Committee Reveals Full Social Calendar For Spring Semester

Activities to Include Prom, Ball, May Pageant, Play and Forum

Planning a busy social calendar for the spring term, the Committee on Student Activities met Tuesday night in Pfahler hall. The full schedule includes sports activities, dances, May day festivities, parties and regular organization meetings.

At the beginning of the meeting Dr. J. Harold Brownback, head of the biology department, announced that nothing can be scheduled after June 13 since examinations will begin the following day.

For the remainder of March, a "Y" party featuring an amateur night, Color day, and the traditional Easter musical have been included in the activities.

In April there are listed the operetta, a forum, a "Y" barn dance, and dormitory and sorority informal parties.

The Junior Prom has been announced for May 5. The annual May day will feature a 3-act play and the May pageant. A play day has been planned for the afternoon of May 11 with a "Y" party that evening.

June 9 has been set as the date for the Navy ball.

Anyone desiring to use rec center for a party or a meeting is asked to contact Mr. Horace Godshall and the "Y" committee. Permission for use of the gym may be secured from Mr. Everett Bailey.

Vesper Guest Talks on Future of Chinese Race

Speaking on the future of China, Mrs. C. Trimmer, wife of a medical doctor who had been practicing at Union hospital in Nanking, China, from 1922 to 1942, addressed vespers last evening.

Their first two years in China were spent learning the native language from old scholars. It was through these teachings that they learned to truly appreciate the culture and literature of China.

Mrs. Trimmer emphasized the fact that the West and East will never understand each other until we fully realize that they have as much to give us as we have to give them. She recounted the way in which the Christians of China—only one percent of the total population—are faithfully working in hospitals and schools during the Japanese occupation.

The speaker disclosed that the young Chinese church expects one million Chinese to be blind at the close of this war. They are looking to America for help and have faith that Americans will come to their aid as comrades in building a better China and a better world fellowship.

Mrs. Trimmer is a personal friend of Madame Chiang Kai Shek, Pearl Buck and other noted personages and served as tutor to Madame Chiang's nephew.

Included in the service was a violin solo by Dick Harris V-12, accompanied by Constance Bartholomew '48. Francis Tisdale and Bill Nickel were the student leaders.

Kenneth Schroeder '48

Operetta Leads Are Well-Trained Soloists

Singing the leading soprano role in the operetta, "Sweethearts," which will be given Friday and Saturday nights, April 13 and 14, will be Alberta Man '47.

Alberta, who will play the part of Sylvia, had two years of training before entering college under Thelma Melrose Davies. Her high soprano voice is especially suited for the role.

A member of the choir at Ursinus, Alberta also sings with the Colonial Vocal Ensemble which has entertained at Valley Forge Military academy, Central Y, and Avalon, and is a member of the choir of the Church of the Redeemer, at Bryn Mawr.

At Germantown high, Alberta was a member of the A Capella choir and appeared on the radio and television. At College she has sung in the Messiah for the last two years and has sung solos at vespers.

Appearing for the first time in an Ursinus production is freshman Kenneth Shroeder who will play

College Announces Date For ASTRP Test in April

Young men whose 17th birthday falls between October 1, 1944, and August 31, 1945, are eligible to take the Army College qualifying test which will be administered at Ursinus 9 a. m., April 12.

Mr. F. I. Sheeder, registrar, is in charge of administering the tests. Applications should be made to him as soon as possible.

This curriculum includes college courses in English, geography, history, mathematics, and physics. These courses are supplemented by a program of Physical and military training to assure the student's fitness for military service. This training is given in accredited colleges and universities.

Red Cross Drive Nets $145.20 In One Week Campus Campaign

Red Cross contributions from the women's dorms and from the civilian men totaled $145.20 collected during a one-week campaign last week.

The drive on campus was conducted among civilians thru the Women's Student Government service committee with the help of the hall presidents and Men's Student council. From the Navy, war fund money is being collected separately.

the leading tenor role of Prince Franz. Ken's powerful, uniform voice and good expression add effectively to his singing.

Ursinus Representatives Observe Cultural Olympic Productions

Representing Ursinus at the Cultural Olympics on Friday in a non-acting capacity were Ethel Anderson '45, Sidney Baker V-12, Elaine Loughin '45, and Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Helfferich, club sponsors. The play selected for the Ursinusites had not been released by the producers, and the cast was unable to present it. The Ursinus group observed other productions. Tomorrow night at 7:30 the Curtain club will hold a meeting in the gym. The program will be presented by group 3, directed by Betty Jane Cassatt.

