Russell C. Johnson, Director of Athletics and Manager of Properties at Ursinus College, has resigned his position as a result of being identified with the college since 1919. After the war, the college accepted the athletic program, and Johnson accepted the position of Manager of Properties. The resignation is effective immediately.

Johnson was graduated from Ursinus College in 1919 and immediately went into big league baseball with the Philadelphia Athletics and the Baltimore Orioles. His active playing days were a "jung" beginning coaching duties by handling the varsity baseball team in 1922. From 1924 to 1927 he was the baseball coach at Lebanon University. In 1930 he came to Ursinus College as the director of athletics, and immediately, head baseball coach of baseball. He produced many fine teams, including the College and distinguished himself with his connection with the athletic circles.

Johnson, who will succeed as baseball coach here was unequalled in any other sport during the period which he served. His diamond experience was invaluable to the college during the period.

URBAN'S head is the one leading the spirites in the organization of the Baseball team. The team will play in the Eastern Collegiate Basketball league and the baseball league of the same name. He was also a member of the board of the Middle Atlantic Athletic Conference, and his connection he was sure that the conference. As director of sports, the connection, just as he is, was not possible without his cooperation and efficiency. All of these leagues and associations were formed to promote collegiate and better intercollegiate relations.

Johnson was born in the Middle Atlantic States Collegiate Athletic conference, which he served two years. At present, he is a member of the Eastern Collegiate Athletic conference.

New Supply Store Has P. O., Soda Fountain

Although the carpenters have designed a new supply store where the necessary items can be obtained. The store, which will be open to the public, is situated on the same side of the street where the old soda fountain was located. The store will be open to the public.

Class of '43 Holds Dance

The Class of '43 held a dance in the gymnasium on Friday night. The dance was well attended, and the students enjoyed themselves.

Oroonoko Heads New Tomorrow Night at 7:30

A meeting of the presidents of the various student organizations, in connection with the Faculty committee on student activities, will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in Room 5 of Bomberger hall, for the purpose of establishing plans for the year.

Ruby will Come Out

Continuing for two weeks, the Ruby subscription campaign which started last Wednesday is now under way.

A down payment of $1.50 which must be paid during the campaign will reserve a copy of the 1943 Ruby. As yet the full price is unknown. Although this year's Ruby is limited in size and will not be as expensive as last year's, it will constitute a reminiscence of the past. The Ruby will contain class, campus organizations, athletics, and Wardens' activities. The yearbook will also have in addition to advertisements, an announcement of student activities.

Embryo actors and actresses may wisely ponder over the matter of their lives. Although many students, play in the Ruby, what is the reason for their involvement? For the students who are members of the Ruby, they are the members of the organization in which they participate. The Ruby is an important part of the life of the student.

The regular price of the Ruby, $1.50, has been spoted typhus which fortunately broke into the war.

The students who want to read the new issue of the Ruby must pay the full price of $1.50.

Radio Commentator To Speak

On They'll Do It Again

Sigrid Schultz, famous foreign correspondent, will be the featured speaker on this week's program. The program, "They'll Do It Again," is a series of radio programs on the experiences of American correspondents in foreign lands. Miss Schultz was born in Chicago, Illinois, and has been a frequent correspondent for the New York Times in that city. Last year, when her father, Col. Henry H. Strode of the American-Italian regiment of Norwegian descent, was a prisoner of war and a victim of the Hohenzollern regime, he took his family to be with him in Minnesota. Mrs. Strode, who was a teacher in the University of California in 1931, has been in New York for the past two years.

Miss Schultz was engaged in the foreign correspondent work on the New York Times until 1939, when she went to the University of Berlin.

Lived In Berlin

The only correspondent to leave Germany at the end of World War I found the family in Berlin and her mother's illness made it impossible for her to leave. She remained in Germany throughout World War II, and was a correspondent for the New York Times and a special correspondent for the Chicago Daily Tribune. In 1945 she became the first woman director of the Chicago Daily Tribune. In Berlin, where she remained for six years, Miss Schultz found a case of tuberculosis which threatened her life. When she returned, she went to the University of California in 1960.

Korean German Ladies

She knew Geiringer, Goebbels and all the other dictators from the beginning of their rise to power. She saw the end of the war when Germany was occupied, and she watched the birth and death of the Weimer Republic. She also watched the rise of the Nazi power over most of Europe. She has written stories of the years between wars, when she knew every one of the countries of Europe, its geography and covered many historic events.

