WAC Needs Women For Officer Duty

Four Years' Experience Needed For Admission to the Corps

Women may apply for officer training in the Women's Army corps directly if they have had at least four years of experience in work, study, social or civic fields. The four years' required experience may include one or two years of college with experience to fill out the four years. Or she may enter WAC officer candidate school following basic training if she is a college graduate, with no business experience but with a record of responsibility, resourcefulness and leadership to her college credit.

WAC officers' duties are varied and interesting. They serve as company commanders, teach basic training and courses in WAC specialist schools and administer the affairs of the WAC in training centers.

Officers also are assigned as assistants to high-ranking officers in practically all phases of operation jobs. They work in public relations, personnel and recruiting and are assigned to the staff of commanding generals in all service commands and overseas.

When the officer-qualified woman joins the WAC, she will go through basic training as an Officer candidate and be sent directly to Officer Candidate school when she has completed the basic courses. At the end of eight weeks of officer training, successful graduates are commissioned second lieutenants in the Army of the United States.

Opportunities for advancement are many. Interested college women should contact the recruiting office nearest them immediately and find out how they may become officers in the WAC. The Army needs many more WAC officers.

CONGRESSMAN DITTER KILLED IN NAVY AIRPLANE CRASH

It was learned early this morning that Congressman J. William Ditter, Republican Representative from Montgomery county, was killed last night in an airplane crash near Columbia, Lancaster county.

Congressman Ditter, father of Ensign J. William Ditter, Jr. '43, and Mabel B. Ditter '39, received an LL.D. degree from Ursinus college on February 15, 1940.

The Navy plane crashed while en route from the Naval station at Squantum, Mass., which it had left earlier in the day, to the Willow Grove, Pa., station. It was announced that the plane had been forced off its course presumably by adverse weather conditions.

Cruel Fate, Sophs Harass Frosh Girls

"O cruel, cruel, CRUEL fate, that I was born a year too late" comes from the heart as well as the lips of every freshman girl on this, the 22nd day of the freshman "orientation" program.

Freshman girls, especially at dinner, are far from beautiful to behold. We're accustomed to seeing green bands and pale faces, but white cotton stockings make the worst look worse.

Life under the pleasant soph regime which extends "invitations" to gatherings and plays little games like 'airraid' could hardly account for the harassed expressions on the faces of the class of '47. But it must.

The band of guardian angels headed by Archangel Clark has still other lovely plans for welcoming freshman girls, making them feel a part of Ursinus. But don't worry, kids. Your hair will fluff up on top again after it's all over. Ours did.

DAY STUDY HAS LUNCHEON

Mrs. Donald L. Helfferich was entertained by the girls of the Day study at lunch on Thursday to show their appreciation for the help she has given in redecorating the Day study.

USO Among Benefactors Assisted With Your War Fund Contribution

by Joy Harter '45

It was a cold night. Inside at the USO lounge, it was warm and cheery with soft lights about. In one corner, a group of sailors were singing lustily to the tunes of the player piano, while in another, a soldier played checkers with a marine. Several ping pong games were in progress and every desk was occupied by a man in uniform writing letters. At the counter stood the hostesses ready to help in any way that they could.

A young sailor entered hesitantly. He looked just like anyone's brother or that boy next door you've known all your life. He looked around, then, obviously ill at ease, he walked up to the hostess.

"Is there anything I can do for you?" smiled the hostess.

"I — I've got sort of a problem, and I was wondering if you could help me out. I received orders to proceed to this area and remain here until I get further instructions. Well, I haven't received any pay as yet. I've just returned from a cruise and I've got two hundred dollars coming to me; in the meantime, I haven't any money. I don't know anyone in this section."

As he spoke, the boy hungrily eyed some of the home-made cookies on the counter. The hostess quickly said, "Do have some of these cookies. They're here for anyone."

"Thank you. Do you mind if I take a couple? You see, I haven't

"Other Wise Man" Told By Vespers Speaker

The joint Y committee sponsored another of its Vesper services on Sunday, November 21, in the College chapel at 6:15 p. m., with the Rev. Stanley Richards as guest speaker.

