Varsities to Clash in Basketball Game For Feature Event of Ruby Rally

by Irene Sufilas '46

This week is Ruby Week and the staff is launching it in a big way. Tomorrow evening the Thompson-Gay gymnasium will be rocking with laughter as the Ruby Rally opens with a basketball game between "Snell's Belles" (girl's varsity to you) and Messikomer's Messes" (better known as the Southern Division Middle Atlantic States champs) Girls' rules will prevail so think twice before you put your money on the "Messes" to win.

Sponsored by the Ruby this bang-up event will also feature some novel entertainment during half-time by the popular Glenwood Quartette, those jivey songsters, the Dreamers, and Charlene Taylor. After the game there will be dancing to recordings.

You'll get all this and more for only twenty-five cents per person. The Rally starts at 6:30 p. m. so hurry down to the gym after dinner tomorrow night and get a front row seat. Ruby manager Jane Reifsnnyder '46, reminds you one and all that every time you support a Ruby affair you are actually doing yourself a favor. Not only will you have a wonderful time, but you will be helping the Ruby staff financially. Your money will be used to give you an even bigger and better Ruby.

For the benefit of those who missed out on ordering a Ruby and also for the benefit of the new students, the staff has inaugurated another subscription campaign. You can now order a 1946 Ruby through your dorm representative during this week. Betty Ruskie '47, Ruby subscription manager says that a $2.50 down payment or a full payment of $4.50 must be paid this week if you want to be sure of getting a copy of the yearbook which will be published in June.

The yearbook, edited by Ray Furlong '46, is over 140 pages long, has a padded cover, and a great many features including candid snapshots, an exciting sports section full of action shots, individual pictures of both the seniors and juniors, and a senior poll and questionnaire.

From cover to cover the Ruby contains many happy memories and captures forever the aspects of Ursinus that you will want to remember always. So whether an "old timer" or a "newcomer" see your Ruby representative today!

Don't be sorry in June for what you neglected to do in March. Join the mob of Ruby Rooters on campus. Be wise! Be Ruby-wise!

Inter-Frat Board Has First Meeting Monday

The Inter-fraternity Council, made up of two members from each of the reorganized frats, held its first business meeting of the year on Monday night. Rushing and bidding rules were discussed and agreed upon. The day set for all bidding is Friday, March 28, after the noon meal. At the dance Saturday all the new members will be announced and formally welcomed into their respective fraternities.

Officers of the revitalized council are Paul Detwiler, president and John Trevaskis, secretary-treasurer. Fraternities represented are Zeta Chi by John Trevaskis and Robert Geist; Alpha Phi Epsilon, by Dave Detwiler and Walter Ort; Sigma Rho Lambda by Eric Hallman and Theodore Burns; and Beta Sigma Lambda, by James Straub and William Parsons. The main work of the council will be to regulate all fraternity activities and coordinate their functions.

Registrar's Duties to be Divided Between Drs. Miller and Mattern

The Reverend Mr. Franklin I. Sheeder, will terminate his teaching and administrative duties at Ursinus College on July 1, 1946, in order to become the Executive Secretary of the Board of Christian Education and Publication of the Evangelical and Reformed Church. His new position as head of one of the four Boards of the Church involves direction of the total educational program of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Served for Twenty-One Years

Frank Sheeder, as he is affectionately known to his many friends in Collegeville and in the College, has served in various capacities for twenty-one years. He came here in 1925 as Assistant to the President and Instructor in the English Bible. In 1929 he received his Master's Degree in Educational Administration from the University of Pennsylvania; and in 1930, after a year's leave of absence spent in study at the University of Chicago, he was made Registrar of Ursinus College. He organized the Department of Religion in 1931, and in 1935 was made Professor of Religion.

During his sixteen years as Registrar, Mr. Sheeder has devoted most of his time to the students of the College; especially was this true during the difficult years of the depression and the war. Thousands of Ursinusites must remember Frank Sheeder as the one who first introduced them to college life, counseled them in academic and financial difficulties, and comforted them as anxious, homesick freshmen.

Mrs. Sheeder Also to Resign

Mrs. Franklin I. Sheeder will also resign her teaching post at the College in July. Mrs. Sheeder has served as Instructor in Latin and in Paganry; and also as Assistant in Religion. The Sheeders plan to continue their residence in Collegeville.