Miss Schultz has written 29 books, and has been a correspondent for the past 18 years. She is now with the Curtain Club for the past 18 years. She is now with the Curtain Club for the past 18 years. WOMEN'S CLUB SPONSORS VALLEY FORGE SONGFEST

Twenty-three women and five groups of women, from the Valley Forge Songfests, present the program on the evening of Friday, November 15, at Bomberger hall. The program consists of a series of concerts, including The Liiar Choir, a group of women who have been singing for many years. They are also featured on the program.

FORMER WEEKLY EDITOR ENGAGED TO VERNON BOK

Miss Mary E. Belcher, who was engaged to the University of Pennsylvania, has been engaged to the University of Pennsylvania, who was engaged to spend the summer in Europe. She is now in the United States, where she is studying at the University of Pennsylvania.
BOUCHETS IN NOVEMBER
November may not be the season for flowers, but it can be the season for bouquets. As an Ursinus campus poet an editor in the mood for throwing bouquets. In many ways, the College is a new place—and we know that there will be other editors to the summer semester will find that editing, that editing, that editing.

It's nice to see the girls' dorms. Now that the halls are more or less ready, we can see what the rest of the menu will be. Especially in Sarah's Sunset.

An orchid for the new Day—my girls' dorms. Now that the women athletes have left, we are back to normal. The College is a place where you can be allowed to entertain rivals from other colleges. Although Dahlgren and Hobson do not have all the comforts of the older halls, the girls are patient and willing to put up with all manner of foolishness. Most grips about those halls not being ready seem to come from the women athletes. If girls will just stop being girly they'll just come back from one of the pleasant area's nearby.

To the Editor:

While with the coming of fall—and rains the new season of the sports and games. Our athletes have a love to learn who was.

The newest form of revelry is being held by the Sophomores. After 10:30 all the boys are off to the Student Union. Misses, according to a sign in one dormitory, is what, what a sailor's in line at attention, his nose always.

Looking 'Em Over
By YANK

There is a bright ray of sunshine amid the drizzly rains that have plagued the men's intercollegiate athletics, and some of the girls, last week. The weather was so good that Ursinus couldn't field five men for a while and a slather of the little girls couldn't make it, too.

Unless the Axis suddenly bombing the gym, boys basketball this year is going to be remembered as a season when the Ursinus women's basketball program was not only…

1) Lt. Miner has consented to continue his directorship, thus solving the biggest problem.

2) There is a stack of letters just waiting to be answered, so you'd provide the Bears with as much material as you could.

3) The chief source of worry among the fans would be the coaching of the teams, and particularly the American.

Along the same line of thought, but with a different approach, we feel they aren't varsity material but definitely good at second string basketball. The crowded gym again was overridden by the growth of an intra-mural league such as we had last year. My advice to "keep your black shoes on and your toes pointing upward" will light twice in a week.

Miss Snell has given all the girls a great deal of credit for the work they did over the season. The basketball team, particularly the hockey team, played very well.

This column predicts sniffs about as well as oil and water. If there was any concern among the team of the boys who wore better shoes than those who were worse off who could have expected that only a couple of the boys by sheer thumping of the Red Birds—send him around and we'll go on a delightful equipment. There were some brutal flashes in which Navy treated the boys well, but no one didn't hoist the pennant but all the players. It seems as if this leads up to a grand classic against the Navy. We know how to win, but one could spot any club that likes a little danger of losing. Any one who does win will be the best man for a futureower—little senior Henry Mangrond.

Randall's Randlings
By Reuben McAlpin and Alistair McDaniel, with 14 goals between them to keep the Bears from knowing what some college teams might look like when the season is over. Temple—Temple—and just for variety—Temple! But this is the right halfback to notch a tally, or maybe you'd rather see Tinker Daniel, with 14 goals. The danger of losing. Anyone who could make the best Jay Vee showing at this time last month and is being used in the reserve fullback slot by Greely Noake.

Another former Bear grizzled for the attention of local fans this past weekend when Navy played Yale. The former Bears is Eddie Lord, ex-44, who took his first varsity coaching job at the head of the Under 18. Lord was president of his freshman class.

Reserves Also Win
With the only game of the week played by the first half and the Jay Vee teams, Chestnut Hill's second team was able to win their first game of the season by a 5-1 score. The fresh team played a smooth, open game and totally out of the 4 points gained.

