accept the truth wherever found. Do right for the sake of right.

The Junior Order of American Me­

PeppeR With AdavtiCes.

The Compleat Yankee. A pocket-­

Accent the truth wherever you find it. Do right for the sake of right.

The Junior Order of American Me­

defilement of every charm, and pomp of autumn; earth with its man­ gathering, and Mr. Lawley seemed to everywhere." The song of the bird, I home without misadventure, and I de­ hallowed and elevated enjoyment. * * * feeling that blends with our convivial­

Of all the old festivals, however) come in such dreadful weather, and, to

Tuesday, Dec. 28, 1895.

Consistency is the chief characteristic of the straight and narrow path. The man who has always walked in the straight and narrow path is not likely to take a wrong turn. But the man who has walked in the straight and narrow path is not likely to take a wrong turn.

The President draws attention to the country and evoked very favorable comment. He said that the country was in a very healthy condition and that it was to be hoped that it would continue to be so.

The President also spoke of the gold reserve and the need for its maintenance. He said that the gold reserve was a national asset and that it should be preserved for the benefit of future generations.

The President then turned to the subject of financial matters and spoke of the need for a proper balance in the budget. He said that the country was in a sound financial condition and that it was to be hoped that this condition would be maintained.

The President then turned to the subject of the gold reserve and the need for its maintenance. He said that the gold reserve was a national asset and that it should be preserved for the benefit of future generations.

The President also spoke of the need for a proper balance in the budget. He said that the country was in a sound financial condition and that it was to be hoped that this condition would be maintained.

The President then turned to the subject of financial matters and spoke of the need for a proper balance in the budget. He said that the country was in a sound financial condition and that it was to be hoped that this condition would be maintained.

The President also spoke of the need for a proper balance in the budget. He said that the country was in a sound financial condition and that it was to be hoped that this condition would be maintained.

The President then turned to the subject of financial matters and spoke of the need for a proper balance in the budget. He said that the country was in a sound financial condition and that it was to be hoped that this condition would be maintained.
TERMS: $1.25 PER YEAR IN ADVANCE

COUNTY COMMISSIONER SAMUEL K.

THEODORE KOLOWSKI, 87, student at Hahnmuehle College, Philadelphia, will make his first public appearance on the afternoon of December 29, with addresses fitting the occasion. The public is invited to attend.

Thursday, December 26, 1895.

Lataw's Hall, Royersford, on Saturday, December 29, at 9 o'clock, A.M.; preaching at 10 A.M.

A Christmas Cantata, "Santa Convergence," will be presented by the Pottstown High School, Sunday, December 30, at 7:30 P.M.

May the festivities of the season extend to the whole community. May peace and prosperity be theirs until next year.

The Education Hint Pays.

A Narrow Escape.

The Education Hint Pays.

FATAL ACCIDENT TO A FARMER.

A bird was shot by J. Douglas, in play, near the barn, and was shot with an arrow, but was not killed. The arrow passed through the bird, but did not penetrate the body. The bird was not immediately killed, but was shot with a second arrow, which passed through the body and killed the bird.

FATAL RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

A final result was obtained in the railroad accident that occurred at the depot in Philadelphia, Wednesday, December 26, in which, it is reported, a man was killed and several others were injured. The man was at the depot when the train approached, and was struck by the train, and was killed instantly. The others were injured, but are expected to recover.

A Final Result.

The trial in the case of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company vs. the estate of Mr. J. D. Douglas, which was held in the Circuit Court, Philadelphia, Wednesday, December 26, was concluded, and the verdict of the jury was rendered in favor of the railroad company.

A Final Result.

The trial in the case of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company vs. the estate of Mr. J. D. Douglas, which was held in the Circuit Court, Philadelphia, Wednesday, December 26, was concluded, and the verdict of the jury was rendered in favor of the railroad company.

A Final Result.