After July 1, the work of the Registrar's Office will be divided. Dr. Eugene H. Miller, Associate Professor of Political Science, will become the Acting Registrar; and Dr. Charles D. Mattern, Associate Professor of English, will become Director of the Bureau of Self-Help.

Mr. Sheeder has been active in the affairs of the community. For many years he has been a member of the Collegeville Borough Council and is serving at present as the President of the Council.

Ursinus Honors Court Kings With Banquet, Letters

In recognition of the basketball championship recorded in the Southern Division of the Middle Atlantic States Conference this season, Ursinus College gave a dinner to the court kings Friday night at Valley Forge Hotel, Norristown.

The Bears' record over the campaign, 12 victories against four losses, was the best mark ever posted by a court combine at the Collegeville institution of learning and the mark hung up by Emil Messikomer's lads during the regular campaign, 12 wins against 2 loses, was the best record of any college team in the state this year.

Gold basketballs and varsity letters were awarded at Friday night's informal pow-wow. The steak dinner was given by Norman E. McClure, President of the college, and Donald L. Helfferich, Vice-President.

Helfferich Makes Awards

Presentation of the gold basketballs was made by Mr. Helfferich who reminded the cage stars that Ursinus is deeply interested in the promotion of intercollegiate sports activities. "If we hadn't been interested in sports, we certainly would-

Pre-Meds Change Membership Rules

Under the leadership of Jack Coughlin, the pre-med society held its first meeting of the new semester last Monday evening in S-12.

At this first meeting, a radical change was made in the organization's constitution. Heretofore, all juniors and seniors who maintained an 80 average during the semester were regarded as members of the society, and all under-graduates who did so were regarded as associate members. Because of the shortage of upper-classmen it was voted to drop the 80 average clause and also to make everyone an active member. These amendments are to be effective until 1949 when it is hoped that enough upper-classmen will be enrolled to make it possible to return to the old constitution.

The desire was also expressed at this meeting to continue to follow former policies of the organization and invite well known speakers to as many of the meetings as possible in order to keep the students informed about present day medicine.

Representatives Attend Debaters Convention

The Seventh annual Pennsylvania State Debaters Convention was held at State College March 22 and 23. Fourteen colleges, Albright, Allegheny, Geneva, Gettysburg, Dickinson, Mount Mercy, Penn State, University of Pennsylvania, Temple, Shippensburg, State Teachers, Susquehanna, Seton Hill, and Ursinus were represented, forming an assembly of about one hundred students. The Ursinus delegates were Grace Newman '48, Dorothy Marple '48, Ray Furlong '46, and Grant Harrity '46.

Main Feature to Adopt Bills

The main feature of the convention was to adopt two bills, one on world trade and one on military preparedness. However, before the assembly convened as a body to adopt the bills, committee meetings were held to discuss the individual bills presented by each college. Ursinus presented a bill concerning world trade and was successful in having several points of the bill incorporated in the majority report. Grace Newman and Ray Furlong were the bill backers for Ursinus. Dorothy Marple and Grant Harrity attended a committee on military preparedness and helped draft a minority report.

The majority report, concerning foreign trade, adopted by the assembly advocated a reduction of United States tariffs, negotiations for reciprocal trade treaties with the nations not committed to Trade Agreements Act and negotiations for the extension of Trade Agreements Act. The administration and regulation of this policy will be handled by the United Nations Organization and the International Trade Organization.

Advocate Trained Army

The minority report on peacetime military preparedness, which was adopted as the majority report provided for a highly scientifically trained standing army recruited by voluntary enlistment, for a merger of the War and Navy Departments into a single department of National security, for an expansion of the ROTC program, both military and academic, and for a government maintained scientific research commission.

As customary, officers for next year's convention were elected. A representative of University of Pennsylvania will be the president.

During their stay at Penn State, the colleges enjoyed an informal reception held on Thursday evening at Old Main, the administrative building, and a banquet on Friday evening held at Hotel State College, Professor Joseph F. O'Brien

Peg Singley Addresses Vespers

Peggy Singley '46, president of the Ursinus YWCA, spoke at the weekly vesper service in Bomberger Chapel last evening. Her main point centered on the part which Christianity takes in our lives, emphasizing the part we students play. "Christianity is not doing certain things but rather the way of doing all things."

Before the regular service, Michael Zingraff led the group in hymn singing.

Jean Ann Schultz and Annabelle Shoerber were the student leaders and Marjorie Haimbach was the accompanist.

