Tryouts Held for Jerome Kern Comedy; Is April Production of Music Group

Large Cast and Chorus Needed For Operetta, Very Good Eddie

Tryouts were held last Thursday evening for major parts in the musical comedy Very Good Eddie, by Jerome Kern. This production, which will be presented on Friday and Saturday evenings, April 25 and 26, will be directed by Dr. William F. Philip with Mr. Donald Helfferich coaching from the dramatic angle.

The title role of Eddie Kettle, the meek little husband, was made famous on Broadway by Earnest Truex. The musical has been acclaimed everywhere as a superb comedy.

The story centers around two newly wed couples who find themselves standing on the deck of a Hudson River steamer. They may be identified as Percy Darling, who is big and domineering with his timid wife, Elsie, and Mrs. Kettle, who is just beginning to enjoy her supreme authority over Eddie.

Somehow, in the confusion of loading baggage, only Eddie and Mrs. Darling are on the boat as it pulls away. At the hotel the manager finds it difficult to understand why the apparently married couple want separate rooms. Many amusing incidents ensue and audiences find it difficult to predict a solution to this almost hopeless situation.

The love interest is provided when handsome Dick Rivers falls for Elsie Lilly, one of the opera pupils of Mme. Matropo who are vacationing at the same hotel.

This show provides for a large cast and chorus, bringing to the stage several of Jerome Kern's well-known melodies.

Debaters Continue Schedule; To Meet Bucknell at Home

The Ursinus Debating Club continued its full schedule of inter-collegiate debate last week by meeting with two colleges on the home campus. On Thursday Grace Newman '48, and Leona Bechtold '47, upheld the affirmative side of the question, "Resolved: That labor should be given a direct share in the management of industry." A team from Rutgers University visited Ursinus on Friday and debated the negative side of the question, "Resolved: That the United Nations Organization should be evolved into a world federation." Dorothy Arden Dean '49, and Randolph Warden '48, represented Ursinus in the debate. Both of these debates were debated in conventional style and were not decided.

On Tuesday a team from Bucknell University will visit Ursinus and debate the negative side of the labor question. This debate will be held at three o'clock in Room 7 of Bomberger. Everyone is invited to come.

German Club Plans Activities; Speaker Scheduled for March 18

At the meeting of the German Club last Tuesday evening, the program was planned for the remainder of the semester. Mr. George Allen, formerly with the Army Intelligence, will speak at the club's meeting on March 18.

A doggie roast will be held in April and a banquet in May for club members.

Following the business meeting Mr. Charles Steinmetz, assistant in German, led the group in the singing of German songs, explaining and demonstrating how they should be sung.

Extracurricular Activities To Be Subject of March FTA Meeting

The March meeting of the Future Teachers of America will feature a student panel on extra-curricular activities.

Correct attitudes toward these activities and the purpose and place of student government, publications, athletics, music, and dramatics are the main points to be discussed.

Senate Announces Permission Changes For College Women

At the senate meeting held last Tuesday, several changes and additions were made in regard to the permissions of the women students. They include the following:

1. If a woman student, regardless of class, takes an out-of-town permission and returns to the campus before the time has expired, she may bring her date into the reception room for the remainder of the time, provided the unexpired time is not more than one hour.

2. For all dances at Sunnybrook, the dormitory will be open to the girls and their escorts until 2 a. m.

3. For the six major dances, usually held on campus, the dormitory will close one-half hour after the close of the dance. This does not include Friday night Y parties.

4. Special late permissions may be arranged with the Dean of Women when two or more girls or a girl and her escort wish to attend plays, operas, concerts, other college dances, etc.

These permissions are in effect now and will continue to be in effect for the remainder of the 1947 spring term.

WSSF Falls Short Of Goal; To Extend Drive Extra Week

Falling far short of its $1000 goal for the World Student Service Fund Drive, the YM-YWCA has extended the soliciting period for an extra week as a final try to boost the receipts. Within the two-week period set aside for the drive, approximately $200 has been collected from Ursinus College students and faculty. Each individual was asked to contribute at least one dollar or more, and smaller contributions were also accepted.

This week solicitors will again make the rounds of the college campus in an attempt to contact those people who have not as yet contributed to WSSF. Any students or members of the faculty and administration who are not contacted by solicitors and who wish to contribute to the drive are asked to give their money directly to Helen Derewianka '48, James Kromka '48, or any member of the Y cabinet.

