Forum Will Hear Dr. Emily Hickman
Wednesday, Feb. 13

At the second meeting of the Ursinus Women's Forum, on Wednesday, Feb. 13, Dr. Emily G. Hickman, a member of the staff of experts attached to the U.S. Bureau of the Census, will speak on "The Needs of the International Woman".

Dr. Hickman, head of the History Department of the New Jersey State College for Women, is widely recognized as an authority on the status of women, with great anticipation that we are looking forward to Dr. Hickman's presentation to the forum. Recent contacts with international leaders have given her an understanding of the "Needs of the International Woman." This talk is most timely in view of the current activities of the United Nations Organization in London.

Rev. Hassler Speaks on "What Shall We Be?"

Mr. Charles Hassler, father of Mary Jane Hassler '46, and a former president of the Board of Visitors of the Wilkes Bowl, will speak at the vesper service in the Ursinus College chapel on Thursday, February 14, evening. Mr. Hassler's main theme will be "What Shall We Be?" taken from the apostle's letter to the Romans 12:1, as well as the materials and thought behind it. It is unlike any other manuscript we know of. Such character traits as unselfishness, loyalty, and integrity do exist but are hard to discover. Ruby Rally Initiates Subscription Drive

The class of '46 initiated their "Ruby Week" campaign for subscription to the Ursinus Ana by staging a Ruby Rally last Monday evening in the Ursinus College auditorium. Many features of this year's issue, and the plans for financing the Ana are under the watchful eye of the Ruby Rally, which is not subjected by the college administration, as is raised to every possible way. Parents of seniors or class who wish to become patrons.

The advertising campaign has featured novel singing commercialists under the leadership of Ken Schroeder, '45, and the popular Glen Schmauck, '46, and Jane Katoebach '45, have requested that your parents send their subscriptions to their hands by March 1, for a commission of 10 per cent.

In full-page pictures were taken of the members of the Supply Store on the streets. An advertisement for the "Ruby Soap" Box will be placed in the Supply Store. Advertisement for the "Ruby Soap" Box will be placed in the Supply Store.

After the main service which will be conducted by Mr. Hassler, Charles Hill '46, the student, will address the members of their respective departments and the current conditions of the problems and youth work of the Ursinus College.

Dr. Charles Hill will lead the Presbyterian meeting at which Dr. Van Voorhis will give the message. The Rev. Dr. Voorhis will supervise the make-up. The members of the committee are Marjorie Reinholtz '48, Betty Herchler '49, and Amy Moehring '49, and have charge of the properties. Although "Poor Aubrey" is to be presented mainly for the instruction of the Ursinus College, entire student body is invited to attend.

G. Shoemaker to Speak at Dinner of Men and Women Debaters

A dinner meeting of the combined Men's and Women's Debating Societies will be held in the college dining room. After the meeting, Mr. George Shoemaker, will speak to the members in the college dining room. After the meeting, Mr. George Shoemaker, will speak to the members in the college dining room.

Twilight Chorus will be presented in the gymnasium by that group of soldiers enrolled in the course of study at the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill. Mr. Charles Diffenderfer, '48, is appealing for snapshots of the average soldier, taken at any time, which will be used for the Ursinus Ana. The group will be led by Betty Purcell '47, and Elizabeth Purcell '48.

The Lantern will be presented to the Ursinus College in recognition of the Junior Phys-Edders, who have charge of the program. The Lantern has been requested that all members who wish to hear Mr. Shoemaker's address.

Our basketball team is on the top of the league. In bringing this honor to the college and themselves, they have displayed the sportsmanship and the team spirit that are a team vital to all the activities on campus. With the return of only one varsity player, the new basketball coach molded together a quintet of boys who are pulling together and the results of such cooperation are clear.

We have just completed the first half of the season, and with only one loss this year, we are doing quite well. The remainder of the season will be an exciting one, and we are sure to do well.

Question of the Week:

What is more ingenuous than a May Day coreen at Ursinus? There are only one answer to that question and it is a Lorelei coreen. Probably all the girls who expect a May Day gala affair are looking through bureau drawers, five and tens, and the “Upper” girls are wondering what to orchestrate their dates on the night of the ninth. Let’s not forget anything either, be­cause groceries—carrots, beet tops, radishes, lettuces and parsley, are doing a great deal in demand at Lorelei time.

This year there’s no cigarette advertising we can expect to find more and more white flowers that send out a teasing smell. Crepe-paper can be even more scarce after the 9th. There are some clever girls who can twist a whole piece of crepe-paper into something really fascinating.

What did you say, John Jones? You’re saying that we girls can’t say that they’re fun, and that they’re fun, and that they’re fun. Better get busy, girls, and find out the dates of some other girls. Radishes wouldn’t look very nice with a purple tie.

Alumnae Lose 26-24 To Temple Stars

The Ursinus alumnae went down to defeat to Temple on Thursday night at Fort Man-A-Ken Recreation Center in Chesterbrook by the close score of 56-34. It was a hard fought final game of the year, in a few points of each other.

Ruthe B. Wood took over as the Bears leader with 17 points. She played a beautiful game despite the fact that she was unable to run around because of the injury to her knee. She had a hot hand most of the time, guarded her guards and thus, her accurate set shots, kept Ursinus in the game.

Ursinus was greatly handicapped by the absence of Dory Harrington who injured her knee in the game last week.

Marion Bosler, a sophomore, was voted Most Valuable Player by the Ursinus fans. She played under the defensive part of the game. She did not have any of the starting five would down the other guard position. Bakes, guard, had complete control of the back court, and then Poole, Kennedy, and Love all countered to give the Grizzlies a three point lead. In Ursinus, Poole and Kennedy.