Rev. Richards dramatically told Henry Van Dyke's The Other Wise Man, which is considered one of the greatest Christmas stories of the last generation. It depicts the 33-year search for Christ by a Parthian Nobleman, who is supposed to have been the fourth Wise man.

The week before the birth of Christ, he was to meet his three fellow men, but was detained when he aided a dying Jew. The second time, his meeting was postponed when he helped a mother save her child from Herod's soldiers by giving them one of the three jewels he had to present to the baby Jesus.

With the third jewel, he bought a slave girl's freedom. He finally reached Jerusalem at the time of the Crucifixion, but was pinned under a tile, loosened by the earthquake after Christ's death. However, the man's unselfish deeds were rewarded when the vision of the crucified Christ came before him as he lay dying in the street.

Rev. Richards, the father of Justice Richards, graduated from Ursinus College in 1917, with an A.B. degree. After the first World War, he went immediately into the Central Theological seminary at Dayton, Ohio. Later on, he received his Th.M. at Princeton seminary, Princeton University.

He is at present the rector of St. Matthews Evangelical and Reformed church at Anselma, Pa.

LOANS FOR GIRLS AVAILABLE

In 1931, a Loan fund was organized for the purpose of loaning small amounts of money to girls whenever they are in need of it. This is done, providing they pay back the full amount by a certain date designated on a slip of paper.

These loans are made without interest, and the full amount is returned to the fund. Donations by the Women's Student Government association and other organizations make up the fund. Less than $150 now remains in reserve.

Immediately, the hostess contacted the USO head in that city, and within an hour, the boy had a good meal, a room for the night, free theater tickets, and arrangements were made to give him a temporary job so that he could earn some money until he received his pay.

That same night, a group of Naval recruits came in, tired and dirty from their long journey. Not a few of them were beginning to feel homesick or, at least, a little blue at having to leave everything they had known and loved all their lives. Half an hour later, after a swim, they were like different boys, once again spruce and clean, and having the time of their lives with the USO recreational facilities.

That sailor without money and those homesick recruits could be people you know, for situations like these occur every day all over the country. We can be happy to know that there is such an organization as the USO to help these friends of ours. And we can be thankful that we have such an opportunity to have a part in helping them.

The dollar which we contribute to the National War fund goes not only to the USO. It goes to many other organizations like it which perform necessary and helpful services. Let's not let our boys on the front down by shirking our duty on the home front!

Senior Prom Set For Dec. 11; Marshall Names Chairmen

Sponsoring the first formal dance of the semester, the senior class will have their annual prom on Saturday, December 11, in the Thompson-Gay gymnasium.

At a senior class meeting after lunch today, President James Marshall appointed the following committee chairmen: program, Ann McDaniel and William Middleton V-12; decorations, Grace Knopf and John Fitzgerald V-12; and orchestra, Loraine Walton and Gene Massey V-12.

The committee members will be selected in the near future, and plans for the dance will be completed then.

Examination Given For Library Jobs

Anticipating that the need for library assistants in departmental libraries of the federal government will continue, especially in Washington, D. C., the United States Civil Service commission has announced a new examination for these positions that both experienced and inexperienced persons may take.

For jobs of under library assistant—salary, $1,752 a year after overtime compensation for the 48-hour week is added—applicants will be rated on a general test and on questions pertaining to elementary library methods. Specific training or previous experience is not required.

For positions of junior library assistant—salary, $1,970 a year including overtime compensation—applicants are sought who have had at least 15 semester hours' training in a library school, or 1 year of appropriate training or experience in a library. They must pass the tests prescribed for under library assistant and answer an additional 25 questions on library methods.

Positions may occur throughout the United States, but the commission foresees most opportunities occurring for eligibles accepting appointment in Washington, D. C. Persons passing the previous test may take the new examination if they desire to continue to receive consideration for library positions at these salary levels. There are no age limits; applications will be accepted in the commission's Washington, D. C. office until the needs of the service have been met.

Additional information and application forms may be obtained from Commission Local Secretaries at first- or second-class post offices, or from the United States Civil Service commission, Washington 25, D. C.

