Yearbook To Stage "Horror, Inc." Night In Week Campaign
Sue, Peace of Mind To Vanish In Wake of Thrills 'n Chills

It's the eve of Friday, February 24. "Horror, Inc." is the password—also the signal for the Ursinus College Honor House, "Horror, Inc." From eight to ten o'clock p.m., you may "fall asleep," and all peaceful thoughts of Ursinus College will be rudely interrupted; and have their chance to prove their worth, values, and fraternities and sororities be-fore the free food is served!

Come and Scream! Something has been added—definitely. Don't Miss! (Bats are harmless) 1. Just right behind the long teat at eight, bringing your own convey, if necessary, Don't. (Bats are harmless) Bring along your issue to pick up the pieces and carry what is left of you for the feast.) Wear your oldest clothes and at your favorite places in the world, and help make the most important or necessary for this evening's program. The scenes are punctured by shelle- like material, and circuitous, and Volatile.

Think how horrifying it would be if the pot of this year's happily-horrible production this is the first time for Ursinus, maybe even the last of Ursinus. The horror show will serve as a climax to a week-long subscription campaign for the Varsity Club Banquet, to be conducted by the governorship of Pennsylvania, and to prove yourself the advantages and developments on our own. (No admission before the free food is served.)

"Horror, Inc." Night

The production will be given in American Legion Hall in College-town, ending Thursday evenings from 6:45 to 9:00. Thursday evenings from 6:45 to 9:00. Thursday evenings from 6:45 to 9:00.

"Horror, Inc." Night will be the first of its kind for Ursinus students, who will have to purchase their tickets no later than the night of the event. The show will be presented by the drama department and directed by Mr. Donald Helfferich, who has been a member of the Drama Department since 1944.

ECONOMICS TO SEE
Twenty-year Slump,
Thanks to Roberts

Last Friday afternoon Professor Roberts in his usual manner lectured to 200 students of the second-year class. Dr. Howard F. Roberts (33) was selected to speak because his name is a familiar one in the world of economics. Roberts, a student of the University of Pennsylvania, is a specialist in the field of economics and has always been interested in the study of the subject.

The Professor, having just returned from a study tour in Europe, was studying the value of polar bear fur and was surprised to find that it is a very lucrative trade. Roberts, who is a well-known writer on this subject, has always been interested in the study of economics and has always been interested in the field of economics.

During the lecture, Professor Roberts made a few interesting points. He pointed out that the value of polar bear fur has increased dramatically in recent years. He also discussed the importance of understanding the economic principles that underlie the study of economics.

The lecture was well-received by the students, who were eager to learn more about the field of economics. The Professor is scheduled to give another lecture next week on the topic of economic theories.

Antonio Colombo, a native of Italy, has been the chef at Ursinus for the past two years. He has been praised for his attention to detail and his ability to create dishes that are both delicious and aesthetically pleasing.

Colombo's most popular dish is the Italian-style spaghetti, which he prepares with fresh tomatoes, garlic, and basil. He also creates a variety of other dishes, including risotto, lasagna, and polenta.

Colombo's approach to cooking is based on using fresh, high-quality ingredients. He believes that the key to great cooking is using the best ingredients available.

Colombo's cooking style is influenced by his Italian heritage. He believes that food should be a celebration of the ingredients used in its preparation, and he strives to bring out the natural flavors of each ingredient.

Colombo's dedication to his craft has earned him the respect of his colleagues and students. He is well-liked for his warm personality and his willingness to share his knowledge and expertise with others.

Colombo's culinary skills have earned him a reputation as one of the finest chefs in the country. His dedication to his craft has earned him many awards and accolades, including a starred review from the New York Times.

Colombo's passion for cooking has led him to continue his education and to pursue new opportunities. He is currently working on a cookbook that will feature his recipes and his approach to cooking.

Colombo's dedication to his craft and his commitment to excellence have made him a valued member of the Ursinus community. He is a true inspiration to his colleagues and students, and he is sure to continue to bring joy to those who enjoy his delectable dishes.
'51ers' Harmony To Vie With College Foursomes

The '51ers--those four barber-shop specialists--Don "Darkums" Donahue, Buck Ross, Ross Fisher and Ross Lord--will hop into Buck's station wagon (a Willys Jeepster) on Saturday, March 4, bound for the Penn-Sheraton Hotel in Philadelphia and the annual quartet contest sponsored by the University Glee Club of Pennsylvania.

Approximately six hundred music lovers (including Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hofferth and Dr. Phillips) will be at the Penn-Sheraton at 8 p.m. to hear the various quartets, all of which represent schools on the eastern seaboard, such as Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Swarthmore, and, of course, Ursinus. Among the selections for the contest the four vocalists have included a medley of World War I songs, a semi-classical piece, and several barber-shop numbers. As Donahue (or shall we say "Darkums") says, "We don't expect to win, but the experience of competing against those other schools will be great." Contested winners will also in the annual Spring Music Festival held at the Hotel Ambassador each Monday evening. Leading fencers are chosen to sing at good artists.

Mayors Formulate Unique Mental Law As Result of Finals

by Willard Wetzel '51

DERRI HALL, February 20--Ursinus Press--One of the most fruitful results of the last semester here at Ursinus college was revealed today when two eminent persons announced the formation of an important law.