Support the Ruby

One of the most popular traditions of almost every college is the yearbook which preserves for each student the memories of his college days. Here at Ursinus the responsibility of publishing our yearbook, the Ruby, has been placed entirely in the hands of the students. By this we mean that the staff receives no aid from the college in financing such a publication. In previous years we have heard a student cry for "bigger and better yearbooks." This year the editors are working conscientiously to attain this goal, but they need your help.

This week you will have a chance to support this worthy cause as the Ruby will continue its subscription campaign and also hold a Rally in the gymnasium tomorrow night. The staff has done its part—now its your turn.

THROUGH THE LIBRARY WINDOW

Several months ago Life carried an illustrated article on mountain climbing, featuring James Ramsey Ullman, author of WHITE TOWER which has been added to our collection recently.

Ullman knows mountain climbing—one of the most thrilling and dangerous sports — from much personal experience, and his book provides the reader with high adventure, and is one which he can not easily lay down until he knows the result of this magnificent ascent. It is a "different" book, and one which is being read with great enthusiasm by a great many people.

James Hilton, another popular author, writes of this book: "You can lead many a good novelist to a mountain, but you cannot make him climb: it is easier, perhaps, to lead a good mountaineer to a typewriter, especially if he has good ideas, ideals, inventiveness, enthusiasm and is already a practiced author. The result in Ullman's "White Tower" will very likely be one of the successes of the season, and deserves to be."

YOU AND COLLEGE, by William McCall and others, is a book which many first year students especially, as well as more advanced ones, will find to be a real help in orienting themselves in college work, in doing a good grade of class work, and in getting the most out of your college career.

A perusal of the headings of several parts of the book will give you an idea of its usefulness and value. "Planning Your Life in College and After" brings out the relative importance of various aspects of college life, of making the right decisions, and gives valuable leads to vocational and educational self-guidance. "Getting Along with Yourself and Others" stresses the importance of mental and physical health, of emotional control, and of actually getting along with people—including yourself.

"Reading and Research" is the heading of another part, in which there is a chapter devoted to The Library, which will take only a few minutes to read, and will help you all through your college course. Also discussed here are the best methods of efficient reading, and of work on term papers. Other parts on "Writing" and "Studying" will be of great help to many if you will take the time to read them.

THE PACIFIC ISLAND HANDBOOK is a book which should be of much interest to our GI's returned from that area, and of usefulness to many students because of the increased interest in and awareness of Pacific Islands, resulting from the war.

THE AMERICAN HANDBOOK, prepared by the Office of War Information, will be of use especially to students of Political Science, but also to those in many other fields. (Continued on Page 4)

Spring Weather Causes Less Study, More Play

Spring has come again to Ursinus! Have you noticed? If you've seen less studying, more bridge games, and more dating, you've noticed because those are the symptoms. Of course, spring couldn't affect you, but haven't you wondered why you've suddenly been "feeling so gay in a melancholy way"? Haven't you found it increasingly hard to "hit the books" and put down the temptation to procrastinate? Don't afternoon labs seem even harder to bear? If you don't feel any of these things, you're just not normal, 'cause IT'S SPRING!

They've taken the posts down that marked the trail of the snow plow. They've been rolling the lawns to make them flat and even when the grass really becomes green. Onesomes are few and twosomes are becoming increasingly frequent. If you don't have the second part of a twosome, you'd better find one lad or lassie, 'cause IT'S SPRING!

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

or What's Bruin

Let's start off with a quick look at who's squiring who around... "drugging it" . . . Andy 'n Joan, Bunny with Dick, Dave 'n Betty C., Meggie and Dave Laning, and Mimie Schellhase and Wes Johnson.

"Time waits for no man"—Carl Drobeck dividing up the weekend between Helen D., Shorty Haimback and Pinky Moore.

Frankie Carle drew quite a crowd at Sunnybrook on Saturday night—Faith Taylor, Roy Love, Lou Bach, Eleanor Hoffman, Anna Balthaser and Marguerite Lytle. Jane Zabel had quite a time keeping track of Jerry . . . Saw Ronnie Sare and Bob Wilson together.

Bob Geist is free lancing again—present assignment—Connie Warren.

"Counting the Days" or is that Daze? Trevvy has it figured up to the minute when he can say "Hello Anne," again!!

Lots of new cars on the road since the beginning of the year but you haven't seen anything 'til you've seen Andy Bain's pride and joy—"car of the year"—but which year?