Two Weeks Remain to Originate May Pageant for Circle Prize

Only two weeks remain to submit entries in the May pageant contest.

All Ursinus girls are eligible to compete for the $15 prize again being offered by the Ursinus Circle for the best pageant submitted.

Pageants should be short and include only one major dance script, as they are supposed to be similar to those of the past two years in length, costuming and setting. The scripts of former pageants are available for inspection in the office of Dean Camilla B. Stahr.

Amateur Show Will Be Friday; Civilians and Navy Are Eligible

Each Dormitory May Enter Individual or Group Performances To Compete for Prizes; Dancing and Refreshments Will Follow

Amateur Show night will happen once more at Ursinus on Friday.

The ingenious originality of the fellows and girls will reign as the keynote to an evening of hilarious fun. Featured as a Y Social committee activity, Betsy Clayes '45, and Bob Litwak '45, will be in charge, delegating their powers to representatives of the various dorms.

This will be the third semester the Amateur night has been included in the student activity and every semester so far it has been a big success. The civilian and the V-12ers cooperate to make an enjoyable evening for the whole campus.

Winner of the show last Spring was the "Andrews Sisters," (alias Millie Wilson, Jackie Landis, and Phyl Palacio from Hobson.) Last summer the winner was "612" with their tale of Little Red Riding Hood and the Wolf. The Navy fellows never fail to do their bit toward keeping everyone in hysterics. If you didn't attend Summer school last year, ask someone who did about the rendition of "Trees."

The individual performances can be no less than five or more than eight minutes long. The dorm may participate as a group, or an individual may perform. Students are asked to keep participants within the dorm.

After the show is finished, there will be refreshments and dancing until 10:30 p. m. The chaperones will act as judges also.

The representatives from the various dorms are 944, Lois Stave '47; Fircroft, Shirley Klein '45; Maples, Glad Howard '46; South, Betty Conlin '46; Stine, Ruth Nachod '46; Derr, Helen McKee '46; Lynnewood, Jean Featherer '45; Hobson, Anne Eysenbach '47; Clamer, Jane Theis '46; Day Study, Jane Estabrook '47; 612, Virginia Charles '46; Freeland, Betty Waddington '47; Shreiner, to be announced.

The committee for selecting the judges who will be preceptresses and who will award two prizes, one for the best act by the girls and one to the boys is Carolyn Howells '47, Christine Franzen '47, Roberta Blauch '47.

The refreshment committee is composed of Nancy Talcott '47, Virginia Myers '47, Mimi Keech '46.

Dorothy Derr '47, will be in charge of selecting the prizes and Raymond Furlong V-12, will be in charge of setting up the stage for the performance, and the gym for dancing.

Johnny the Mailman is Ursinus' Favorite Man

Ursinus' favorite man—Johnny Gottschalk, the mailman. Every morning as he wends his way up Main street from dorm to dorm he is accosted by various young coeds looking for letters from their men. He also brings letters from home, but who looks first for those in days like these.

Johnny is a unique personality. He has a wonderful memory—for recollecting who has been blessed with a letter and who hasn't. His favorite consoling words are "If you don't get a letter tomorrow, I'll write one to you."

Johnny's chief pride and joy is his daughter who graduated from Penn State in 1943 and is a teacher of home economics. Just ask him about her some time and watch his face light up.

He brings us mail in rain, sunshine, sleet or hail. He never fails to have a cheery word and smile for everyone.

For Ursinus' number one morale keeper upper—we choose to nominate Johnny Gottschalk, the mailman.

Weather Report

(Whether you're interested or not)

"Summer" did a rapid about-face, in case you hadn't noticed, jumping from a spectacular high of 86 degrees on Saturday to 55 early today.

Oh, well, tomorrow's the first day of spring and that sounds hopeful.

Forecast for Collegeville tomorrow? Cloudy with moderate temperature (which covers almost anything.)

Yearbook Drive to End Saturday at Midnight

"Your Ruby won't cost more than an additional $1.75 after your initial $2.25 down payment," announced Ruby Editor Frances Tisdale today in response to numerous queries.

