Students Selected to Who's Who Honor By National Group

The names of nine outstanding members of the junior and senior classes have been selected to appear in the 1945-'46 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Basing their nominations on character, scholarship, leadership in extra-curricular activities, and potentiality for future usefulness to business and society, Deans Camilla B. Stahr and Eugene H. Miller recommended these students to this organization.

Among these students was Robert R. Geist, senior class president, whose hometown is Slatington, Pa. A star basketball, baseball and soccer player, Bob also finds time to serve as vice-president of the Men's Student Council, president of the Cub and Key honorary society on campus, and advertising manager of the Ruby. A member of the Zeta Chi fraternity, he is enrolled in the business administration course and hopes to enter the business field as an accountant after graduation in June.

A present member of the junior class and a former member of the Ursinus V-12 unit, Ray Furlong is also sharing this honor. In addition to being the editor of the 1946 Ruby and president of the YMCA, Ray was also football manager and chairman of the Navy ball. His duties as secretary of the Newman Club, member of the Debating Club, and secretary-treasurer of the Cub and Key along with preparations for the Senior ball and the "Messiah" are keeping him quite busy. A resident of St. Mary's, Pa., Ray is a chemistry-mathematics major who plans to enter med. school after doing graduate work.

Also on this list is Grant Harriety '46, who plans to enter Eden Seminary for the ministry after graduating as a history-social science major at Ursinus. Recently elected president of the Men's Student Council, Grant has the painstaking job of complete control of the waiters and waitresses in the college dining hall. Grant is also vice-president of the YMCA, past president of the Brotherhood of St. Paul, secretary-treasurer of Tau Kappa Alpha, honorary debating society, sports editor of the Ruby, (Continued on Page 4)

Singley, Furlong Lead First YM-YW Meeting

Peggy Singley and Ray Furlong, presidents of the YMCA-YWCA respectively, were in charge of the first monthly meeting of this organization on November 7. Interest forms were filled in by all members present, to facilitate placing them on the committee most closely connected with their interests. Pledge cards were also distributed, and those who wished to become active members of the "Y" at Ursinus signed these cards, thereby pledging their active support and loyalty to the society.

An impressive Recognition service was held for all active members last Wednesday night. Following this, all committees and commissions met. Chairmen of the various committees and commissions are as follows:

Program, Jane Brusck '47; social service, Dotty Derr '47; worship, Betsy Shumaker '46; social, Carolyn Howells '47; publicity, Hilda Anderson '48; freshmen, Jean Anne Schultz '48, assisted by Betsy Greene '48, Florence Cherry '48, Marion Sturgis '48, Mildred Nobles '48, Roberta Blauch '47, Marion Ferree '48, Hilda Anderson '48, and Erma Keyes '47; Interdenominational, Jane Reifsnnyder '46; racial equality, Barbara Deitz '48; big and little sisters, Betty Walton '47; political action, Irene Sufias '48; W. S. S. F., Sue Bellis '48; intercollegian, Nancy Twining '48; "Y" library shelf, Miriam Schellhase '48; and the "Y" room, Arlene Boltz '47.

Committees will meet every Wednesday evening at 6:30, with Cabinet meetings at 8:00.

NOTICE

A new ruling concerning freshmen women, has been passed by the Senate of the WSGA and is now effective. The ruling is as follows:

Freshmen women are not allowed to date out of town men from Monday to Thursday inclusive unless they have special permission from Dean Stahr. The girls, however, may be escorted to and from dances given on campus during these nights.

Graduates Receive Jobs In Secondary Schools

During the school year of 1945, Ursinus graduated twenty-two persons who were certificated to teach in secondary schools. Of this number, Doris Mackell and Ethel Cunningham are continuing their studies in other institutions. Elizabeth Tyson is working for the Times Herald, Norristown, and Anne Styer Morgan is a secretary in a business concern in Cambridge, Mass.

Elizabeth Claves has accepted a position with the Children's Aid Society of Montgomery County, Norristown, Pa.

The remaining seventeen are located in teaching positions as follows: Eleanor Bauer, mathematics, Spring City High School; Jeanne Beers, English, North Coventry High School; Betty Bradway, physical education and health, Norristown High School; Beverly Cloud, physical education and health, a private school, Atlanta, Ga.; Betty Brown Dando, physical education and health, Pitman High School, N. J.; Marguerite DeAngelis, English, East Greenville High School; Barbara Djourup, English, South Whitehall Township High School; Ethel Evans, social studies, Collegeville-Trappe High School; Margaret Hudson, physical education and health, Somerville High School, N. J.; Mildred Innis, English, Chester High School; Constance Johnson, Latin and French, Upper Moreland Township High School; Betty Keyser, mathematics, West Pottsgrove Township High School; Marian Martin, social studies and English, Pen Argyl High School; Helen McKee, social studies, South Whitehall Township High School; Elinor Paetzold, social studies, Ambler High School; Anne Baird Rapp, physical education and health, College of Chestnut Hill; Betty Yeager, English, Mechanicsburg High School.

Navy Unit Closes Officially Today

Both Lt. Commander Richard G. Redell and Yeoman 1/c Larry Clark will receive their discharges following the final closure of the Navy unit here today. Yeoman Clark who has been in the Navy for 47 months serving overseas for 2½ years, will report to Bainbridge, Md., for his final papers.

Lt. Commander Redell will be released at the Fourth Naval District offices and will return to his home in California. Redell has served in the Navy for 40 months, 2 years of which he was commander of LCI 13 in the Pacific.

