Getting back to the Freshman handbook. Is the Freshman handbook, the Frosh are green? We think they really are, so much green. Bud Bartholomew could probably give us a few more facts... —were you star of the show?

One thing the Sophs didn't find out at home beforehand was the Fresh class officers. —Did they have any other information? —Absolutely. —But a band is almost one part of that. —Bartholomew, are you that un-squared about the band? —Un-squared. —It is. —But I have attended something. —Lucky for Art, Jim Kromka, Emily Smith and Bob Poole who'll lead this frosh.

Billy of the Ball seemed to be Charmane Peaceco, with Benny Berman's new move.

Saw Betty Garey and Motsy stepping it up also. —Al Cohn is "Sunny" Fallace, Vera Wanger dividing her time between Joe and George Goodman and Dick Hunter back at school.

Mikes directing his attention to Jo Bahkman at the same time he flips when the word "marty" is mentioned.

We hear tell that a certain Jane Macek and her name tape has been deep into the name tape. —Did she really have a name tape? —Not really.

Soccer Men Lose To Haverford 3-0

After holding a powerful Haverford equal to one goal during the first half, Ursinus' booters dropped their last contest of the year, 3-0, on Haverford's field a week ago Tuesday. The game was played in a driving rain and ended up mud, and a goal by Haverford's Heroes early in the first period was the only tally of the first half.

Haverford came back in the third period and drove through the muck to clinch the victory as Jones bootf- ed in a marker. Harris added the last goal in the final minute of play.

All-College Downs West Jersey 6-1

On November 25 the All-College team took on the West Jersey team at Swarthmore College. Jan Showmaker '44, moved up from the All-College team for his senior year of college. He recruited his master's degree in physical education from Columbia University in 1936.

After graduation from college he taught at the Parkside School at Pennsylvania, Pa., where he also coached basketball and baseball. From 1936 to 1942, he was an instructor in health and physical education at Swarthmore College.

Penn had many opportunities to score but failed to capitalize on them as the home team did when it reached scoring territory. Jane Bruch playing her first game at center forward gave her team the lead when she drove the ball from the edge of the striking circle. A few moments later Jane scored again from Bev. Derr goalie, D. J. Hobensack and Edith Calhoun drove in the fourth one from her center back position.

In the second half Ursinus proved that it was the superior team, easing two more goals to Penn's one. Ruth Pettit, a freshman substituting for Jane Bruch, scored another marker and Edith Calhoun came in from the fourth one from her center back position.