Things began to look almost like pre-war times at the Frosh Reception Tuesday night—it's becoming much harder to count the number of couples on the floor . . . Getting acquainted . . . Bob Hitchcock with Jo Snaidman and Paul Detwiler and Betty Marshall.

Back to revisit the scent of the battle of the Perkiomen—ex V-12er's—Bill Middleton, Fred Deck, Huff and Sam Kauffman. Also saw Joe Chevy.

Came Friday, came the "Y" Barn Dance. Noticed a few new duos—Eric and Isabelle, Betty Herrick and Jack Nil, and Joan Ludwig and Ted Burns.

The Hot Box

Well, here it is again . . . The HOTBOX . . . and more news and comments concerning your favorite music-makers!

Seen 'round: Walt "the cat" Turner, pegged pants, tram, et al. has returned from an extended overseas vacation . . . Ditto for Bob Wilson and Harry Kehm, both of whom are fine tenor men . . . Why not some more of the Ursinus "Collegians," gang? . . .

Campus note: Quote from an Iowa State "hipster" . . . "I have absolutely no use for jazz. My favorites are Blue Barron, Sammy Kaye and Harry James" . . . How true, how true . . .

Shakespeare's Corner: H. J. CAN play a lot of horn, But right now, he's got corn in his horn, So to Mr. Grable we say: "On the ball, bub— That kinda corn don't pay" . . .

Look out for: Buddy Rich's great ork . . . Ditto for Sam (ex Krupa, Shaw) Donahue . . . Elliot Lawrence's Columbia platters . . .

DISCUSSIONS: Stan Kenton's "Artistry Jumps" is very fine. Stan shares the honors with the thrilling tenor of Vido Musso and the grand drumming of little known Ralph Collier . . . Don't waste any change on H. J.'s "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows." Everything is just too, too saccharine . . . Woody Herman rang the bell with his "I've got the World on a String." This you've gotta have. Me too! . . .

Heard and Overheard: Eddie Condon discussing French Jazz critics: "We don't need Frenchmen to criticize American music . . . after all, I wouldn't think of going over there and telling them how to jump on a grape" . . . 'Nuff for now . . .

Collegiate Review

To aid in the unemployment problems created "when Johnny comes marching home," the National Yale Alumni Placement Service, Inc., currently in its second year of operation, has offered its assistance to 25,000 younger Yale alumni, the vast majority of them veterans of World War II.

In a review of its first year of activities, the Service reported that 750 business and industrial firms were cooperating with offers of job opportunities; and that 212 men had already been placed in jobs of their choice.

It also stated that 440 alumni were immediately available for placement and that, to date, about 1000 present members of the armed forces had registered for job aid pending their release from active duty. More than 600 interviews were being conducted monthly.

In order to carry out its task on a nationwide scale, the Service has divided the country into eight regions. Each of these regions is presided over by a chairman; and 55 state and territorial chairmen have also been appointed. In addition to those alumni eligible for aid, the Service has informed 25,000 older Yale graduates of opportunities for their cooperation in the program.

The story of the Service goes back to more than two years ago, when a group of Yale alumni met in the office of President Charles Seymour. Since that first meeting, the Service has been put into working order with a trained staff and tested and perfected procedures and is now ready to tackle a fully organized placement program.

With about 50 students from a dozen foreign countries already enrolled at Lafayette College, the foundation is laid for the planned School of International Affairs at the college, which will be designed to train foreign students of all races and creeds, as well as American students preparing for international service in the fields of commerce, diplomacy, education, religion and science.

The largest delegation here is from Turkey, about 30 Turkish students having been sent to the college by the Turkish Government for a year's study of English, after which the majority will study engineering. About 20 more students from Turkey are on their way to join their compatriots.

Other foreign students are from Iran, China, Brazil, Venezuela, Cuba, Holland, Norway, South Africa and Greece.

Varsity, Jayvee Teams Win Over Penn To End Successful Basketball Season

Guards Hold Penn Scoreless In Final Period for 28-19 Win

The varsity girls ended their court season with a 28-19 victory over the Penn coeds on Tuesday on the loser's court. Deanie Sinclair, Floy Lewis, and Betty Jean Moyer stopped the Penn forwards in their tracks in the final quarter and prevented them from tallying a point. Up until that fourth quarter it was a nip and tuck battle with neither team ever holding more than a four-point lead. The Ursinus guards kept pace with the Penn scoring threats, but bad passing in the early quarters by the Collegeville coeds kept Ursinus from taking the lead.

