Largest Freshman Class Enrolls As College Begins Winter Schedule

Total Student Body Rises to 534 As Veterans Return to Campus

According to Franklin I. Sheeder, registrar, 50 percent of the faces around campus are new to Ursinus College this year. Out of a total of 534 students 248 have just completed their matriculation.

The freshman class, largest in the history of Ursinus College, has 203 members, 40 men and 163 women. Other newcomers are 19 men and 14 women who have been admitted to advanced standing. Also included in this total are 22 Army enlisted men or officers who are patients at Valley Forge General hospital, Phoenixville, Pa.

Also representing the armed forces at Ursinus are 9 former Navy V-12 men. Thirty-three full time and 2 part time veterans are students here under the auspices of the G.I. Bill of Rights.

The college enrollment as a whole includes 132 men and 402 women.

L. J. Starer Presents Picture of Navy Unit At Farewell Dinner

A farewell dinner was held for all the officers and men of the Navy V-12 Unit on October 17 in Freeland hall. In presenting a framed photograph of the Unit to President McClure, Apprentice Seaman L. J. Starer, Battalion Commander, said: "We have learned to know why Ursinus College enjoys the privilege of standing among the top colleges and universities of this country.

"We were accepted into every phase of the College's life. We were absorbed on the athletic teams, the debating and dramatic clubs, on the campus and in the classrooms. Indelibly stamped upon everyone of us is something of the tradition and greatness of Ursinus.

"Our hope is that the faculty and the staff of Ursinus College may prosper as they deserve, and that some small recompense shall be theirs for the large measure of good done for all of us."

The Navy V-12 program at Ursinus College began July 1, 1943, and was closed October 31, 1945. During this period more than four hundred officer candidates were students in Ursinus.

Goeds Attend Dancing Class For Valley Forge Patients

A group of fifteen Ursinus girls were the guests of the soldiers of the Valley Forge General hospital last Monday. A specially trained soldier instructed the fellows and girls in all the latest dance crazes, the Samba, Tango, Rumba, as well as the more common round dancing and jitterbugging.

This project is part of the work assigned to the Field and Hospital committee of the local Collegeville Red Cross unit. Martha Seip '47, is the chairman who will arrange the list of girls interested in going to the hospital on future Monday afternoons. The girls leave college at 12:30 p. m. and return at 3 p. m. Automobiles are provided for transportation. The refreshments for these afternoons of entertainment are furnished by the Women's Canteen group.

French Club To Begin This Week

The French club will open its season at a short business meeting this week. At this time a program including folk dancing, songs and games will be planned for the semester.

The officers for the year are Virginia Tovey '45, president; George Frey '47, vice-president; Betty Carr '47, secretary; and Jean Anne Schultz '48, treasurer.

War Fund Drive Begins Tuesday Under WSGA

Tomorrow the Student council, under the supervision of Mary Jane Hassler '46, will launch its three-day drive to raise money for the National War Fund.

The goal has been set at one dollar per student. These contributions may be given to the senate representative in each dormitory.

The National War fund is a federation of 19 major war-related philanthropies organized for our own fighting forces and for our Allies.

The larger percent of the donations are given to the USO for their recreation centers and camp shows. The remainder is divided among the other relief agencies.

Council Sponsors New Dorm Elections

Because of the large number of girls residing in Brodbeck, the Student council has decided that that dormitory should be divided into three units of twenty-one girls each to provide for a better organization of the dormitory. The council has appointed Erma Keyes '47, to act as dorm president for the first semester.

Each unit then elected a vice-president who assumes the same responsibilities for her group as any other dorm president. A senator was also elected to represent her unit in the senate.

The girls of the first unit chose Faith Emerson '49, as vice-president, and Jean Caton '47, as senator. Representing the other groups on the senate will be Gene Masters '47, and Eileen Lockhart '48, of the second and third groups respectively. Jane Rathgeb '47, and Emily Smith '49, will serve as the vice-presidents of the second and third groups.

Because Glenwood and Sprankle halls consist almost entirely of new students, their elections were held under the guidance of Miss Camilla B. Stahr, dean of women, and the Student council. The new representatives for the council from Glenwood will be Marion Lill '47, president and Betty Wiegand '49, senator. Winifred Muchler '47, and Elizabeth Gross '49, will serve as president and senator respectively, of Sprankle.

