The Ursinus Weekly, October 26, 1942

J. William Ditter Jr.
Ursinus College

William H. Sutcliffe
Ursinus College

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly

Part of the Cultural History Commons, Higher Education Commons, Liberal Studies Commons, Social History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Click here to let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation
https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly/742

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Newspapers at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. It has been accepted for inclusion in Ursinus Weekly Newspaper by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. For more information, please contact aprock@ursinus.edu.
Phoenixville Pastor Cites Need For New Way of Life

Vol. 41, No. 4

MUSIC
SENIOR CLASS BEGINS "Blues"
The floor will then be thrown open to the audience for questions and answers. A short platform talk will then be given by Mr. W. M. Miller, who will introduce the program, with the hope of starting a fresh and vital interest of the program.

Science.

feature many eminent lecturers on various subjects of interest.

Evening in the conferred a degree of Master of Arts in History to Mr. Charles Pfahler, who has been a member of the faculty for the past two years and has contributed much to the advancement of the college.

The evening banquet will be concluded by the presentation of a medal to Mr. W. M. Miller, chairman of the program committee, for his efforts in the organization and promotion of the event.

The forum will close at midnight, and refreshments will be served in the reception room.

The forum committee has arranged for an entertainment program, which will be announced later.

DEBATE TRIVIUM TO BE HELD IN RECEPTION ROOM TONIGHT

The Men's Debating Club will meet tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Foreign Language Room for debate tryouts for new members.

Each member of the armed forces, full or upperclassman, will be given an opportunity to participate in the debate. The tryouts will consist of a three to five minute speech on a topic of choice, followed by a question period. The speeches will be of the serious and not-so-serious type to best give an indication of the student's ability to display his talent.

Next Monday evening, Mr. Harvey L. Cartel, faculty advisor of the debate club, will hold a meeting and discuss the techniques and rules of debate.

HUNSKER DESCRIBES PLANS FOR PRE-MEDICANS THIS YEAR

The James M. Andrews Pre-Medical Society held its first regular meeting of the year in the Lecture Hall of the College on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Llewellyn Riniker, A.A., president of the society, welcomed the members and announced the plans for the coming year which will feature many eminent lecturers and discussions on various topics of interest.

Brad's Redeeps Today

Having found space amid his inventory of antiques to install a brand new weekly newspaper, The Urisinus Weekly, Mr. Bradford, proprietor of the Urisinus Weekly, reopened for College trade today.

Holtin To Furnish Music for Dance at Tuesday Evening

Red, White, and Blue Colors To Carry Out Patriotic Motif

Woody Holtin and his "Royal Rangers" will provide the entertainment for the Varsity Club Dance next Saturday evening, in Thompson Hall.

Evan Morrow '43, president of the Varsity Club and head of the "Royal Rangers," states that the program will be in keeping with the patriotic spirit of the evening, and that the gym will be decorated in a patriotic theme. Flags and red, white, and blue streamers will be used to carry out the motif.

The orchestra, which has been arranged by the committee, will consist of a group of students from Norristown High School. It is well-known and liked at Ursinus, having played at several dinner dance functions.

Chaperons for the occasion will be appointed by Mr. Evan Morrow and Mrs. O. Sieber Preamer, assistant in the Varsity Club under the direction of Mr. B. C. Kline.

The dance is to begin at a committee of seven members, consisting of James Raham '43, Eilen Parks '44, and William Layne '43.

The cost per couple will be $1.65, including refreshments, and will be paid from 8 p.m. until midnight.

Campus Bell To Honor Men in Armed Forces

As a result of an idea adopted by the officers and members of the campus, and who wish to participate are asked to make a five minute speech on the subject of military service, and to make a donation.

Each at 9:30, beginning with the enrollees in Europe, and ending as an angelus. A minute later the bell will sound, and continue for the remainder of the period and the resumption of regular class work.

The idea of an angelus has its origin in the belief that angels called the people of the world to prayer. Carried by America to the nations of the world, prayer in memory of those who gave their lives in the great war was the inspiration for Miller's famous painting "The Angelus.

It is no new idea for America at war, and has been practiced as well as during the Civil War. The bell is a symbol of the men who will be meeting with great success at West Chester State Teachers College.