Storekeeper 1/c Edward P. O'Connell has been assigned to the commandant of the Fourth Naval District for further duty. Both Specialist 1/c Chester Hilger and Pharmacist Mate 1/c Jack Stanley are stationed at Villanova.

Specialist 1/c Vincent Cyphers is bound for the Philippines while Storekeeper 1/c Raymond Cranstun, who was temporarily based at Guam, is now on sea duty in the Pacific.

Graduate Announces Betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cunningham, of Trenton, N. J., have announced the engagement of their daughter Ethel M. Cunningham '45, to Mr. Stanley J. Stein Jr., also of Trenton. Mr. Stein attended the University of Virginia prior to his induction into the Army. He received his discharge after spending 15 months overseas.

Governor Martin Salutes President McClure and College At Ceremony Commemorating Seventy-fifth Anniversary

Six Hundred Enjoy Celebration; Portrait of Paisley Unveiled

The seventy-fifth anniversary convocation of Ursinus College was held in Bomberger Hall last Wednesday at two-thirty o'clock. Some six hundred students, alumni, and guests enjoyed the impressive celebration. A procession including the honorable Edward Martin, Governor of Pennsylvania, Lieutenant Colonel Jay Cooke, an honored guest, President Norman E. McClure, the entire faculty and the Board of Directors of the college preceded the exercises.

Following the invocation by the Rev. John Lentz, D.D., President McClure welcomed the Governor and the gathered assembly. In a short address he told the history of Ursinus. The first edifice to stand where Bomberger Hall now is was Todd's School erected in 1832. In 1848 Freeland Seminary for young men was opened. This building still stands. Still later in 1869, a group of laymen and clergy of the Reformed church desired to begin an institution where youth could be educated under Christian influence. In this way Ursinus College was begun and through a gradual but steady growth, it has become the Ursinus of today.

Dr. McClure then mentioned the names of some of the notables in the college since it began. Some of these were Bomberger, Omwake, Spangler, Brodbeck, Curtis, Yost, Kline, Paisley, Brooks, and Pfahler. These men all offered their ability and influences to uphold the aims of Ursinus. The development of a mature, well-beloved well-rounded individual is the outstanding aim. If this is to be accomplished, our constant guide and companion must be God. We all must realize our responsibilities and how we can best serve mankind. The only true education is a Christian education. Ursinus has fulfilled this purpose and has exerted through its students for years these Christian ideals upon Pennsylvania and the nation as a whole.

Governor Edward Martin, after his introduction by President McClure, presented the anniversary address. A friendly college and one with a bright outlook to the future was his description of Ursinus. Our unique counseling system has strengthened the bonds of friendships among all who have matriculated here. Ursinus has taught its students how to develop into real service to others. Students Organize Girls' Glee Club

Ursinus organized its first glee club in several years when 95 women student candidates met last Tuesday night to elect officers. Marion Sare '48, was chosen president; Janet Koening '47, vice-president; Jean Caton '47, secretary; and June Ellis '47, recorder.

Of the 125 candidates who signed up prior to the tryouts, seventy or eighty will eventually become members of the singing group. Tryouts are under way, but the glee club is at the moment still in the formative stages.

Following the first meeting of the group, thirty-five women tried out for the "Stardusters." This group, started by Jim Patterson of the Navy about two years ago, has as its specialty the singing of various arrangements of popular songs, both old and new. This year's "Stardusters" number eight, augmenting the original quintet to an octette. The "Stardusters" at present are: first soprano: Doris Renner '47, and Emily Smith '49, second soprano: Jane Brusck '47, and Ellie Reynolds '47; first alto; Anne Moister '48, and Mary Jo Bahnson '48; and second alto: Meg Schafenacker '48, and Marjorie Coy '47. The Glee Club and the "Stardusters" are under the jurisdiction of the Music Department and the Curtain Club. Dwight Morss '47, is student leader and organizer.

Sophs to Sponsor Barn Dance, Nov. 30

Appearing for the first time at Ursinus, William Weber, a freshman, will be in charge of the barn dancing which will be part of the program planned by the Sophs for their informal dance on Friday, November 30, in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium. This New York lad has had experience in such dancing before coming here.

Publicity for this dance is in the hands of Jane Henry, Isabelle Barr, and Helen Derewianka while Carol Shooppe and Marjorie Heinbach are taking care of the refreshments.

As another added attraction, the sophomore class will introduce a quartet known as "The Dreamers." Ronnie Sare '48, Sue Evalt '48, Joan Ludwig '48, and Ann Eysenbach '47, compose this quartet.

Admission will be ten cents.

"Christmas Ball" Will be Theme of Senior Class Dance, Dec. 8

"The Christmas Ball" will be the theme of the senior ball on Saturday, December 8 in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium.

Co-chairmen of the dance are Bob Geist and Marguerite Lytle. Ruth Nachod and Ruth Titus head the program committee. Sally Deibler Pierce and Virginia Charles will take care of the publicity while the decoration committee has for its chairmen, Janet Shoemaker and Kathleen Sinclair.

Dr. William F. Phillips to Direct Annual Presentation of Messiah

On December 13, the eighth annual performance of George Frederick Handel's "Messiah" will be presented by the music department under the direction of Dr. William F. Phillips.

The four guest soloists will be announced in a forthcoming issue of the Weekly. The chorus will be composed of college students.

NOTICE!