Vocal Scholarships To Be Given Freshmen Girls After Auditions

All lovers of music who enjoy singing now have the opportunity of auditioning for a vocal scholarship, under the instruction of Marion G. Spangler, voice teacher. Auditions are being held at the Studio cottage, East campus, on Thursdays and are limited to freshmen girls.

Every year Miss Spangler awards two of these scholarships to girls on the basis of their musical ability and voice quality. This will be the closing week for auditions.

Sophomores Determine Frosh Fashions

Visitors to the Ursinus campus are much amazed to see that the style in campus apparel is turning to green bands for girls and red "dinks" for boys. These are our freshmen! Jo Snaidmen and her cohorts set the style for the girls. She also advocates red and yellow socks, hair parted in the middle, and flat on the top, and large name tags.

With Jo, simplicity is the thing. She likes the natural type of girl who doesn't wear make-up, jewelry, or finger nail polish. To improve the figure, Jo suggests walking around the longside of the circle in front of Bomberger hall at least fifty times a day and using the last door of Bomberger.

NOTICE!

There will be an important business meeting of the Weekly staff and all students interested in writing for the paper at 4 p. m. tomorrow in Room 7 of Bomberger hall. A senator and YWCA member will also be elected at this time.

Four New Members Join Ursinus Teaching Staff

Four new faculty members have joined the teaching staff of Ursinus, and seven new members of the administration have begun their duties in the academic year just opened.

Dr. Maurice W. Armstrong has been elected Professor of History to replace Dr. Harvey L. Carter, who resigned last spring on account of ill health.

Dr. Armstrong received his B.A. and M.A. from Dalhousie university, and his B.D. from Pine Hill Divinity hall, Halifax. He was ordained as a minister in the United Church of Canada, and has served congregations at Clairmont, Alberta; Amherst, Nova Scotia; St. John, New Brunswick; Scituate, Massachusetts; and Belmont, Mass.

Completing his graduate study at Harvard university, Dr. Armstrong was a graduate fellow there in 1940, and received his S.T.M. in 1941 and his Ph.D. in 1944. Appointed teaching fellow in History at Radcliffe and Harvard in 1942, he became an instructor in history at Harvard in 1944. At this time he also gave graduate lectures on the Reformation at Harvard Divinity school.

Students Return To Alma Mater

More than twenty former students have returned to complete their courses at their Alma Mater. These include veterans, V-12'ers and four girls.

The returning veterans include Edwin H. Allison, who was a junior at Ursinus before going into the air force as a B-17 pilot; Seth Bakes, a captain in the 15th Air Force; John J. Coughlin; Robert E. Hallinger, who has seen France and England in the Merchant Marine; George E. Kennedy; Burton Lear who, while at Ursinus, played football and was a member of the Demas fraternity; George B. Miller, a Beta Sigma; Joseph Sacks; and John P. Trevasiki, who was a member of Zeta Chi, a football player, and assistant sports manager on the Weekly.

The four girls are Winifred Clark, who was head of soph rules in '43 and '44, Margaret Ewen, Helen Gorson, and Alma Lee Grabenstein, a phys-ed major and varsity basketball player.

The former navy men who have returned to Ursinus as civilians are eight of the pre-med students who were assigned to inactive duty at the close of the summer term.

Bud Bartholomew has his own ideas on what the well-dressed freshman boy will wear. He and his sophomore friends suggest bright red socks, with the cuffs of the pants up to accentuate them, red caps, which he calls "dinks," and large red buttons on which the boys write their names in big, bold letters. To build muscles in the right places, Bud is teaching his freshman following "La Conga." Because the frosh enjoy this dance so much, they are often seen practicing on the streets of Collegeville.

Under the self-improvement courses of Bud and Jo the freshmen class is rapidly becoming a well-dressed, polite group that shows deference to upper-classmen and observes all college traditions.

Men Elect Harrity To Head Council

Elections for a Men's Student council were held last Wednesday when seven men, including two freshmen, were elected to serve on the council. Burton Bartholomew '48, Robert Geist '46, Richard Gross '46, Grant Harrity '46, Charles O'Donnell '48, Robert Poole '49, and Val Supple '49, were chosen to represent the men students on campus.

Holding their first organization meeting, Grant Harrity was elected to serve as president, with Robert Geist, as vice-president and Val Supple taking over the post of secretary-treasurer.

Working under a new constitution adopted this summer, the Men's Student council will continue to serve as representatives of the men students as well as carry through the enforcement of college and Student council rules and regulations. It has also been decided that this organization shall control the actions and enforce the rules of the sophomore rules committee.