BOOSTER GROUP TO PROMOTE SCHEMES OF DESIROUS CLUBS

Under the chairmanship of Grace Knopf '44, the Booster committee plans to advertise for any club which asks for its assistance.

First, the committee plans to put its energies behind the National War fund drive, advertising it by means of posters and perhaps skits. The committee has in mind to introduce Fireside sings to which Navy men as well as civilians will be invited. There will be various themes for these sings such as Christmas carols, Southern songs and Folk songs. They probably will be held at the home of a professor.

Members of the committee include: Nancy Fessler '46, Pughe Brooks '44, Anne Styer '45, Peggy Hudson '45, Courtenay Richardson '47, Marjorie Seitz '45, and Norma Nebinger '44.

SUNDAY NIGHT SINGS PLANNED

The Vespers committee chairman, Betsy Shumaker '46, announces that a new program has been inaugurated, sponsoring a musical period from 6:00 to 6:15 p. m. before the regular Vespers service every Sunday evening. All students are invited to attend.

Campus Drive November 28-29; Quota Set at Dollar Per Person

Ursinus students, both Navy and civilian, are being asked to participate in the National War fund drive, November 29 and 30, by Mr. Joel Francis, head of the drive in the Lower Perkiomen area.

At one dollar per person, the quota set for the College is $500. The campaign will be carried on through dormitory competition on a percentage basis. A captain has been appointed in each dorm to have charge of the canvassing. The Booster committee is helping to advertise the campaign.

Member agencies of the National War fund number more than 17, including such organizations as the USO, War Prisoners' aid, British War Relief society, French Relief fund, Polish War relief, Russian War relief, United China relief, Refugee Relief trustees, and the U. S. committee for care of European children.

These organizations cover three fields which are essential problems for a civilized people in war times. The first field covers service to the armed forces, including a "home away from home" for America's own fighting men wherever they might be, camp shows, rest homes, convalescent centers, and educational, spiritual, and recreational service in prison camps.

Food, clothing, medical supplies, and support for hospitals, nurseries, children's homes, and ambulance units are a few of the things which the United Nations relief organizations supply to war-torn countries.

With war and consequent destruction of homes comes the refugee problem. The National War fund also covers refugee relief which provides for experienced and skilful aid for special groups of refugees requiring private relief.

As a whole, the National War fund is a philanthropic federation with three aims; first, to determine the nature and extent of war-time needs; second, to see that everybody has a chance to contribute to the funds required; and third, to channel the sums raised for its member agencies wherever American help is currently needed most. These three aims lead to one objective—to help win the war sooner with a minimum loss of life.

ONLY 100% IS GOOD ENOUGH

Classroom standards don't hold good on the battlefield. Former college men now stationed at remote Army posts are learning that there is no coasting through this war. A soldier on a South Pacific island won't get by a Jap sniper with only 65% alertness. A torpedoed sailor won't survive on a life raft with only 70% of the necessary endurance. In those tests of war, there is no middle ground. A man excels or fails.

We who still enjoy the security of the campus are being tested too. We are up for exams in faith, understanding and effort in the war program. A 65% belief in democracy is not enough. A fair understanding of our war economy won't do. We can't crib through this war by leaving it up to our fellow students to do the saving and economizing necessary to prevent inflation.

The War Finance division wants us to save, contribute and invest our money for war needs, so that we can win our battle on the home front. With little effort, we could contribute 100% in the coming National War fund drive.

PUTTING IT BRIEFLY

Thursday will be the 323rd day we Americans have set aside on which to be especially thankful — thankful for the good things we enjoy. Not only are there broad universal blessings that we share as a nation but there are individual blessings that belong to each one of us alone. Remembering both, let us be among the celebrants on Thanksgiving Day — 1943.

Always spotlight material, the Ursinus hockey team made even the spotlight look dim this week-end. At the all-college tryouts on Saturday, Ursinus hockey girls "finally gained their deserved recognition (as yesterday's Inquirer put it.) To every one of you eleven and to you, Miss Snell, as coach, goes our highest commendation. Ursinus is proud of you.

Question: Does Ursinus really have student government?

Answer: More than ever before and still working.