All guests who eat in the college dining room will be charged for their meals. Fifty cents for dinner, thirty-five cents each for breakfast and lunch. Meal tickets are available from Dean Camilla B. Stahr. If you invite a guest to Ursinus, make arrangements for paying with either Miss Stahr or Grant Harriety the head waiter. Only students who are matriculating at the present time are exempt from this ruling.

War Fund Drive Brings Total Donation of $346

After closing a three-day campaign for the United War Fund, Mary Jane Hassler '46, who was in charge of the drive announced that the total contribution for men and women students was $346. Of this amount the men donated $20.50.

Lynnewood was the first dormitory to reach the 100% goal while Glenwood was a close second, coming in one hour later.

However, the Student Council has given top honors to Shreiner Hall for being the one and only dorm on campus to go over the top on their quota.

Rushing Season Starts Dec. 3 Under New Rule

At the first meeting of the Inter-sorority Council last Monday, the following officers were elected: vice-president, Marguerite Lytle '46; secretary-treasurer, Sally Pierce '46; and disciplinary official, Jackie Landis '47. Jane Buckridge '46, is president of the council.

Following the rules of the new Inter-sorority constitution, the sororities will open the rushing season on Monday, December 3. Each sorority will entertain their rushers at after-dinner deserts. The season closes at 12 p. m. Friday, December 7, and bids will be received or rejected in room 7 of Bomberger Hall at 1 p. m. the following day.

A list of girls receiving bids will be posted on the bulletin board in the girls' day study at 9 a. m. on Saturday, December 8.

Sophs and Frosh to Continue Friendly Rivalry at Debate

Friendly rivalry will once more be stimulated between the freshmen and sophomores at a debate to be held in Bomberger Hall, November 26 at 7:30 p. m. The question is "Resolved: that the idea of a woman's place in the home is no longer valid." The frosh will take the affirmative side, the sophs the negative side. The teams will consist of two boys and two girls from each class. Dr. Elizabeth B. White and Dr. Maurice W. Armstrong, both of the History Department and Miss Eugenia Bigelow, instructor in Political Science, will be the judges. The Men's and Women's Debating Clubs are sponsoring this debate. A Special Thanksgiving

To say that this Thanksgiving, the first one to be celebrated by our nation at peace in four years, should be one of special significance is comparable to discoursing on the rising of the sun or the fact that thunder follows lightning.

We are all aware of the great things for which we have to be thankful on this day set aside by the pilgrims so many years ago to thank God for protecting them in this new world. In fact we have been showing our gratitude ever since the great news last August, which rocked the nation with its impact. So busy were we in showing it, in a way most typically American in its impulsiveness, paper-feted heroes parading along streets lined with cheering, enthusiastic crowds, hysterical gatherings of people in the cities, half-mad with joy, signs and flags hung out to welcome returning G.I. Joe, that it is to be wondered if we realized the significance of the impact itself.

Do we even by this time think of the reverberations of that historic signing of the peace document in Tokyo Bay? Are we honest enough to question ourselves if the mere defeat of the enemy is enough to insure peace? Are we content to rest on our laurels, forget the whole thing and hope that someone else will have enough sense and wisdom to obtain for us a peace which will last?

Or are we, as part of the vast number of American college students, going to accompany our thanks to God this Thursday with the vow that whatever we can learn, whatever part we can play, be it large or small, which will lead to the only salvation of this world, the insurance against another war, we will do?

If we, the youth of America, are guided by such a vow, the future will hold a far brighter prospect than pessimists of the day are wont to prophesy.

SOCIETY NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Richter, of Mont Clare, Pa., have announced the marriage of their daughter, Margaret, ex '46, to A/S Richard S. Clover, ex '45, on July 14, 1945, at Baltimore, Md. Dick is a student at Hahnemann Medical School.

The annual dorm initiations for freshman women were held during the last two weeks.

Tonight the Lutheran students will attend a banquet given by the Augustus Lutheran church in the Grange Hall in Trappe. The Rev. Russell Zimmerman, pastor of the church, is also the Lutheran student association pastor of the Collegeville area.

The Junior Advisory committee gave a breakfast for the freshman women Saturday morning in the College woods.

or What's Bruin

Greetings, guys, gals, and freshmen:

Looking ahead? Hope you all are to the Senior ball, Dec. 8th—the DANCE to surpass ALL dances—so say the Seniors, and they should know!!! So—let's get on the ball and go to the Ball, how 'bout it fellas?

Tuesday and Thursday night, daters Es and Ray, Joan Wilmot and K. D. Milsop, Marge Coy 'n Sam K., Herb Reichert and Betty Shaeffer, Leamy 'n Mitch, June Ellis and Gordon Weidman, and Bert Agnew with Jo Bahnson.

Johnny Gartner seems to prefer the name Joan—all the more confusing for Joans Sullivan and Ludwig.

DID YOU SEE: "Admiral" Dan Comly back on campus a few days ago—seems the war finally caught up with him and he's scheduled for a "pleasure" cruise on a mine-sweeper.

Betty Bradway, dashing up from Norristown for a quick visit.

Maizie Cunningham, surprising us all with a new sparkler — one more lucky gal.

A large cloud of smoke walking around campus—you can be sure it's Bob Barroll, smoking one of his king size cigars!

Rumor has it that the ZX frat will shine again—just watch Bob Geist, John Trevaskis and Joe Derham start the ball rolling with some big plans!

Bridge hounds, same as ever—look in the supply store and see Benny Martindell, Shirl Friday, Bonnie McCrane and the Stave duo up against some heavy competition from the Valley Forge teams.