Plans for this year include room-inspections, sponsoring of the "take-off" on the May Pageant, and taking charge of the various war drives and campaigns among civilian men.

Hospitalized Vets Start New Courses of Study

Under the auspices of the Bureau of Rehabilitation of the Pennsylvania Department of Labor and Industry, some members of the United States Army who one year ago were fighting in the far-off Pacific, or on the battlefields of Europe, are now taking regular classes as students of Ursinus College.

This bureau, recognizing the vital importance of rehabilitating the returning service men, has arranged for veterans who are convalescing, but still undergoing treatment at Army hospitals, to take courses of their own choice at some nearby college. The veterans at Ursinus, twenty-two in number, have selected a wide variety of courses. Some entered the Army in the middle of their college career and are obtaining credits now which will enable them to graduate sooner than if they had waited until discharge. Others are attending college for the first time, and still others are taking courses in economics preparatory to entering business when they are again civilians.

Those who have registered in this group include Donald A. Absher, Cullman, Alabama; Gerald A. Bales, Emporia, Kansas; Robert A. Bogie, Brooklyn, New York; Edward A. Clark, Cliffside Park, New Jersey, who attended Niagara university before entering the service; Benjamin L. Garris of Elm Park, Louisiana, who attended Young Harris Junior college, Anthony J. Guariglia, Auburn, New York; and James H. Hedren of Winthrop, Minnesota.

Franklin I. Sheeder Addresses Gathering at Vesper Service

Professor Franklin I. Sheeder, college registrar, was the speaker at the first vesper service of the winter term. His address centered around the theme that a student should take inventory of himself and learn to have an inward and upward look. The speaker also believes that we need to know what it means to be still and know God. Burton Bartholomew '47, and Betsy Shumaker '46, chairmen respectively of the YM and YW vesper committees, were the student leaders. Miriam Schellhase '48, was the pianist.

Church To Present College Portrait of Dr. Harry E. Paisley

Ursinus College will celebrate the completion of seventy-five years of academic work in a convocation held in Bomberger Hall this Wednesday, November 14. Governor Edward Martin will be the principal speaker.

Governor Martin will be presented with the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws at the convocation. This degree will also be conferred upon Lieutenant-Colonel Jay Cooke, Chestnut Hill, well-known soldier and civic leader.

Another important feature of the ceremonies will be the presentation to the College and unveiling of a portrait of Dr. Harry E. Paisley, president of the Board of Directors of the College since 1910. The portrait, painted by John R. Peirce, of Phoenixville, Pa., is being presented by Trinity Evangelical and Reformed church, Philadelphia. It will be unveiled by Ellwood S. Paisley '13, son of Dr. Paisley and father of E. Spencer Paisley '39.

Dr. Paisley completed this year thirty-five years as president of the Board of Directors. His predecessor, Henry W. Kratz, Esq., served from 1873 to 1910.

The convocation Wednesday commemorates the completion of three-quarters of a century of work at Ursinus. The College was granted its charter on February 5, 1869; the College opened and class-work began on September 6, 1870. The celebration of the anniversary was postponed till the date set, so that the entire College might be in attendance.

Weather permitting, the convocation will be preceded by the academic procession from Pfahler hall. It will be followed by an informal reception in Pfahler hall, where Dr. Paisley's portrait will be hung temporarily.

The convocation will be open to the faculty, administration, and students of the College. About one hundred and fifty invited guests and friends of Ursinus will attend. Admission for guests and visitors will be by ticket only.

All class and laboratory work will end at noon on Wednesday.

Sailors, Students Given Certificates and Degrees At College Convocation

President Norman E. McClure presided at the Convocation of Ursinus College on October 20, in Bomberger chapel.

Following the invocation which was given by Rev. John Lentz, college pastor, Commander Scott G. Lamb, USN (Ret.) formerly Director of Training in the Fourth Naval district addressed the gathering which included the last group of V-12 students to study at the college.

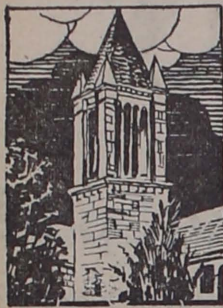

Certificates for work completed as members of this Navy unit were presented to 107 sailors by Lieutenant Commander George D. Miner, USNR, who has served as the commanding officer of this station since it opened on July 1, 1943.

Lt. Comdr. Miner, who was placed on inactive duty in October, was honored with the degree of Doctor of Laws at this ceremony.