The 1945 Ruby, unlike last year's, will be a thick, bound edition. In addition to the individual senior pictures and class and organization pictures, it will include candid shots, group Navy pictures and sports pictures, which will be principally Navy men.

The subscription campaign, being conducted by Jean Featherer and a staff of dormitory representatives, will end midnight Saturday. Down payments of $2.25 must be made to Jean or one of the dorm representatives before that deadline.

James Preaskorn, in charge of the individual senior pictures, has announced that the photographer will be here Wednesday to take additional individual pictures and group pictures.

Frosh to Receive Colors Thursday

Annual Color day ceremonies, always an impressive occasion, will be held Thursday at 5 p. m. in Bomberger chapel.

Sponsored by the Junior Advisory committee of the Women's Student Government association, the occasion is to present officially the Ursinus colors to each new freshman woman.

The presidents of the WSGA, YWCA and Women's Athletic association will present the charges to the recently elected freshmen representatives.

Open Forum to Discuss The Church and Peace

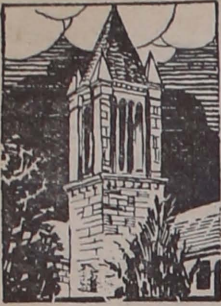

The first of a series of open forums on "The Church and The Peace" will be held on Sunday, April 8, from 8-9:30 p. m. at Bomberger hall.

The speaker will be Dr. G. Elson Ruff, who attended the National Study conference at Cleveland, and his topic will be "The Church and a Just and Durable Peace." Dr. Ruff is a staff editor for the United Lutheran Publication house.

Pauline Brownback will play several organ selections preceding the meeting; and Rev. Edward Platts of the Episcopal church, Evansburg, will offer an opening prayer. Rev. John Lentz will open the meeting and act as discussion leader. The meeting will be divided into two parts, half of which will be given to the speaker and half open discussion.

The second forum meeting will be April 15 and Professor Maurice Bone will speak on "Economic Aspects of Peace." The third will be April 22 on "A Christian World Organization" by Mr. Floyd Heller. To date, definite plans have not been made for the fourth and last forum.

Everyone is invited to attend these forums and participate in them.

A Peace?

Rumors of peace feelers are reaching our ears every day. It can not be doubted that the war in Europe will be over in the not too distant future. Then will come the problem of the peace treaty—a just treaty. Shall we make the same or even greater mistakes than the last time, or shall we make sure that this treaty sticks?

By now Germany is in pretty bad shape. War torn and ravaged, she, even more than some of the countries she occupied, is being pretty thoroughly devastated in regions. These are the fruits she is reaping and the backfire from her own deeds. However, after the war in Europe is over, will we give her a chance to heal the wounds of her country or shall we yield to plans like those suggested some time ago by Secretary Morgenthau? The conquered country must pay for her acts, but let us not put the price so high that it will squelch her entirely.

For one thing, he suggested taking away from Germany the sector containing almost all of her industry and converting Germany into a primarily agricultural nation. In this way he may harm Germany and prevent her from starting another war, but he will also harm the rest of the world. Some of the greatest advances in science and in manufacturing have come from there. Besides, how can a nation of people used to a higher culture and possessing great skills in these lines be expected to live peacefully as a nation of agricultural peasants?

Another suggestion of his was the sending of German labor battalions to France, Russia, and other once German occupied countries to help rebuild the destroyed areas. It seems pitiful that people in America today can have such ideas. About 80 years ago our great-grandfathers fought a war to free the slaves. Are we going to end another war by making more men slaves?

These and similar ideas are heard floating around our streets and cities in America all the time. It certainly seems hard to believe that thinking men can follow them. After the war Germany will have to be dealt with fairly. She'll have to be given a hard but a just peace with a fair chance to again join the circle of the greater nations of the world. The same applies to Japan when her turn comes.

One thing we must all be sure of is that we leave no Polish Corridors like juicy bananas suspended just out of a hungry Germany's reach. All this can do is make her eager to provoke a war when she does get on her feet. The best way to prevent war is to remove its causes. A beaten man always feels resentful and will want to start another fight some time when he has his gun along. Square treatment and proper education must be a part of the peace treaty, for only a just, Christian peace can last!