The Women's Student Government association this year has, in the way of innovations:

1. Gained permission for the continuance of late permissions.
2. Gained permission to have dorm lights on an hour later on Saturday night.
3. Posted on the WSGA bulletin board the heretofore secret minutes of the Council after each meeting.
4. Planned to form a larger student representative group, the Senate, which will meet with the council when important matters arise.
5. Planned to post the facts and verdict in any case to come up for trial.

The first two measures directly benefit all girl students. As for the other measures, each girl is a member of the self-governing organization—the council is merely the officers. The new set-up acquaints all organization members with the executive activities and gives more members an active part in administration.

Each of these steps is a step toward greater self-government. And each is a greater step than has been made in many a year. The Women's Student Government association does not intend to be a self-governing body in name only.

GAFF from the GRIZZLY

SS Lynnewood

Famous last words: "I never chased a girl in my life because girls are like trolley cars. Another one comes by in five minutes." Why don't you practice what you preach, Tom Carey, or is Lynnewood a new dorm for the sailors?

Varsity Hiker

Didn't know Bob Geist was out for the track team, but he certainly is taking those Highland hikes seriously.

Knieriem for President

Room 7 in Bomberger must be confusing people. Who were the sophomores who stood up and clapped when Fred Knieriem walked into the room at the class recent meeting to elect a president?

Shakespeare at Ursinus?

We hope the next Curtain club production will be Romeo and Juliet with Jim Marshall and Ethel Anderson in the leading roles.

Leap Year

Einstein Berman is really a lady killer. One woman on the P. & W. lapped him right up.

Real Students

Lucky are those people who have one eight o'clock class on Friday morning. Now that takes real will power to come back at a time like that.

Times Are Tough

This year's Turkey will probably turn out to be Crow—that is, if you happen to have one flying around in your back yard. At any rate, we have no football game and no meat on the table—but we do have plenty to be thankful for. (Did the history 1-2 class say something?)

Speak Again

We'd like to bet that Peg Hudson will be careful from now on when she talks to the Navy in that phys-ed methods class.

Hear Ye

All are cordially invited to hear Roger's freshman boys make the announcements in the outer dining room after every meal.

THE MAIL BOX

To the Editor:

We'd like to thank all of the students for the splendid cooperation they've given us in the dining room. They all realize how difficult it's been to use an entirely new system for serving meals. They've been patient and helpful to every new, inexperienced waitress. It would have been just as easy for them to sit at the tables and complain about the service, but they chose, instead, to help improve the service. We hope that it will continue to improve.

Upon the publication of last Monday's Weekly we were informed of a complaint registered about the dining room conditions by one of the students. It was with great relief that we read the article, for, instead of the serious complaint we had anticipated, we discovered that the greatest error we'd been accused of was not being at the door of the dining room one breakfast when one student forced her way in past a waitress.

We admit that we've tried, at breakfast, to be as lenient as possible about tardiness, and that we have, on occasion, allowed late comers to eat, if there were empty seats available. However, if the student body would prefer, in the future we shall discontinue that practice. Thanks for calling it to our attention.

And, on behalf of the entire dining room force, thanks again to the students for their swell attitude.

Sincerely,
 Richard Clover '45

Ursinus Continues Friendliness Custom

by Jane Brusch '47

One of the first things which a freshman notices when he arrives at Ursinus is the friendly atmosphere which prevails everywhere—both on and off campus. Perhaps the main reason for the presence of this atmosphere is the unique custom of saying "hello" to everyone. This custom is not just a silly, old practice which somehow has been carried on for years, but it is the essence of the friendliness which is typical of Ursinus.

This year, more than ever, there is a need for the continuance of this worthwhile custom, because it is up to the students to make not only the freshmen, but the Navy V-12 students as well, feel welcome here at Ursinus. Many students still have not realized that the Navy men are as much a part of life at Ursinus as the civilian students are, and that to many of them, who are far from their homes and friends, a friendly hello can mean very much.

The Sophomore Rules committee is doing its part in keeping the custom alive by asking all freshmen to greet upperclassmen and Navy men with a cheerful hello, and the frosh are complying to this request. However, this in itself is not enough. Even though every freshman greets every upperclassman and Navy man he meets, the custom is effective only when others return the greeting.

