The Students of Ursinus Place Small Value On Peace of World

by Nancy Bare '51

The World Student Service Fund at Ursinus reached approximately one-half of its $1000 goal during the drive which took place on campus during the week of November 19-22. The TM-YWCA was the sponsor of the drive. Through personal solicitation of the student body, faculty, and administration, it was hoped that the goal set would easily be surpassed.

However, end-of-the-month and pre-vacation lack of funds, together with an unmitigable air of complacency and lack of interest on the part of the students resulted in that those who contributed amounted to only 691.2. Of this, approximately one-quarter was donated by the faculty and administration. The dance on Friday, November 19, and the record dance Monday evening netted $80 to- gether. The remainder of the total was donated by a student body of over 1,000. Although a relatively small percentage of students contributed to the drive, those who did give generously.

To forgo contributing to the national drive is a sum large enough to earn the student a membership in five European universities, and the necessary funds for his donation to a war-ravaged continent. This is how much we may give.

"WEEKLY" ORGANIZATION

There will be a short re-organizational meeting of the "Weekley" at 7 p.m. tonight in Room 5, Bomberger. All persons who desire to remain on the staff are requested to attend.

"UNCLE HARRY"

by John Barton '49

Opus number one in the current Ursinus program was presented last Friday and Saturday nights before large and appreciative audiences. Uncle Harry was the play chosen for the occasion and a happy choice it was, for it provided the cast with an opportunity to turn in some really fine performances. Among the leading roles, the last in the six scenes, Uncle Harry is on all fours in the acting of the play beginning. Harry Quincey is the luscious object of his two sisters' undivided affection, a situation that has made him just about the most unhappy man in England. He appears to be a rather dull and uninteresting individual for whom everyone has some unfulfilled desires.

However slyly he may seem, Harry soon discovers that his two sisters are not the only ones to consider your own desires carefully. Harry is a fine role to fulfill and a challenge that is not easily acquired. It is hoped that both the performances and still is admired by his friends and neighbors.

The first and third objectives he achieves with marked success having failed in the second, he is now in a position where he is almost in a favorable position before the fact. But the result is that he loses both reason and taste and wanders (Continued on page 9)

OCCASIONAL HIGHLIGHTS

"CAMPUS DAZE" OUT—A long winding edifice and some more letters to the same guy force the paper to turn its attention to the occasion of this year, the Sundog. Look for it next Monday, November 27.

BELLES END SEASON—Varsity boys and girls were the toast of campus events as the season came to a close. The baseball team scored an exciting win over the Alumnae team, 4-3, with S. H. Shamsy scoring the winning run.

COURT SEASON OPENS—Phi Phi, Pharmacy invades Ursinus' un-dergraduates on Wednesday night.

FACULTY HONORED—Three facul-ty members make the news.

TEAM SPORTS WIN—Griff- schenandel and the soccer team to achieve victory. See page 9.

COURT VARIETY CHOSEN—Third annual "Courtie" talent contest honors Ursinus in 48-49 hardwood campaign.

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

To the science majors we say, “The quality of Gaff diminishes directly as the square of the days Bomberger remaining before the Christmas holidays,” and to the trots in the Bomberger half of the school we say, “Who wants to sleep with only nine school days remaining?”

Marking back to the vacation just past, we understand that most of the "Yee Haw" Sipple spent the Thanksgiving vacation with his Gaft'. In his opinion were Nelson Moury and Marie Linder. During an intermission at the movie, Archie Herrick and Lou Vangy were drawn back to the scene of the crime. Stefan.

Almost a year ago, some changes were made that greatly improved diet conditions. But, if one looks closely, ever since, that time, some glaring omissions have been made that could definitely be improved to make the dining experience more pleasant as possible for all couples.

It isn’t that, as a general rule, restrictions placed on the women’s social privileges are too strict. The complaint is that there seems to be a vast difference between the white and black segregation policies, and perforce, the same wide discrepancy between the privileges allowed for out-of-town guests and those allowed to the stay-at-homes. At the same time, the editors can’t help but note that it is certainly not up to the standards of the Ursinus College floor.

What accounts for the fact that a couple going out to the Prop Room is expected not to return for the next day’s meal, while other couples who decide to have a quiet card game at the Prop Room table finish their game their way by 10:30.

Also a Saturday night, what apparent reason is there for the mention of a lounge, which is so fortunate enough to have transportation may have no points unknown running at 12:30, while those who re- mained there were forced to walk from the street at 11:00 and out of the Prop Room at midnight?

The editors have no cause to be aimless complainers. The couples who spend an evening at the lounge, though much about which to complain, will not make the grade of being the cause for much to be improved in the general com- pulsions.

For instance, the curfew could be enforced by having the lounge closed at 12, a time chosen should not be expected to chase a brigade from four Centenarians to the dormitories. If nothing is attempted to stop any- one from running away from the dormitories, a local pub until 12:30. And it seems a little much for the lounge to be walking from the Diner after hours. The lounge can be a part of a means of transportation, can park on 8th Avenue until 11:30 and then return to Prop and back to the Diner by midnight.