The Hot Box

Flash: Frank Sinatra passed his over-seas physical and is now preparing for a South Pacific jaunt to sing for the boys ... The curfew changed Buddy Rich's mind, and he'll stick with TD ... Count Basie recorded a disc with 12 Kostelanetz violinists ... Spike Jones will play the Earle theater, starting April 13 ...

Last week Benny Goodman and his big outfit made their first radio appearance after almost a two year lapse ... And Benny offered five good reasons why he is STILL "King," namely, "Somebody Stole My Gal, Makin' Believe, Clarinade, King Porter Stomp, and Every Time We Say Goodbye" ...

Rumor dept.: Roy Eldridge's days with Artie Shaw are numbered ... The rumor that Gene Krupa is folding is JUST a rumor ...

One N. Y. gagster sums up the reasons for the midnight curfew thus: "You can fuel some of the people some of the time, but you can't fuel the nite clubs all the time." Ouch ... Prohibitionists were not alone in pressuring the curfew. The early to bed edict was also sponsored by the mattress lobby, and it's rumored that their sales have gone up, now that musicians spend their nights in bed instead of in a night spot ...

Tommy, Jimmy Dorsey and both orks will team up for some V-discs ... Billie Rogers, fem trumpeter of Woody Herman fame, is now powdering her nose with Jerry Wald ...

Traveling sidemen and band leaders gripe about the surliness of porters, waiters, cabbies, hotel clerks, etc. The wartime motto apparently is "Service With a Snarl" ... How can you stand it ...

AHOY!!

by Kayo

This week I received an anonymous package which contained a bottle of something green, the label stating "for stiffness of muscles." It has occurred to me that my unknown benefactor should let me know whether it's safe to use that stuff internally. If it isn't, this is my last will and testament:

1. The writing of "AhoY" I turn over to Jack Miller—not only because of his great skill in composition, but also because this column is so suggestive of homing that—well.

2. I hereby make Rip Collins the bugler-in-chief of Ursinus College. After hearing Rip's talented trumpet, I feel him deserving of the above stated position, since there's no other possible candidate.

3. To Reed Hankwitz I leave my favorite book, "How to Make Passionate Love and Like It." My decision in this case is prompted by Hank's extreme female shyness, as illustrated in the case of Betty.

4. My cigarette-buying privilege I leave to Scratchy, as requested. However and notwithstanding, this privilege is to be recalled immediately if Scratchy is seen smoking.

5. To my roommates, Huff, Luton, and Trettin, I give all my gym clothes—or should I say I hereby make their ownership legal.

6. My address book goes to Woodie—on second thought, he has the same addresses I have, so if requested, the contents of that book will be published for the general use of all Ursinus V-12's.

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

or What's Bruin

Zooming into your dining room seat once more (left my black sedan home today) with some news, a bit of poetry (egad!!) and a few little nothings (as usual) ...

First comes the news—and why not—Dusty and Kapp ... Ginnie H. and Tinc ... Shirl F. and Frank H. ... Jose y Bonnie ...

And now to go on with the blacker things in life s'pose we make some rhymes—just to fill in space—

"Twas a cool must day in the middle of March
Heavy things in my mind like bein' all out of starch
So was off to the Acme at the other end of town
Had to carry a few things that made me look like a clown
There were things like laundry kits, and orders all crammed in my head
It's not the sophomores that scare me, it's the things that they've said
So I walked and I stumbled and tripped then I fell
All scarred and bewildered I looked up from the well
When there but four feet from me was a tall man
And behind him stood gleaming a big black sedan.

Plenty of incentive for you V-12 boys in those nice gold stripes seen 'round lately—Leamy and Jeanne seem to be inspired also ... the handsome men are Jack Miller and Fritz Heimbach — good luck, you two ...

See where there are finally plans in the making for a new swimming pool; they've even fenced off a section between Bomberger and Derr (the wading pool) ...

No longer the slap happy, the frosh and sophomore phiz-edders have taken to a tap happy attitude —most any song brings forth a bevy of gals in a homemade routine ...

I just gotta:—
There are heroes and heroines made every day,
They are praised and applauded in every way,
But it's the one who shows courage, spirit and strength
No matter her weight, width or length.
Here at Ursinus we have such a gal
Who's not just an ordinary Susie or Sal.
In face of fire, wind, death and fight
She raised a mighty Schwendener and with eyes gleaming bright
Gathered men and equipment and sallied forth as the boss,
For her courage is Nat Hogeland now wearing the Iron Cross.

