Rev. D. Ehlman Emphasizes Importance Of Religious Faith at '48 Baccalaureate

"You of the graduating class have completed a course of study which has equipped you with a large measure of accurate information, good judgment, and spiritual insight. If you so train your imagination, and nurture your spirit, that you can hear the Eternal One, and see Him acting in the totality of life, then your information, judgment and insight will achieve a moral coordination admirably adequate to live the days that you have before you.

You will then have more than practical moral precepts. You will have religious faith. Every historic culture has had an abundance of lovely moral precepts. They have not been enough, however, to provide a spiritual community adequate to undergird a world civilization. Only a spiritual community rooted in the will of God, promises to do this."

With these words Dr. Dobbs S. Ehlman, executive secretary of the Board of International Missions of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, presented the task of the future to the graduating class of 1948 at the Baccalaureate Service in Bomberger Hall.

An enumeration and explanation of the things of which God reminds us, reverence for life, the spiritual over the sensual and the dangerous materialistic followed.

A personal God is at work in history, and his acts are often perplexing to his people: the atomic bomb, for which we are morally blamed, the differences between the Orient and the Occident.

God also works through the human mind of which there are three types: creative, revolutionary, and redemptive. While creative and revolutionary minds are important, they have saturated the world with their ideas, and redemptive minds are needed to exemplify God's love and good works.

The speaker emphasized that the members of the graduating class seek a practical religion which is the fruit of imagination and spirit of God's calling and acting. "Without seeing him act, and hearing him call, you have practical precepts, but not practical religion. May you have both the roots and fruits of a practical religious faith."

A solo, "I Walked Today," by O'Hara, was offered by John Christ '51 in the early portion of the service. Others participating in the program of worship were Dean John W. Clawson; President Norman E. McClure; the Reverend Charles C. Wallick, the Reverend Alfred L. Creager, and Lloyd Stowe '50, organist.

Blum Elected Prexy Of Alumni; Student Union Plans Tabled

At its annual meeting in Bomberger Hall on Saturday, Reverend C. Eugene Blum '27 assumed his duties as the new president of the Alumni Association. In addition to the new president, who succeeds Philip P. Willauer '30, the other officers announced were: vice-president, Florence Brooks '12; secretary-treasurer, Elizabeth Ballinger Grove '38; alumni-director, Rev. C. Arthur Fretz '23; and the executive committee, Dr. Charles D. Mattern '30 and Mrs. Muriel Brant Pancoast '38. Members of the alumni-at-large are Rev. Charles Deininger '15, Dr. Harry Pote '33, Dorothy Thomas Shelley '35, Justice Bodley, Esq. '38, and Frank Wood '41.

The top item of interest on the day's agenda was the cancelling of the plans to build a Student Union building for a War Memorial. The association felt that it would be better to concentrate on the many other drives being conducted than to embark on one that has so little possibility of securing the necessary financial backing. It was recommended, however, that the War Memorial Committee present its objectives to the Board of Directors so that the Board may consider the project with its other numerous long-range plans.

MR. BARRON, NEW LIBRARIAN, TO TAKE OVER DUTIES JULY 1

President Norman E. McClure has announced the appointment of a new librarian, Tilton M. Barron, who will begin his work July 1. Mr. Barron succeeds Mr. Charles Miller, who resigned during the last school year and is now serving at the University of Nebraska.

The new librarian received his B.A. from Colorado College in 1937 and his B.S. from the School of Library Service of Columbia University in 1941. At present he is a candidate for an M. S. degree at the latter college.

Mr. Barron has served as library assistant at the College of Dentistry in New York, evening supervisor at Brooklyn College Library, acting head of the circulation department of the Queens College Library in Flushing, N. Y., circulation librarian at Penn State, and library assistant at CCNY. From 1942 to 1943 he saw army service as a vocational counselor.

Education and Democratic Leadership Subject of Dr. Stevenson's Address

In his address at the seventy-eighth Commencement Day exercises held in Bomberger Hall this morning, Dr. John A. Stevenson, president of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company of Philadelphia, stressed the importance of leadership in democracy, and showed how education equips young men and women for this role.

Although an academic degree does not, in itself, guarantee the possession of leadership qualities, it does represent a basic knowledge of the problems and new developments of our world. The task of the leaders is to "bring our lagging political and social machine up to the speed level of our technological machines," said Dr. Stevenson, quoting a great scientist. Therefore, the leaders must be men of training and of thought.