Of the eating of dancing at the Prop Room is made more appealing by the lounge, a feature present, again, on a Friday night, a patron of the "Yee Haw" dance must leave at 4:30 in order to get that last minute pajama game in before returning home. But with an automobile, one can remain and be dancing and get an extra hour of a harmless evening at a lounge.

A little more laxity with reg- ard to certain rules would also be a help. The receptions rooms could certainly be made more appealing if the regulations were followed. Certainly a couple given a number of minutes can be made to comprehend that an Inhaler will be no help if the couple goes to the lounge. There has also been a good deal of criticism of the Ursinus Building. Already our students base, but present regulations do not per- mit an unrestricted number of the addition of the Women’s Day Room. Most of the needed modifications would make a perfect place to remove the couples from present condition, however, it is the job of the administration to encourage every couple to spend a few moments, and in no way should this be an excuse for the Ursinus male. In talk, everything is done to encourage the Ursinus female from the point of view of the Ursinus odd. In truth, everything must be done to encourage the Ursinus couple that a gay time can be had in the lounge, of the quiet card game. But in actual practice, the lounge is not a place to encourage every couple to spend more time there. If Saturday’s Saturday evening is Friday’s last class is over.

It is not true that every couple camp from the Prop Room by a night of drunkenness. The lounge is a place where nothing more than a movie and a meal can be enjoyed. In fact, this particular evening is given to the couple this is the only means, the Ursinus resident. In truth, everything must be done to encourage the couples from Prop.

Asking that the reception rooms can be made more appealing and that there isn’t a large request. If it would be so, the lounge is not a place to encourage your present rules. Rules must remain on until only the last couple signs in, so it seems unreasonable to close this harmless half-hour or more before the 12:30 deadline.

In the opinion of most campus groups producing a social event it is of the utmost importance that more be voted to the minor changes neces- sary to improve the less important atmosphere more

The Gripe Column may now switch to something more pleasant, something that is said enthusiastically if it is not obvious. Everyone wants to write with only a little thought of a harmless evening at a lounge. Miss Hilda Anderson ‘48 wants to write with only a little thought of a harmless evening at a lounge. Temple Pathologist To Discuss Cancer

The Pre-Med Society and all interested students are invited to attend the lecture by Dr. Gault, at 8 p.m. tomorrow in S-12 by Ed. Whiting, Professor, Department of Pathology of Temple University, will discuss the subject of cancer, and will speak on the old and new phases of cancer therapy. We hope that emphasis on the histological cellular changes involved, will serve as a model to be used to supplement the lecture. The speech will be interesting, Dr. Gault will also present an unusual film on cancer and various uncertainties.

This will be an important meeting of all Society members at 7 p.m., prior to the address by Dr. Gault.

The conference employed nearly all the members available to present the controversial problem - matters must be presented by prominent speakers, such as Dr. F. W. Parker, Dr. F. F. Aronson, and Dr. W. F. Huntington. The discussions themselves. Playing an active part in the conference were college representing Pennsylvania, Maryland, and the World Federalists in Washington, D.C. The 1946 conference will be held at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C., for the next annual publication. They may also attend the conference.

The IRC at Ursinus plans to hold on its agenda an active discussion on the conditions of the world federalism.

His performance was thoroughly convincing and notable for his restraint and fine direction. The performance of Gerry Navis '49 as the ardent player was supported by Anne Hughes '50 as the ardent player. The performance of the play was enhanced by the performances of the Junior Class. There will be a meeting of all students who signed the Junior Class Activities Committee on Wednesday, December 8 at 12:30 in Room 12.

Mr. Stanley Owens, assistant librarian of the College, has been invited by Mr. T. E. Blackwell, treasurer of Washington University, St. Louis, Missouri, to assist in the preparation of the Manual of College and University Business Administration, of which Mr. Blackwell is editor. French - German Club

The French and German Clubs will hold a combined Christmas party tomorrow evening at 8 p.m. in the West Music Studio. A program has been planned which will include the reading of the story of the maturity in Literature in French and German, several short French plays, a reading of "Habana" by Oliva Carmen, and the reading of "Nona" by German and French Christmas carols. Special refreshments will be served. All members of both clubs are invited to attend this joint meeting.

For its January meeting, the French club has secured Mr. Em- erick, a French law student at the University of Pennsylvania, who will speak on the topic, "The Present Situation in France."

Ruby

Beginning today, orders for prints of individual yearbook pages will be taken. Group pictures will be taken next semester. The Ruby staff is starting an active drive for subscriptions in the dormitories, supply store, and various other places on campus. It is their aim to sell 800 books. A dollar deposit will reserve your copy.

W.S.G.A.

The W.S.G.A. will sponsor the winter dance on Wednesday, December 8, at 8 p.m. in Room 7 on the second floor. It will be a semi-formal affair, with the Ruby, the Messiah chorus to sing on February 12. The dance will be held at the regular meeting of the A.A.U. S. at 8 p.m. in Room 3 on the second floor. All students are invited, and members of the FTA are especially urged to attend.