Looks like Frank Sinatra has taken the back seat lately with bridge and pinocle charging into the lead (get it?)—guess poker is next (what am I saying!) ...

Wouldn't some people just die if some screwball blew up the football field (Oh no!)—all that pretty green grass scattered hither and yon ...

Bill K. seems to be apologizing to everyone lately and rightly so, me thinks! ... we all make mistakes, Bill, but not so violently ...

Hear tell Brightie's shower brought out lotsa old timers and was real nice too!

Wonder why Jackie L. doesn't even tie her shoes without removing that precious gold watch—must have a special attachment.

Tribute to a Regular Fellow

Lt. Arno Kuhn, ex-'44, navigator on a B-24, was killed in action January 21 in India. When his brother, Capt. Howard G. Kuhn, stationed with the Quartermaster corps in France, received word, he immediately sat down and wrote the following tribute to Arno. Further explanation is unnecessary. The tribute speaks for itself.

My greatest hero was a kid.
He didn't write wonderful music or achieve fame as a renowned scholar.
He was not a professional baseball star or one of Hollywood's best actors.
My hero was a boy I watched grow.
He didn't have a better start than anyone else.
Together we set up pins at the bowling alley for 30 cents an hour.
We played baseball in the lot across the street with broken bats the big fellows threw away.
We walked three miles through Forest Park every day to go to school.
He helped clean the chicken coop when pop raised chickens.
And delivered Presses while going to high school.
He didn't get a weekly allowance. He earned his.
He enjoyed life as completely as any kid.
He belly-flopped with the sleigh at the "Soup-Bowl."
Sundays he played shortstop with Cassidy, Mills and the boys on the local ball club.
His fun was being with the fellows.
My hero was a thoroughbred, a real boy.
He held his own on any level, and always came through smiling.
His grammar school teachers chose him as honor student of his class,
And he delivered a valedictorian speech he wrote for graduation.
I know how much fun that was because I practiced it with him.
That afternoon he delivered papers.
His first love was basketball, and it was a proud day when he made the high school squad.
He captained the Jackson High team the year it won its first borough championship.
He had lots of school letters, but he never once wore them.
He fought hard, played well, but never claimed the glory.
I came home expressly to see him play his last high school game.
He was sick. The doctor said he must stay in bed and not play.
The sports page of The Press on the bed featured his picture and his last game.
His heart was set on playing. And he did play.
Few people at that Adams' game realized how much he deserved that generous acclaim.
When he left the game in the final minutes.
And in typical quiet modesty he graduated as top boy in his class.
He wanted an education.
He turned down athletic scholarships to St. John's and Bucknell,
And was honored with a scholastic scholarship to Ursinus College.
He proved the stuff he was made of in his freshman year.
He captained the basketball team, was president of his class and won top scholastic honors.
And in his spare time he cleaned the gym and waited on tables.
He wanted an education and he earned it.
My hero never achieved greatness.
He lived it to all those who knew him.
Proudest of all were his brothers and parents.
His mom he called "Sweetie Pie".
And loved to dance her around in the parlor after the evening meal.
He wanted to fly. And he did.
With his college chum he volunteered for the Navy Air forces during his sophomore year,
And met his first set-back when he "washed-out" of pilot training.
But he wanted to fly.
He volunteered for the Army air forces and made the grade as navigator.
He sported those shiny gold bars proudly the day he came home.
But he was proudest of all over the crumpled hat he wore.
He blushed when he forgot to return a salute.
So new was it all to him.
But his triumph was short lived.
While reporting to his first assignment, his plane crashed in Arizona.
Killed in that crash was the pilot, his close buddy, Lt. Beasley.
For months in a hospital he waited for his back to mend and his injuries to heal.
He waited impatiently. He wanted to fly.
In California he joined his crew flying a B-24, "the best bunch of guys in any ship."
The trip to India went without incident.
A moment of honor was theirs when his ship flew Lily Pons and her husband around India.

Dorm Teams Compete In Basketball Contests

The girls' interdorm basketball games started off with a bang Thursday night at 7 p. m. The first game had startling results. After the first half ended at 5-1 in favor of Lynnewood-Shreiner, South-Clamer-Hobson pulled out of their slump when some very good teamwork netted a 12 point spurge which was sufficient to give them the victory.