The youth of today can contribute the "new thought patterns and qualities of mind needed to meet the terrific responsibilities that confront us at the present time." Dr. Stevenson acclaimed these traits as the fruits of academic learning.

Education should prepare youth for responsibility and leadership. It can increase the supply of mental equipment and new knowledge, insights and ideas necessary to solve life's problems and to understand today's world; it can improve the knowledge of international relations needed for an atmosphere conducive to a world community.

Qualifications for leadership, other than knowledge and character, are the ability to analyze a situation and to choose a course of action to improve it, the courage and capacity to complete the action, and talent for getting along with other people despite differences of opinion. Success in leadership is determined by the willingness of a person to adopt his natural endowments to these qualifications.

Because of our country's traditions of justice and freedom and its dominant position in world affairs, we are faced with responsibilities and obligations in international cooperation. "We must devote our talents to solving the economic and political problems that lead to war. We must direct our energies toward achieving peace and human progress." The prevailing pessimism of today can be combated by referring to our experiences during the making and ratifying of our constitution when much the same attitude prevailed. Our great success in this matter can serve as an incentive to the leaders of today.

Our government is one in which individual opportunity is a partner to individual responsibility. We,

Will Stassen Make It ?

One of the most curious idiosyncracies of the general public in its attitude toward politics is the way in which it hops on the bandwagon of an unknown without considering anything but his personal appeal and the newness of his political position. In most cases, the leader with all the appeal of a Saturday Matinee hero is destined from the start to fade from public view as quickly as he attained prominence. It is then that the populace finds that the real man of its choice has been standing there all the time, unnoticed by the majority, but unconcerned over the rumpus raised in stampeding to the forces of the youngster.

Such seems to be the case in the current presidential preference parade, and this observer has been no exception to the rule. In 1945, our choice for the successor to FDR would have been Harold Stassen, who at the time, had made his first step toward national fame by representing the U. S. at the Dumbarton Oaks Conference. A little later, however, Mr. Stassen's so-called liberalism seemed a mite less liberal, and we returned to the field of candidates whose qualifications were already known.

The Eisenhower boom was another example. Perhaps the popular general would have become the greatest president in U. S. history, but for all that was known of his political beliefs, its amazing to realize that had an election been held in April of this year, only an affirmative nod by the former commander-in-chief would have been needed to seat him in the White House.

Now the first signs of the political death of Mr. Stassen have been noted—and not with his approval. In Oregon, the ex-governor of Minnesota started gasping for breath. His possibilities of being selected as the Republican choice cannot be ruled out completely at this date, but from all appearances Stassen's popularity is waning. The public had an opportunity to make known its choice but evidently has failed. More than likely, the next president will once again be chosen, not at the polls, but in the hotel rooms of the party leaders.

A New Life Begins

Once again a graduating class is leaving the Collegeville scene. For a few, summer school has helped in attaining a degree in three years. For many, the war lengthened commencement aspirations to six or seven years. For some, graduation means the start of a well-planned career, while for many more, graduation means the beginning of a search for a position in the world.

Those departing today are leaving a school much different from the Ursinus of five years ago. It's a college with a greatly enlarged enrollment, expanded curriculum, and an altogether different spirit. The frivolity of campus life has been discarded in the minds of more mature students.

No doubt, a tinge of regret is felt by all today. There's a great desire to complete interrupted educations, but few can leave the scene without realizing how much a part of their lives it has become.

Our fervent hope is that today's Seniors will not forget Ursinus in the future, because the student body will not easily forget you. We hope you'll be active alumni members and will maintain contact with the school. The Weekly will be proud if it can act as the intermediary between you and the students. A post-card to us will bring back many memories to all.

Good luck, graduates! You've worked hard and long and can well be proud of your achievement.

SHREDDED WIT

A member of the Missouri State legislature was being needled constantly by a colleague. The member waited with great patience for the day that he could strike back. This colleague arose one day from the floor and addressed the legislator.

"Sir," he said, "the news has just come to me that you are a veterinarian. Is that true?"

"Yes," drawled the legislator. "Are you ill?"

He: "Both."

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

or What's Bruin

We've signed everyone's year book, taken all our tests, burned notes and now have to wait with fingers crossed.

Part of Bozzie's Ec class came an hour early for the exam. No reserved seats.

Frisky Whiskey Harting upset a canoe on the Perk, drenching everything including Mac McWilliams and Faith Taylor.

We wonder if Dick Clark will want a front seat at graduation as he did at "some other place."