PUZZLED PRACTICE PROFS PRESENT PAINFUL PAINS, PALPITING PULSES

by William Suliffe '43A

From time to time the Weekly publishes for your enlightenment intimate, behind-the-scenes glimpses of our campus and school life. The Weekly staff does not attempt to implant an entirely private life of the campus, but we try to show the variety of life and activities that prevail in some quarters. Practical teachers must pursue their

Bone and Carter To Address Forum On Post-War Problem Wednesday

Service Representatives Emphasize Advantages Of Reserve Enlistments

Opportunities for College men in the various enlisted reserve corps of the Army and Navy will be discussed by Dr. Frederick W. Bone, 1009 S. 49th St., Philadelphia, and Mrs. Eugene H. Miller, 1009 S. 49th St., Philadelphia, at 7:30 p.m. in Shreiner Hall Wednesday evening.

Representatives of the Army and Navy will give the facts of their present enlistments and their future plans. They will be available to answer questions of interest to the audience.

Enlistments May Close

Captain Seymour of the United States Marine Corps. The senators, revealing the opinion of the enlisted men, will give the advantages of enlistments as they have been personally tested and approved by the seniors.

Following an exposition of the features of the Army and Navy Reserve programs, Captain Seymour will emphasize the advantages of enlistments in the Army Air Corps. Captain Devenson will explain the Army Air Corps and thelenut, a man subject to call upon for duty.

Lieutenant Dean of the United States Naval Reserve Forces will give a talk on how to enlist in the Naval Reserve. He will enter into the mechanics of enlistment in the Army Air Corps and in the Naval Reserve.

NEWWAY OF LITE

As Pair of Tombstones

received his early education, the native of Hungary.

Stresses God's Way In Plea for Peace

Before peace come, we must start on the way to God's way," said the Reverend Imre Kovesi, pastor of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, who spoke to the Native Union Assembly of the Hungarian community.

Born in Hungary, where he received his early education, the reverend came to this country at an early age. He is a graduate of Franklin and Marshall Theological College and served as pastor in several locations.

He further explained that man's interest of the program.

Science.

feature many eminent lecturers on various subjects of interest.

Evening in the conferred a degree of Master of Arts in History to Mr. Charles Pfahler, who has been a member of the faculty for the past two years and has contributed much to the advancement of the college.

The evening banquet will be concluded by the presentation of a medal to Mr. W. M. Miller, chairman of the program committee, for his efforts in the organization and promotion of the event.

The forum committee has arranged for an entertainment program, which will be announced later.

DEBATE TRIVIUM TO BE HELD IN RECEPTION ROOM TONIGHT

The Men's Debating Club will meet tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Foreign Language Room for debate tryouts for new members.

Each member of the armed forces, full or upperclassman, will be given an opportunity to participate in the debate. The tryouts will consist of a three to five minute speech on a topic of choice, followed by a question period. The speeches will be of the serious and not-so-serious type to best give an indication of the student's ability to display his talent.

Next Monday evening, Mr. Harvey L. Cartel, faculty advisor of the debate club, will hold a meeting and discuss the techniques and rules of debate.

HUNSKER DESCRIBES PLANS FOR PRE-MEDICANS THIS YEAR

The James M. Andrews Pre-Medical Society held its first regular meeting of the year in the Lecture Hall of the College on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Llewellyn Riniker, A.A., president of the society, welcomed the members and announced the plans for the coming year which will feature many eminent lecturers and discussions on various topics of interest.

Brad's Redeeps Today

Having found space amid his inventory of antiques to install a brand new weekly newspaper, The Urisinus Weekly, Mr. Bradford, proprietor of the Urisinus Weekly, reopened for College trade today.

Holtin To Furnish Music for Dance at Tuesday Evening

Red, White, and Blue Colors To Carry Out Patriotic Motif

Woody Holtin and his "Royal Rangers" will provide the entertainment for the Varsity Club Dance next Saturday evening, in Thompson Hall.

Evan Morrow '43, president of the Varsity Club and head of the "Royal Rangers," states that the program will be in keeping with the patriotic spirit of the evening, and that the gym will be decorated in a patriotic theme. Flags and red, white, and blue streamers will be used to carry out the motif.

The orchestra, which has been arranged by the committee, will consist of a group of students from Norristown High School. It is well-known and liked at Ursinus, having played at several dinner dance functions.

Chaperons for the occasion will be appointed by Mr. Evan Morrow and Mrs. O. Sieber Preamer, assistant in the Varsity Club under the direction of Mr. B. C. Kline.