The investigation that led to the development of the Wetzel-Wetzel Law of Dynamic Transfer was set up by the usual stages involved in the development of a law, nervously associated from hypothesis through theory to law.

Satisfied that there had been sufficiently verified during the recent period of final examinations that the tests have now released The Law--which states: "Every boy that is either echoed or forgotten by the student during preparation for an examination is transferred by a means similar to mental telepathy to the mind of the professor of the course, who then inevitably includes it in the test."--the investigation was complete.

Follows History Exam

The hypothesis was first revealed to the two progenitors of The Law when they returned to their room after a history mid-semester exam, certain they had flunked and sure that "some of those brief notes were not in the assigned reading." Investigation revealed that the brief notes were in the reading after all, and it was at this time that the revelation occurred. Like a thought out of nowhere came the realization that what might have happened was that the very little knowledge of history which had inadvertently escaped them was transferred to the mind of the professor by mental telepathy. This seemed so incredible plausible but the careful social scientists were not yet satisfied.

Law Proof-Positive

They put the hypothesis into the back of their heads to keep it there until they could apply further tests to it after the next exam the following day. When the same thing occurred the next morning to both of them in different forms, they "just knew" that their hypothesis must be true. But, like all social scientists, they were somewhat unsatisfied, and willing to reveal their discovery to the professor by mental telepathy. This seemed so incredible plausible but the careful social scientists were not yet satisfied.

The hypothesis that their '51ers', those four barber-shop specialists--Don "Darkums" Donahue, Buck Ross, Ross Fisher and Ross Lord--will hop into Buck's station wagon (a Willys Jeepster) on Saturday, March 4, bound for the Penn-Sheraton Hotel in Philadelphia and the annual quartet contest sponsored by the University Glee Club of Pennsylvania.

Major Bill Reynolds, a 24-year-old Oregonian, is at the front as a pilot-Professor, U. S. Air Force, in Panama. The Indo-China war and the terrific upheaval that has come about in the Far East and the Pacific have put Colonel Reynolds in the thick of the action. He is helping to train other pilots and to keep the U. S. Air Force at the top of the heap.

Bones?--"Going to the horror show Friday, Mr. Bones?"
"If the spirit moves me!"

Frankly, I know that the "51ers"--those four barber-shop specialists--Don "Darkums" Donahue, Buck Ross, Ross Fisher and Ross Lord--will hop into Buck's station wagon (a Willys Jeepster) on Saturday, March 4, bound for the Penn-Sheraton Hotel in Philadelphia and the annual quartet contest sponsored by the University Glee Club of Pennsylvania.

Bill was an all-round athlete. He chose football as his favorite sport, made the varsity team at Pomona Junior College and also at the University of Oregon.

A Thesis, Bill enjoyed outdoor life. Faced that it eased the pressure of rugged athletics and his heavy study schedule in Personnel Management.

Upon graduation, Bill showed a future in the Air Force. He "flew" his first flight over the Chicago skyline in 1931. In March, 1941, he had won his pilot wings.

Recently graduated from the University of Oregon at the age of 24, Major Bill Reynolds, Oregon 40 Pilot-Professor, U. S. Air Force, is at the front as a pilot-Professor, U. S. Air Force, in Panama. The University of Delaware thumped the countertime of Ursinus 65-49 last Wednesday night at the Blue Hen Field Armory at Newark, Delaware.

Ursinus never gained the lead from the opening to the final whistle. It was Delaware's fifth victory against one loss, while Ursinus lost their seventh consecutive league game. Delaware is currently leading the Mid-Atlantic League.

The Bears won their fifth match of the season and extended their victory streak to ten over a period of two years by defeating a strong Haverford squad 10-1 last Saturday on the ‘Jason’ mats.

In the initial bout Loren Zimmerman won by default over Harry Baill. Zimmerman was ahead 5-3 when Baill developed a shoulder trouble and had to retire.

Game but inexperienced French Youngman, who had replaced Jim Hartman in the 125-pound class, found his opponent John Dodge too strong and was defeated 6-4.

Dick Gelmin, surprising young 150-pounder, fashioned the first pin of the meet against Bob Atkinson. He conquered his man with a double leg. His pin was a 5-0 put Ursinus ahead 5-3.

Bill Hofferich, a consistent and aggressive Ted Miller followed with a 2-0 decision over Al Mathews of Drexel. Hofferich led the 145-pound bracket.

Galen Chandler, wrestling at 156, bettered Lee Hallman of Drexel, 6-2. The match ended with a pin, but this was not determined until Bill Hofferich pinned his man 16-0.

The guards played well; Captain, Bill Turner, in the 175-pound bracket.

MARCH OF DYES RECEIVES POOR CAMPUS TOTAL OF $275

This week marks the close of the March of Dimes campaign at Ursinus was received very coldly by the students. Byers Bachman, chairman of the drive, announced that a total of twenty-seven dollars was contributed to the worthy cause. Of this amount, fifteen dollars was collected in the Supply Store. Even the polo movie showed that the students failed to respond. From January 26 to 27 failed to stimulate the interest of the student body.

Byers stated that the March of Dimes campaign have been better supported, especially considering the experiments made by the students. They wishes to express his thanks to all those who did contribute to this noble cause.
