Inflation is Topic For Faculty Debate
Pancoat, Boswell Give, Signs, Reasons for Economic Situation

Bomberger Hall was the scene last Wednesday evening of an interesting discussion on inflation, led by Dean Seiber Pancoat and Dr. James Boswell. They presented their views on inflation as it is occurring in the United States today, discussing some common signs of inflation, the causes, and possible remedies.

Dean Pancoat, speaking first, pointed out that much has been accomplished, throughout the war years and at the present time, controlled prices, but never approached inflation.

"The difficulties are due to," he explained, "an over-abundance of money."

"A great demand for services and needs, as cars, household appliances, and entertainment."

The standard of living during the war had been raised, and taught many people to want things which they never wanted before.

The American flag on the east campus is flying at half-mast today for the death of Dean Whorton A. Kline. He died last Wednesday of acute lymphatic leukemia in the Montgomery County Hospital where he had been confined less than a week.

When, on Wednesday morning, his condition became critical, students were asked to give blood for transfusions for him. Of the many who volunteered, E. Sheridan Much, Richard Lill, and Kenneth Reinhard donated, having the same type as was needed.

Because of the request of Dean Kline's family, no memorial service was planned here at the college. Funeral services were held in Littlestown, Pa., on December 31, 1982, and internment was at Wrightsville, Pa. In the Chapel service on Thursday morning, President McClure gave a short talk on the Dean's life and his great service to Ursinias and to the many students he taught during his long career.

The "Grand Old Man" of Ursinias had celebrated his eighty-second birthday last April; more than half a century of his life was spent either as a student or faculty member of this school. He was graduated in 1983, receiving his Bachelor of Divinity and Master's degree in 1986 from the college and divinity school which was located here at that time. He taught all his life; even before he came to college, in public schools, and then as professor of Latin and Greek at Ursinias. He was elected to the office of dean in 1909. His alma mater bestowed two honorary degrees upon him, Doctor of Letters in 1913 and Doctor of Law in 1943.

While serving as president he taught practically every college course. He also instigated the first summer school which began in 1894. He was a familiar figure to hundreds of students, who consulted him as an authority upon questions of literature and general knowledge.

Along with his professorship, Dean Kline was assistant pastor of Christ Church, Littlestown, from 1896 until 1926. A great nature lover, he was an authority on the flora of this area, contributing to scientific publications and writing pamphlets on the flora of lower Montgomery County. He was a member of the Philadelphia Botanical Club and the Classical Association of the Middle Atlantic States and Maryland.

During a short period after his graduation from Ursinias, Dean Kline entered the tobacco business near Hanover. He built this business into a prosperous organization, ultimately establishing offices in Philadelphia.

Cub and Key Taps Outstanding Men For Membership
Students Choose for Character, Leadership, Scholarship

Three members of the senior class were tapped by the Cub and Key fraternity for membership, the Senior Ball last Friday evening. A total of 150 undergraduates were present for their character, scholarship, and leadership.

Joseph Jones, who returned to the campus this year after serving with the Naval reserves, was honored by the society. Joe has taken an active part in extra-curricular activities as a member of the Interfraternity Council, and editorial staff of the 1946 Daily Bulletin. He first enlisted in the Naval Reserve, Rho Lambda, he also served as football captain in 1944, and chairman of publications of the 1946 Bulletin.

Louis Odo was also chosen for membership this year on the campus last year after an admission of two years which was spent as a member of the Interfraternity Council.

If you want to be in the race, remember that the perfect candidates were Louis Odo and Current Captain of Baseball. Louis Odo was chosen for membership in the campus last year after an admission of two years which was spent as a member of the Interfraternity Council.

November 28 is Thanksgiving—a day set aside by our ancestors to give thanks to God for delivering them from the imminent starvation hanging over them like a cloud as they began life anew in the wilderness.

This is the day we too are expected to give thanks, and we usually do so by stuffing our faces and saying "Give thanks for what?" Peace! How can we give thanks for something this year? How shall we give thanks for a world war worse than the last, a world where the faces of the nations and brothers and grandchildren have returned safely? How can we when we know that millions of men and women and children are still destined to struggle to regain their former identity, when the prospect of their future is a world of billboards and billboards, struggling to regain their former identity, when the prospect of their future is a world of billboards and billboards? How can we give thanks for a world that can bring the unfortunate ones back from the graves? Should we feel thankful that we are Americans and the only country with their vitality being eaten away by maggots—money-mad politicians seeking to capitalize on the returning confidence? For hours, we give thanks for it. We give it back. We give it to the extent of singling out the people who have returned to us in an amiable mood before the dust settles—medicine, Sunday, cheer, for Plan, for...
Basketballers Begin To Round Into Form; Schedule Scrimmages

With the basketball team rounding into shape, we stopped in to get his views on the prospects for the season. Coach Joe felt that the team was more likely to play well than not to play well, but there were still some uncertainties. He was hoping that the team could get into a good rhythm and improve as the season progresses.

Bearcats End Season Without One Victory

Although the Bearcats ended the season without a victory, there were some bright spots. The team had a hard time getting off to a good start, but they showed improvement as the season progressed. Coach Joe was pleased with the way the team played and felt that they could have done better with some more practice and experience.