Naturally, it is not a rule for the greeting is demanded of no one, but it has proven its value in past years and should be continued. Then Ursinus will keep on being the friendly school that it is.

A PRAYER

by Alice Haas '47

Thanks to God for:

- Homes, quite comfortable, cozy and warm,
- Acres of countryside fresh after storm,
- The peaceful stillness of starry nights,
- And snow-capped mountains in bright sunlight,
- The musty smell of burning leaves,
- And raindrops dancing on the eaves,
- Moonbeams lighting the azure seas—
- We thank our God for each of these—

But still ask more:

- Give us the will and way to keep The needed Freedom that we reap. Let not our fighters die in vain, Make something of the Peace they gain.
- Please help the future World to be A Democratic unity.
- Oh Raise our children in Thy light.
- And guard them with Celestial Might.

AFTER THE WAR — WHAT

People everywhere are thinking of what sort of world we will have after the war. It is a question in the back of many people's minds, and rightly so. However, it should be of vital interest to us all and not to just a few. This attitude of indifference and unconcernedness will be ruinous for a lasting peace, because the winning of this great aim depends upon everyone of us as true Americans putting world peace before our own selfish interests. If we are wholeheartedly in back of the post war plan it can not fail.

Senators who, during the last war, were staunch isolationists are still advocating our withdrawal from European affairs at this peace table. Many people do feel that the best way for us to prevent another war is to keep out of affairs "over there" when plans are being made. However this method has not proved successful—cooperation among all countries is necessary.

We do not have to know now the actual proposals for after the war. In fact, there are no specific plans as yet for a world union after the war. Our duty now is to be aware of what is going on and to take an interest in current national and international affairs so that we will be better prepared to take our part in the post war world.

All of us can and should take part—either directly or indirectly. Certain problems confront us here in our own country now, and these domestic difficulties must be ironed out so that we will present a united front to the world. How can we expect a peaceful world union if we, in the United States, continue to bicker among ourselves?

Many new problems will arise and these too must be straightened out. There is no doubt that the race problem is continually increasing in importance and that this matter will have to be settled. Women have taken over many jobs formerly held by men and so there is bound to be an employment problem. Prices are rising all the time, and inflation must be checked.

We can not hope to clear up these problems now. However, we can all do our part to make our country truly the United States of America.

SOCIETY NOTES

Ex-Highlanders will trot out to Trappe once again—this time by request of Kathleen Sinclair '46, who is in charge of the dorm initiation. The house-warming takes place tomorrow night and Highland frosh are being particularly careful. The Highland Hikers of last year have a reputation of being rugged.

Tonight, at Lynnewood hall, the girls are being thankful and in a big way, with food galore and entertainment too to help them have a gala Thanksgiving party. Jane Reifsnnyder '46, is planning the affair while Betts Ruskie '47, is counting the points and saving the food.

The members of Alpha Sigma Nu sorority entertained in Clamer's basement in real corn-cobler style last Saturday night with a barn dance complete with corn and all. The sorority's vice-president, Anita Hess '43, was chairman of the dance committee.

The sophomores of Maples welcomed the poor, unsuspecting freshmen into the happy fold last Wednesday night with a party the newcomers won't soon forget. No RSVP's were issued and Gladys Howard '46, and Muriel Horner '46, saw to it that all attended and had a memorable evening.

On Saturday, November 13, Glenwood hall had a birthday party for Peggy Crump '44. The girls in the dorm served refreshments and had a variety show.

Last night, the girls of South hall had a birthday party for Betty Jayne Miller '45. After the refreshments were served, the girls entertained with a song session. At South hall last Thursday, Ethel Anderson '45, and Regina Fitti '45, ruled over the festivities at the freshman initiation ceremonies.

Clamer hall celebrated the birthday of Ruth Trotman '47, on Thursday, November 11 with an elaborate dinner party. In the reception room, a banquet table was decorated with a variety of colors and lighted by candles. Mrs. Trotman supplied the food and Jeanne Espenshade '44, took charge of the decorations.