Stine-Day was ahead of Maples-612 all the way. Jan Shoemaker was outstanding for the former combine, contributing 9 points to highlight a 13-4 win.

The last game of the evening had its outstanding features. Derr-944 collected 10 points to Freeland-Fircroft's 5. All of the latter's 5 points were the result of five foul shots racked up by Phyl Palacio. Derr-944's major scoring came in the first half. The guards from Freeland-Fircroft held the former's forwards to only 2 points in the last half.

Manager Erma Keyes wishes to commend the work of the officials for turning in excellent of fair and critical officiating and keeping the games from becoming riots at times.

Third Team Displays Fast Basketball In 25-19 Win Over St. John's

The Ursinus third team showed spirit and teamwork when they defeated St. John's on the home floor Friday night 25-19. The starting line-up for the homesters included Jackie Landis, Jeanne Loomis, Phyl Palacio, forwards; Peg Hudson, Eddie Daniels and Doris Stierly, guards.

The co-eds started off with a bang, welding the ball, cutting and faking to rack up nine counters against a scoreless first quarter for the opposition. Phyl was high scorer in the first half placing the ball for a net of six tallies mostly on lay-ups and one handshot. Leamy netted one field goal and one foul shot while Cain, who was substituted along with Jo Snaidman and Jane Day, forwards, Millie Wilson and Ruth Godshalk, guards, placed another foul making a total of ten points in the first half for Ursinus. Herr of St. John's netted two field goals to finish the first half 10-4.

The starting forwards played the second half while Anne Baird, Benny Martindale, Peg Hudson, captain, Eddie, Ruth, Doris and Milly alternated in guard posts. St. Johns rallied in the second half netting 15 points as compared with four for the first half. The whole Ursinus team was on the ball, the guards intercepting balls and passing well while confusing their opponents, the forwards, dodging, bounce passing, shooting accurately and using many fakes effectively.

Leamy was outstanding at her forward post. Cutting under the basket and sinking many lay-ups as well as other shots, she was high scorer for the evening with a total of 15 counters. Phyl scored nine points while Jackie, with her short, quick passes, set up the shots.

Varsity Coeds Defeat Beaver, 23-21, in Home Game Saturday; Jayvee Team Clinches Double-Header With Easy 28-19 Victory

Second Team Lassies Maintain 7-Point Lead Throughout Game

Ursinus' JV basketball team clinched the double header with Beaver here on Saturday with a 28-19 victory. Leading throughout the entire game by at least seven points they had little trouble winning.

The entire squad started off full force with the guards breaking up plays and the forwards really working together. Shirl Klein was high scorer in the first quarter with three field goals which helped give Ursinus an 11-2 lead.

The second quarter was also all Ursinus with four field goals to one for Beaver. Marge Gelpke, always a mainstay of the Ursinus defense, played exceptionally well. She was at the right places at just the right times to intercept her opponents' passes.

Going into the second period with a 19-4 lead, the Collegeville co-eds remained ahead but scored only three points while Beaver added ten points to their side of the scorebook.

Not to be outdone, Shirl, Manny Ballantyne, and Erma Keyes went to work again to give Ursinus a 28-19 victory.

The Ursinus varsity came back last Saturday after their setback on Thursday, to defeat a strong Beaver team on the home court in a nip and tuck fracas 23-21.

The Collegeville coeds were in the lead nearly all the way and showed cooperation and teamwork unequalled by any of their previous performances. Betty Bradway, Jane Brusch and Courtenay Richardson occupied the starting forward positions while Deanie Sinclair, Tess Umstad and Bunny Baum held the guard positions.

Looking 'Em Over

Beaver scored the opening point on a foul shot but Ursinus went in front on a long one-hand shot by Brusch. Beaver's long shot artist sank the ball from behind the circle while Brad came back with three tallies on a long shot and a foul shot. Beaver netted another foul shot and after an Ursinus time-out went ahead on two-hand lay-up but Ursinus pulled ahead again on a two hand angle shot by Brad. Brusch counted for the other four points in the first quarter which ended 11-10 in favor of the homesters.