Officer Moyer is roaming the countryside these days calling those "spring-fever" students out of the fields to dinner.

Bill Jordon and Peg Hunter occupied the same campus bench in those odd moments between finals.

Nancy Pharr was so intent upon dreaming about her fast-approaching trailer life that she dropped a tray of dishes—the equivalent of ten steaks!

Couples separated by graduation: Marian Bell 'n Don Payne, Seth Bakes 'n Floy Lewis, Jo Snaidman and Walt Dalsimer, Betty Benham 'n Emmet Hodgkins, Cookie Carter and Bob Hekking.

Saw Rita Lieb eating breakfast three days straight with her eyes closed. What finals won't do to some people!

George Saurman's been Waltzing around quite steadily this week.

Caught a glimpse of Bill Helfferich and Pat Wood whizzing by, what we mean, whizzing.

Did you know that more than one-fourth of the seniors are either married or engaged? No wonder Ursinus is called a "marriage mill."

THESE PEOPLE ARE TELEPHONE EMPLOYEES, building a telephone system.

Not a real one, it's true, but a table-top replica that illustrates the fundamental problems which management meets every day in planning, financing, developing, and expanding a telephone system such as the one that serves your home town.

They raise miniature telephone poles. They string miniature telephone lines between homes and stores and the central office. They plot the changes required when a new telephone is installed . . . when a subscriber moves . . . when additional lines are needed in outlying sections of town. And they keep representative records of the money involved: where it comes from, how it is used, and how repaid.

Such training in the fundamentals of the business, as well as in technical matters, is part and parcel of a telephone career. It is background for good management . . . and good management, by trained and experienced employees, helps provide you with the best possible telephone service at the lowest possible cost.

Men's Sport Highlights

by Roy Todd '49

FOOTBALL

Under the helm of a brand new coach, Kuhrt Wieneke, the 1947 Bruins flashed a great deal of promise for a successful season in chalking up triumphs over Drexel and Haverford in their two tussles. At this point, a series of crippling injuries and tough breaks set in, causing the Red, Old Gold and Black gridders to drop all five of their remaining tussles.

Featuring a double wing attack, in contrast to last season's T-formation, the Grizzlies took the wraps from a sensational freshman scat back, one Don Young from Catasauqua, Pa., and romped to successive 6-0 victories over Drexel's Dragons and Haverford's weighty 'Fords. Young, a 145 pound triple threat, stole the show completely in the only two Bear wins and gave evidence of future greatness on the Ursinus gridiron.

Their next tilt, an arc light fray against Moravian at the Bethlehem, Pa., field saw the Grizzlies receive a thorough 20-0 pasting at the hands of a powerful Greyhound machine. Swarthmore chalked up an unearned 7-0 triumph over the proteges of Wieneke and Ray Gurzynski, and then PMC's mammoth Cadets plastered the Bears by a 20-0 count.

A road trip to Huntingdon, Pa., saw the Bruins fall victim of a 31-14 rout at the hands of a supposedly weak Juniata eleven. At this stage of the season, no less than seven Grizzlies were on the sidelines nursing battle wounds. In the season finale, the Bears performed creditably in holding a superlatively coached F & M eleven to a 27-0 score. This tussle played in a driving rainstorm, was the final collegiate game for such Ursinus grid stalwarts as Bill Miksch, Seth Bakes, Andy Bain, Harlan Durfee, and George Ferguson, all of whom will be sorely missed next fall.

Some sensational newcomers displayed outstanding ability during the 1947 season and will be here next autumn to join such pigskin veterans as Ray Blydenburgh, Lew Wilt, Pete Tenewitz, Ed Miller, George Saurman, Ken Reinhart, John Kajmo, Bill Turner, Ron Landes, Carl Drobek, and Ed Stevens. Among the extremely competent group of plebe stars who will return are Young, Don Stauffer, Chick Scirica, Bill Helfferich, Doug Leander and Charley Glinisky.

SOCCER

Dr. Baker's soccer warriors bumped into extremely tough opposition during the past campaign and were able to chalk up only one victory, that being a 6-0 rout of the alumni aggregation. Featuring a star-studded outfit, the Bruins were unfortunate in encountering three of the most outstanding teams in the east in Lehigh, Swarthmore, and Rutgers.

Scintillating offensively during the entire season were Archie Simons and Dick Fink, both of whom received invitations to participate in the Olympic tryouts. Ricky Wentzel, Dave Bahney, and a newcomer, Pete Peterson, shone on defense most of the time, and the entire squad performed much more creditably than the record books indicate.