At the end of this week, the total amount collected, whether or

Varied Program Planned For Students to Air Religious Viewpoints

The program of "Religion in Life Week" is to be quite varied and suited to the tastes of all. The opportunity is yours not only to participate in the programs of your own choice but to make your views known about your faith.

How valid are the miracles of the Bible? What do Christians Believe? How is Christianity different from any other faith? Is it practical today? Thursday, March 13 is your chance to let your views be expressed on these and many other subjects at the biggest "bull session" the Ursinus campus has ever seen. There will be three groups of discussions with Barbara Dietz, Peg Hewitt, and Frank Pirazzini each leading one of the groups. There will be a minister on hand as a resource leader for each one. This meeting will undoubtedly prove one of the best meetings of the week.

Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m. Dr. Maurice Armstrong will lead a class in the study of the Sermon on the Mount. There is a wealth of knowledge and teaching to be derived from its study and all attending this group will greatly benefit from it.

The climaxing day of this week will be Sunday, March 16. An interdenominational morning church service will be held in Bomberger Chapel at 10:45 with the Dean of Lincoln University giving the morning sermon. Dr. Frank T. Wilson is an excellent speaker and has a real message for all. That evening the Brotherhood of St. Paul will again present a candle light communion service. No one can forget the Christmas Communion Service directed by the Brotherhood and everyone is looking forward to

Richard Wentzel Elected Editor Of Lantern; To Succeed Wilmot

Richard Wentzel '49, has been elected to succeed Joan Wilmot '47, as editor of the Lantern, college literary magazine.

The new editor first entered Ursinus in September of 1942 and returned to campus last March after serving as a sergeant in the Air Corps. Before attending Ursinus, Dick was a student at Catawba College in North Carolina.

As an English major Dick has been a member of both the Lantern and Weekly staffs. He is also a member of Alpha Psi Epsilon fraternity.

Last August he was married to Blanche Shirey '43, who is now teaching at Royersford High School.

The present staff has also announced the new members of the editorial staff. These include Barbara Leon '50, Charles Williamson '50, Nancy Twining '48, and Richard Wentz '48.

Sophs To Present Annual Dance at Sunnybrook, Mar. 28

March 28 is the date when the sophomore class will hold its annual dance. The melodious strains of Maynard McKissick's orchestra will fill Sunnybrook's spacious ballroom from 9 p. m. until 1 a. m.

The band, which is well-known in collegiate circles, has recently completed an extensive tour of the south where it was highly acclaimed. Playing a style of music fashioned after the late Bunny Berigan, these nine men and a girl are certain to satisfy the dancing desires of all.

There will also be several added attractions for the benefit of the cash customers. The Stardusters will entertain during intermission and a total of twelve door prizes will be awarded to the holders of lucky number tickets.

Tickets which cost only $1.50 (plus tax) per couple will go on sale the first part of next week. To make sure you're not caught with an empty pocketbook—buy your ticket early.

Until the evening of March 28, remember one plus one equals 1000. Come to the dance and see the fun.

Snowball Scores Hit With Capacity Sunnybrook Crowd

With nature providing a realistic winter atmosphere, 400 couples journeyed to Sunnybrook last Friday evening to attend the combined IS-IF, WSGA Snowball. There they were greeted with the melodious strains of Nick Mancini and his orchestra. Featured with this fourteen piece band were Ray Torro, popular young vocalist, and the Moon Mist'ers, a harmonious trio which gave out with such numbers as Talk of the Town and Oh, But I Do.

Guests of honor at the Snowball were Dr. and Mrs. Norman E. McClure, Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Helfferich, Dr. and Mrs. John W. Clawson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Sieber Pancoast, and Dean Camilla B. Stahr, while the chaperones were Dr. and Mrs. George W. Hartzell and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wallick.

A highlight of the evening was the entertainment provided by the two well-known campus groups, the Stardusters and the Glenwood Quartet. The Stardusters, led by Kenneth Schroeder '48, presented Winter Wonderland, theme song for the evening, and a beautiful arrangement of I Don't Know Why. An unforgettable rendition of Stormy Weather, as well as those old favorites Snowball and Stardust, were sung by the Glenwood Quartet.