Drexel Succumbs To Ursinus Eleven On Slippery Field

Although they didn't have the spectacular teamwork which has been displayed in previous games, Snell's belles topped a good Drexel eleven on Thursday, November 18, 2-0, and continued on their way to an undefeated season.

The Drexel hockeyites turned in their best performance of the year and they earned a moral victory by holding Ursinus to such a low score. Their defensive play was beautifully executed and the offense had plenty of fight.

Ursinus' forward line lacked its usual push and it wasn't until the end of the first half that Ann Harting sent the ball into the goal with a hard drive to give the Bears a 1-0 lead.

After many corners and much close playing in front of the cage, Jeanne Mathieu pushed the ball past the goalie for the final tally in the second half. Ursinus had the ball in Drexel territory for the greater part of the game, but Drexel did reach the striking circle several times. Each attempt to score was stopped by the Bears' defense, so that this was another game in which goalie Betty Kirlin didn't get a chance to touch the ball.

Both teams were hindered by a wet, slippery field and Ursinus just couldn't get going. Little Mid Halbruegge was one of the main reasons why Drexel couldn't score. She intercepted passes and sent the ball to the forward line at just the right moment.

The hockeyites have only two games left on the schedule—Penn and Swarthmore.

FRESHMAN COEDS ACTIVE IN INTERDORM HOCKEY

Never before has there been a bigger demand for coed intramural sports, and with the spirit for competition high, hockey enthusiasts are battling out two or three afternoons each week to determine the champion dormitory teams.

Because of the unusual freshman material, the heretofore interclass hockey has been changed to inter-dorm hockey. Two dorms team together and the combined talent affords many close, exciting games. Any coed may participate provided that she has not played in more than one-fourth of the total playing time in varsity or junior varsity competition.

Each combined team elects a captain and a manager, who lead and coach their eleven. Many of these hockeyites have been former second team members or have played many a good game for their high school. Others who know little about the game learn quickly enough from their teammates and the competition is always full of stimulating fun and fight.

From Clamer hall, Leona Miller and Jean Perry are stellar participants. As substitute junior varsity halfback and wing respectively, Lee and Jean are a big asset to their Clamer-Glenwood eleven. Peg Hudson from Glenwood is another promising player.

Duhring's Betty Ann Orr and Maples' hard hitting Winnie Clark should help this combination be victorious. From Hobson hall, the freshmen are mainstays of the team. The Shreiner-South aggregation forms a strong, promising eleven. With South's Barbara Cooke, a former Jay Vee star at fullback, and Shreiner's Ann Styer to lead them on, they should soon be heading the list.

Sally Deibler from 612 and Scoop Suffas from Lynnewood are a two-some with plenty of pep. Firecroft has fighting Jane Hemleb and Day study's feature attraction is Lillian Wright. The Highland highlights are Kathleen Sinclair and Jane Rathgeb.

Ursinus Girls Help All-College Team Win

Jeanne Mathieu Captain; Team Shuts Out West Jerseyites, 4-0

Playing together for the first time since they had been selected the day before, the Middle Atlantic All-College girls' team, captained by Ursinus' Jeanne Mathieu, shut out the All-West Jersey hockey eleven 4-0 yesterday afternoon on the Baldwin school field in Bryn Mawr.

Dorothy McPhillimy and Mary Lee McKinney, both of Penn, shared the scoring honors, but a good deal of the attack rested on the shoulders of Ursinus' Ann Harting and Jeanne Mathieu and Sue Gager from Penn. Jeanne took to the field at her old position of center forward, but Wivisk Harting was a newcomer to the right wing post, her usual berth being at left wing.

In the backfield, the Collegeville team had two representatives on the all-star team, Betty Bradway at right full and Marion Bright at right half. Both Brad and Brightie played a major role in saving many balls sent toward the college team's goal and in backing up the line, sending passes into the striking circle which placed the stars in scoring position.

In the second team game, Judy Ludwick of Ursinus passed up the West Jersey team's defense, taking the ball down the field by herself and setting up plays for tallies. The reserves won their game 2-0, battling against a more evenly matched eleven.

On Sunday, November 28, the first all-College team will play the reserves, and on the following Sunday, the two college teams will meet the first and second All-Philadelphia teams.