Perhaps the highlight of the dismal campaign was the Swarthmore game, in which the local booters were bested by a 3-0 count. The Garnet, featuring two All-Americans in their lineup, Rolf Valtin and Chris Pedersen, were hard pressed to eke out their triumph, and the game was one of the best-played collegiate tussles of the past few years.

The squad suffers the loss of seniors Simons and Fink, offensive standouts, but will feature a horde of returning veterans for their 1948 outfit.

BASKETBALL

Featuring one of the grittiest hardwood aggregations in recent years, the basketball Bruins came within a hair of annexing the Southern Division crown of the Middle Atlantic Conference. Coach Jerry Seeders' minions finished in a three-way deadlock for first place at the conclusion of their regular league campaign. After dropping Swarthmore in an unforgettable playoff tilt at Norristown, 49-37, they bowed to a rough, speedy PMC quintet in the titular contest by a 48-41 score at Swarthmore.

Bulwarking an otherwise all-veteran first team was a sensational frosh performer, rangy Wally Widholm, pivotman hailing from Astoria, Long Island. The lanky freshman spearheaded a dynamic Bruin attack that averaged better than 50 points a game during the lengthy seventeen game card. Bob Jaffe, mammoth centerman, had a fine year, as did eagle-eyed Norm Bertel, hard-working up-court star. Guards Bill Forsyth and Bill Myers, both sophoms, were keymen in an extremely competent Bear man-to-man defense that functioned superbly during most of the season. Dave Bahney, Bob Gehman, and "Red" Condie were valuable substitutes, as were Hal Brandt, "Red" Bronson and Ed Miller. This entire aggregation returns next season and should reap an even more successful harvest of victories for the followers of Ursinus court fortunes in future years.

The campaign saw the inauguration of the long awaited new gymnasium, as the locals played their last two home tilts on its spacious floor, defeating Drexel and losing to Dickinson. The total win and loss slate accumulated by the Grizzlies was 10 wins and 7 losses.

WRESTLING

The wrestling team, mentored by grid coach, Kuhrt Wieneke, and composed of only three grapplers with previous experience, was the first post-war Ursinus mat aggregation. The Grizzlies, operating under tremendous handicaps and plagued by the injury jinx, nevertheless chalked up a sensational 21-15 verdict over Drexel and deadlocked Muhlenberg's wrestling powerhouse, 16-16, in two thrilling home matches. Haverford, Swarthmore, PMC, and CCNY, all featuring seasoned squads, took the measure of the Bear wrestlers.

Bill Turner, 155 pound ace and a three-sport Bruin performer, was the outstanding star of the campaign, losing only once, in a close, hard-fought overtime bout with the CCNY middleweight. Jim Duncan, 136 pound plebe, scintillated till a crippling arm injury in the Swarthmore match forced him to the sidelines for the remainder of the campaign. Ted Miller, Joe Pond, Chuck Collins, and Bob Mitchell all broke into the win column at various times during the season, and Joe Bechtle, Ed Robinson, Dick Davidson, Jack Young, and Bill Helfferich displayed sufficient talent to warrant a more successful mat campaign during the next year's schedule.

BASEBALL

This season, the diamond was a very successful one from a Bear standpoint. The charges of Coach Sieb Pancoast compiled an enviable record of seven wins against but five losses.

Perhaps the outstanding performer of the campaign was the brilliant soph moundsman, southpaw Ron Landes, who twirled effectively all season long and chalked up a 4 and 2 slate. Landes hurled beautiful ball in every assignment except the F & M. fray, when an extremely cold day and a slugging Diplomat crew proved his downfall.

Don Stauffer and Art Baron, a pair of newcomers to the Grizzly mound staff, and the veteran George Saurman, who divided his time between chucking and patrolling right field, all turned in superlative hurling jobs during the season. This entire quartet of fingers will return next year and should solve any hurling problems with which Coach Pancoast might be confronted.

Wally Widholm, basketball luminary, and Roy Todd, diminutive veteran, gave the Bears top flight receiving, while Dave Bahney, Bob

TOP SENIOR ATHLETE

MARION BOSLER

Sis Bosler Chosen Top Senior Athlete

Top honor in athletics go to senior Marion Bosler, better known as Sis, who was an active player in four varsity sports the past two years.