Jane Brusch scored first for Ursinus taking a nice pass from Courtenay Richardson and converting it for two counters. Penn held a 6-5 lead as the second quarter opened with the freshman combination, Connie Warren, Winnie Muchler, and Bugs Calhoun taking over the scoring burden. These three played faster ball but could only give Ursinus a one-point lead, 11-10, at the midway mark.

Penn rallied in the third quarter with some long one-handed side shots and set shots that swished the cords to take over the score at 19-16. The Penn coeds didn't hold their three point margin long in the final quarter. Connie Warren started things off for Ursinus with her favorite one-hand side shot which is almost always good for two points. Bugs with her slow easy passing set up the scoring passes and she accounted for six of the twelve Ursinus points herself in that period. With Deanie, Moe, and Floy having stymied the opposing forwards, the twelve Ursinus points gave the visiting coeds their 28-19 margin.

Jayvee Coeds Win Seventh Game Downning Sextet from Penn 22-17

The Ursinus girls JV basketball team brought its successful season to a victorious close when the coeds triumphed over the Penn JV's on Tuesday, March 19, in the Franklin Field gym. The final score was 22-17. The Collegeville combination, under the supervision of Miss Hogeland, won 7 out of the 8 games which they played.

During the first half the score was very close, and was tied at many instances. It was 7-7 in the final minutes of the first quarter until Captain Hess of Penn sank a set shot to make the score 9-7 for the home team. In the opening seconds of the second period Manny Ballantyne faked her guard and cut for the basket to make a lay-up shot and the score was again tied 9-9. It also locked at 10-10 where it remained until Tink Harmer cleared the basket on a perfect left-hand pivot shot in the few remaining moments thus enabling Ursinus to take a 12-11 lead at the half. Penn made their additional point on an awarded foul shot.

The third period was marked by much aggressiveness on the part of the Ursinus guards—Margie Bizilia, Peg Hunter and Evie Moyer—who were able to hold the Penn forwards to one field goal. Meanwhile Manny, Lee and Tink worked together and accounted for an 8-point jump in the Bears score. The Hawks, lead by their high scorer Hess, pulled themselves together in the final period but they were not able to seriously threaten the leading Ursinus girls.

Oldtimers Triumph 38-32 Over Varsity

After a hard battle the Ursinus girls varsity went down to defeat at the hands of the Alumnae on Saturday by a 38-32 score.

The first quarter turned out to be a nip and tuck battle with Connie Warren starting things off for Ursinus. Then Bunny Vosters countered for the old timers by putting in two overhead shots. This exchange of shots continued with Ursinus holding a 10-9 edge at quarter time.

The fast alumnae squad then pulled into the lead during the next

Baseball Squad Begins Practice For Opening Game With Annapolis

The fine spring weather last week saw the baseball candidates, coached by Emil Messikomer, take to the outdoors for the first time. With Bob Geist as the only letterman back from last year, Coach Messikomer faces a difficult task. However, a few veterans who were lettermen in former years have returned and should form a nucleus for a good squad.

Wally Ort and Dick Eckenroth, outfielders, John Trevaskis and Tom Henry both catchers, and Lou Ross, a pitcher have all returned to campus after several years of service. Dave Bahney, first baseman, Herb Dean, short stop, and Hap Hallinger are all promising candidates for this years squad.

As yet the varsity is still, but with the first game only two weeks off, some announcement of the starting lineup should be forthcoming. The main difficulty will be in finding an adequate pitching staff from the group of five trying out. These include Paul Jones, a transfer from Bowling Green University and letterman for their team, Lou Ross, Ken Reinhart, Ed Hanhausen, and Eric Hallman.

The team will play a rough fifteen game schedule starting off with Annapolis, and including such arch rivals as Swarthmore, Dickinson, Muhlenberg, and F & M.

Coach Pete Stevens Issues Call for Track Candidates

When Pete Stevens issued a call for trackmen last week, only a few men appeared for the workouts. Possibly this was due to lack of publicity or just general disinterest on the part of the men; but whatever the cause let's see a few more of you down on the track getting in shape.

With Bob Poole from Doylestown and Paul Detwiler from Lansdale already working out, a fine nucleus for a mile relay or sprint relay is already established. The Penn Relays on April 25 is our first goal so let's see more of you boys reporting to Pete this week for workouts.