The chairman of the dance committee, Florence Cherry '48, was assisted by Louis Oddo '47, Roberta Blauch '47, and Betty Ruskie '47.

Representative Gyger to Address Members of Pre-Legal Society

The Barnard-Haines Legal Society will hear state representatives, Furman Gyger at a dinner meeting in the president's dining room at 5:45 p. m. on Wednesday.

Mr. Gyger has chosen as his subject, conditions in the state legislature today. The topic will be of particular interest to the members of the legal society who are included in the delegation to the Intercollegiate Conference on Government to be held in April at Harrisburg.

The society has cordially invited anyone interested in the study of law and its aspects to present their names to John Kristensen, Pat Dougherty, or James Lorimer.

Snyder's Charity Heave Decides See-Saw Fray Before Final Gun

On Wednesday night in Thompson-Gay gym the Ursinus Bears snapped their two-game losing streak by edging out a fighting Delaware Blue Hen quintet by a 46-45 count. Once again the fine shooting of burly Dave Zeigler was the bright spot of the game from a Bruin standpoint as the sharp-shooting forward caged seven field goals and two charity tosses to register a total of sixteen points. The Wrightsville, Pa., lad was the lone bright spot in an otherwise listless performance turned in by the Collegeville lads. The diminutive Blue Hens played an alert, heads-up ball game and came within a whisker of knocking the tall Bears right out of third place in the Southern Division of the Middle Atlantic Conference.

Sparking the Delaware attack was a pair of lads neither of whom surpass the five foot eight mark in stature, but who exhibited uncanny passing and shooting ability; namely, "Reds" McFadden, and "Ace" Hoffstein. The two speed merchants continually out-feinted and out-maneuvered the below par Red, Old Gold and Black five, but the height deficit proved a bit too much for McFadden. Hoffstein and Co., and the poultry clan was shaded by virtue of a couple of last period buckets by the reliable Zeigler, and a foul toss in the closing seconds by John Snyder, which eventually provided the margin of victory for Seeders' boys.

The Bears started out looking fairly well as George Moore and Zeigler started clicking in their usual fashion, but later bogged down as the Delaware club exhibited their fine short-passing offensive game to advantage, and climbed to within three points of Ursinus as the quarter ended, 19-16, with the Bruins on top. The second period was fairly uneventful, as the Grizzly aggregation by virtue of their superior height alone was able to control the backboards and maintain a four-point bulge, as the half closed with the tally, 27-23, in favor of Ursinus. It was in the third quarter that the aggressive Blue Hens kept pecking away at the Bear lead and finally knotted the count at 37-37. At this point, the capable plebe, Bill Myers, who is becoming somewhat of an opportunist, notched a twin-pointer from under the boards, and the Bruins drove on, and were never headed thereafter, although Delaware fought hard and came within a solitary point of the Red, Old Gold, and Black, as the final gun sounded with the scoreboard reading 46-45, giving the Bears their fifth win against three conference defeats. The victory practically served up third place in the Southern division of the conference for Ursinus.

Religion-in-Life Week

Perhaps the big reason why so many of us concern ourselves with the thought of religion today is that so many of us have lost it. Because of this reason and the fact that so many college students find it difficult to hold to their childhood beliefs and because there is, thus, the danger that religious faith may pass out of their lives, the Y has centered its program for Religion-in-Life Week on ways to recapture a meaning of religion.

The theme, How Much Does Christianity Matter in Your Life?, stresses the challenge of personal religion. The activities include addresses, bull sessions, a musical program, Bible study, and worship which have been planned to emphasize the meaning, beauty, and fellowship of Christianity.

The average student may say, "What has all this to do with me? How does Religion-in-Life Week fit into my schedule? The answer depends on the idea of education itself. To many, college is a four year period spent in cramming knowledge of material things which, in turn, will enable one to obtain the highest paying job. However, "man making money" is not the highest development of our race. It is "man thinking." This is the aim of our foremost educators and it is the aim of Religion-in-Life Week. Every session next week will be devoted to giving a student a basis for thought and a groundwork for the formation of a philosophy of life through individual contemplation. It is an invitation for all students to talk about religion and to share their beliefs and seek an answer to their questions.