Intramurals Begin With Full Program

Intramural activities rocketed to the foreground this past week as the Navy league, including five V-12 teams and the Curtis All-Stars, officially opened its schedule.

At the present time football and volleyball are the contests being waged. As soon as the weather gets cold enough to require indoor play, basketball will replace football as the main attraction.

Last Tuesday afternoon Fred Carney's and Bill Shope's clubs met in the opening football game. The rival captains each personally scored a touchdown in the first half; however, the attempted conversions both failed. Neither team could score in the second half and the game ended in a 6-6 tie. Following this game Harry Collier's team met the civilians and romped off with a 21-0 victory. Collier, Hogan and Larry Ogden all scored touchdowns and Gould and Trettin added the extra points.

The next afternoon Dick Schellhase's eleven eked out a 7-0 win over "Head" Miksch's club. Smith scored all of his teams points.

Thursday night the gym was the scene of three volleyball contests. Each of the six teams were divided into an A and B squad. Shope's team won both their games, due largely to the fine play of Rickenbach, Hauser, and Martin in the front line. Schellhase and Miksch split their games, while Collier won a pair of games from the civilians.

Shope's football machine opened the Friday afternoon activities by beating the civilians, 12-0. They scored in the first half by employing the old "sleeper" play and then in the closing minutes Frank Martin intercepted one of Don Wickert's passes and added the second six points. The All-Stars out-gained Shope from scrimmage but their attack bogged down when they got near pay dirt. In the second game Miksch just beat Carney, 7-6. Peckman scored all the winners points while Jack Kemp tallied for the losers in the second half. In the closing game, Collier remained undefeated in all competition by blanking Schellhase, 6-0.

Each team gets 10 points for a win in football and 5 points goes to the winners of the A and B volleyball games. On this basis, Collier leads the football league with 20 points and shares the volleyball lead with Shope, each having 10 points.

Looking 'Em Over

By YANK

I'm looking for an excuse. Maybe I can say "c'est le guerre" and use this cover-up to explain a problem in a way similar to that being used quite frequently of late. I know it isn't adequate — it isn't even sensible — but then, neither is the situation under consideration.

Sportsmanship has a moral code. It incorporates teamwork, aggressiveness, physical fitness, alertness—all these, to be sure. But underneath lies a deeper revelation. It gives you an insight into your fellow men, a knowledge of character, and embodies a certain respect which you show toward your associates. Please note this latter postulate. Experience has shown that athletics is about the best teacher of sportsmanship known.

Thus I suggest blaming things on the war, for it has decidedly curtailed men's sports at Ursinus. And it is this curtailment which is my possible "out" for the subject under discussion. The subject... oh yes, I might as well bring that up. You will remember my remark about showing a certain respect to your associates. Well, it appears that in Curtis hall this has been forgotten. One of the fundamental rights, the right of a man to be entitled to his own property, has been transgressed so frequently in recent months that things are becoming alarming. I don't think further explanation is necessary. Now you can see the connection in my story. It is a very weak link.

The subject is hardly becoming to a column on sports, but as this is the best means of communication at hand, it will have to do. It's a disgrace to have to print something like this here, but it's a far bigger disgrace to break a Commandment.

I'm still looking for an excuse.

As announced last week, a preview of the basketball prospects will be run each week. Today two Navy men are selected to jump into the spotlight for a minute and make themselves known.

Slim Hauser . . . or should we say "Mouse" . . . a product of Emmaus High . . . later started quite a few games for Albright, which last year was one of the country's best . . . uses his height to good advantage in getting rebounds . . . quiet chap . . . good team player . . . a scoring threat with a pivot using either hand.

Jack Miller . . . considered too small for basketball at Upper Darby high (100 pounds) so he managed as a sophomore . . . went to West Chester Teachers and made the varsity his freshman year . . . favorite shot a left handed push . . . keeps in shape playing baseball, which is his forte . . . weight up to 150 now, so watch him go.