Again "Ace" Bailey has arranged a fine schedule, so let's get behind him and the school and show them that we deserve the financial aid an enterprise like this naturally entails.

Ursinus Sinks Penn in Last Meet, 44-13; Girls Capture Firsts in All Six Events

Alumnae Nose Out Owlette Six, 41-39

With Bunny Harshaw Vosters racking up 20 of the Ursinus 41 points, the Ursinus Alumnae team triumphed over the Owlettes, Temple alumnae, 41-39, on Thursday night at Kendrick Recreation Center. Ursinus led all the way in one of the fastest ball games ever seen.

Ursinus scored first and kept moving, always managing to stay one jump ahead of the Owlette team. Natalie Hogeland and Doris Harrington did some extremely fast cutting and that threesome knew just where each pass would go. It was beautiful to watch their timing and faking which threw the guards of their arch rival completely off the track.

Marion Bright Bayne, Jeanne Mathieu, and Nancy Landis Wood took care of the Ursinus defense. Nancy ably took care of Anne McConaghie Volp who usually can score freely for the ex-Temple coeds. Brightie and Jeanne were always there for interceptions and had not intention of giving their opponents much of a chance.

Ursinus had built up a 22-15 lead at halftime, but it was narrowed down to 33-29 as the third quarter ended. Then with 1 min. 45 sec. of playing time remaining Ursinus led 41-37. The Owlettes took the ball from the backboard and sent it down the floor to the forwards who made it good for two points. The ball went to the Temple forwards again, but this time Jeanne Mathieu came through with a beautiful interception when it was needed most and the Ursinus forwards kept control of the ball for the remaining time to clinch their victory.

Chestnut Hill Hands Jayvees First Defeat

On March 13, the girls JV basketball team met its first defeat of the season when they bowed to the Chestnut Hill girls, 22-18, on the opponents' floor. The Ursinus girls had a decided disadvantage in that they had no practice due to recent vacation. However, it was a fight to the finish and Chestnut Hill emerged with only a slight margin.

Tink Harmer, Lee Grabenstein, and Court Richardson started the game for Ursinus in the scoring positions while Sunny Arrison, Peg Hunter, and Marge Bizilia held the guarding positions. The familiarity with the home court proved advantageous to the Chestnut Hill combination, and they were able to total 12 points to Ursinus' 6 by the close of the period.

The second quarter was marked with very vigorous playing on both sides. However, there was little scoring. Jeannie Loomis, entering the game for Court, scored the only goal for Ursinus when she received a pass from Manny Ballantyne, who replaced Lee, and cut in toward the basket for a lay-up shot. The guards held Chestnut Hill to two field goals. The half-time score was 14-8 favoring the home team.

The third quarter looked to be a repetition of the second with little scoring. However, in the final minutes the Ursinus girls let loose and the score started climbing. Court started the streak when she made use of an awarded foul shot. At the next opportunity Lee cut the net on a set shot. The ball then went to Chestnut Hill on a center play. Captain Marge Bizilia intercepted a pass and sent the ball up to the forwards. Manny just had time to throw her guard off balance and go in for a lay up before the whistle

Lack of Competition Responsible For Slow Comparative Times

On Friday afternoon the Ursinus coeds' swimming team had an easy time defeating the University of Pennsylvania girls 44-13 at Weightman Pool. The comparative times of the girls were slow because of the lack of any keen competition.

The mermaids took first and second place in every event of this dual meet with the exception of the low board diving in which they garnered a first and third.

Penn's star swimmer, Judy Aurratt, was not able to participate in the meet because of a scheduled test, but even firsts in any of the events which she might have entered would not have given Penn a victory.

50-yard freestyle — (1) Marion Bosler, Ursinus; (2) Pat Ellis, Ursinus; (3) Beth Haines, Penn. Time, 31.7 secs.

25-yard backstroke — (1) Betty Walton, Ursinus; (2) Margaret Schafenacker, Ursinus; (3) Barbara Lewis, Penn. Time, 18.5 secs.

25-yard breaststroke — (1) Doris Sponaugle, Ursinus; (2) Margaret Schafenacker, Ursinus; (3) Mary Freeman, Penn.

100-yard freestyle relay — (1) Ursinus (Misses Sponaugle, Ellis, Walton, Bosler); (2) Penn (Misses Austin, McKinney, Waddle, Smith). Time, 57.7 secs.