DR. MCCLURE IS HONORED

Dr. Norman E. McClure, president of Ursinus College, was named treasurer of the Association of College Presidents of Pennsylvania when the members of that association met last Wednesday at Harrisburg. Theodore A. Distler, president of Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, was named to the presidency.

Ursinus Welcomes You

For the first time in four years the upper-classmen are welcoming the freshmen and new students on a peace-time campus.

There is no doubt that you have come to Ursinus at a significant moment. As the world encounters the problems which the peace has brought, education will play a greater role than ever before. The thoughts and ideals of the young men and women in America today will undoubtedly be an influential factor in the international affairs of tomorrow.

Ursinus is equipped to prepare its students for this task. The courses offered will form the necessary background. In addition to the education acquired through class work training is also received through participation in the extra-curricular activities offered. Here at Ursinus there are many opportunities for interesting experiences as a member of any of the publications, the debating club, the IRC, the language clubs, or the dramatic group.

Through these activities you will become a part of the life and friendly atmosphere which they uphold. So to the freshmen and returning veterans, we, the upperclassmen, extend a hearty "hello" and an invitation to join our college life. We especially welcome the men from Valley Forge hospital who in the line of duty, preserved for us these opportunities of education and fellowship which we are now sharing with them at Ursinus.

WSGA Backs Real Drive

Once again the Student council has asked the support of everyone in attaining their goal in the National War Fund drive.

We should give generously and promptly, not because it is a job that has to be done, but because this is your way of showing the men and women of our fighting forces and the destitute and devastated people of our Allies that you, as an individual, back them up.

The aftermath of war has brought enormous obligations which must be met. This fund is a temporary organization founded to expedite the raising of funds for war-related agencies.

The council has asked that you give a dollar. To some of us this may seem a lot, but is it really? This dollar must be divided among 19 relief organizations including the USO, United Seaman's Service, the War Prisoner's aid, and the refugee relief.

Because this is the first drive of its kind on campus this year, let's go over the top and show that we are behind the efforts of the council 100%.

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

or What's Bruin

Cheers for the Villanova boys who don't find it too hard to come back to Ursinus these days—looked like old times to see Dave Ley, Sam Kauffman, Gunner, Hugh Austin, Ed Tuite, Johnny Gartner, Sam Madara, Ray Moshay, Sam Villanova, Agnello, and Bill Lambie holding forth in the Supply store and drug.

Beginning another installment of last year's story — Grant and Betty, Neff 'n Spence, Dotty Derr and Ray Furlong, Dave Wright and Dottie Richardson.

How long has this been going on — Marty Seip and Gumerlock, Jane Brusck 'n Bill Lambie, Hugh Austin and Lois Wilson. Looks like we have a lot to catch up on!

Seems that Sunnybrook tops the list of favorite haunts this year—listening to Benny Goodman last Saturday night were Jane McWilliams and Jere Sullivan, Barbara Dietz and Don Boger, Jinny Haller 'n Don, Tinker and Gene, Leamy with "Woody" and Betty Geary, Ellie Reynolds, and Joan Ludwig with out of town dates. For a bit of advertising Tommy Dorsey will be heard Dec. 1st. 'Nuff said?

"There's been some changes made" in names over vacation—its Sally Deibler Pierce, Ethel Fehrle Doane, and Lee Phillips Grabinstein.

First of the "old school" to return after the war are John Trevaskis, Burt Lear, Monty Cummings and Seth Bakes. Be looking for a lot more next semester.

A small round of applause for the last touch of the Navy still on campus— ex V-12ers Dick Crandall, Ray Furlong, Bill Spencer, Charlie Angstadt, John Thompson, Howard Strawcutter, Drew Courtney, and Dwight Morss, plaid shirt and all!

Good to see Ensign "Wick" back on campus a few days ago—guess Jan didn't mind too much either. Also saw "Hank" Hankowitz slightly camouflaged with his new middle uniform.

How 'bout Winnie "Down with the Freshman" Clark back again this year along with Peg Ewen and Helen Gorson. Swell to see you again kids!

Can you imagine: Ursinus College without Fred Deck? Jim Kromka at a loss for words?

Seen at the frosh reception — Faith Taylor matching steps with Army vet Herb Reichlin, and Bill Cochran and Helen Derewianka holding up a corner of the gym.

Among Our Alumni

Captain Thomas G. Hepner '35, son of Mrs Susie Hepner, Herndon, Pa., has been assigned to the AAF Overseas Replacement depot at Kearns, Utah, as assistant post chaplain. Chaplain Hepner, served overseas for a year and a half.