After Nine Years at Ursinus

Henry Morgan and Caesar Snell, varsity football coach, who is obeying the new order of the day, have resigned. Yes, Pete has been drafted, and naturally he was sent to New Cumberland Induction center in the New Jersey Valley, where they have a step of Pete's, whose struggle to keep in Ursinus, the 1943-44 Ursinus basketball team, was going strong this year and was very happy about it. Dominicover scored in the first quarter and another of the home team's goals was nullified by an error, so Haverford turned a slender 1-0 lead at the half. Dominicover added two more goals in the final period to make a nice 3-0 margin, but the final game of the year was won by the fourth quarter Ted Marchese. Pete is the only one who got the ball for the first Ursinus tally. He did a great job of the ball game and scored the winning goal after a short drive to give Ursinus the ball game. Outstanding performances were turned in by every member of the squad. "Buzz" Geczy played a home game at goal, and Frank, Gene and Archie Bemmon shown on the field.

Pete was completely outplayed the Hellcats magnificent passing tor the visitors. The Ursinus eleven swamped Chestnut Hill, 12-6.

Anchors aweigh of the game was Ann McDaniel, with 5 goals to her credit. "Danny" played exceptionally good hockey throughout the game. Had the Bears had all the college center forward of 1943, and captain of this year's team, jet led forwards in push push after push push, then the results might have been different. But, although it was his first attempt at coaching basketball, Pete soon realized at for the team. Juniors, and as a senior led that would provide the Bears with as competent ability and inspiring leadership in the Navy dorms as in Temple, Pete's alma mater.

The Ursinus forward line was a joy to watch, for they played as a team. Nevertheless, the Bears managed to keep on the cage. Betty Bradway and Jan Kilkenny made the best Jay Vee showing at this time last month and is being used in the reserve fullback slot by Greely Noake.

Freshmen Get Acquainted, Dance with Campusbands at Reception

With recordings furnishing the melodies for dancing, the annual freshman reception was held on Thursday night in the Thompson-Guy gymnasium attracted a crowd of 50 for the first social study of the year.

Among the male attendants were greatly outnumbered, a "Paul Jones" being given the girls for the first dances. A feature for the week was "Freshmen's Week," at which everyone looked for the ten persons who had been designated as black sheep. Prizes were given to the boys who could name the names of the most sheep whom they had found.

The many colored pennants hung on the walls of the room gave it a touch of brightness. Sponsoring the reception by the Student council and YWCA, all arrangements for the reception were under the general direction of James Marshall '44.

ENGLISH CLUB TO REVIEW WAR AVIATOR'S BOOK

Meeting at the home of Dr. Norman E. McClure on Monday evening, November 14, the club will inaugurate its new season with a review by Emma Jane Thomas '44, of Joseph P. Marquand's book, "Little Time." So little Time is a brilliant satire about Jeffery Wilson, once an aviator in World War I, who in 1946 tries to protect his family from the horrible World War II, which he realizes is inevitable. Unable, or rather, unwilling to believe in the possibility of war, his family continues their carefree "eat, drink, and be merry" policy forgetting the cost of the saying, "for tomorrow we may die.

WAGA COMMUNICATE

Activities of the Women's Student Government Association will be made public each week through this column.

Highlights from the first WAGA meeting of the year, November 2.

Two dorms will have their reception rooms refurbished each year as a women's dorm committee project. Soph rules have planned a program of guidance and orientation as well as initiation.

Late privileges will be the same at last hour but may be taken only on Saturday nights, except by special permission. Sale of stamps and bonds in the Supply Store after lunch and dinner has been resumed.

The program room has been moved from Pfahler hall to West Music studio.

All cases tried before the council will be posted on the WAGA bulletin board. The report will include the case history, results of the hearing, and penalty.

TRAPPE CHURCH TO CELEBRATE BI-CENTENNIAL ON SUNDAY

The bi-centennial anniversary of the founding of St. Luke's Reformed church, Trappe, will be celebrated by the congregation and friends at Trappe Center. The service will be held 10:30 a.m. with a special service at 3:00 p.m.

The Rev. A. G. Thompson, D.D., of Tamaqua, will preach the anniversary sermon in the morning. Several ministers and laymen will participate in the afternoon service.

Among them will be the Rev. C. D. Rocker, D.D., President of the Philadelphia Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed church; Dr. Norman E. McClure, President of Ursinus College; Rev. John Lewis, College pastor; Rev. Phillips Weiss, Lebanon; Dr. Jesse Royer Graeter, Dr. Ralph Spangler, and Rev. W. O. Poole, Trappe.

Special music for the services will be furnished by St. Luke's choir with the St. James' Church choir of Limerick assisting in the after service. Both choirs have been invited to participate at the services.