The trial in the case of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company vs. the estate of Mr. J. D. Douglas, which was held in the Circuit Court, Philadelphia, Wednesday, December 26, was concluded, and the verdict of the jury was rendered in favor of the railroad company.

A Final Result.
Department of Agriculture.

KEEPING ACCOUNTS WITH THE FARM.

For many, it’s a time of year that’s especially busy. If you’ve been keeping track of your farm’s expenses and income, you may be wondering how to ensure your records are accurate and up-to-date. This is where keeping accurate accounts comes into play.

When it comes to keeping accounts, there are several key steps you can take to ensure you’re on the right track. First, make sure you’re tracking all of your expenses, including the cost of labor, supplies, and equipment. It’s also important to keep track of your income, such as sales from produce or livestock.

Once you have a clear picture of your expenses and income, you can use this information to make informed decisions about your farm’s future. You can also use your accounts to help you plan for any potential challenges or opportunities that may arise.

In addition to tracking your expenses and income, you may want to consider setting up a budget for your farm. This will help you stay on top of your finances and ensure you’re making the best possible use of your resources.

Finally, it’s important to keep your accounts organized and up-to-date. This will make it easier for you to access your records when you need them, whether you’re planning for the future or dealing with unexpected challenges.

In conclusion, keeping accurate accounts is a crucial part of running a successful farm. By taking the time to track your expenses and income, you’ll be better equipped to make informed decisions and ensure your farm’s long-term success.

---

Barns.

Barns are a common sight on farms across the country. They serve as a place for storing crops, equipment, and animals. However, the design and construction of a barn can vary greatly depending on the needs of the farm and the region.

For example, in some areas, barns are designed to be used as a shelter for livestock. In other cases, barns may be used as a place to store machinery or produce. The size of a barn can also vary greatly, from small structures to massive complexes that can accommodate hundreds of animals.

In addition to their practical uses, barns can also serve as a focal point for social and cultural events. In many communities, barns are used for community gatherings, such as festivals or weddings.

Overall, barns play an important role in the functioning of farms and the communities they serve. Whether they’re used for storage, shelter, or as a place for social events, these structures are an essential part of the rural landscape.

---

Men’s Overcoats.

If you have a winter Overcoat of any kind friend will like this advertisement... you will find no better way of increasing your comfort than by choosing a men’s overcoat from McCook and Sons. We have a large stock of high-quality overcoats, available in a variety of styles and colors to suit any taste.

Whether you’re looking for a classic wool overcoat or a modern, wind-resistant nylon jacket, McCook and Sons has something for you. Our overcoats are made with the finest materials and feature the latest in design and technology to keep you warm and dry in even the coldest weather.

Stop in today to see our selection and find the perfect overcoat for your needs. And remember, with McCook and Sons, you’ll always look your best and stay comfortable.

---

The Keeley Cure.

The Keeley Cure is a treatment for various ailments, including colds, fevers, and other respiratory conditions. It involves the use of a mixture of arsenic compounds to stimulate the body’s natural healing processes.

While the Keeley Cure was once widely used and considered effective, modern medical research has shown that the use of arsenic can be hazardous and may even be toxic in some cases. As a result, the use of the Keeley Cure is now discouraged and may be illegal in some jurisdictions.

If you or someone you know is suffering from a respiratory condition and are considering the Keeley Cure, it is important to speak with a qualified healthcare professional to discuss the risks and benefits of this treatment.

---

A Successful Concern.

A Successful Concern is a term used to describe a business or organization that is thriving and attracting a lot of attention. It’s often used in a positive sense to describe a company or startup that is making progress and achieving its goals.

A Successful Concern can take many forms, from a small business selling handmade crafts to a large corporation with a global presence. What they all have in common is a commitment to innovation, hard work, and a dedication to serving their customers.

Whether you’re starting a new business or looking to invest in an existing one, it’s important to do your research and make an informed decision. With the right approach and a bit of luck, you too can be the owner of a Successful Concern.