Lt. (jg) William Talarico, of Audubon, N. J., is now a Skymaster navigator with VRE-1, air evacuation squadron of the Naval Air Transport service, after being transferred from Liberator anti-submarine patrol. Lt. (jg) Talarico, an Ursinus letterman before enlisting in the Navy in 1943, has seen duty in both the Atlantic and Pacific.

S/Sgt Walter Bohn, who attended Ursinus College, is now enrolled at an Army university in Shrivensham, England. The U. S. Army University center is designed to give soldiers a chance to get college instruction while waiting to return to the United States.

THROUGH THE LIBRARY WINDOW

Some of you may be interested in reading "Patrons are people: how to be a model librarian."

This is the title of a very amusing but excellent and meaty booklet on how librarians should behave towards their public. You students, faculty and towns people comprise our public, our patrons, and so you really should peruse this pamphlet to see if we're doing right by you!

No matter what the situation this grand little booklet provides just the pat solution. No matter what the difficulty it tells us how to avoid the pitfalls common to over-eager librarians. So if you see us bearing down on you, laden with ten or twenty books when you want one specific title, call a halt! If we forget to smile when giving service or if we continually grin like cheshire cats, remind us that there is a happy medium! Of course our aim is super-service at all times, since we aim to be model librarians.

But we're only human and so are you, so let's try to see each other's virtues and not proclaim each other's faults, particularly to outsiders. You wouldn't talk about your family, so why criticize your fellow workers? There will be mistakes on both sides, but we hope they'll be few and far between. Instead of destructive criticism, which gets nowhere, we shall hope to receive constructive criticism which will eventually lead to better service on our part, and subsequently better feeling on your part. Let's all work together and go places!

OUR LAST FRONTIER

Alaska, America's continental outpost, is our last geographical frontier. War, out of strategic necessity, has made Americans conscious of this United States outpost as nothing has since the Yukon gold rush nearly fifty years ago. Many vigorous young men and women are wondering what this vast area is like and what kinds of opportunities it will offer in this post-war world.

In its own way, Alaska is as rich and varied as the land to which the Pilgrims came more than three hundred years ago. It is almost unsettled in comparison with similarly situated lands in northern Europe. The war has greatly speeded up its development, has linked with the rest of the United States by a new system of highways and airways, and has brought into its borders thousands of young men and hundreds of young women who would never otherwise have visited it.

Alaska, in the next generation, will be called upon to play an important role as a focal point for world airways and as a vital military and naval bastion. Alaska is a key to the defense of the United States and Canada and to our own military security.

A straight line drawn through St. Paul or Minneapolis to Tokyo cuts through the heart of Alaska. The air route between Chicago and Chungking via Alaska is 4,300 miles shorter than the San Francisco-Hawaii-Manila route. Already in military use is a United States-Moscow airway via Alaska. The time is probably not far distant when direct hops can be made from Fairbanks over the North Pole to London, Paris, and Stockholm. An international highway, which runs from South America to Alaska, offers a combined land and air route for Latin American countries, on to U.S.S.R., the Orient, and Europe. Lying in narrow Bering Strait, Big and Little Diomed Islands bring Asia and America only 3.5 miles apart. A ferry system or perhaps a bridge, could link South America with Europe via Siberia.

An extension of the Alaska highway from Fairbanks to Nome is within the realm of possibility. At present, however, no highway exists from Fairbanks to Nome, and the Alaska highway from Canada, built by a miracle of engineering in 1942, traverses unoccupied territory and is as yet little more than a rough service road linking a series of airports. If the Alaska highway is ever conditioned for ordinary passenger service, many thousands of visitors will tour overland to Alaska each season. Other visitors will stream in by steamship and air and Alaska will become a greater tourist spot.

Pioneer is a magic word in American history. For generations, American pioneers pushed westward across the incredibly vast spaces of our continent writing history. The frontier is bred in our bones. From it, some historians tell us, we got many of those characteristics other nations call "American."

Alaska offers twentieth century pioneers a challenge—and an opportunity!

X-change

At Ursinus we have the time honored custom of May queens and prom queens but the Temple university freshmen have brought out a new one. Their latest is a "queen of the blues." Applicants for the title submitted their photographs, each one more dismal than the next. One extremely sad, dejected crying girl seemed particularly blue and was crowned during intermission at their "Cry of the Blues" dance.