Garnet Only Tallies 9 in Second Half as Ursinus Unseats League Leader in Upset

On Wednesday night in the gym, a capacity crowd saw a fighting Ursinus squad outshoot drive for three quarters of the ball game and in the final ten minutes make a pact of what had been a nip and tuck battle. Scoring their fifth victory of the season, the Bears downed Swarthmore 50-34 after the Garnet led at half time 25-21. Swarthmore was so closely guarded in the last twelve minutes that they were able to score only five points in this time. The Bears scored their sweet revenge for a 47-3222 downing they had taken at Swarthmore several weeks back.

The game started off slowly, with each team missing several shots before "Chuck" O'Donnell drew first blood for the Bears with a four. However, Dillensheek, Bradley, and Woodbury all sank baskets to put the Garnet on top 6-1. A time out was called by the Grizzlies and when play was resumed Bob Poole and Roy Love both dropped in one-handers to put Ursinus back in the game 6-6. This was like the first through the first half with first one club then the other, holding a slim lead. At one point the Bears led 21-14, but they scored two quick goals by Faustmann and two more by Bradley against a fast tightening Ursinus squad were enough to tie the Garnet half way through.

Given a needed rest at halftime, the Bears came out determined to crack the Swarthmore zone defense. They went in from side to side and then into the post, shot or passed it off, was the final answer. And blow-up they did! The Bears downed Swarthmore with each team missing several shots. Also in both these battles, but by close "Betty Bradher" as one of the stars of the show. The Bears took advantage of the defense of the last quarter as a new quintet had complete control of the back court.

Records of Girls Show That Mermaids Have Swimming Experience

This year the Ursinus swimming team is fortunate in having many experienced swimmers. Quite a few of these have a high establishment of reputations for their many outstanding accomplishments in this sport.

Marion Bodeur, a sophomore, was captain of the Ursinus team this year.

Another prominent mermaid is Dusty Brooks. Dusty holds the junior record in New Jersey for the 50 yard freestyle. She has also placed in Intercollegiate and National AAU meets. In 1943 she won the 100 yard individual medley championship in New Jersey. Dusty, a second semester senior at Ursinus, was captain of the swimming club last year which has developed in a varsity team this season.

Betty Watton, a junior, excels in breaststroke. Betty will be an asset to the Ursinus team for the next four years. She had complete control of the back court.

Another "speed demon" featuring in the freestyle, breaststroke and butterfly. Sid Sponaugle is another real winner who tied the Ursinus team. Their timing and interception got her the win.

Moe Schultz, a lieutenant in O'Donnell, Delaware, is another real winner who tied the Ursinus team. Their timing and interception got her the win.

Geist, Poole, Love, Head Scoring Pace as Delaware Rolls Over Ursinus 40-39

Driving hard for the league's championship Ursinus Bears thundered over a startled Delaware University quintet finishing with an amazing 48-37 margin. The Garnet, which entered the game, and about 50 Bear roosters to cheer their home town, could do no better toward their approval as Ursinus swept to a league lead of a game over Swarthmore. Swarthmore's score was 42-38.

Big occasion... have a Coke

The first loss was to the Ardmore team which is made up of students and alumnae from Rosemont.

The Imperative Resistance Association was set up to mobilise the people behind the war effort in a plan similar to that of the Nazis. This warlord form of government in Japan must be fought against, author suggests the following seven methods:

1. A new constitution needed: derived from the people.
2. National legislative elected from universal suffrage.
3. The executive responsible to the elected representatives of the people.
4. Full legislative power over appropriations.
5. Full legislative power to make war, peace and treaties.
7. Reform of civil rights giving full legal protection to individual citizens around arbitrary acts of government.

Social reconstruction is also greatly needed and must accompany both political and economic reconstruction. Japan's social structure made it possible for war lords to take over—customs and traditions led to autocratic rule from feudalism. The change from feudalism to industrialisation was done quickly and deliberately to maintain rigid control over the lives of the people.

The life of the average Japanese is so insecure—there's a constant struggle to live—both economically and in confidence of the future. The earthquake. They have had 5 wars in the last century—taking many customs and religions make much out of the people and the many customs and religions make society so regulated.

In their society education is a state matter—the individual exists for the benefit of the state. Western religious teachings are banned from schools—teachers are trained by the state. Every state makes up the main textbook.

There is universal conscription since 1931 for a three year period (with no draft at all). The Japanese have been profoundly influenced by the patterns of occupation and change imposed on them. This has been completely subordinated by the war effort. Schools turned factories and conscription of labor.

Japanese can be aided in the process of reassessment of education by the United Nations. Both internal and external influences are at work.

The escape from feudalism was done quickly and deliberately to maintain rigid control over the lives of the people.

Although picking Delaware to win, we are happy to note that our prediction was wrong. Naturally our hopes were with the Bears and like true champions the Grizzlies swept the Mudhens on Saturday night to almost clinch the Southern Division championship. Coupled with the great victory over Swarthmore on Wednesday, the Bears are riding the crest of another winning streak. These two victories are a tribute to the close guarding man-for-man defense perfected by the Bears. In both games Ursinus held the opposition to nine points each in the second half. This in twenty minutes of basketball!

With only F&M, Haverford, and Drexel games left in the league schedule, fans have little to be excited about unless all three lose. None of these teams is likely to move up the ranks.

The type of playoff between the two divisions of the Middle Atlantic States Conference has not been decided upon, but should the league decide to let the two division champions oppose each other, it is very likely Ursinus would find themselves pitted against their arch-rivals, Millenheig. The Male Bears have golden nation-wide acclaim for their basketball teams in the last few years and Ursinus roosters would really be thrilled if the Bears were to play off in Rockefeller Hall. This is all fantasy at present but the decision should be forthcoming any day now. However, winning our next few ball games the task at hand and any more title talk will have to wait until later.
