The House started the ball in the main discussions which preceded the action of the Senate. The Senate, by a majority of 12, passed the bill on second reading, expressing the policy of the government as to the question of the price of the military dollar. The debate on the question of the price of the military dollar will be resumed in the Senate this afternoon. The Senate also passed the bill providing for the admission of the Northwest Territory to the Union on an equal footing with the states now forming the United States. The bill was passed by a vote of 22 to 19, the majority of the majority voting for the bill. The bill was finally passed by the Senate on the second reading.