Four Ursinus Coeds Earn Berths On Middle Atlantic All-College Team

URSINUS BOOTERS VANQUISH HAVERFORD ARMY TEAM, 4-2

Bakerman Win Second Game From Strong Home Eleven

Doc Baker's soccer team scored their second victory of the season when they downed a strong Haverford Army team on Saturday by a 4-2 count.

Bears Gain Lead

Playing their best game, Ursinus quickly jumped to a 1-0 lead in the first quarter on Mazer's goal. Again in the second quarter the Bears notched another goal on Archie Simons' penalty kick. Haverford came back with a goal in the 2nd quarter to make the score read 2-1 at the end of the half.

Third Quarter Scoreless

Resuming play again, the third quarter failed to produce scoring from either side. However, in the fourth canto Ursinus tallied two quick goals on drives by Marchesie and another one by Simons. Haverford got their final goal with only a few minutes of play left.

The entire team played a hard game to come out on top. Teamwork by the line composed of Fink, Mazer, McCausland, Marchesie, and Simons was outstanding as was the fine defensive play of the backfield, where Massey, Rickenbach, Smith, Garey, Carey, Naab, and Skinner shone brilliantly.

The Bears' next games are still in doubt although Swarthmore and West Chester are being contacted.

Clamer-Glenwood Lead In Intramural Battle

The girls' intramural hockey schedule has two more games listed, before the champion team can be named.

Last Tuesday, Highland-Fircroft swamped Glenwood-Clamer to the score of 4-0. That same day, Duhring and Maples forfeited to 612-Lynnewood.

Thursday afternoon, 612-Lynnewood defeated the Shreiner-South eleven, while Highland-Fircroft defaulted to Hobson-Day study-944.

Clamer-Glenwood downed Maples and Duhring, 4-0.

Today 612-Lynnewood met Hobson-Day study-944, and the winner will play Glenwood-Clamer later on this week.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE STARTS

Boy's basketball practice officially opened this afternoon when candidates reported to coach Lt. Miner in the gym at 5 o'clock. Practice will be held as often as the gym time permits in preparation for the schedule now being drawn up.

Judges Give Ursinus Eleven Highest Praise for Teamwork

Last Saturday, November 20, the Ursinus College varsity eleven competed with nine other eastern Pennsylvania college hockey teams in the Middle Atlantic All-College try-outs, at Bryn Mawr College, and placed four girls on the first eleven, one on the second, and two on the honorable mention list.

Miss Virginia Allen, successful Swarthmore high school coach and former All-American hockey player, was spokesman for the judges. Miss Allen paid Ursinus the highest tribute, when she announced at the close of the primary judging, that the Ursinus eleven was the outstanding team of the day, and that every girl on the team played her own position expertly.

Senior Jeanne Mathieu, an Ursinus sports dependable, coveted the center forward position and was later elected captain of the all-star team. Marion Bright, for four years a varsity player, was chosen right halfback, and her teammate Betty Bradway became the new right fullback. Ann "Wivisk" Harting gained the right wing berth.

Of the eleven Ursinus players, eight were asked to remain after the preliminary tryouts. Judy Ludwick, fast right wing on the Ursinus varsity, gained that position on the second team, while Ann McDaniel and Betty Kirlin received honorable mention as right inner and goalie, respectively.

The first All-College team includes four Ursinus players, four University of Pennsylvania players, two girls from Temple university and one from Drexel.

In the morning session, each team played three twenty-minute periods with other colleges. Ursinus defeated Swarthmore 1-0, tied Beaver 0-0, and tied Temple 1-1.

JAYVEES TRAMPLE DREXEL

Downing the Drexel junior varsity hockey team 3-1 on Thursday, November 18, Ursinus' second team pocketed their third win in four starts on the losers' field.

Although the Drexel defense was strong, it was no match for tricky Ellie Reynolds and hard-hitting Ann Baird who scored the first two goals for Ursinus.

During the second half, Drexel charged through Ursinus' backfield and flicked one into the cage. But "Danny" Dannehower, not to be outdone by her teammates on the forward line, dribbled the ball down the field and scored another goal for Ursinus.

Captain Jane Kircher, Babs Baberick and goalie Teddy Knopf played a major role in the victory by keeping the ball out of dangerous territory and sending long clearing passes up to their forwards.