Talking the game up a lot, Ursinus took the throw-in at center and after a few scoreless minutes Court scored on an almost impossible one-hand twist under the basket. Brad sank a foul shot to end the scoring in the second period for Ursinus while Beaver placed one foul shot to end the first half 14-11. Hilda Anderson and Ginny Dulin were substituted for Brusch and Richardson in the second quarter.

With the starting line-up back in the second half got underway with a long one-hand shot by Brad. Beaver went on a scoring spree in this quarter netting four field goals and one foul shot for a total of nine counters. With the Beaverites ahead 20-16, Brad placed another field goal to end a grueling third quarter in Beavers' honor 20-18.

Showing the importance of foul shots, the final quarter saw Ursinus tie and go ahead 21-20 when Brusch made good three free throws. With Baum out on fouls, Evelyn Moyer came in as a replacement and Beaver tied the game 21 all.

The last few tense moments of the game came as Brusch sank a place shot to win the game 23-21. Brusch was high scorer for the day

Chestnut Hill Stops Ursinus Varsity, 30-13

The Ursinus girls' varsity basketball team met defeat at the hands of Chestnut Hill on Thursday afternoon 30-13. The girls played a hard game, but didn't seem to have the necessary spark to make them a winning team.

Jane Brusch, Courtenay Richardson and Betty Bradway were the starting Ursinus forwards but were only able to chalk up one basket in the first period to Chestnut Hill's three. The opposing forwards ran wild in the second quarter to rack up a 20-7 lead.

Chestnut Hill had a fast passing attack using fakes and pivots to good advantage. They made most of their shots count having two forwards who just couldn't miss.

Deanie Sinclair and Tess Umstad played excellent games. Both were always on the job when it came to getting the ball off the backboard. Brad led the Ursinus scoring with 8 points.

Snell's belles had a little more push in the opening minutes of the second half but were unable to cut down the Chestnut Hill lead.

(GREETINGS, OLD MAN)

...a way to show friendship to a French sailor

Even foreigners visiting our shores for the first time respond to the friendliness in the phrase Have a Coke. There's the good old home-town American spirit behind it... the same as when you serve Coke at home. Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes, — has become a bond of sympathy between kindly-minded folks.

"War's desolation is horrible and we can truly thank God that our folks don't see it. But I am still not convinced that the home folks should sacrifice things that we have that other nations don't have just for sympathy's sake. What the heck are we fighting for?"

"Best wishes to the folks back home."

But he wanted to get into the real thing after so much preparing. His moment came.

He had the satisfaction of a few hours on his first mission.

"Killed in action" Jan. 21, 1945," was all the cable said.

My hero won't get any decorations.

No decorations are needed. He wouldn't want any.

It's kids like him who make this world so worthwhile.

I watched a boy grow and prove himself a man.

I watched a boy, gay and cheerful, make glad all who knew him.

I watched a boy of character never cheapen himself or his ideals.

I watched a boy with ambition overcome every obstacle of life by himself.

I watched a boy achieve greatness among his friends, teachers and coaches.

I watched a boy, modest and humble, prove the worthwhileness of being an ordinary fellow.

I watched a boy bring honor to his mother in everything he did.

I watched a boy of great principles speak out for those principles and die for them.

I watched a boy grow.

He was my greatest hero.

He was my kid brother, Arno.

This is a call to America's Heart

Your Red Cross faces the greatest task in its long history

This is the most important appeal for funds in the history of the American Red Cross.

After three years of war the work of your Red Cross is greater than ever. It must serve millions of our fighting men abroad. Lonely men. Homesick men. Wounded men. The Red Cross, always at their side, helping to bring them cheer and comfort wherever they may be.

It lends a helping hand to the thousands of returning service men — sick, wounded — desperately in need of friendly guidance.

And remember, YOU . . . and you alone . . . keep the Red Cross alive. For without your help there could be no Red Cross. There are no special funds to keep up its great humanitarian work. The money must come, as always, from the heart of America — you!

Our duty is clear . . . we must keep the Red Cross at the side of our fighting men and our wounded heroes. We must help the Red Cross in its vital job of sending food and medicine to war prisoners . . . aiding the ill and lonely overseas . . . collecting life-giving blood plasma. The scope of the Red Cross is almost limitless. Every Red Cross worker is your personal messenger of sympathy and comfort to your man in uniform.