Congrats to Ronnie Sare, elected president of the Girls' Glee club and luck to Dwight Morss with his new version of the Stardusters.

HAVE YOU HEARD: Ken Schroeder's swing arrangement of his original "Mary Louise". Now who could he have had in mind? We know!!

Trevvy and Joe Derham discussing the old days—remember, when men were men and initiations were - - - rough!!

"Rabbit" Brandon tell of his woes at the French table? Seems he was slowly starving to death because he couldn't think of the names of the food to ask for in French!!

What's the score here? Anne Eysenbach 'n Paul Stauffer; Betsy Shumaker and Gifford Abbott.

"Talk of the Town" — Even Ali Baba and his Forty Thieves couldn't surpass Andy and her fifteen sophs who, by way of a cellar window, through a coal pile and up a trap door sat in on the junior-frosh meeting over in the Reformed Church and weren't discovered until all too late!! There's one for the books! However the juniors still claim to have the upper hand. Tune in tomorrow to see who's kidding who!!!

Urbana, Ill. (I.P.) — Refresher and special post-graduate training for physicians and surgeons returning from the armed services to civil practice is being provided by the University of Illinois College of Medicine with the aid of a $90,000 three-year grant from the W. K. Kellogg foundation, it was announced here.

The University is offering basic and specialized short courses, together with new opportunities in longer term training for specialists. This is attracting nation-wide attention and helping to meet needs revealed by a recent survey of 21,000 doctors in the armed services. (Continued on page 4)

Sniper Force Invades
Frosh Secret Meeting

"Come Out, Come Out, Wherever You Are" may well have been the theme of the freshmen last Wednesday during a supposedly "secret" meeting.

Through the deadly operations of a secret sophomore underground system, the meeting was invaded under the capable leadership of Field Marshal Ada Chang, who boldly sauntered into the gathering, making no attempt at delisescence. Lieutenant Norm Paetzold of the fresehman forces tried to capture her but fell victim to her might, whereupon reenforcements quelled her fighting spirit. This led to a riotous melee between invading forces and the F.M.R. (Freshmen Men's Reserve).

Since the meeting was of the utmost importance to the freshmen, complete secrecy was entirely necessary. The sophomore underground was determined, however, to crash this meeting and the F.M.R. was kept busy during the whole of the meeting.

About the only one to receive the Purple Heart was Capt. Robert Poole, who boldly led a contingent of the F.M.R. into the basements of the Garrison to ward off a band of the invading S.U. Heroic Robert made a flying leap at one rebel and met up with the doors of the basement (No Two Things Can Occupy the Same Space at the Same Time) as they were being hastily closed. The captain still wears an elevation on his forehead as a result of this intrepid deed.

The Women's Auxiliary of the sophomore underground put up a more desperate struggle than the Regulars. The F.M.R. was needed in full force to remove some of them, although Sergeant Bahney and a capable assistant of the caveman characteristics carried one W.A.S.U. away with apparently no trouble.

Amid the heat of the principal campaign, a cry arose: "Cochran isn't going to like this" and out went W.A.S.U. Lt. Derewianka, summoned thusly under the auspices of F.M.R. Cpl. Russ Schaedler. A search for remaining snipers was continued throughout the meeting. Every nook and cranny was carefully scrutinized, failing to reveal apparently hidden S.U. patrols.

F.M.R. intelligence service Lts. Norm Paetzold and Dick Wentz have failed to uncover the entrance by which the major force of S.U. entered the Garrison. However, after careful cross-examination throughout the barracks following the melee it was revealed that S.U. patrols had marveled at the splendid acoustics in the Garrison during the meeting. Several of the S.U. patrols even heard confidential information.

Now a tense lull again hovers over the campus battlefield as the Secret Service of both forces take over in anticipation of the final engagement. Friction even lies between Allied F.M.R. and Junior units as threats pass about the barracks. Junior Reservist Maj. Bill Cochran threatens the existence of his colleague, Cpl. Russ Schaedler of the F.M.R.

Until affairs return to normal between the two forces, an atmosphere of tense "realism" glides under cover of smiles and friendly conversation (Watch it, you're dealing with dynamite). We now leave this orgy of things fantastic and hope that when we again return we may have something "nice" to say.

THE FRESHMAN'S PRAYER

Now I lay my banner aside
By no more rules should I abide,
'Cept those by lawful teachers made,
To give us knowledge and gainful aid.

No noon time meeting to help digestion.

Please let me make my own suggestion!

On the shade of green I wish to wear,

And the style and ribbons for my hair.

Mayn't I put makeup on my face?
That shine on it, Oh my disgrace!
Don't take this prayer as a complaint,

'Cause after all I'm not a saint.
Amen.

CHANGES IN UNITED STATES POLICY
TOWARD CHINA

The policy of the United States in regard to the situation in China appears to be going through another serious change. At one time in the period after Pearl Harbor, this country aided both the Chinese Communists and the Chinese Nationalists in their fight against the Japanese. Then with the recall of General J. W. Stillwell, United States support was thrown behind the Nationalist government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek. Now the United States is pulling back from an all-out support to Chiang in a civil war against the Communists.

For years the encouragement of a strong and unified China has been a principal American aim. A strong China, friendly to the United States, was to play a leading role on the Asiatic continent. China was to replace Japan as a market for American goods. The question now being debated is whether China is able to play that role without unlimited military and financial aid from the United States.

