UNITED STATES OF AMERICA.
It is said that it was Cleveland's policy to refer the question of the road to the people. The Federal question was one in which the majority of the Representatives, as it has been said, 'were so absolutely united as to form a solid mass.' It is also said that the question of the road was one that the people had to decide, and that the people should have a voice in it.

There is a sentiment that the people have a right to be heard on the question of the road. The people of the United States are not only the possessors of the land, but they are also the possessors of the government. The people have the right to be heard on the question of the road, because it is a question that affects them directly.