75-yard medley relay — (1) Ursinus (Misses Walton, Sponaugle, Bosler); (2) Penn (Misses Lewis, Belhgetoar, Austin). Time, 49.4 secs.

Low board diving — (1) Mimi Keech, Ursinus; Beth Haines, Penn; Sallie Secor, Ursinus.

Swimmers Are Winners At Chestnut Hill 39-18

The Ursinus girls' swimming team continued their winning streak downing Chestnut Hill last Monday to the tune of 39-18. The coeds captured all the firsts with the exception of the backstroke.

Mimi Keech was outstanding in her diving performance and left no doubt in anyone's mind as to who was the winner. Both of the relay teams won as usual even though the freestyle relay almost had a tragic ending when Sis Bosler stopped after her take-off because she thought she heard "false start."

Sid Sponaugle took the first place honors in the breaststroke, Sis Bosler and Pat Ellis were first and second in freestyle, Betty Walton and Anne Eysenbach were second and third in backstroke, and Sallie Secor was third in diving.

Round Robin Schedule Adopted For Girls' Intramural Basketball

The girls' intramural basketball program went into action last Thursday, March 21st. Stine and Shreiner combined to defeat Lynwood and South, 14-7; First Floor Brodbeck received a forfeit from Fircroft and Glennwood; 2nd and 3rd Floor Brodbeck triumphed over Maples and 612 with a 17-14 score.

The intramural program is under the guidance of Deanie Sinclair and Tinker Harmer. This year the program is in the form of a round robin and a point system instead of elimination. Every game a team wins will give them two points while a game tied will be worth one point. If the game is lost, no points will be awarded. There are 36 games scheduled and the team with the highest amount of points at the end will be the champ.

The teams include: Derr-Clamer; Lynwood-South; First Floor Brodbeck; Second and Third Floor Brodbeck; Stine-Shreiner; Hobson-Sprankle; Freeland-Day - Study; Fircroft-Glenwood; Maples-612.

home grounds on Saturday, June 2, 1888. The account goes on to state: "On Saturday afternoon, June 2, the Ursinus College baseball nine defeated the Quakertown (Pa.) team at Collegeville, to the delectation of a good audience of professors and students. The contest was a fair one, altogether devoid of any unpleasantness, and the visitors took their somewhat disastrous discomfiture with good natured gentility."

Score: Ursinus 30, Quakertown 3.

I thought most of you would get a big bounce out of the above article. Love to think what would happen to a present day sports reporter who turned out such an English masterpiece. You guess.

It's baseball season again and ye editor hopes for a great year. Coach Messikomer has proved his ability as a coach with his tremendous showing in basketball this winter and we look for big things. However, the lack of seasoned material may hurt the first few ball games.

Sorry to hear about the lack of support for a track team. This is a major sport and should be well represented. As you well know, we're always plugging for more sports and it would certainly be a blow to our campaign if the track program falls through for lack of interest. Nuff said!

of Penn State acted as toastmaster at the banquet. The main address was given by Professor John H. Frizzell, head of the department of speech, at Penn State.

The Ursinus women present at the convention debated a team of Penn State women Thursday evening. Ursinus upheld the affirmative side of the free trade question. The debate was not decided.

sounded. The score then stood 18-18, still favoring the opponents.

During the fourth quarter, Chestnut Hill displayed their traditional fiery comeback and the game was a bitter fight to the finish—each team alternating the scoring. In spite of many desperate attempts on the part of the Bears to put Ursinus in the lead, the time ran short and as the game ended, Chestnut Hill still lead 22-18.

two periods and racked up a total of twenty-five points led by Bunny Vosters who accounted for eighteen of them—Ursinus was able to garner sixteen with Bugs Calhoun cutting the cards to tally four of the baskets.

In the last quarter the Ursinus girls were able to hold down the veterans to four points but were unable to cut down the alumnae lead. Scoring only six themselves on shots by Jane Brusch, Erma Keyes and Connie.

Bunny Vosters, rangy alumnae forward took the scoring honors for the day with twenty-seven points gained mostly on her overhead shots which were almost impossible to stop. Jane Brusch topped the losers with a total of thirteen counters.

Compensations Outweigh Trials and Tribulations of Basketball Manager

Frosh Basketeers Win Over Upperclassmen

Slipping and sliding gaily around the newly waxed floors of Thompson-Gay on Wednesday evening the Ursinus freshmen basketeers took the measure of the upperclassmen by a 26-20 Score.

