J. B. BOYER, M. D.,
Practicing Physician, TREATY TOWNS, Pa., and Collegeville, Pa.
T. S. P. PLACE,
Dentist,
Collegeville, Pa.

The New Style Entertainment That Is
DO RIGHT FOR THE SAKE OF RIGHT.

Volume 17.

Collegeville, Pa., Thursday, May 3, 1892.
Whole Number: 891.

A DEAR OLD GOOSE.

Jack Furnival was a good man to know. If you wanted ten dollars, and were in a bind, he would let you have it; if you got into a scrape, you could trust to get out of it; if you were down and out, he would stand by you. He was a friend to all men, and a benefactor to all. Probably no one could have been a more genial, kind, and thoughtful man. People who didn't know him afterward, but who saw him in the old days, spoke of him as a quiet, unassuming, and unassuming man, with an air of respect that was so contagious and so impressive. His manners were charming, and his speech was full of kindness and thoughtfulness. His whole life was a model of gentleness and goodness.

At the close of the enemy's suppression, Jack was put to the task of making a new life for himself. No one expected him to succeed, but he was determined to try. He worked hard, and managed to scrape together enough to live on. He was not a man of large means, but he managed to make the most of what he had. He was content with little, and never complained of his fate. His life was a model of self-sacrifice and fidelity.

But perhaps the most valuable lesson that can be learned from Jack's life is the importance of perseverance. He was not a rich man, and he had to work hard to make a living, but he never gave up. He stuck to his work, and managed to scrape together enough to live on. He was not a man of large means, but he managed to make the most of what he had. He was content with little, and never complained of his fate. His life was a model of self-sacrifice and fidelity.

The New Style Entertainment That Is
DO RIGHT FOR THE SAKE OF RIGHT.

A DEAR OLD GOOSE.

Jack Furnival was a good man to know. If you wanted ten dollars, and were in a bind, he would let you have it; if you got into a scrape, you could trust to get out of it; if you were down and out, he would stand by you. He was a friend to all men, and a benefactor to all. Probably no one could have been a more genial, kind, and thoughtful man. People who didn't know him afterward, but who saw him in the old days, spoke of him as a quiet, unassuming, and unassuming man, with an air of respect that was so contagious and so impressive. His manners were charming, and his speech was full of kindness and thoughtfulness. His whole life was a model of gentleness and goodness.

At the close of the enemy's suppression, Jack was put to the task of making a new life for himself. No one expected him to succeed, but he was determined to try. He worked hard, and managed to scrape together enough to live on. He was not a man of large means, but he managed to make the most of what he had. He was content with little, and never complained of his fate. His life was a model of self-sacrifice and fidelity.

But perhaps the most valuable lesson that can be learned from Jack's life is the importance of perseverance. He was not a rich man, and he had to work hard to make a living, but he never gave up. He stuck to his work, and managed to scrape together enough to live on. He was not a man of large means, but he managed to make the most of what he had. He was content with little, and never complained of his fate. His life was a model of self-sacrifice and fidelity.

The New Style Entertainment That Is
DO RIGHT FOR THE SAKE OF RIGHT.

A DEAR OLD GOOSE.

Jack Furnival was a good man to know. If you wanted ten dollars, and were in a bind, he would let you have it; if you got into a scrape, you could trust to get out of it; if you were down and out, he would stand by you. He was a friend to all men, and a benefactor to all. Probably no one could have been a more genial, kind, and thoughtful man. People who didn't know him afterward, but who saw him in the old days, spoke of him as a quiet, unassuming, and unassuming man, with an air of respect that was so contagious and so impressive. His manners were charming, and his speech was full of kindness and thoughtfulness. His whole life was a model of gentleness and goodness.

At the close of the enemy's suppression, Jack was put to the task of making a new life for himself. No one expected him to succeed, but he was determined to try. He worked hard, and managed to scrape together enough to live on. He was not a man of large means, but he managed to make the most of what he had. He was content with little, and never complained of his fate. His life was a model of self-sacrifice and fidelity.

But perhaps the most valuable lesson that can be learned from Jack's life is the importance of perseverance. He was not a rich man, and he had to work hard to make a living, but he never gave up. He stuck to his work, and managed to scrape together enough to live on. He was not a man of large means, but he managed to make the most of what he had. He was content with little, and never complained of his fate. His life was a model of self-sacrifice and fidelity.
May 5, 1892.

James M. Viburnum.
Henry R. Hoyer as State Treasurer, and Mr. John L. Bechtel as State Auditor, have been named to the investigating committee, which was authorized by the charter of the two Commissions.