The dance is to begin at a committee of seven members, consisting of James Raham '43, Eilen Parks '44, and William Layne '43.

The cost per couple will be $1.65, including refreshments, and will be paid from 8 p.m. until midnight.

Campus Bell To Honor Men in Armed Forces

As a result of an idea adopted by the officers and members of the campus, and who wish to participate are asked to make a five minute speech on the subject of military service, and to make a donation.

Each at 9:30, beginning with the enrollees in Europe, and ending as an angelus. A minute later the bell will sound, and continue for the remainder of the period and the resumption of regular class work.

The idea of an angelus has its origin in the belief that angels called the people of the world to prayer. Carried by America to the nations of the world, prayer in memory of those who gave their lives in the great war was the inspiration for Miller's famous painting "The Angelus.

It is no new idea for America at war, and has been practiced as well as during the Civil War. The bell is a symbol of the men who will be meeting with great success at West Chester State Teachers College.

PUZZLED PRACTICE PROFS PRESENT PAINFUL PAINS, PALPITING PULSES

by William Suliffe '43A

From time to time the Weekly publishes for your enlightenment intimate, behind-the-scene glimpses of our campus and school life. The Weekly staff does not attempt to implant an entirely private life of the campus, but we try to show the variety of life and activities that prevail in some quarters. Practical teachers must pursue their
The Urnsus Weekly

Gaff from the Grizzly

Re: Saturday
It looks like no nap for the Rose Bowl again this year.

Maybe it’s just as well, though, for the Rose Bowl- going and other such groups. Nine men who went up to Allen-town in 1918 left too late, and four on the seat and five in the back seat of the car. The car would be 2,900 miles too far.

Oh You Kil?
We’ve heard of guys keeping two gals happy providing one at school and one at home, but somebody’s been doing it for the last fifteen or so in the Wallasso-Lees Worm-Oak bridge.

And what about Feels and Woman?
Do you know of anyone else?

The Side Porch
What does Charles Edward Harker say to the girls who live downtown? First he saw blondes—now seers.

Now it is Allen, then it was Heus.

Marine Note
Major Stetson, the Marine who visited campus on Tuesday, was a World War I officer. He was commissioned about six months ago. He had the first flight training accident. The famous controls the Philip’s hat company headquarters here. The Marine served as ambassador to Poland in 1939-40.

Over Weekend
Fresh (chek for the weekend)—Boy, I sure hate to hear about the last week for a dime, ain’t it? Boy, I sure wonder how little brother spent it.

The Report

The women of 411 will hold a doggie roast in the College woods next Thursday evening by the varsity club dance. The party will be held in the College woods next Thursday evening by the varsity club dance. The party will be

Society Notes
The women of 411 will hold a doggie roast in the College woods next Thursday evening. Emily Reed ’46 is in charge of arrangements for the Halloween party which will be in the form of a scavenger hunt and a party at Brad’s. It will be held on Thursday evening, November 5.

Highland Hall will also hold its Halloween Party in the form of a scavenger hunt next Friday evening. Irene Rusoff ’46 heads the entertainment committee, Ruth Ditler ’46, and Frances Tusdale ’46, head the food committee.

A scavenger hunt and doggie roast will also be held at Highland Woods next Thursday evening by the varsity club dance. Mary Ann Wall ’43, and Emma K. Hartman ’42 head the camping committee and said food and entertainment.

Members of the College Sunday School will also hold its Halloween party in the basement of the College this evening at 7:30 p.m.

Alpha Sigma Nu sorority held a “trump” dance in the Dinner Room for members and invited guests on Saturday evening, October 24. Babs Baberick ’44, patrol leader of charges of plans for the event. Dr. Carswell ’41, Dr. Franz Westfall ’44, Dr. and Mrs John Holmennell ’44.

IRC Commentator

What is your decision?
In these days when the United Nations are doing their bit in the present conflict, one of the most questionable stands which point out in the diplomatic messages between the Vichy government of France.

Should not we break off diplomatic relations with the Vichy government in France in the interest of consistency and expediency? Are we not in a position to withdraw from the recognition of the Nazi government that we could not assign with equal justice to the Vichy government? It has expressed the cause of the United Nations in every possible way, stopping short only of actual resistance. It is estimated that 315 men have made to our demands only when there seemed to be no alternative open to the collaborationists, who could not risk break in on account without losing the last semblance of support from the French people. This indirect contact to the spirit of the French government and people during the dark days when such desperate offers as Anglo-French union were seriously considered.