The upperclassmen drew first blood when Janie Brusch tallied a one-hand shot and then followed an interchange of shots resulting in the upperclassmen holding a 6-4 edge at the end of the quarter.

In the second period the wearers of the green came through to gain the lead which they never relinquished throughout the rest of the game. The main trouble-maker in this quarter was Connie Warren who sank three field goals.

Coming into the second half with a four-point lead the frosh proceeded to enlarge upon it and hold it although in the closing few minutes of the game the veterans started to rally but were unable to stage off defeat.

The big guns for the frosh were Connie Warren and Bugs Calhoun who each netted ten points with Erma Keyes taking the honors for the losers.

The only casualty of the game occurred when Winnie Mitchler fell in the last quarter, injuring her arm.

Court Kings Honored

n't have attempted to continue the program during the war years when our athletic coaching staff was pared to the bone," the Ursinus official declared.

"If a collegiate sports hero takes his success properly his experience will do a lot of good in later life," Helfferich continued. "In the game of life you must have confidence and playing on a championship team helps give it to you."

Another speaker was Walter R. (Paddles) Douthett, Superintendent of Darby Schools and a member of the Athletic Council and Board of Directors at Ursinus College. He reminded the young athletes that "life is a series of emergencies and playing basketball gives young men the experience of meeting an emergency successfully. You have heard a lot about normal times, but you may never know 'normalcy.' Life offers an interesting challenge and you have passed through the emergency of the basketball season very successfully."

Praise from Messikomer

Emil Messikomer, coach of the Bears' highly successful court team, presented the letters and lauded the spirit shown throughout the campaign by his team. Everett (Ace) Bailey served as toastmaster and reviewed the record of the season.

Captain Bob Geist spoke on behalf of the team and presented gifts from the squad to Coaches Messikomer and Bailey and to Gus (Shorty) Johnson, the team trainer.

Varsity letters went to Captain Geist, Roy Love and George Kennedy, both of Norristown; David Bahney, Robert Juppe, Charles O'Donnell, Robert Poole and Grant Harity, manager. Gold basketballs went to these lads in addition, the jewelry was received by these members of the squad: Seth Bakes, John Kajmo, Millard Leute and Kenneth Reinhardt.

The Crossroads of the Campus

"Are you from Ursinus?" "Can you schedule a game March 5?" "No, that's our vacation. How about the 15th?" "We have a game." "That's our exam week" "Oh, you're Ursinus! How about February 4?"

And so, weak and weary after the scheduling fracas, you're off to a running (?) start with your "managing" of a girls' basketball team, unaware, poor girl, of the trials and tribulations to come.

Oh, the fun of it all! The changing of games at the last minute, the frantic phone calls to coaches and referees, the futile attempts to pack thirty girls into about four cars—and then, when you're finally rolling merrily on your way to Reading or Bryn Mawr, perhaps, a horrible thought descends upon you. You have forgotten the scorebook! Various and sundry odd slips of paper aren't too efficient a method of keeping score.

"Next time I'll make a list," you promise yourself, and all goes well—until you get to Philadelphia with a $50 check and no cash to pay for dinners or the referee. To the rescue comes the basketball aide at this point, and, after making hasty peregrinations through the city of Philadelphia, she finally manages to cash it after 3 p. m.

Descending upon Howard Johnson's, thirty strong, with no previous notice, has its points too, but waiting 2½ hours to eat a meal served by one overworked waitress is not one of them.

Then there is always the problem of serving refreshments at home games. When the first team members of the visiting school hand out all the food you have bought to all their kith, kin and heaven knows who else, and there is nothing left for the coaches, or referees, not to mention the second team, you begin to wonder if it's all worth it.

When the outcome of the game hangs in the balance of one or two points and you are hard put to keep an accurate score, and the newspaper correspondent along side you tells you that there are certain discrepancies between your score and hers, (hers, kept on a few scraps of paper, she assumes to be right, of course) you begin to think that you must have had rocks in your head to have ever taken the job.

The compensations outweigh the headaches, though. Yes, there are compensations. The fun of going to away games, packed in a car like sardines, but having a hilarious time, the opportunity to meet managers from other schools, and more important than anything—your pride in your team when it comes through the season with six wins and only two losses.

You realize then that it was more fun than work, and that you would even, if you had the famous "second chance," do it again. Want to try it?
