brodbeck	2	2
Off-campus	2	2
Fetterolf	1	2
724	0	2

Women's Softball Team Defeats Drexel, Temple

Last week the Ursinus girls softball team added two more victories to their record by defeating Temple's squad 6-5 and Drexel's squad 38-1. The Temple game, an exciting one, kept the Belles on their toes until the final out; however, in the Drexel contest the teams proved to be much less evenly matched.

Pitcher Marguerite Spencer, who received excellent support from her team, struck out three Owl-ettes while issuing only three walks. Not only was Spence valuable to her team as a pitcher, but she also was credited with numerous put outs. The Temple team was able to slam out three more hits than Ursinus; however, once the Belles got on base they capitalized on their position. Betty Keyser's double was the only extra base hit of the day.

Both teams were able to profit by a free pass in the first inning to give a 1-1 score at the close of the opening frame. A second inning rally by the Ursinus squad brought the total to 5-1. Temple came back with two runs in the

Forum Speaker Tells Of Turkey's Position

"There cannot be partial peace in the world . . . it is in view of this fact that Turkey sent her troops to Korea and expressed a wish to join the Atlantic Pact," said Nuri Eren, Director of the Turkish Information office last Tuesday, May 1, in Bomberger room 7, at 8 p.m. at a special event sponsored by the Forum committee, the IRC and the Pre-Legal society. Mr. Eren's topic was "Turkey in World Affairs."

Forty-four persons heard Mr. Eren trace the history of Turkey and give her position in world affairs today. He stated that never have Turko-American relations been closer than at the present time.

This was the last Forum meeting for this year.

May Day Histories Given

Music for all these pageants was first provided by a piano, then a violin, then a string ensemble, and finally, in 1938 when Dr. William Phillip, when in charge of the music, by the currently used electrically amplified records. The 1938 Pageette was also the only pageant thus far so unfortunate as to be forced indoors by inclement weather. The friends of Alice in Wonderland, old King Cole, Boy Blue, Three Little Pigs and two real lambs kept in tow by a small page welcomed in the queen of that year, Muriel Brandt '38, now Mrs. G. Seiber, Pancoast.

Since 1938 the pageant has been performed appropriately in the same manner as it will be this Saturday. The girls are once again hard at work painting, sewing and dancing—and crossing their fingers against rain. In future years the form of May Day may change, but the elemental spirit and problems of the celebration will probably remain the same in 2000 when the girls will still pray for fair weather.

A delicious half of spring chicken dinner with all the trimmings was thoroughly enjoyed. Because of the rush for students to get back to other school functions, the farewell gifts were presented to the seniors the following day in the Day study.

Y Retreat Held

Slides of Camp Michaux, previous retreats, and personal trips were shown by Roger Staiger during the course of the evening with Dr. Eugene Miller and H. Lloyd Jones commenting on several of the slides. With the approaching hour of midnight, Mr. Jones also dramatized a ghost story that sent chills up the back of even the boldest retreaters.

A very impressive outdoor worship service was conducted on Sunday morning with Mr. Jones as speaker and Joan Kacik rendering a vocal solo.

Joanne Heckman and Donna Webber were in charge of kitchen and food details; Jim Bright arranged for the camp facilities; and Mary Johnson was cook. President Jay Ely and Molly Hall wish to extend thanks to the retreaters for their cooperation and also to Mabel Faust, Elwood Williams, and all those other people who made so many trips to Fernbrook with supplies.

Chaperones were Dr. and Mrs. Miller, Dr. and Mrs. Donald G. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. William Parsons, Mr. and Mrs. Staiger, the Rev. Alfred Creager, and Mr. Jones.

Some Stuff!

by Irene Schweitzer '53

Carrots, you know, are orange. They are also very good for weak eyes and weak minds. It has been said that patience is a virtue. But virtues aren't necessarily becoming, — and who wants to be virtuous?

Now that certainly is an indication of weak-mindedness. But then some of the nicest people are that way, — and it very often happens in the best of families.

Take, for example, Chief Teedyescog, an important figure in the history of the American frontier. He was a good provider, — his family was never without carrots. Agricultural experts have recently conceded a point, concerning soil conditions most conducive for carrot development. They have reluctantly agreed that the Teedyescog Method for carrot growth is by far superior to any modern-day device.

Carrots grow best and biggest when planted directly in back of a teepee.