In answer to the student query, where does this program fit in my schedule, it may be said that it is an opportunity to think instead of remember, and a chance to answer by and for ourselves some of the questions which the complexities of life and the vastness of nature bring to our mind. Such a program also enables us to increase our spiritual resources and emphasizes brotherly love and good-will which must serve as the unifying factor among the men of the nations throughout the world.

The success of Religion-in-Life Week will depend upon student attendance at the various meetings and their willingness to express their viewpoints. The Y committee has done more than their share in scheduling an interesting and varied program.

SOCIETY NEWS

On Thursday, February 13, Omega Chi gave an informal party in Day Study and Rec Center. Edith Hess '48, was in charge of entertainment while Anne Eysenbach '48, planned the refreshments.

Last Tuesday evening the sorority held a business meeting in Shirley Friday and Bonnie McCrane's room in Clamer Hall. Following the business discussion, a bridge party was held. Refreshments were served.

The girls of Stine Hall will entertain at an informal party on Friday evening in the Day Study and Rec Center from 8 to 10:30 p. m.

The members of the John M. Anders Pre-Medical Society will have Dr. Otterbein Dressler, Dean of the Philadelphia College of Osteopathy, as their guest speaker tomorrow evening. The meeting begins at 8 p. m.

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

or What's Bruin

Well, the much-looked-forward-to Snow Ball has come and gone—seems those four hours went faster than any four hours spent in classes . . . intermission found Joe Jones' sandwich idea operating nicely with the help of waiter Dave Bahney . . . nice to see alumni Jim and Skippy Marshall, Betty Conlin, Betty Cowell, Al Rothwell, Nicki, the Rorers, Jean Featherer, M. J. Hassler, back again.

Quiet hour reigns in South Hall from 5:00 to 5:30 p. m. when Mac, Sid and Lou help track down a murderer in their favorite soap box opera "Portea Faces Life." Sort of leaves "Little Orphan Annie" in the lurch, doesn't it?

Here and There:
What is the secret of Dan Chance's sparkling personality? — Vera Wanger about to write a pamphlet on "What's going to happen now?" . . . Joan mistaking second gear for reverse and driving the car into Andy as he was trying to push it backwards.

The girls of Stine have voted Marge Bizilia as their A number 1 hairdresser. Heard Andy Souerwine remark that he thought the styles were straight from Madamoiselle.

The photographers missed their chance last week . . . Seems Lou Oddo was seen sweeping the halls of Stine!

Shorty has added her violin practicing to the noise of Fircroft.

Hear Bill Lambie was swept off his feet by the "homespun girls" of Stine last Friday evening.

Heard that a certain person had to take a rain check for half of his birthday present — how about it Andy? And then there's a girl that is quite proud that one argyle sock was finished in time.

Betty Co-ed Turns
To Argyle Socks

Knit one, purl two, slip one . . . Do you think Betty Co-Ed hurries back to her room after dinner to dream about her favorite man? If you do, you're wrong. She's back there worrying about finishing the argyle socks for his birthday.

When Betty goes to class, she attempts to knit one stitch between each ten lines of notes. When she sits in on a bull session, her needles aren't the only one clicking. The threads fly as fast as the tongues.

She also knits when she's dummy in one of the Supply Store's unique bridge games and now she's trying to adopt her roommate's system whereby she knits while she studies.

There's no doubt about what the well-dressed returned veteran at college will wear, at least not at Ursinus. He's sure to be wearing hand knit sweaters and socks made by the industrious Betty Co-ed.

Prize Offered by Ursinus Circle for Original Pageant

Would you like to earn extra spending money for the summer? Fifteen dollars will be yours, if you are the lucky winner of the Ursinus Circle prize. This prize is offered for the best May Day pageant written by a woman student. All entries must be submitted to Miss Camilla B. Stahr before March 23. Three judges will select the winning pageant. Miss Blanche Schultz of the mathematics department is the chairman of the judging committee. She will be assisted by Mrs. Michael Zingraff, preceptress at Derr Hall, and Mrs. Charles Miller.

The Ursinus Circle and the WSGA, who is in charge of May Day, urge all interested students with writing ability to submit a pageant. Many upperclassmen remember the delightful pageants presented in former years. Last year "The Candy Shop" written by Helen Hafeman '46, was given. The author of this also wrote the pageant for the 1944 May Day, "The Wizard of Oz." "Spring Fantasy," written by Irene Suflas '46, was presented in 1945. We want to make the 1947 May Day the best. So won't you lend your imagination to a bit of creative writing?