This tall Physical Education major protected the Ursinus goal cage for four years, two of which were spent in a varsity berth. When the swimming team came into existence, Sis, then a sophomore, became a free-style mermaid and was a member of the Middle Atlantic's championship relay team. In the spring season she divided her time between the varsity softball and golf team, covering second base in softball and seeding in the number one position for golf.

Sis' sports prowess was recognized in her Junior year when she was awarded the Junior medal for outstanding sports activity, leadership, and character.

Filling out her social program, Sis was an active member of the Physical Education Club, vice-president of both Day Study and Phi Psi sorority, a representative to the Women's Student Government Association, and prexy of the Women's Athletic Association.

BETTY J. MOYER CHOSEN "ATHLETE OF THE WEEK"

Miss Betty Jean Moyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Moyer, Collegeville, appeared last week on the WFIL sports program conducted by Tom Moorehead. She was chosen by the program as the "Girl Athlete of the Week."

Miss Moyer was interviewed about her athletic career at Ursinus College where she has been a member of the hockey, basketball and softball varsity teams. She is captaining the basketball team for the second straight year and was pitcher of the softball team that has won 54 out of 55 games. She is a Junior.

Gehman, Archie Simons, Hap Hallinger, Wayne Niedringhaus, and Claude Troutman covered the infield in sensational fashion. Ed Miller, Mel Smithgall, Doug Leander, Saurman, and Stauffer did a competent job of roaming the outer pastures for the Red, Old Gold, and Black. Since only shortstop Simons graduates from the 1948 crew, next year's star-studded lineup should prove tough to beat. This season featured triumphs over Elizabethtown, Haverford twice, Drexel, PMC, Swarthmore, and Juniata and defeats by LaSalle, Dickinson, F & M, Moravian, and Delaware.

TENNIS

Inexperience once more took its toll in the annals of Ursinus athletics as the Grizzly tennis squad bowed in successive matches to six opponents. Having only veterans Stan McCausland, Burt Landes, and John Vance to begin with, Coach Wallick's task of producing a winning squad seemed massive.

Newcomers were found in the persons of Bob Walsh, Charles Trout, Dick Davidson and Dick Lytle, but the season's only favorable point was the realization that all but McCausland would be back for service in '49.

Girls' Sport Highlights

HOCKEY

The hockey team again turned in a successful record in spite of its usual tough schedule. Good teamwork and stickwork plus the able guidance of Miss Eleanor Snell, veteran coach, have been the main factors in contributing to our consistently fine teams.

Co-captained by Hilda Anderson and Edna Daniels, the team boasted a strong forward line which outscored its opponents 37 points to 7. At the beginning of the season, the backfield lacked experience and strength, but these were added to its ability and speed as time went on.

The only loss of the season came in the game with Penn. Only because of the many miraculous saves of our goalie, Sis Bosler, were the Quakers held to a 3-1 score.

In tryouts for the All-College team, all Ursinus players were cited for unusually fine teamwork. Hilda Anderson, Joanne Duncan and Doris Greenwood gained posts on the first team. "Andy" captured the left inner position for the second consecutive year. "Dunc" made left wing and "Greenie" placed at right halfback.

Second team representatives were Edna Daniels, Ann Harting, and Jane McWilliams.

BASKETBALL

The 1947-1948 girls' basketball season was a highly successful one with a record of nine wins and one loss. Snell's Belles bowed only once, to the aggressive Immaculata sextette. The highlight of the season came when the Ursinus six eked out a one-point victory over the Temple lassies to give them their first defeat in three years.

In the defensive positions were Captain Betty Jean Moyer, Evie Moyer, Peg Hunter, Floy Lewis, and Mary Evans. Special attention must be given to Floy Lewis and Mary Evans for their able, consistent playing.

Scoring for the team were Hilda Anderson, Connie Warren, Edith Calhoun, Anita Frick, Joanne Duncan, and Nancy Vadner. This group, paced by Connie Warren, who proved to be the season's outstanding performer, piled up the points for one of the most successful of Beurette seasons.

All but three of this year's highly competitive squad—Evie Moyer, Peg Hunter and Hilda Anderson—will return next year, promising a banner court season.

GOLF

The women's golf team completed its second season of inter-scholastic competition this spring. After bowing in three matches, the Ursinus players finished off the year with a 5-0 victory over Temple at the Rydal Country Club. The other matches were staged at the Plymouth Country Club which generously offered the use of its course to the Collegeville players again this year.