A Villanova student has this to say on a subject which must come up sooner or later, our marks.

I think that I shall never see
A "D" as lovely as a "B"—
A "B" whose rounded form is pressed
Upon the records of the blessed
A "D" comes easily and yet,
It isn't easy to forget:
"D's" are made by fools like me
And how this fool could use a "B".

More of Temple university's ingenuity is shown in this little piece which applies to all schools in this modern day and age.

Could Socrates or Aristotle
Move about with open throttle
In their quests for higher knowledge
At a crowded modern college?
Brains were all that they required,
And, at present, are desired.
Nowadays, though, studes need hustle,
And a goodly share of muscle.

We leave you with this final note dedicated to the men of Ursinus.

Feminine arithmetic,
Is slightly inexact.
Yet many a girl
Who can not add
Can certainly distract.

—Villanovan

Versatile Janet Shoemaker Captains Both Tennis and Hockey Varsity Teams

Janet Shoemaker, who hails from Lansdowne, is captain of this year's hockey team. Playing her fourth year as varsity left full-back, Jan is one half of a double feature in that she has a twin sister, Margie.

In high school Jan participated in three varsity sports, hockey, basketball, and tennis. She was also a member of student council, Hi-Y, A Capella choir, and a class officer. Here at Ursinus Jan, who is a physical education major, is captain of both the hockey and tennis teams, secretary of Tau Sigma Gamma sorority, senior representative to WAA, and member of the Curtain club. She will always be remembered for her outstanding performance as the junior miss in the play of the same name.

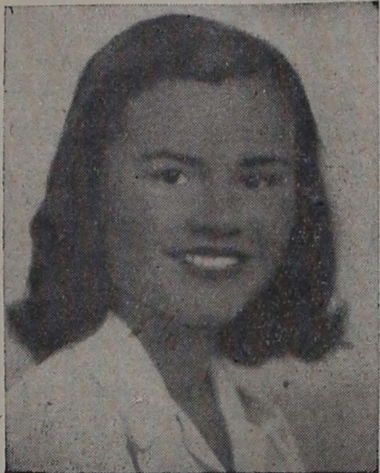

This year Jan did her practice teaching at Stewart Junior high in Norristown. Until this time she had planned to enter physio-therapy work, but she has now decided to teach. At present she is coaching the Norristown Y girl's basketball team, a job which an Ursinus senior holds each year.

Hockey and riding being her favorite sports, Jan doesn't have much time for a hobby, but she does enjoy reading a good novel occasionally. Jan has had various jobs during the summer including one as a counselor in Bonwit Teller's college shop, another in a lab, and one as supervisor of the Lansdowne playground.

The most exciting and enjoyable game which this vivacious, brown-eyed coed participated in was last year's Penn-Ursinus game in which Jan played a sparkling defensive game at her fullback position. She believes that this year's team has excellent possibilities, as the players have good teamwork and more experience than last year's team. She would like to see them win the remainder of the games and feels that thus far they have improved with every game.

Grid Season Ends; Bears Tally 83 Pts.

Playing with a squad made up almost entirely of Navy material, Ursinus fielded a grid team earlier this season, and won two games, while dropping three contests. Captains of the squad were the two tackles, Bill Carlin and Joe Topper.

The gridders opened their season with Swarthmore and playing on mud soaked turf, dropped a 13-6 decision. Ursinus' only score was made in the first period after a sustained march down the field, but mud and a strong Garnet line stopped further scoring. Then in their first home game, Ursinus tackled Franklin and Marshall, and again met defeat by a one touchdown margin, 7-0.

Traveling to New York city for their third game, the Bears finally found the key to their offensive power, and rather easily defeated City college of New York 24-0. First half touchdowns by Bill Carlin, Bob Flynn, and Bill Carozza sewed up the victory, and the second team finished the game with a final six-pointer.

King's Point Merchant Marine academy was Ursinus' next opponent, and this powerful eleven tamed the Bears 12-0 as the result of a first half lead. Several times in the second half Ursinus threatened the Mariner's goal but were checked.

In their last game of the season the Bears met a rather weak Pennsylvania Military college eleven, and ran wild to a 53-6 triumph. Linemen capitalized on early PMC mistakes to put the ball in scoring positions, and by the middle of the first quarter Ursinus had grabbed

Anderson is Top-Scorer As Ursinus Belles Down Chestnut Hill, 4 to 2

The Ursinus coeds downed the College of Chestnut Hill eleven at Chestnut Hill to the tune of 4-2 on Friday. Andy Anderson had a hey day scoring all four Ursinus goals.

