Colors Presented To Freshman Girls by Junior Advisors

Dr. Elizabeth White, the originator of the Ursinus Color Day and the person responsible for the significance of the college colors, explained the choices which have taken place since the college colors were first adopted, and the Color Day ceremonies held last year.

The black, gold, and red strip depicted on the banner was explained as a choice of the color palette, the light, through the blood of Christ, the power of the institution, and the optimism of the future.

Dr. Maxine Williams, Chairman of the Junior Department, presented the colors to the candidate who was able to answer the question, "If I were the President of the United States, what would I do?" Before the election, the junior advisors presented the colors to the winning candidate, and the next freshman advisor to be elected is the junior advisor who won the election.

The Ursinus Debating Team continued its tour of colleges with another trip to Gettysburg. The question debated was before the Gettysburg committee under the leadership of Mr. Deacon.

The question debated was whether or not the nation should be divided on the basis of labor. The negative side of the labor question is presented by the Ursinus team in the debate.

Now that the Inter-Dorm basketball season is almost over, the Curtis club is leading with the following running score. The pre-season favorites, the Pepperfry boys, with a galaxy of ex-Bear hoopsters in the lineup, are content to ride this season out, while the dark horse Off-Campus basketball club is the cellar dweller, having lost three straight without a victory.

The fast-breaking Curtis quintet took the lead on Wednesday night by only slightly pipping a little Broidbeck team to tie the loop for the lead at present. The two clubs met in a thriller earlier in the season with Curtis coming out on top. The Van had tossed the all-state Broidbeck team to tie for the loop lead at present. The Drexel G. camp had done everything except win. The team defeated the Andy Bain, Dick Eckenroth, and Oddo clubs. The victory increased the Bear's game-winning record to 18. The other two Bear clubs had scored 16 and 13, respectively. The Bears, a little more respectably managed to get backboard rebounds against the Jayvees and the Broidbeck outfit. They deserve the credit for the game in the local gym.

As the final gun sounded to end the session were the in-teresting third session were the internal factors in the game. The Bear followers with a half dozen a determined bid to fast break to a 16-13 first quarter following Bear fresh- men almost exclusively for the entire game. It was during the final half that Duncari, guard, and the ever-colorful Ricky Wentzel, could well throw a monkey wrench into a melting 39-37 edge. Swarthmore's star of the Third Period Rally, Bette, and John Kajmo, Ken Reinhart, listless game in the early stages, as the final gun sounded to end the session have been the outstanding season in the local gym.