Students Publish
First Y Newspaper

The YM-YWCA news that was distributed last Friday by the Y cabinet was the first Y news sheet to be published at Ursinus. In editing such a publication the Y expects to acquaint all the students on campus with the activities of the organization.

Present plans have been arranged so that the paper may be distributed twice each semester. In this way an outline of the Y work may be presented to the student body.

The first edition of the Y News was edited and published by Jean Anne Schultz '48, and Doris Gray '49.

Among the activities planned by the Commission on Racial Equality is a trip to Cheyney Teachers College to present an exchange program. Commission members also plan to visit the Fellowship House in Philadelphia to see their experiment in brotherhood.

A visit to Byberry State Hospital heads the list of the Social Service Committee's activities. Interested students will also visit a week-end Work Camp where students help people of the slum areas to repair their run-down homes.

Highlighting the programs planned by the Vespers Committee is the musical for Palm Sunday and Holy Week.

The Interdenominational Committee is planning a new type of program for Interdenominational Night on April 30.

Opportunity Offered to Men for
U.S. Marine Officer's Commission

Opportunity is now available for unmarried men students at Ursinus who can meet the qualifications to become commissioned officers in the U.S. Marine Corps Reserve. The Marine Corps Platoon Leader Training Program requires no military training in college or the following of a prescribed curriculum. Officer candidates attend one or two summer training periods of six weeks each.

A Marine Liaison Officer will be at Ursinus on Friday, March 7, to meet all students interested in learning the details of the Marine Training Program. Students can see him in Room 1 in Bomberger Hall.

Further information about the Marine Training Program can be obtained now from Dean of Men G. Sieber Pancoast or Associate Professor James A. Minnich.

Russia, U. S. Need to Understand Each Other

The common opinion held in the United States seems to be that our policies of protecting our vital interests are to be praised as another step towards protecting world peace. On the other hand any like steps taken by Russia to protect her vital interests are thought of as threatening to civilization. In reverse Russia feels the same about us. Both our views and the Russians' are part of the general misunderstanding existing between the two nations. Both nations must understand the other fellow's point of view.

In the first place few Americans realize just what Russia has lost in this war. For instance she lost more in the Stalingrad campaign than we lost in the whole war. She suffered heavier casualties at Kharkov than we suffered in the entire Japanese campaign.

The Germans occupied one-tenth of the USSR which contained one-third of her population. It was devastated to such an extent that she lost one-half of her coal mines, one-half of her electric power, three fifths of her iron mines, etc. Six million dwellings housing 25 million people were destroyed. Russia is rebuilding much of her devastated lands with materials taken from the German zone of occupation. Although these materials won't even equal what the Russians had destroyed by the Germans, we condemn it bitterly.

We think Russia's reparation demands are extortionate; yet by the end of 1947 the United States and England will have paid out of their taxpayers' pockets a sum to help support our former enemies equal to the Russian reparation demands.

We make arrangements with our English and South American neighbors to standardize arms and equipment for mutual protection, but for Russia to do so with Poland, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia smells of power politics.

Red imperialism is demonstrated by her seeking of oil concessions in eastern Austria and northern Iraq. Not many people realize that the Americans and the English control practically all the oil in Saudi Arabia and Mesopotamia, a neighbor of Russia.

We cry for free elections while in our southern states the negro isn't allowed to vote. Our planes and weapons are used to reconquer millions of inhabitants of Indo-China and Indonesia who want freedom.

We announce that Turkey must retain exclusive control of the Dardanelles, Russia's only exit to the Mediterranean unless America also shares in the new administration. Do we offer to have anyone share control of the Panama canal with us?

We have doubts as to Russia's intentions, but considering our actions Russia can hardly be expected to be any more assured as to our intentions. Therefore between the two nations there must be a full discussion of future policies so that mutual understanding can be reached.

Ginnie Dulin Sparks Second Half Rally; Tallies 12 Points

The girl courtsters of Ursinus met their first defeat of the season last Saturday when they lost to Immaculata College on the West Catholic High School court. Winnie Mutchler, Erma Keyes, and captain Jane Brusch started in the forward positions, while Floy Lewis, Peg Hunter, and Mary Evans held down the guard posts.