In the opening contest, the Garnet players of Swarthmore defeated the local team, 4-1. Hard luck continued to prevail in the match against the strong Beaver team, resulting in a 5-0 set-back. The Quakers from Penn gained a 4-1 victory in the third match of the season.

Two members of the team, Marion Bosler, number one player, and Betty Adam, number three, will be graduated. The remaining, second, fourth, and fifth players, Floy Lewis, Edith Calhoun, and Faith Taylor will be the nucleus for next year's team.

SWIMMING

Though successful in only one meet of the season, the 1947-48 Mermaids came within close range of their opponent's score in each test. Although paced by seniors Marion Bosler and Anne Eysenbach, the Ursinus relay team suffered its first defeat since 1945 when the swimming team was organized and the Bearettes lost their opener to Penn. Adding their names to the winner's column, Temple and Swarthmore came out on top. The meet with Chestnut Hill was the highlight of the season when the lassies captured three firsts to take the meet 30-27. After wins by Marion Bosler, in freestyle, and Rita Lieb, in backstroke, the relay team clinched the meet.

The senior losses from "Beebe's Beauties" are Sis Bosler, Anne Eysenbach, and manager Betty Adam, while veterans, Pat Pattison, Rita Lieb, Mary McPherson, Pat Ellis and Dolores Meder should all be on hand for the '49 schedule.

SOFTBALL

The Ursinus girls' softball team finished another undefeated season last week after beating Temple. They garnered 115 runs to 10 for their opponents. The schedule included Penn, Beaver, Swarthmore, Albright, Bryn Mawr, and Temple. The Snell's Belles have lost only one game in eight years in collegiate competition.

Outstanding players on this year's varsity were Hilda "Andy" Anderson, playing her fourth year as catcher, and Betty Jean Moyer, pitcher. Moe did an excellent job on the mound, striking out 57 opponents and allowing only ten walks.

Quite a few players will be lost by graduation. Those leaving are Hilda Anderson, catcher; Sis Bosler, second base; Doris Stierly, third base; Lois Cain, left field; and Evie Moyer, center field. Including those left from this year's team and those from the Jay-Vees, the future looks bright for next year.

There was one Junior Varsity game this year. At this time the Ursinus gals defeated the Bryn Mawr Jay-Vees 18-15.

The varsity aggregation has one game left to play when they travel to Atlantic City to play the Jesters, a semi-pro team.

TENNIS

Despite the rain-soaked courts, the 1948 tennis team wound up the season by capturing three of their five matches. In a play-off tournament for positions, versatile Nancy Vadner was seeded for number one singles, with Anita Frick and Doris Greenwood, numbers two and three respectively. First doubles berths were won by Manny Ballantyne and Eddy Daniels, who lost only one match throughout the entire season. In second doubles slot were Jean Daniels and Mag Schafenacker.

Starting the season with a bang, the racquet-wielders aced Albright with a 5-0 win. However, the tide was turned when East Stroudsburg was faced.

The climax of the season was a 3-2 win over Rosemont in which Ballantyne and Daniels clinched the victory after Vadner and Greenwood chalked up wins.

The Intercollegiate try-outs at Bryn Mawr proved highly successful this year for Nancy Vadner, Anita Frick, and Doris Greenwood. Nance reached the third round, while "Greenie" and "Fricky" were stopped at the second.

Veterans for next year's varsity will be the first three singles players and Jeanne Daniels.

One Jay-Vee match was played against Swarthmore, with the Bearettes on the short end of a 3-2 score. Third singles, Connie Warren, and second doubles players, "Elmer" Cain and Anne Eysenbach, tallied the wins for the local girls.

The success of the girls' teams this season can best be shown by the fact that a leading Philadelphia paper acclaimed Ursinus as having recaptured the top position in the three major girls' sports, hockey, basketball and softball, in the Philadelphia circuit of colleges.

Top Batting Mark Set By W. Widholm

Wally Widholm, frosh ace who paced the basketball squad to its great year, is the new batting champ of the Ursinus varsity baseball squad. Widholm led the regulars with a mark of .342, just two points better than the average attained by third sacker Hap Hallinger.

Wayne Neidringhaus and Ron Landes both topped the mark made by the Astoria slugger but participated in only half of the games.

George Saurman's record of one win and no losses was tops in the hurling department, and Don Stauffer proved to be most effective by limiting the opposition to an earned run average of 1.64.