To give Chiang unlimited help would mean many American lives and dollars. To withdraw all help from Chiang might prevent China from becoming a great power and postpone indefinitely the time when she could become a substantial market for American exports. Some military men believe that a show of force by the Nationalists, with the appearance of United States backing, would be enough to cause the Communists to fold up. Another view seems to be that the withdrawal of United States military help will reduce the likelihood of civil war and hasten an agreement. Which of these two views finally is to prevail apparently rests with President Truman, who is represented as swaying now toward insistence on a Chinese compromise rather than a settlement by force.

Dorothea D. Deininger '41, received her M.A. from the University of Pennsylvania at the convocation on October 30, 1945.

Dr. and Mrs. Charles D. Mattern have announced the birth of a daughter, Carolyn Jane, on November 12, 1945. Mrs. Mattern is the former Jane Price '32. Dr. Mattern, class of '30, is Associate Professor of English on the Ursinus faculty.

Ensign and Mrs. G. Sieber Pancoast have announced the birth of a daughter, Susan, on November 11, 1945. Mrs. Pancoast is the former Muriel Brandt '38. Ensign Pancoast '37, on leave of absence, is Assistant Professor of political science and Dean of Men at Ursinus.

Dr. and Mrs. Foster L. Dennis have announced the birth of a son, Larry, on July 16. Dr. Dennis '31, is Professor of mathematics on the college faculty.

Elva Jane Buckingham '42, has arrived in India to serve the armed forces as an American Red Cross staff assistant. Until her appointment, Miss Buckingham was a mathematics teacher at Pitman high school, Pitman, N. J.

A picture and short write-up of Agnes S. Dyer '44, appeared in the Interchemical Review which is published by the research laboratories of the Interchemical Corporation. She is employed at the research lab in the surface chemistry division.

Ensign James F. Ziegler '44, former Lower Merion and Ursinus athlete, has been in Shanghai and Tokyo. On his tour of the Pacific he met three ex-Collegeville letter winners. These were Bob McFarland '42, former shortstop, Lieutenant Jim Coulter '42, of Haddonfield, and Lieutenant Nick Biscotte '42, of Bridgeport, both football players.

Master Sergeant Eugene E. Shelley '37, is now with the occupation and liberation forces in Korea. He says that the Koreans really believe the U. S. forces have come to liberate them and are exceptionally welcome for the arrival of troops and the end of the Jap reign. Shelley and another GI have begun English instruction in an adult evening school three nights per week and have found the students eager to further their knowledge of the language.

Ursinus Varsity Trips Temple Coeds 3-1; Hilda Anderson, Jane McWilliams Score

Playing their traditional rival, Temple, the Ursinus coeds turned them back by a 3-1 score on Wednesday. Hilda Anderson held the scoring honors for the victors with two to her credit.

During the early part of the first half it was a see-saw battle with first one team then the other taking the ball and attempting a score. After several unsuccessful tries Temple nearly took the lead when Ursinus goalie Gracie Nesbitt, momentarily let a drive get through her, but she quickly recovered and cleared the ball. Again Temple tried to rush the goalie and tally but good work on the part of the Ursinus defense kept it out.

Ursinus then took the ball and after a series of tries for a score, Jane McWilliams drove toward the cage. The goalie deflected it and Andy put it over for the first tally of the day. This made it a 1-0 score at the end of the half.

Shortly after the second period opened the Collegeville eleven pushed over their second goal. Evie Moyer, substituting for Sal Secor, carried the ball into Temple territory, and passed to Mac. She relayed the ball to Andy who took it down the field and drove the ball past the Temple goalie.

Temple got back in the game after a long march down the field when Anne Evans, their right inner, scored.

Mac then clinched the game for Ursinus when after rushing the goal, she punched it over for the final score.

Gracie Nesbitt did a beautiful job in keeping the Temple goals from crossing that fortified line. She was able to clear the ball out of the striking circle even with the forward line rushing in to give the ball that final push. Several times it seemed as if the ball was right on the goal line when Gracie came through to save the day.

Ursinus Booters Lose 7-0 to Powerful Eleven From West Chester

Facing West Chester State Teachers' College for the second time this season Ursinus' booters lost a 7-0 contest last Tuesday on the opponent's field. West Chester jumped into an early lead when Bill Miller and Francis Monturo tallied for the victors in the opening minutes of the first half, and then these two led a five point second half attack that sank the Bears.

The Bears battled furiously to score throughout the entire contest, but mud and a strong West Chester defense bottled their attacks effectively. High scorer of the game was Monturo who made three goals, while Miller followed with two more.

In the earlier contest this season the Bears and Teachers battled to a 4-4 deadlock.

Phys Edders Say Course is No Snap

Who says Phys Edders have a snap course? Early in October these illustrious souls have to cut their vacation and summer work short and pack their clothes to start off for far distant lands. Once they get to Ursinus, there is the proverbial job of unpacking and vainly striving to find room for their various and sundry articles of dress. Not only do they have the usual garb of a college student, but also such arrays of attire as shorts, skirts, slacks, dungarees; archery, hockey, tennis, canoeing, riding, and swimming supplies. The job then is to be able to find the right thing in the morning, wash, dress, and eat all in five minutes time, for who gets up for breakfast? Once the job of unpacking is accomplished, there is the mad dashing to find a fourth for bridge. This is a familiar scene that occurs nightly. Old friendships are renewed in a matter of minutes. Last year's problems, joys, hardships, and games are reminisced far into the first night. The following day usually consists of a conference with Miss Snell and a preview of things to come.