The Collegeville eleven started the scoring early in the first half when Eddie Daniels scooped and sent the ball into the center. Center-forward, Jane McWilliams passed back to the left and Andy sent the ball across the goal line.

Chestnut Hill then threatened the Ursinus goal line with a hard drive from the edge of the striking circle which goalie Gracie Nesbit kicked out beautifully. They tied the score at one-all when they took the ball down the field from the 50-yard line and with good open passes made way for the right-inner to score on a drive.

The second penalty bully for Ursinus this year came in the first period when the goalie fell on the ball. Mac took the bully, but the goalie was able to send it outside the striking circle. The Chestnut Hill goalie was outstanding throughout the game for her nice saves.

The final Ursinus tally in the first half came when Andy flicked and then followed through with a drive when the goalie came out to stop the flick.

Andy tallied twice in the second half to give Ursinus a 4-1 lead on a push pass across the goal line and then drove a beautiful pass from right wing Erma Keyes into the cage.

Chestnut Hill's center half made the last score of the game after a great deal of passing right in front of the goal.

Captain Janet Shoemaker and D. J. Hobensack sparked the defense with nice passes and flicks while Mac's lunges and Eddie's center passes helped put the ball in scoring position.

Hockey Team Wins, 3-1, At William and Mary

On Saturday, Oct. 27, for the first time since before the days of gas rationing, the Ursinus hockey team traveled to Williamsburg, Va., where they gained a 3-1 victory over the William and Mary eleven.

William and Mary got off to a fast start scoring early in the first half. However the count was soon tied when "Andy" Anderson, left inner, sent one of her famous flicks into the goal cage for Ursinus. Neither team was able to score during the remainder of the first half.

In the second half, Ursinus came back with more fight and better team play to tally two more points. Andy scored her second marker of the game and Jane McWilliams, a freshman at center, with some good lunging managed to put the third one in for the co-eds.

Varsity Berths Earned By Four Skillful Frosh

by Lois Cain '48

Four proud wearers of the green band have broken into the ranks of Snell's hockey belles. Blonde, blue-eyed Jane McWilliams, better known as Mac, holds down the center forward position. This Cheltenham high athlete co-captained her high school basketball team as well as playing hockey. Mac should be well known at Ursinus after appearing on campus, with a little persuasion from the sophomores, bearing sixteen signs announcing her name to the world.

Radnor high's representative, Edith Bugs Calhoun, alternating with Mac at center forward, also numbers basketball and tennis among her favorite activities. Describing herself as a "dishwater blonde," Bugs professes a great deal of interest in the Navy.

At left halfback we find Doris Greenwood who, at the prompting of several sophomores, announced that the thing she likes most about Ursinus is the soph rule meetings. This Friends Centralite excels in lacrosse and tennis as well as hockey. Acting as a playground instructor this summer, Greenie hopes to continue in this work after graduation, providing marriage doesn't intervene.

Last, but not least, comes Winnie Mutchler, right halfback, who is residing at Sprankle. This stocky Clifton Heigher seems to take a particular delight in her studies and when asked about them merely remarked, "that history!"

Ursinus Eleven Bows To Undefeated Beaver

The Ursinus hockey eleven lost its opening home game to an undefeated Beaver team 3-1 on November 3. Beaver had control of the game throughout the entire playing period.

The only goal for the home team was scored in the second half on a penalty bully. Center forward, Jane McWilliams, bullied with the Beaver goalie when the goalie fell on the ball on the goal line thus preventing a score.

The Beaver team played together as a unit and had plenty of drive. Each player seemed to know what the other would do and passed just at the right time. This is the third year in which the majority of their team have played together and the experience and teamwork showed.

The first Beaver goal was scored by Brown, center forward, on a drive, and Jane Scott, right inner, tallied the second on a flick. Eleanor Pepper, left inner, put a hard drive across the goal line for the third score. Goalie Gracie Nesbit lunged for a ball which was de-

Opening their soccer schedule for the second time this season Ursinus's booters dropped a 2-1 overtime decision to wheaton college Friday afternoon.

After goalie Bob Geist had made several fine saves for Ursinus, the Bears gained an early lead in the contest when Herb Dean made good on a penalty kick mid-way through the second period. However, a scramble near Ursinus' net early in the second half resulted in a Wheaton score when one of the defense men for the Bears touched the ball.