GIRLS' TENNIS TEAM LOSES TO SWARTHMORE COEDS, 5-0

The Ursinus girls' tennis team was defeated by Swarthmore last week, 5-0. Due to the poor weather, the varsity match was held on indoor courts. Almost all the matches went to three sets, but matched against more experienced players and unaccustomed to the hardwood courts, Ursinus was unable to reach the top.

At first singles was Nancy Vадner playing against Mary Hench, to whom she had previously lost in the Intercollegiate matches. Playing a very good game but against too strong opposition was Anita Frick at second singles.

The Jay-Vee team lost 3-2, with Connie Warren at 3rd singles, and Lois Cain and Anne Eysenbach at 2nd doubles winning their matches.

Weekly Sports Dept. Names Bakes, Bain Top Senior Athletes

Following the usual custom of picking the top athletes of our graduating class, your Weekly Sports Department feels that a dual award is in order this year. Equally valuable in the field of sports are Seth Bakes and Andrew Bain.

Bakes proved himself to be one of the greatest Ursinus ends of the past decade with his showing on the Collegeville gridiron during the past two years. The versatile Pleasantville, N. J., lad was one of the Bears' foremost baseball sluggers during the 1946 and 1947 diamond campaigns and was a member of the 1945-46 hardwood quintet which nabbed the Southern Division title of the Middle Atlantic Conference. Before the war, Bakes performed on the freshman football and basketball aggregations.

Bain, a Woodbury, N. J., product, is not among those graduating today, but the popular grid star will receive his diploma at the conclusion of summer school. He has performed brilliantly on the gridiron for three seasons, one before the war, and has left his mark as one of the finest centers ever to back up a Grizzly line. Bain also performed on the 1946 baseball squad, but his chief claim to fame was his outstanding football ability.

BRODBECK KO'S CURTIS TEAM TO GAIN INTRAMURAL TITLE

In a photo-finish ending to a successful intramural softball season, Brodbeck nosed out Curtis II, 8-7, on May 19 before a capacity crowd.

Hal Buckner hurled his way to glory by turning in his seventh game for the win column while losing only once. Not far behind in this department was the ace twirler from Curtis, Ray Dippel, whose record was six victories against two defeats.

Ray MacQueen, with a .786 average at the plate, finished far ahead of all other batting competitors.

Lewis, McWilliams Awarded Honors At Athletic Banquet

A highlight of the annual banquet of the Women's Athletic Association, held on May 17, was the presentation of the coveted junior awards to Floy Lewis and Jane McWilliams.

Floy was honored with the highest award given by the WAA, the honorary red blazer. This award is made on the basis of sports ability, leadership, character, and scholastic achievement. The last award of a blazer was made by the council in 1943.

The versatile Floy is well-known for her active participation on the varsity hockey team, for her two years on the golf team, and for her three years as guard on the varsity basketball team. Besides her work in athletics, Floy heads the Women's Student Government Association, in which she has taken an active interest during her years at Ursinus.

Mac, the newly-elected president of the 1948-49 WAA, was the recipient of the gold medal, which is also awarded on the basis of ability, leadership, character and scholastic achievement. Active in various varsity sports, she is captain-elect of next year's varsity hockey team, a Jay-vee basketball player, and 1948 softball manager.

Also during the course of the banquet, charges were offered to the new officers and class representatives of the WAA council. Letters, certificates, and Junior and Senior awards were presented by Miss Eleanor Snell and Miss Natalie Hogeland, of the Physical Education Department.

The Senior awards, consisting of miniature silver hockey sticks, basketballs, softball and swimming medals, are awarded to those seniors who have had varsity letters for two years and who have attended two-thirds of the practices for the third year. For gold awards, three years on the varsity squad are required.

The following Senior awards were given: gold hockey sticks—Hilda Anderson, Edna Daniels, Evelyn Moyer, Ann Harting; silver hockey stick—Marion Bosler; gold basketball—Peg Hunter; silver basketball—Evelyn Moyer; swimming medal—Marion Bosler, Betty Adam, Anne Eysenbach; gold softball—Hilda Anderson, Anne Eysenbach, Evelyn Moyer, Lois Cain, Marion Bosler; silver baseball—Doris Stierly.

Loss to Blue Hens Ends Bruin Season

In their final tussle of the year on May 18, the Grizzlies journeyed to Newark, Delaware, and dropped a heart-breaking 4-2 decision to the University of Delaware nine. The loss gave the charges of Sieb Pancoast a won-and-lost slate of 7 and 5 for the season.