That's when the "fun" really begins. The juniors are rushed off to swimming; the sophs occupy the tennis courts, while the frosh become acquainted with the perils of the Perkiomen in leaky canoes. Thence follows the vicious cycle of swimming, riding, tennis, archery, hockey, canoeing and back again with only time out to eat and sleep plus the eternal bridge games. The third morning and succeeding mornings find these great lovers of the outdoors so stiff that every joint and muscle in their bodies hurt when moved. In addition to these various snap courses there are three solid hours of hockey practice every afternoon. In spite of aches, pains, and complaints there are many compensations. Such memories as the time D. S. steered the canoe over the falls while Edie fell in the cold water trying to save her; Leamy and Bairdo trying to save each other and nearly drowning every time; various experts taking spills while riding; the first time a bulls-eye was hit in archery; collisions on the hockey field; volley ball games with the Navy (we beat them too); etc., will be forever preserved in snap shots, scrap books, and memory to be called upon and bring cheer whenever life goes wrong.

Two Ursinus Girls Selected for Berths On Middle Atlantic All-College Eleven

JV's Are Victors Despite Darkness

Despite the fact that the game was played in almost complete darkness, the Ursinus Jayvees won over Temple 2-0 Wednesday afternoon.

Dusty Brooks, left inner, scored in the first one early in the first half. Then, due to some fine rushing in the striking circle by the forward line, Jackie Landis was able to tally the second goal from her center forward position.

Play during the remainder of the contest seesawed back and forth. However, the Ursinus backfield led by Edith Calhoun, center half, proved to be too strong for the visitors who were unable to score.

Third Team Downs Temple Squad 2-0

The Ursinus' third team set back the Temple hockey eleven by the score of 2-0 on Wednesday here at Collegeville in their first game of the season.

After starting out in the defensive game Ursinus got into position to score with Betty Moyer tallying the first goal. From that time on Ursinus was on the offensive and threatened throughout the game.

In spite of the growing darkness during the second half Betty Moyer again sent the ball into the goal. The backfield kept up during the entire game sending the ball to the forward line to keep it in Temple territory.

In the Middle Atlantic intercollegiate field hockey tournament at Swarthmore college on Saturday five Ursinus girls gained recognition. D. J. Hobensack and Grace Nesbitt were selected for the all-college eleven as right fullbacks and goalie respectively while Janet Shoemaker as right fullback and Hilda Anderson as left inner were given berths on the second team. Tinker Harmer was listed as a reserve.

The twelve colleges represented at the tournament included Beaver, Temple, Penn, Wilson, Rosemont, Bryn Mawr, Swarthmore, Chestnut Hill, Immaculata, Stroudsburg, Drexel and Ursinus. Each team played a twenty minute half with three other teams. Penn, Temple, Beaver, and Ursinus ranked the highest of the teams, each winning two games and tying one.

Ursinus met Beaver in their opening game and tied them 2-2. The team played by far their best of the season and showed beautiful teamwork. Each girl played hard and was determined to make up for the defeat at the hands of Beaver earlier in the season. Sallie Secor's play was outstanding for her nice passes and effective dodges. She was instrumental in setting up Ursinus scoring plays.

Beaver scored first but Ursinus soon tallied when Sal drove the ball across the goal line. Beaver took the lead again, and this time Jane McWilliams followed up a shot by Flicker Anderson for a score.

Gracie Nesbitt showed up well in this game with several good saves, but had few chances in the two games which followed.

The Ursinus coeds downed Chestnut Hill 3-0 and Bryn Mawr 1-0 in the other two games. The Chestnut Hill team proved to be no match for the Ursinus eleven and succeeded in getting the ball past the fifty yard line only a few times. Gracie didn't touch the ball at all in that playing period. Andy scored twice and Mac once for the Ursinus goals.

In the Bryn Mawr match both teams played hard and the game was one of good open hockey. Andy made the lone Ursinus tally and in this game Gracie only touched the ball once. Ginnie Dulin at her right halfback post played very well and made her opponents look foolish as she did her pull to the left and the other dodges at her command. Ginnie has perfect timing and can always anticipate the play.

Gracie and D. J. well-deserved their first team places. Last year Gracie was placed on the second team, but her fast footwork and her strong clearing shot helped her replace Jean Gordon of Temple as first string goalie. D. J., who held a reserve position last year was moved from her usual center-half spot back to right fullback. Feeling a little strange in this new position D. J. went on to play her usual brand of good hockey.

YWCA to Launch WSSF Drive Nov. 26

Under the direction of Susan Bellis '48, the WSSF will launch a drive to collect money for relief and rehabilitation of students and reconstruction of educational facilities in eighteen countries including the countries of war-torn Europe and the Philippines, China, Russia, Canada, and the United States.

The campaign will start officially November 26 when Miss Jane McKay Crichton will give a short talk concerning the WSSF. Miss Crichton is traveling secretary for WSSF. The drive will cover a four month period.

The WSSF, a non-governmental organization that works impartially without reference to race, nationality, religion, or politics to meet human needs, dates back to 1937 when the organization was known as the Far Eastern Student Service Fund. In 1940, the name was changed to World Student Service Fund when the University Commission of the Council of Church Boards of Education became co-sponsor.

Ursinus has set $1000 as a minimum amount to be raised. This money will help to provide for food and medical assistance, books and paper, student centers, self-help programs as well as direct relief to students and professors.