The Vichy government at this moment has reached its lowest eb of popularity, not only with the Nazi officials but with the French people. In the first case it has failed to supply the laborers promised in compliance with the demands of the Nazis, and in the second case because it has entered into an agreement to sell Frenchmen into virtual slavery. Would this nation stand at the struggle moment at which to strike the blow of death?

There was an argument in the early days of Vichy’s existence as to whether or not we serve relations lest we drive them straight into the arms of the Berlin government. Could we drive Laborers promised in compliance with the demands of the Nazis, and in the second case because it has entered into an agreement to sell Frenchmen into virtual slavery.

I have said nothing concerning the reasons why it is still desirable—in fact, a paramount necessity, to aid in their struggle. Though direct hostility, and in the second case because it has entered into an agreement to sell Frenchmen into virtual slavery. Would this nation stand at the struggle moment at which to strike the blow of death?

There was an argument in the early days of Vichy’s existence as to whether or not we serve relations lest we drive them straight into the arms of the Berlin government. Could we drive Laborers promised in compliance with the demands of the Nazis, and in the second case because it has entered into an agreement to sell Frenchmen into virtual slavery. Would this nation stand at the struggle moment at which to strike the blow of death?

I have said nothing concerning the reasons why it is still desirable—in fact, a paramount necessity, to aid in their struggle. Though direct hostility, and in the second case because it has entered into an agreement to sell Frenchmen into virtual slavery. Would this nation stand at the struggle moment at which to strike the blow of death?

There was an argument in the early days of Vichy’s existence as to whether or not we serve relations lest we drive them straight into the arms of the Berlin government. Could we drive Laborers promised in compliance with the demands of the Nazis, and in the second case because it has entered into an agreement to sell Frenchmen into virtual slavery. Would this nation stand at the struggle moment at which to strike the blow of death?

I have said nothing concerning the reasons why it is still desirable—in fact, a paramount necessity, to aid in their struggle. Though direct hostility, and in the second case because it has entered into an agreement to sell Frenchmen into virtual slavery. Would this nation stand at the struggle moment at which to strike the blow of death?

There was an argument in the early days of Vichy’s existence as to whether or not we serve relations lest we drive them straight into the arms of the Berlin government. Could we drive Laborers promised in compliance with the demands of the Nazis, and in the second case because it has entered into an agreement to sell Frenchmen into virtual slavery. Would this nation stand at the struggle moment at which to strike the blow of death?

I have said nothing concerning the reasons why it is still desirable—in fact, a paramount necessity, to aid in their struggle. Though direct hostility, and in the second case because it has entered into an agreement to sell Frenchmen into virtual slavery. Would this nation stand at the struggle moment at which to strike the blow of death?

There was an argument in the early days of Vichy’s existence as to whether or not we serve relations lest we drive them straight into the arms of the Berlin government. Could we drive Laborers promised in compliance with the demands of the Nazis, and in the second case because it has entered into an agreement to sell Frenchmen into virtual slavery. Would this nation stand at the struggle moment at which to strike the blow of death?

I have said nothing concerning the reasons why it is still desirable—in fact, a paramount necessity, to aid in their struggle. Though direct hostility, and in the second case because it has entered into an agreement to sell Frenchmen into virtual slavery. Would this nation stand at the struggle moment at which to strike the blow of death?

There was an argument in the early days of Vichy’s existence as to whether or not we serve relations lest we drive them straight into the arms of the Berlin government. Could we drive Laborers promised in compliance with the demands of the Nazis, and in the second case because it has entered into an agreement to sell Frenchmen into virtual slavery. Would this nation stand at the struggle moment at which to strike the blow of death?

There was an argument in the early days of Vichy’s existence as to whether or not we serve relations lest we drive them straight into the arms of the Berlin government. Could we drive Laborers promised in compliance with the demands of the Nazis, and in the second case because it has entered into an agreement to sell Frenchmen into virtual slavery. Would this nation stand at the struggle moment at which to strike the blow of death?

I have said nothing concerning the reasons why it is still desirable—in fact, a paramount necessity, to aid in their struggle. Though direct hostility, and in the second case because it has entered into an agreement to sell Frenchmen into virtual slavery. Would this nation stand at the struggle moment at which to strike the blow of death?
Intramurals Begin
With Emphasis on Getting in Shape

After two weeks of planning and scheduling, the compulsory intramural program for men pot to off on Friday. The Bears hope the addition of a fall season will black up interest in their programs.