Don Stauffer toed the slab for the Bears and chucked a beautiful game throughout, yielding only seven hits to the Blue Hens. The freshman portsider was the victim of a three-run Delaware uprising in the bottom half of the eighth inning, which saw the Newark aggregation come from behind to eke out its triumph. Stauffer plastered a sizzling triple into deep right field in the Grizzly half of the fifth to pace the Bruin offense. Shortstop Archie Simons collected two safeties in his last collegiate tussle.

The Red, Old Gold, and Black nine was handcuffed at the plate by the bewildering slants of pitcher Roy, Blue Hen mound ace, who gave the Bears but six bingles during the fray.

Bob Gehman, Dave Bahney, and George Saurman were the only other Bruins able to connect for base knocks off the Delaware right hander, who kept the Grizzlies off balance with a variety of choice pitches during most of the contest. He was no more effective than Stauffer, however, who was forced to occupy the loser's role because of three scratch infield safeties in the unlucky eighth frame.

'48 Track Summary

The track season saw the Bears capture one victory over PMC, finish second in a triangular meet, fourth in the Neighborhood Meet, and ninth in the Middle Atlantic championships. Haverford, Lehigh, and F & M topped the forces of Coach Ray Gurzynski.

Outstanding for the Bruin cindersmen were captain George Kennedy, Ray Blydenburg, Jerry Rotwein, Russ Binder, Bill Turner, Karlton Smith, and George Pearson.

Kennedy broke his own school record three times in the discus, his best throw being good for 136 feet 6 inches. His toss of 133 feet 2 1/2 inches gave him the Middle Atlantic crown in that event.

Blydenburg gained fifth spot in the discus event at the Middle Atlantic Championship Meet. He also broke the old school record in this event, but was a few feet behind Kennedy.

Binder, Middle Atlantic 100 yard dash champion, was undefeated in this event all year. He also participated in the pole vault, broad jump, and 220.

Workhorse Bill Turner was a consistent scorer in the hurdles and pole vault. His 12 foot vault set a new school mark.

Rotwein tripled in the javelin, discus, and broad jump; Smith proved dependable in the 440 and 880; and Pearson added many points in the dashes.

Among the many other men who earned points were: Joe Shaw, Lee Tori, and Elliot in the broad jump; and Randy Dewitt and Allan Stave in the pole vault.

Season's point scoring:

- 1, Kennedy 59; 2, Turner 48 1/2; 3, Binder 39 1/4; 4, Blydenburg 29; 5, Rotwein 24; 6, Smith 24; 7, Pearson 21; Elliot 12; 9, Shaw 11; 10, Tori 8; 11, DeWitt 7 1/2; 12, Paetzold 6; 13, Stave 5 1/2; 14, Hand 5; 15, Reinhart 4 5/6; 16, Fink 3 3/6; 17, Helmbreck 3; 18, Baxter 3; 19, Kajmo 1; 20, Dillinger 1; 21, Young 1.

Alumni Meeting

A report on the Director's meeting gave the following facts: gifts and bequests to the college have totalled $48,000 in the past year, of which $17,000 was given by the alumni; two alumni made the college the sole beneficiary of their wills; it will cost $825,000 to operate the college in the next year—twice as much as five years ago.

The Ursinus Women's Club reported that it has started a drive to obtain $1000 for improving the hockey field.

The business having ended, a controversy over UMT began. When it was realized that the UMT question had little bearing on the future of the Alumni Association, the members adjourned and turned their thoughts to the turkey dinner and alumni dance.

Commencement

the heirs of our ancestors' ideals, courage, vision, and hope, must fulfill the obligations and challenges which they have given us. Dr. Stevenson concluded, "If we fail, we will be false, not only to them but to those who come after us in history."

Preceding Dr. Stevenson on the program was the academic procession and prayer by the Reverend Charles Wallick, College Chaplain.

After the address, baccalaureate degrees were conferred upon the graduating body of 151 members, honorary D.D. degrees upon the Reverend Walter Harold Diehl, the Reverend Dobbs S. Ehlman, and the Reverend Paul Waitman Hoon; an honorary Sc.D. degree upon Catharine MacFarlane; an honorary LL.D. degree upon Thomas Jefferson Williams; and an honorary Litt.D. degree upon John Alford Stevenson. Following the awarding of prizes, the benediction and processional brought the ceremony to a close. Dr. Norman E. McClure, head of the College, presided over the commencement exercises.