Ursinus Swamps Chestnut Hill, 5-0

Even foul weather couldn't hold Ursinus to a loss on Monday when they swung into action and completely overwhelmed Chestnut Hill team 5-0. For the Bears, this game was the first after a long period of time without a win. The Chestnut Hill team was overmatched and was unable to trouble themselves to their best form. The weather was a big factor in the outcome of the game, and Ursinus took advantage of the conditions to get the victory.

Senior Girls Bow To Men Students In Hockey Farce

On Saturday afternoon the world's greatest hockey rancor took place on Ursinus campus as the Women's Terrors engaged in a losing battle against the male Bruisers. The game was supposed to be a sideshow only but due to certain circumstances—namely the Senior Ball—a few fingers were broken due to class-enforced plans to complete the feminine eleven. The Ursinus girls blunted "Muscles" Miller's efforts to get the ball away from feminine players and thus the fight began. All eleven—and then some—fellows rushed on the ball hockey game. After passing up all the girls but Em Fischer, the goalie, who by this time was hiding under their first goal. After the Fullback Millie Wilson, was injured thru for their second and last score. After much center bullying the play and players — again converged in the ried off the field, even by eleven of the handsome men. After much center climbing down off his perch on top of the goal cage to whisper reassuring words into the ears of the few remaining frozen spectators.

Reynolds displayed some true dirt by using the wrong side of his stick. Our boys won 11-1 over the Bruisers eleven man defense.

Professor Discuss Inflation

Washington talk of wage increases without price increase. This is entirely impractical, but very appealing to the people. We must realize that, although these are a few who get very wealthy in production, there are also many who are on the verge of bankruptcy, because wages are going up, while prices and goods are controlled. For instance—the cost of rough ice is the same as the cost of finished oak flooring, therefore no businessmen can profitably produce the finished oak. Thus price control produces boomerangs and shortages. One possible solution, but one which is also very unpopular, is to decrease taxes on the upper class, and increase taxes on the lower class. In this manner, the wealthy would have money to engage in production, while the supply of money for consumers would be reduced, thereby increasing production and decreasing the supply of money. However, this idea is very unpopular with the majority of the people because, after all, the majority is the middle class. The middle class, on the whole, do not understand existing problems. Dr. Russell predicted a probable rise in business, then a decline, and by next year a considerable fall. He ended the discussion with the statement that controls cannot prevent inflation—they merely create black markets.

Ursinus to Take Affirmative Side in Labor Debate With Princeton

Tomorrow at three o'clock in Room 7 of Bomberger, Hal Grossman '49, and Dave Roosman '49, will debate with Princeton University's Terrors engaged in a debate that labor be given a direct share in the mess benefit of industry. Ursinus will uphold the affirmative side of the question.

Last Tuesday evening, at the regular monthly meeting of the Debating Club, a freshmen-sophomore debate was held. The question, "Resolved: The classes of higher learning beyond secondaries school is coeducational," was upheld by Dick Davidson, Jerome L. Maurer '48, and Dean Evans '48 for the affirmative side, while Richard W. Morgan '48, L. Maurer, and Val Sipple debated the negative side. Dr. Maurice Armstrong, sponsor of the club, J. Robert Wilson '49, and N. Dean Evans '49, judged the debate. The decision was in favor of the freshman team.

WASHINGTON TALK OF WAGE INCREASES WITHOUT PRICE INCREASE. THIS IS ENTIRELY IMPRACTICAL, BUT VERY APPEALING TO THE PEOPLE. WE MUST REALIZE THAT, ALTHOUGH THESE ARE A FEW WHO GET VERY WEALTHY IN PRODUCTION, THERE ARE ALSO MANY WHO ARE ON THE VERGE OF BANKRUPTCY, BECAUSE WAGES ARE GOING UP, WHILE PRICES AND GOODS ARE CONTROLLED. FOR INSTANCE—THE COST OF ROUGH ICE IS THE SAME AS THE COST OF FINISHED OAK FLOORING, THEREFORE NO BUSINESSMEN CAN PROFITABLY PRODUCE THE FINISHED OAK. THUS PRICE CONTROL PRODUCES BOOMERANGS AND SHORTAGES. ONE POSSIBLE SOLUTION, BUT ONE WHICH IS ALSO VERY UNPOPULAR, IS TO DECREASE TAXES ON THE UPPER CLASS, AND INCREASE TAXES ON THE LOWER CLASS. IN THIS MANNER, THE WEALTHY WOULD HAVE MONEY TO ENGAGE IN PRODUCTION, WHILE THE SUPPLY OF MONEY FOR CONSUMERS WOULD BE REDUCED, THEREBY INCREASING PRODUCTION AND DECREASING THE SUPPLY OF MONEY. HOWEVER, THIS IDEA IS VERY UNPOPULAR WITH THE MAJORITY OF THE PEOPLE BECAUSE, AFTER ALL, THE MAJORITY IS THE MIDDLE CLASS. THE MIDDLE CLASS, ON THE WHOLE, DO NOT UNDERSTAND EXISTING PROBLEMS. DR. RUSSELL PREDICTED A PROBABLE RISE IN BUSINESS, THEN A DECLINE, AND BY NEXT YEAR A CONSIDERABLE FALL. HE ENDED THE DISCUSSION WITH THE STATEMENT THAT CONTROLS CANNOT PREVENT INFLATION—THEY MERELY CREATE BLACK MARKETS.