Ursinus scored first in the opening quarter when Winnie Mutchler placed one on a beautiful set-up play. It was nip and tuck until the end of the period with Winnie sinking three of the four baskets to give the Bears an 8-7 lead at the end of the quarter.

The second quarter proved to be the greatest scoring one for the opponents as the Collegeville sextet slowed up and Immaculata racked up an 18-11 lead.

Despite the outstanding defensive play of the Ursinus guards and the sharp shooting of Ginny Dulin, the coeds could only cut the Immaculata lead down to four points in the third period. Mary Evans and Floy Lewis were in for interceptions and tie balls and caught the Immaculata girls completely off their guard. Ginnie Dulin, substitute, added six points to the Ursinus score on set shots cutting the cords without touching the rim.

Guard Evie Moyer, and Ginnie in her forward spot sparked the rally in the final period as Ursinus came within four points of their opposition, 25-29. Evie's aggressiveness kept Immaculata from freezing the ball and preventing any Ursinus score, but the opponents maintained their lead throughout this tense, fast-moving period and came through to win the fracas 33-29.

Part credit for the loss may be chalked up to the teams inability to make their foul shots count. They only netted five out of eighteen while Immaculata placed seven out of nine. Credit goes to Ginny Dulin for her teamwork and true eye which almost saved the day, and to the guards for their fast play which caught their opponents unaware. Betty Bissinger, Immaculata forward, was the individual star of the day, playing her usual steady, high-scoring game.

Jayvees Take 25-18 Victory Over Rosemont in Away Contest

Even a strange floor didn't slow down the Ursinus girls JV basketball team last Tuesday afternoon as they swung into action against the Rosemont JV's and set them back 25-18.

Manny Ballentyne, Jackie Landis and Jeanne Loomis started the ball rolling in the first quarter and racked up 6 points before the Rosemont sextet could even get their bearings. Emily Ann Smith entered the game in the first quarter and proceeded to give the Rosemont guards more than a little trouble.

Coach Hogeland's defense played their best of the season with the Bunny Baum, Anne Moister, and Lynn Warren combination holding the Rosemont coeds scoreless except for two awarded foul shots the entire first half. When the whistle sounded at halftime the Collegeville visitors were leading, 13-2.

Curtis Remains Atop Campus Cage Loop as Closing Round Nears

Only one game was played this week in the Inter-dorm basketball league, but that lone tiff enabled the Off-Campus basketekers to jump into a second place tie with the idle Brodbeck hoopers. The Non-Residents eked out a 29-25 victory over the winless Annex club which is still occupying the league cellar.

The green Annex quintet, making a spirited bid for their first triumph gave the Off-Campus lads all they could handle throughout most of the game and kept the score close during the entire tussle. Bain's boys sorely missed the services of their high scoring duo of Dick Eckenroth and E. G. Parks, and were far from impressive while chalking up their second league win.

Curtis' loop leaders continued as pace setters while remaining idle during the week and the second place Brodbeck outfit, also being on the shelf for a seven-day period, found themselves sharing the runner-up slot for the first time with Off-Campus as a result of their idleness. The Annex five, still seeking their first victory are reclining in the dull confines of last place with a losing streak of four straight.

Monday night, however, Brodbeck will attempt to regain undisputed possession of second place as they do battle with the underdog Annex aggregation. Later on in the week Off-Campus will endeavor to knock off the high flying Curtis basketekers, and hand them their initial defeat of the season.

There is a strong possibility that a two club playoff system will be put into effect at the season's end to determine the ultimate league titleholder, although nothing official on the subject has been released for the public by league empressario, Lou Ross, as yet.

Three Teams Tie For Lead in Girls' Intramural Contest

Three teams, Shreiner-Hobson, Lynnewood-South, and Clamer-Derr, pulled into a tie for the lead in the girls intramurals last week, each having two wins and no defeats.

In last week's contest Derr was the first aggregation to come through with a win, downing Maples-Glenwood, 27-19. On Wednesday night Shreiner-Hobson thrashed the Freeland-Fircroft sextet, 17-6, as Anne Eysenbach led the scoring with eleven points.