Battling their way through the fourth canto with no scoring, the two squads began a five-minute overtime period, and during this frame Howard, right wing of Wheaton, slipped a goal past Geist. This soccer squad is the first all-civilian team to play for the Bears in several seasons.

JV Coeds Swamp Chestnut Hill, 5-0

Nat's J.V. team put the Chestnut Hill team down to a stinging defeat on the opponent's field last Friday afternoon. The co-eds displayed fine teamwork and from the first whistle were on the offensive end of the play. During the first minute of play a goal was scored by Betty Conlin on a scoop. Jackie Landis scored the final goal of the first half on a drive to make the score 2-0.

As the shades of evening gathered the Ursinusites took advantage of the darkness and scored three more goals. Winnie Mutchler showed that the defense can tally by scoring from her position of halfback on a long, hard drive from the edge of the striking circle. Betty and Jackie scored again to end the fracas 5-0.

Jayvees Nosed Out, 1-0, By Tough Beaver Team

Playing their first game of the season, the Ursinus Jayvees were defeated by a stubborn Beaver team 1-0 on November 3, at Collegeville.

The visitors scored what proved to be the winning tally early in the first half. The Ursinites struck back and remained on the offensive throughout most of the game, but lacked the extra push in the striking circle to put the ball in the cage.

Juniors Present Fashions in Parade

To a background of light classical music, Marjorie Coy '47, gave a short commentary about the styles modeled at the annual fashion show staged by the Junior Advisory board for the freshmen women last Thursday in Bomberger hall. The costumes shown were planned to fit the year round needs of an Ursinus co-ed.

A variety of dress was evident from the informality of the typical wool shirt and dungarie outfit modeled by Jean Loomis '47, and the slack suit worn by Lois Wilson '47, to the more formal tea dress of black crepe and the gray velvet suit worn by Jane Neff '45, and Shirley Friday '47, respectively.

The date dresses suggested were those worn by Jane Theis '46, and Ruth Titus '46. Jane modeled a blue wool dress while Ruth chose a black crepe dress with pink sequence.

Marge Bilzila '47, chose a brown gaberdine suit for an all purpose outfit while Jane Rathgeb '47, preferred a gray plaid suit.

Sport outfits included those modeled by Jan Shoemaker '46, who wore the traditional white shark-skin tennis dress and blue blazer, and Benetta Martindale '47, who modeled a riding habit.

The ever popular skirt and sweater combination was modeled by Ethel Ashworth '47, while Betty Conlin '46, wore the favorite blazer and skirt outfit. Anne Moister '48, chose a light blue wool dress worn with a white blazer.

Rainy weather outfits were modeled by Eddie Daniels '48, and Lois Stave '47. Other features included Mary E. Flad's flannel pajamas and Millie Wilson's night shirt.

Then for those special formal dances Es White '47, chose a red taffeta dress while Ruth Nachod '46, preferred a pink chiffon dress with purple lace inserts.

Frosh Entertained at Receptions

On Wednesday evening, October 31, the Ursinus YW and YMCA under the direction of their respective presidents, Peggy Singley '45, and Ray Furlong '45, sponsored a reception for the freshmen in Thompson-Gay gymnasium.

Mr. Ned Lineker from Penn State college was master of ceremonies for the event. Under his direction get acquainted games were played and dancing was enjoyed.

Freshmen women were escorted to the affair by their big sisters and freshmen men by their big brothers.

Appropriate fall decorations bedecked the gym and, under the direction of Marge Coy '47, the Junior Advisory committee served refreshments.

Lantern Requests Students to Write

Have you penned a pome or scrawled a sonnet of late? Perhaps it's the great American novel you're writing in your "spare" time between labs and lectures? Well, we can't promise enough space to print your version of "Forever Amber," but how about a short story just for a starter?

This begins to sound like one of those pulp magazine commercials. You know the type—"just send us two box tops from munchy-crunchies and we will remit by return mail our special guaranteed booklet. You too can be a great writer.

But, seriously, this is a cordial invitation to all students in all classes to submit materials of all sorts to Ursinus' literary magazine, The Lantern. Stories, essays, poems, short plays, book reviews, descriptive passages — in short, anything that you would like to see in print. Deadline for contributions has been set at November 30.

Once upon a time there was a great poet named Omar who was really a tent maker on the swing-shift. So let that be a lesson to you. Who knows what quatrains are quirking, what hidden talent lurking within you Ursinusites? How about a try?
