Best-Dressed Campus Sailors Will Wear Two-Piece Outfits of Midnight Blue

With the advent of spring, comes news from the Navy department that rifles for nailing this season that that's definitely on the smart side. The jumper is a flattering hip length, and the lines are delicate enough to reveal the physique to best advantage. Navy fashion note is the bottom trousers (see cut) with a straight line of management of the trousers. The trousers have no buttons as a fastening. This two-piece is the suit for formal occasions with extra dash added to the form of three yards of eggshell white broad trimming collar. Shirring of the jumber are rather full and ruffled in all the right places and give the couple about-town air to sophisticated occasions.

A staredch stitched white turned-up hat in that same delicate shade of eggshell white at a jaunty angle will soon draw the eye of the fairness of his midnight blue beret on a more dignified appearance to show off. Last but not least, may we mention a broad-shouldered midnight blue jacket to ward off those sharp early spring winds and you'll be cozy with comfort as well as losing your right best ahead of the newest fashions. Through the BICYCLE WINDOW

Do you feel intellectually inferior when you sit in history 1-07? Or do you wish you had a good read before you went to the movies or on the cob? Come to the library—reading will solve your problem. Now our reading should begin early to be most beneficial, they say. Why procrastinate? Do it now! Take down that Bunny Brown and his Sister Sue on Grandpa's Farm and look inside. You'll be pleased. From the new widely known author, Aunt Lu builds Sue on with her slip covers and emotional expression. Reaching out to the next shelf is a new title in the pink chronicle of Laura Lee Hope is Loutsa Mae Alocit's immortal Little Women. Its pathless tears as your heart—its romance is unrealised—its strangeness is gripping. Can you imagine a gay galaxy? If you tell the librarian to lead you to the English shelves. In English's latest adventure (the library has the new concept one) you will find in Loutsa of England leading the life of the gay galaxy—by the grace of a liberal education in itself! A must for the faculty or to deserve equal attention. Such classics as The Rover of Rohan of Percival, and several other adventures are filmed spiritual uplift to the youth of many a generation. Just ask your

the 64-dollar question

What is your philosophy of life? I believe that sleep is the most essential factor for man's healthful and cultural advancement. My extensive research has culminated in the formulation of this theory: Slaun-boring in one's chamber will prolong life's expectancy by half the score of years while moments of repose at unopportune moments tend to hasten one's demise from this mortal coil.

... AL SNOWFIELD V-8

Science has taken great strides in recent years and I point with pride to the development of the car as the fairest example. It is absolutely necessary for navigating the streets of Kolliktville. Although the paint comes off easily in even minor collisions, the damage is negligible.

... BIRD HANKWITZ V-do

I am drama. Shakespeare and I have the same depth of feeling. To be in tune with the events of life was once the real treasure. Now one's reading should begin with simple reading materials, not like carbon copies. Take the few who really do love the classics of this world, and the world is a tragedy—Why be gay? Why be weak? Why be卑微?

... R. HERNANDO ILOEFITZR

Our philosophy is that two can live twice as cheaply as one because of duplicate copies make us simpler than some people do, like carbon copies. Take the few who really do love the classics of this world, and the world is a tragedy—Why be gay? Why be weak? Why be卑微?

... VINCENT MALAKANDIDONATA V-FI

When approached on this subject, Mr. H. Haddock's only look was disguised and quipped, "How dare you insinuate that I should tolerate such shallow insights!"

WEEK POST-WAR GOVERNMENT

Every day, we hear different views propounded on the important issue of post-war peace. We will supply you with the facts, enlightenment, collaboration, arbitration, and even a perfect peace plan and a solution. Here is our plan: operation, education, inflation, isolation, session, and peace. But where does all of this get us? If one of us had to make the peace terms, that one person would be just like an A-plus in Mrs. Clayton's record files.

However, we do fear, boys and girls, for The Yoursinus Weekly. We do not have a plan for peace which will be really peaceful. In solving this problem, we had to make many difficult decisions when everything was under control now and no one need worry about a thing. At first, we thought that Carney or Marshall was the man to head this tremendous job, but soon we have decided that a real man of the world in the only kind who could do it.

He can stabilize the budget and put the country back on its feet. Taxes will be low—say, $10 a month. And there will be equal distribution of wealth and jobs. And with such a man in the White House, we will have a really lovely first lady.

Dr. Jeanne Miller, an unabashed, unquestioned Democrat, who is now serving as ambassador to Reading, will give the nation the thought for the day.

Kolliktville's own Bessy Menncho White is our choice for Secretary Perkons point. If they're going to have a woman on the wheel there, let's give her a good one. At her side will be Blue J. Cook.

Dr. Liver-pill Carter will stimulate the public by his stirring addresses. However, no phone numbers will be given.

by Jane Brunsch 47

James D. Patterson, Yeoman I of USNR, is rather new on campus. Of course, he is accompanied by his accomplished piano playing. He is from Philadelphia, plus, has been in the Navy for two years. After receiving his degree in music at Temple, he went to the United States Naval Reserve Base. He was in the Navy Yard, and later to Naval Air Station. There, he was an officer in the Navy.

Mr. Godshall confided to the re- porters that the whole idea for him to finance a new girl's dormitory, which involves a great deal of money. Godshall is a chief interest in music, and he has played with various bands. He had worked with the girl's dormitory tour was intended, but ten weeks later it was canceled and declared, to help refund the losses to the state. Patterson is one of the most famous and greatest rock and roll stars. "But they can't do it," he declares that their main difficulty in France was the language. They used to go into a restaurant and be unable to order. They had to ask from table to table, with the waiter usually able to understand the food, to indicate what they wished.

invite your friends- if they have 50 cents

"We shall have it by July," declared H. Honorocer Godshall, superintendent of dormitories and of the girl's dormitory. (Initially, the girl's dormitory was under the supervision of Mr. Godshall, but since the final date for Pageant voting was set for May 30, and Joyce Behler '44 became the manager in charge of the fund.)