In the final contests on Thursday Rimby's-612 and Lynnewood-South emerged victors. Rimby's-612 took the measure of Sprankle-Stine-944, 21-9, with Rita Lieb holding top scoring honors while Lynnewood-South tallied 24 points to their opponents 18 to defeat Glenwood-Maples. Jane McWilliams' thirteen points was high for the victors.

Shreiner-Hobson	2	0
Lynnewood-South	2	0
Derr-Clamer	2	0
Rimby's-612	1	0
Sprankle-Stine-944	0	1
Day Study	0	1
Freeland-Fircroft	0	2
Glenwood-Maples	0	3

In the third and fourth quarter Rosemont staged a comeback with many long shots, but they were unable to bridge the gap to catch up with the Ursinus gals. The game ended with Rosemont trailing, 25-18.

Emily Ann Smith lead the scoring for Ursinus with a grand total of 11 points.

Looking 'Em Over

Anyone who witnessed the Delaware JV route last Wednesday night should be convinced the Bear quints for the next few sessions will bear watching. Dick Davidson, Harry Weiman, Eddie Miller, and Dick Randall, Seeders' freshman midget quartet will revolutionize Ursinus basketball in a couple of years with their pressing defensive tactics and plank-pounding fast-break attack.

Swarthmore's cage coup over the driving Drexel Dragons didn't come as much a surprise to Ursinus folk. The Garnets were equipped to fight fire with fire if the city lads proved troublesome with their fire-brand style of play, but found things much easier than they expected in their own field house. The Dragons have shown consistent inconsistency this semester each time they've froliced without the benefit of the claustrophobia their fourth story cracker-box gives their adversaries.

On the other hand, the Garnet had better have their big guns cocked for the LaSalle play-off fray scheduled this month. The Explorers have found themselves this year, if no new continents, and are aiming at a possible Garden Tourney bid. How they slipped into the MAC joust is a little beyond our comprehension but it would seem Swarthmore has fallen victim to some eye-brow raising manipulation that will leave the young Quakers floundering in the wake of too much big-time competition. There are some MAC section leaders the Gary, Reilly, and Co. combine could harry handily if they were given a less loathsome pill in the first-round play-offs.

Way out west in mid-Pennsylvania there's another club that will strike fear in the hearts of first rate competition in a couple of years, if not during this round's play-offs. The Dickinson five, an almost complete frosh aggregation plays the brand of ball that leaves fans adither. The Red Devils shook off first half lethargy in their route of our Bears and practically raced us right out of Carlisle in a smash-buckling second half fast-break assault. That one lanky yearling guard, twenty-year-old Jim Overholt, will spark the Demons to withering heights two years hence is this corner's favorite 1947 prediction.

It's a crying shame the service schools frown upon post-season playing. This season's Navy hardwooders are one of the country's finest, and their presence in the National Garden Invitation Tourney would give that head-line event more prestige than it has enjoyed in years. Lone conquerors of the fast-stepping West Virginia five, the boys in blue have pillaged some of the finer eastern competitors and need just a win over Army to close out the most successful campaign in Navy history.

As things line up it seems Kentucky, at present running rampant through the SEC finals, will tangle somewhere along the line with the West Virginians in what should decide the national crown. Never can tell, though, when a dusky horse will tip the dope bucket and steal the nation's basketball bunting. The fact that this circumstance has been evident enough in past finals to become almost custom indicates the unsatisfactory nature of the gala Garden gathering insofar as justly naming the country's champ.

Top JV Combo Trim Immaculata Sextet

The Ursinus jayvees broke the winning streak of the Immaculata sextet in a smashing 42-22 victory on Saturday at West Catholic Girls' High. The jayvee combination was in top form and couldn't miss.

Manny Ballentyne, Jackie Landis, and Jeanne Loomis ran away with their guards and led all the way. Ursinus tallied first on a lay-up by Leamy and from then on the game was all Ursinus. Manny's height proved advantageous but Jackie and Leamy were also getting the ball off the boards building up a 28-10 lead at half-time.

Fast passing and cutting was the key to the offense which made the Immaculata guards look silly while Manny's overhead shot converted all rebounds into two-pointers.