75th ANNIVERSARY

Our lives have become richer since the completion of the most horrible of all wars. America must lead the way toward world peace, asserted Governor Martin. "We want peace in the world. No nation wants peace more than ourselves. But the great peace will come only if America leads the way. We can teach others the ways which have helped us and encourage them to follow them." Freedom of speech, tolerance in religion, and the freedom to work at a job of our own choice are the assets of America in the search of World peace.

"If all nations will accept the moral obligations coming down through the ages, we will have peace," said the Governor. The love of God and Country must be the under-lying foundation of peace.

The Governor concluded his address by saying that "Pennsylvania is proud of Ursinus for all its accomplishments through the years and it merits the best support we can give you—I salute you, Dr. McClure."

Governor Martin was presented with the honorary degree of doctor of laws as was Lieutenant Colonel Jay Cooke, outstanding civic leader of Philadelphia. Dean Whorten A. Kline made the presentation.

A portrait of Harry E. Paisley, LL.D., president of the Ursinus Board of Directors since 1910 was presented by his son Ellwood S. Paisley '13, on behalf of Trinity Reformed Church of Philadelphia to the College. The portrait will be hung for the time being in the Pfahler Hall of Science until the completion of the planned women's dormitory which will bear his name.

An informal reception was held in Pfahler Hall of Science immediately after the ceremony so that students and guests of the college could meet Governor Martin.

Francis J. Gilder '00, Esquire, and second vice-president of the Board of Directors accepted this portrait on behalf of the Board of Directors.

Mrs. Helfferich Speaks on Art

Mrs D. L. Helfferich, Collegeville, spoke on "The Early History of the Pennsylvania Dutch and Their Art" at the meeting of the Women's Library Club of Spring City last Wednesday evening.

Mrs Helfferich remarked that one-third of the people in the State are Pennsylvania Dutch and that many of the early settlers played an important role in history. Among them she named many prominent people, including Muhlenberg, Conrad Weiser, Amelia Earhart, Gen Dwight Eisenhower, Gen Carl A. Spaatz, and Clark Gable. She said the city of Bethlehem was begun by Dutch settlers.

Versatile, vivacious Courtenay Richardson has excelled in many activities while at Ursinus. She was a member of the varsity basketball and softball teams for three years and will serve as captain of the latter team for the coming year. To complete her year-round sports schedule Court also played varsity tennis for three years and JV hockey. She is also president of the Women's Athletic Association, a member of the social service committee of the YWCA, former member of the Senate, vice-president of the Physical Education Club, and a member of the Rosicrucians, a women's academic society.

A member of Tau Sigma Gamma sorority, Court received the junior athletic medal for her excellent work in that field. After returning to her hometown of Hollis, Long Island, she hopes to teach physical education and to coach.

IRC's president, Irene Sufas '46, also received this honor. Irene's extra-curricular activities include her vice-presidency of Kappa Delta Kappa sorority, membership on the Lantern staff, and representative on the Senate and Intersorority Council. Her original May pageant, "A Mid-Summer Night's Dream," was presented by the co-eds last year. A history-sociology major Irene plans to study law at Yale or Columbia following her graduation.

Margaret Singley '46, who has done efficient work as the president of the YWCA, also served as secretary and vice-president of this organization in previous years. A history-sociology major Peg plans to enter the field of social work or religious education. This Southampton, Pa., miss is also a member of Kappa Delta Kappa sorority.

The Women's Student Council president this year, Madelyn Jandl '45, was also selected for this honor. Red Cross work and membership in Kappa Delta Kappa sorority have also taken up much of her time. After her training in chemistry and biology, Matsy expects to leave her home town of Allentown and work in a laboratory in Philadelphia.

Another senior who has done much for Ursinus is David Van Strien, a history-sociology major. David is a member of the IRC, president of the Men's Debating club, Y committee chairman, and former president of the Men's Student council. He is also a member of TKA, honorary debating society.

Pert and pretty Jane Rathgeb '47, has the difficult task of editing the Weekly. As well as being a member of the Curtain Club she has served as secretary of her class for the past three years. Rushing chairman for Tau Sigma Gamma, Jane has also served on the Senate. A chemistry-biology major, she hopes to work in a research laboratory after finishing college.

Canterbury Club Holds Dinner

At a dinner held in the hall of St. James Episcopal Church in Evansburg, twenty-five members of the Canterbury Club met for an evening of fellowship and fun.

President Norman E. McClure and Dr. N. B. Groton, rector of St. Thomas' Episcopal Church in Whitmarsh, were guests. Mr. C. A. Sturgis, formerly a chaplain at Wellesley College, was the guest speaker.

Rev. Edward R. Platts, rector of St. James' Church, extended a welcome to any student who wishes to attend Sunday morning worship services at his church. Automobiles will leave Shreiner Hall at 10:30 a. m. each Sunday morning for those desiring transportation.

Officers of the club who were introduced at the dinner are Betty Waddington '47, vice-president; Carolyn Howells '47, secretary; and William Nickel '48, treasurer. The president, Robert Delheim ex '48, is now in the Navy.

Meetings of the Canterbury Club are held on the first and third Monday evenings of the month.

Ruby to Represent Whole Student Body

According to Ray Furlong '47, editor, the 1946 Ruby will set a precedent in that it will be not only a book for the seniors, but a book for the entire school. This year there will be individual pictures of the junior class along with the usual informal poses of the members of the senior class. There will be representatives of all classes on the staff. Another new feature will be the padded leather cover which will have at least two new dyes in the design. Other features include a sixteen page section in color of candid pictures of all important occasions and a sports section that covers all our athletic activities for the past year.