A series from Shipwreck.

The Thomas W. Smith. The Smith, a vessel of 1,600 tons, and recently built at Philadelphia, was reported to have been wrecked off the Cape Cod. It is believed that the crew and passengers all escaped, but it is not known whether the vessel is a total loss. The Smith was on her way from Liverpool to New York, having left Port Said about a month ago.

No Bluebeards Bluebeard.

Theodor Heise, who is acting chairman of the vocational training of the New York City School of Trades, has been appointed a delegate to the International Conference of Co-operatives, which will be held in London in September.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Seizure.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.

No More Wartime.

The War Department has instructed the commanders of the United States forces in the Various Department of the Interior to make arrangements for the protection of the United States fleet in the Pacific Ocean, and to prevent all vessels from entering the waters of the United States without orders to do so.

No More Blackmail.

The United States government has instructed all postmasters to inform the public that no mail matter will be delivered to persons who are not on the authorized list.
Religion

The Rev. Dr. Potter Ryder, of the Providence Independent, arrived in this city Wednesday and will remain until Friday night, when he will return to his home in Rhode Island. He is here to represent the interests of the National American Woman Suffrage Association. The Rev. Dr. Ryder is the author of "The New Christendom," which is a work of very great importance, and which ought to be read by every intelligent person.

Disease

A case of the plague was reported in the city of Philadelphia, and the fire department was called out to destroy the rats and other vermin. The case is considered a very serious one, and every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease. The health of the city is at present very good, and the people are well satisfied with the measures taken to prevent the spread of the plague.

Harvest

The wheat harvest is now in full swing in this district, and the farmers are working hard to get in their crops. The crops are expected to be good, and the prices are high. The farmers are working very hard, and the weather has been very favorable.

Railway

The new railway line from Providence to Providence, Rhode Island, was opened on Monday, and the trains are running regularly. The line is very long, and the journeys are very pleasant. The trains are well cared for, and the service is excellent. The railway is expected to be of great benefit to the people of this district.

Schools

The schools in this district are now open for the winter term. The pupils are doing well, and the teachers are doing their best to instruct them. The schools are well supported, and the pupils are well cared for.

Business

The business of the city is now very active, and the people are busy with their work. The shops and stores are full of customers, and the trade is good. The weather is very fine, and the people are enjoying themselves.

Sports

The athletic games are now in full swing, and the people are enjoying themselves very much. The games are very well managed, and the spectators are very pleased. The weather is very fine, and the games are expected to be very successful.

Amusement

The city is now very lively, and the people are enjoying themselves very much. The theaters and music halls are full of people, and the bands are playing good music. The weather is very fine, and the people are having a good time.
Our facilities for executing JOB WORK are such as to enable us to do strictly first-class work promptly and at reasonable prices. The Job Work done at the Independent Office favorably compares with that done anywhere in the county. Favor us with your orders and we will do our best to serve you well.

If you have anything to sell and want to sell it, and if you want your neighbors to see what you have, know that you have something to sell and want to sell it—no matter what it is—ADVERTISE in the columns of the Independent—The best advertising medium in the middle section of Montgomery Co. Wherever the Independent circulates it is eagerly sought by interested readers. It is read by at least 3,500 people every week, and its circulation is steadily increasing.

Subscribe for the PROVIDENCE INDEPENDENCE, $1.25 per annum, in advance. You will get the worth of your money and more or less happiness into the bargain by subscribing and paying for the INDEPENDENT, the paper that has opinions of its own and says what it has to say, without favor or fear.

Department of Agriculture.

PILOT TALK.

A daily sample of news free in style for the reader's information.

The United States imports about one-third of its wheat, and there is no reason to suppose that this proportion of the supply would not be in the future.

The staple implement in the farm for gathering the potatoes is the potato digger, a good market berry, excellent for the table, and producing large potatoes from small ones. It will be found generally in very productive districts.

A potato root can be secured from times that have been mellow and should be reserved when the time is favorable for transplanting. In preparing the soil it should be placed not too deep, and the cost of digging the third of the cost of the first.

The number of the potatoes that are certain to grow in a given quantity is a question of much importance. In France the road system (the most important feature of the country) is the most improved. It has been thoroughly tested, and we are convinced that it is the best road system in the world. It has been improved by the number of its roads, and we are convinced that it is the best road system in the world.

In France the road system (the most important feature of the country) is the most improved. It has been thoroughly tested, and we are convinced that it is the best road system in the world.