Starting guards Anne Moister, Lynn Warren, and Bunny Baum had little trouble covering their girls and, again in this game, interceptions gave the Ursinus coeds their chance for scoring. Substitute Phyl Ziegler also proved her prowess on the court as a defensive player.

Manny took the scoring honors for the day tallying 20 with Leamy showing that height isn't always necessary by scoring 14.

Dave Ziegler Tops Bears' Scorers With 14.7 Average; Moore Paces

Dave Ziegler, sharp-shooting forward of pre-war years, has once again returned to the hardwood court of Thompson-Gay gymnasium to pace the scorers in the current edition of Ursinus basketekers. Dave's six foot plus frame has accounted for a total of 177 points, notched on 78 twin pointers and 21 foul goals. By virtue of amassing 51 points in the last three tussles, Dave has eclipsed George Moore in the average points per game department and is among the Philadelphia district leaders.

Moore, probably the league's most outstanding player, has seen only brief action in two of the last seven games because of an ankle injury. Hovering near the top of the district in all departments at the onset of the season, George has been forced to watch his average dwindle while reviewing games from the bench.

Center John Snyder, by hitting the century mark in the first dozen games on 38 field goals and 24 charity tosses, ranks second among the Bears in total point production. Rounding out the top five are Bob Jaffe, colorful dean of the backboards, who has accounted for 72 markers, and freshman Bill Forsyth, holding a total of 72.

In winning seven against five losses, Jerry Seeder's group has tallied 635 points against 652 registered by their opponents.

Greyhounds Blast Scoring Record in Run-Away Contest

Ziegler Hangs Up New Bear Mark With 28 Tallies for Lost Cause

Moravian rough-housed its way to an 81-61 victory over a visiting Ursinus contingent on Saturday, in a contest that saw two Bear records shattered. Dave Zeigler established a modern mark for points scored by a Grizzly hoopster as he pooled 28 counters, and Moravian's 81 markers set a new high for points scored against an Ursinus quintet. Not since 1942, when Albright administered an 80-34 shellacking, has an opponent reached the eighties.

Moravian's captain, Bill Kraus sparked the winners with 18, while Paul Marcincin, one of the state's high-scorers, who entered the fracas in the second half, was limited to a single bucket garnered on a lay-up shot.

The opening period went nip and tuck with the Greyhounds holding a 14-11 advantage at the end of the first quarter. The Bears operated smoothly in the second canto and crept up to a 32-31 deficit at the half, primarily on Zeig and Trig's contributions. Don Kern kept the home outfit in the lead with nine for nine at the foul line.

At the start of the second half, the Greyhounds turned a close affair into a rat-race and a rout and sped away to a 40-32 lead before John Snyder pushed in a one-hander. Moravian continued unabashed, as the Ursinus machine fell apart, and led 58-45 at the three-quarter mark. Kern made it eleven straight at the free throw line before retiring with an injured ankle. A few minutes later, Bill Forsyth joined the crippled list when he ran against the bleachers and received a minor, but painful, back injury.

Seeders continued his experimenting for a clicking combination, substituting jayvees Tenevitz and Davidson, as the final period progressed. George Kennedy, a key man on last year's championship five, had been shaken from the cobwebs of confinement and inserted earlier into the lineup. Al Calvo poured in seven quick points to inaugurate the final stanza, and Dave Zeigler switched Ursinus tactics effectively by employing the fast break to continue his scoring spree. But the efforts of the trigger man were in vain as the Greyhounds kept moving and handed a rather disgruntled Bear team its fourth setback of the season. The win gave Moravian its eleventh triumph in 17 starts.

In the preliminary, the Cubs settled down after a wobbly start to whip the Moravian Jayvees, 52-36. Eddie Miller proved that clowning and good ball playing can sometimes be mixed as he chalked up nineteen points to pace the winning junior club. Dick Randall paced with 14.

Bears Trim Delaware

In the Jayvee game, the Cubs bested a Delaware Junior Varsity that would have had trouble defeating a mediocre high school outfit, by a 75-40 count. Freshman Dick Randall stole a bit of Dick Davidson's thunder as he paced the Ursinus JV with eighteen points, and once again Henry Wieman's scintillating floor work was a feature of the contest. Also in the point producing department, Eddie "Popeye" Miller turned in a bang-up firing exhibition, dipping 15 counters for his evening's toil.