Irene Sufas '46, assistant editor, requests all students to cooperate in securing advertising patronage for the Ruby. All those who succeed in getting a sponsor for the yearbook will receive ten percent of the patron's pledge which should act as an incentive to our greatest advertising year. The staff includes Jane Reifsnnyder '46, business editor; Mary Jane Hassler '46, art editor; Joan Wilmot '47, and Jean Loomis '47, junior associates; Sue Bellis '48, sophomore associate; Jan Shoemaker '46, and Grant Harray '46, sports editors; Marguerite Lytle and Margaret Oelschlager '46, activities editors, and Anna Balthaser '46, literary editor.

Lois Williams to Speak to IRC

The first meeting of the International Relations Club will take place at 7 p. m. tomorrow night at the home of Dr. Elizabeth B. White. Lois Williams '47, will give a news review which will be followed by a discussion of the program for the coming year.

Irene Sufas '46, is serving as president of the club while Lois Williams '47, is vice-president and Jane Buckridge '46, is secretary-treasurer.

EXCHANGE

The survey showed that 60 percent wanted long term courses leading to specialization, and that more than one-fifth wanted short "refresher" courses before returning to civil practice.

Flushing, New York (ACP)—For the past three months thirteen Turkish students who have come to Queens College to learn English have been struggling with American slang, going to movies, talking and listening, with emphasis on the latter.

Sent here on government scholarships, the group of twelve men and one woman are just a few in the program of several hundred who are to be sent to English and American universities. The Queens College group, all of whom have their masters' degree in agriculture or engineering, will stay for a year until they know English well enough to continue their Ph.D.'s in specialized fields in other American colleges.

New York, N. Y. (I.P.)—Through a grant of $250,000 from the Rockefeller Foundation, Columbia University has established a Russian Institute, first of a group of six regional institutes which will arise on the campus for the study of the life and thought of principal areas of the modern world.

The British Commonwealth of Nations, East Asia, Latin America, France, and Germany will constitute the fields of interest of the five other institutes. Formation of a School of International Affairs, which will function in close association with the institutes, and with other facilities of the University which provide specialized training in the international sphere, was also announced. Through the School of International Affairs, the large existing resources of the University in kindred fields will be expanded, and integrated with the new program.

"Never park on a professor's desk!" warns a Teachers College professor at Cedar Falls, Iowa. "It will be just the time the wife comes in for those keys she forgot! And what's more, it's a pretty dumb form of apple-polishing!"

SOPHS, FROSH TO DEBATE

The first of the series of debates which the Men and Women's Debate Clubs planned was held at Gettysburg on Saturday at which Nancy Herron '46, and Catherine Schellhase '48, upheld the affirmative side of the question "Should the National Government be ultimately responsible for the full time employment of all who are willing and able to work?"

The Men's and Women's Clubs will hold joint meetings from now on, but will continue to operate as separate organizations.

more; Hilda Anderson, left inside, and Janet Shoemaker, right full-back were awarded places on the second team.

The seven girls given reserve posts were Marilyn Borgh, Wilson; Elizabeth McClure, Bryn Mawr; Jane Brown and Barbara Ellis, Beaver; Joan Burton, Penn. Peggy McClatchy, Rosemont; and Tinker Harmer.

Churches to Unite for Services

Three congregations in the community will unite for a special, second annual, union Thanksgiving service to be held in Trinity Reformed Church, Collegeville, next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. Rev. A. C. Ohl, pastor of St. Luke's Church, Trappe, and Rev. John Lentz, pastor of the host church, will conduct the service. Rev. W. Russell Zimmerman, pastor of Augustus Church, will deliver the sermon. Special music will be provided.

Seniors Complete Work In Practice Teaching At Local High Schools

Seventeen seniors completed their practice teaching at various local high schools from September 10 until October 20. Those who taught at Norristown High School are: Elizabeth Claves, Virginia Charles, Katherine Harmer, Gladys Howard, Kathleen Sinclair, Jane Theis, Margaret Oelschlager, Dorothy Richardson, and Janet Shoemaker.

Elizabeth Conlin, Betty Cowell and Sally Secor assisted in the physical education and health departments of Lansdale High School. Doris Felty, Ruth Strathmeyer, and Courtenay Richardson taught at Collegeville-Trappe High School, while Malla Brooks taught at West Reading High School and Mary Jane Hassler at Media High School.

A few students are doing their practice teaching at the present time. Jane Buckridge and Marguerite Lytle are teaching at Collegeville - Trappe High School; Thelma Gresh is at Norristown High School, and Wilma Hunsberger is teaching at Stewart Junior High School in Norristown.

Society to Show Motion Picture

The annual Thankoffering service of the Women's Guild will be held in Trinity Evangelical and Reformed Church, Collegeville, on Sunday, November 25, at 7:45 p. m.

The "Happy Village," a motion picture portraying life at the leper colony in Chandkhuri, India, will be shown.

IT'S SIMPLY A MATTER OF TIME

The pendulum of production is swinging again for the Bell System, as Western Electric, our manufacturing division, reconverts for the all-out manufacture of the thousand-and-one things we need to give you the Bell System's true standards of service once more.

During 1946, for instance, it is planned to add 2,100,000 miles of Long Distance telephone circuits to the System. That's more than there were in Great Britain and France combined, before the war, and it means that the pressure on our lines will ease up.

Today, of course, the thousands of calls of returning veterans are actually giving us more rush-time peaks than we had last year. So it's more important than ever to limit your call to five minutes when the operator must ask you to do so. A service man's call to his home may be waiting.