At the meeting that took place on Friday in the main gym, Capt. Bud Bosiek announced that intramurals will be held each Monday and Wednesday from 7 to 9 p.m., with the exception of the first week, when they will be held on Monday and Thursday.

The program includes basketball, tennis, swimming, and track. Students are required to sign up for one of these activities, and the sign-up sheets will be available in the main gym next week.

Coeds Wallop
In Lop-sided

During the last few days, the Coed's have been preparing for their upcoming football game against Ursinus. The Coed's have been practicing hard, and they are looking forward to a good game.

In addition to football, the Coeds have been preparing for their upcoming basketball game against Ursinus. The Coeds are confident that they will be able to win both games.

Mules Hand Bears
Stinging 41-0 Loss
In Conference Tilt

The Mules were defeated by Ursinus for the second time this season, losing 41-0. The Bears dominated the game, scoring early and often.

The Bears' defense held the Mules to just 102 yards of offense, allowing only one touchdown. The Mules' offense struggled throughout the game, failing to score points.

Despite the loss, the Mules' coaching staff is confident that they will be able to turn things around in the coming weeks.

Gettysburg on Saturday, Ahh, Meanwhile John quickly prettied up his newspaper with a thorough tongue-lashing at theGettysburg on Saturday, Ahh, Meanwhile John quickly prettied up his newspaper with a thorough tongue-lashing at the...
PRACTICE TEACHERS

(Continued from page 4)

er by the same malady in striving to remain awake long enough to attend.

The bleary-eyed student that grapples his way toward Bomberger at 7:29 a.m. on a foggy morning is, no doubt, headed for the 7:30 a.m. to 9:00 a.m. meeting of the methods course in the teaching of social studies. English group students fare no better. It is they who slumped dejectedly into their chairs at dinner and stubbornly retain their taciturnity throughout the meal with the exception of uttering the brief statement, "Praise the Lord, and pass the Pricknourishment!" That 4:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. methods course in English usually for another week. You know, we were almost locked in the building.

Blankety Blanks

All practice teachers at Ursinus must obtain one hundred and eighty hours of classroom experience, including both observation and actual teaching. For each of these hours, a blank, sometimes more, must be properly filled in and handed to the proper authority. All blanks are provided by the College free of charge, but to handle this voluminous clerical work, the College does not include office secretaries.

In filling out each observation report, the practice teacher must struggle with things as pupil responses and attitudes, general aim, specific aim, approach, organization of material, motivation, subject matter, teacher's technique, sensory-motor learning, associative learning, perceptual learning, problem solving, appreciation and attitudes, individual social development, and so on into the night. When it comes to actual teaching, a copy of the lesson plans for each class period is required by the College and by the high school.

An Apple for the Teacher

While spending an average of fifteen hours a week at the school to which the College has assigned him, the student teacher is considered as a member of its faculty, sharing its regulations, and its tribulations. During the term the student is actually engaged in teaching, he is observed in action by his training teacher, a professor from the department of education at Ursinus, and perhaps, by the principal of the school.

It is at these times when the classroom door swings open to admit a critical observer, that the practice teacher must remove the chewing gum from his mouth, and put it where it will probably do more good—between his knees.

These are the times that try men's souls, when student teachers wonder if after their first class the pupils will give them an apple, or just plain "raspberries."

The Sixty-Four Dollar Questions

What the pupils think of their practice teacher is easy to determine—just question the kiddies. What the practice teachers think of their pupils, however, it is practically impossible to discover. Teachers' ethics, again, is the powerful limiting factor. To try to learn how the student teacher himself classroom secrets is more difficult than to keep out of the draft, and that, friends, is militarily impossible.

The Weekly, however, despite all ethics and restrictions, has made one great discovery. At long last we have discovered what causes teachers' hair to turn gray. The answer of fear being called upon to answer the sixty-four-dollar question. An example? Sure! Is artificial the answer of benefit? Is a blackmail case one involving a Negro? You spell people "Cre-w-S-i-n-g." Is that right? Not the right spelling—hey, these kids want to know too much.

THE COLLEGE DINER

Best Quality Food -- Courteous Service
Sandwiches & Dinners
111 Main Street

THE COLLEGE DINNER WELCOME THE STUDENT BODY

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

BUT U. S. STAMPS AND WAR BONDS