The Home of John James Audubon.

Located five miles north of Pennsylvania, is the historic Home of John James Audubon. This was the birthplace of the famous artist and ornithologist. Audubon was born in January 1785 in this very cottage. He is perhaps best known for his life-sized watercolor murals of birds, which he later reproduced in the " Birds of America" set. The cottage was later given to the state by Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Kennard, the American Legs of Audubon. Dr. John Audubon, the son of John James Audubon, resided here with his wife and family until his death in 1862. The cottage now serves as a museum dedicated to the life and work of John James Audubon. Visitors can explore the home and learn about Audubon's life, his work, and the history of this remarkable artist.

STEAM -- HEATING!

The Superiority of Steam in comparison with the old methods of heating cannot be questioned. For years past heat can be obtained from the same amount of fuel than can be had from the old way of stove heating. Thence another step leads on. Wherever the Independent is circulated it is eagerly consumed by interested readers. It is circulated to the entire community. It is read by 3500 people every week, and its circulation is steadily increasing.

Dr. Theo. Buckwalter.

Our purpose in this advertisement is to show and impress upon the farmers, both large and small, the necessity of paying our store a visit with least possible delay. We have come to stay. Steam heating has come to stay. Do you wish to warm your house? Do you wish to warm your barn? Do you wish to warm your workshop? Do you wish to warm your machine shop? Do you wish to warm your restaurant? Do you wish to warm your store? Do you wish to warm your hotel? Do you wish to warm your hospital? Do you wish to warm your church?

If you do, you are heading directly towards our line of business, and are acting on sound business principles. We can supply you with just what you want, without any trouble, and give you full warranty on our goods. We have a number of steam Heaters and every business has a well paid workman well satisfied. Call on us or write.
