Alumni to Honor Dr. James Anderson

Testimonial Dinner to Senior Board Member Planned by Phila. Asso.

ELECTED DIRECTOR IN 1894

Dr. James M. Anders, senior member of the faculty of the College, will be the guest speaker at the testimonial dinner of the Board of Directors, which will be held Thursday evening, April 25.

Dr. Anders, who has been associated with the College and the University of Pennsylvania since 1921, was elected professor of medicine in the Medico-Chirurgical College, serving until that institution merged with Jefferson Medical College in 1926. He has been associated with the American College of Physicians, president of the Board of Directors of the Penna. Tuberculosis Association at a testimonial banquet, and a member of the History-Social Science Group, the Ursinus Drama Group, and various campus activities.

Dr. Anders, who is from New York City, has been an Ursinus professor of medicine for two years, was selected to lead the U.S. delegation to the South American Medical Congress in 1936, and was elected president of the High School League for seven years. Last season, Dr. Anders served as one of the members of the History-Social Science Group, the Ursinus Drama Group, and various campus activities.

SPEAKER IS A STATISTICIAN

Dr. Frank Crag, a member of the research division of the Social Security Board in Washington, D.C., closed the Ursinus Forum season yesterday with an address on the coming depression, in which he predicted another depression as severe as the present one within the next ten years.

Dr. Crag, speaking in his opinion, has forecasted an increase in the unemployment statistics and that the economic situation will continue to be unstable.

UJOURNAL PLAY TRYOUTS

Tryouts for the junior play, "The Late Christopher Bean," will be held tonight at 7:30 in the West Music Studio. Books for those students who have not partaken in the play are available in the library during this week.

In different proceeding from previous plays, no one person will be cast for more than two parts. By this method of casting, the complete mastery of the roles will be imparted to the entire cast. The director, Ed S. Bibb, will conduct the tryouts.

Ursinus Officers in New York

Dr. Russel D. Paine, president of the College, will be the guest of a group of officers of the Ursinus Student Body in New York City this week. Dr. Paine, who is attending the annual meeting of the National Education Association in New York, will be joined by Dr. J. C. Burdan, provost, and Dr. E. L. Brown, registrar.

Guest Author Wanted

As a final appeal under the old system, some of our high ideals, with grudging thoughts against it. As written this column. All copies we are handed to the editor by Friday. The names of these articles will not be revealed. Here’s hoping the guidance of the board.

This is not a regular Gaff item. As the editor of the Independent, I am writing to request some guest authors for the paper. Due to the increasing demand for diverse perspectives, it is crucial to include more voices in our publication. The purpose is to encourage open dialogue and foster a better understanding of various viewpoints.

If you are interested in contributing, please send a brief introduction and a sample of your writing to the editor via email (independent@ursinus.edu). We look forward to hearing from you!

New Sports Editor

H. Thomas Gallagher

H. Thomas Gallagher has been appointed as the new sports editor for the Ursinus Weekly. As a seasoned journalist with experience in sports coverage, he brings a fresh perspective to the role. His focus will be on providing in-depth analysis and engaging stories that captivate readers' interest.

The Historical Context

As the sports editor, it is important to remember the rich history of sports at Ursinus College. From the early days of intramural sports to the establishment of intercollegiate athletics, the college has been a hub for athletic excellence. The new editor will have the opportunity to build upon this legacy, highlighting the achievements of both current and past student-athletes.

Conclusion

We are excited to see what the new sports editor will bring to the Ursinus Weekly. Through his writing, we hope to bring a renewed sense of engagement to our readership. We look forward to the innovative ideas and compelling stories he will share in the upcoming issues.
The Mail Box

To the Editor:

Every so often the subject of R.O.T.C. is brought up in the conversations carried on by the students of Ursinus. I, for one, am glad in that conversation only will R.O.T.C. be made college expenses less. I wonder whether the expense is less in the end when it is added to taxes for war. Military training has also been called a guarantee for a position in the back lines as an officer in the army. I wonder however, what the R.O.T.C. adherents will be this fortunate, thereby saving themselves from the possibility of being drawn apart together with their less fortunate buddies.

Ursinus is a Reformed Church college and therefore stands for peace. R.O.T.C. by no means fit our philosophy. It is one of those plans whereby the nation is trying to convince the people that it wants peace—by military means. Every student knows where the countries of the world are with their peace by armament” scheme. It’s peace—a peaceful Hell.

Why can’t we as intelligent students see the folly in the support of R.O.T.C. or anything like it? Why can’t we turn our thoughts to a more profitable subject? We speak about all our military organizations as if they were here to stay; but do we ever think about having peace organizations to show peace? Does anyone remember the peace congresses to do so, for the privilege is

Ursinus Good Debaters Meet Three Opponents on Road Trip

Three colleges were met by the Ursinus coeds on their debate trip through central Pennsylvania and Maryland. The teams debated negatively on the question: “Resolved, that Congress should be empowered to override, by a two-thirds vote, decisions declaring acts of Congress unconstitutional.”

At Western Maryland last Monday Sally Ennis ’37, and Mildred Olp ’37, upheld the negative, and Nancy Pugh ’39, and Janet Snyder 38, took the floor against Gettysburg the next afternoon. On Tuesday evening, Miss Ennis and Miss Pugh engaged the Shippensburg State Teachers’ College team.

Miss N. B. Deatrick accompanied the debaters on the tour.

65 Students See Hedgerow Players in "Twelfth Night"

A group of 65 students and professors visited the Spring City High School on Wednesday evening, March 11, to witness the performance of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," presented by the Hedgerow players. The program was sponsored by the Junior class of Spring City High School.

The Hedgerow players from Rose Valley, near Media, are considered the best little theater company in this part of the country. Under the direction of Jasper Docter they have grown for themselves a deserved reputation. They have appeared in four throughout the United States during the present year.

The trip to Spring City was made possible by Dr. Norman E. McClure and Dr. Calvin Yost, Jr.

REGISTRANT SHEEDER ATTENDS NORRISTOWN COLLEGE NIGHT

Prof. Franklin E. Sheeder, college registrar, represented Ursinus at the College Night program held in the Norristown High School, Friday evening, March 23. A series of enlarged pictures made from photographs taken of the campus last fall attracted a great deal of attention. Literature descriptive of the college was on display and a number of prospective students were interviewed.

Prof. Sheeder will attend a similar meeting in the high school at Salem, N. J., on Tuesday, April 7.

Battery Candidates Report for Practice

Trumbore, Beyer, Gaumer Work Out for Mound Job

Catching Position is Open

With the winter season over, the annual A. J. Madaleny Athlete's Dinner and Concert was eagerly awaiting the spring sports. Coach Johnson has already called out his battery candidates to limber up some arms and has gotten a good response.

Jing has a nucleus of twelve senior players to work with. Only three members of last year's varsity graduates are present. Coach Johnson expects the catchphrase department to be his biggest headache. In addition to figuring out where to put them, Johnson will be missed in the cleanup position as well as on the mound.

Captain Trumbore and Beyer, both southpaws, will carry the pitching burden, aided by Alfie Gaumer, last year's reserve right hander.

It is too early in the season to predict this year's prospects, although Jing expects to have a team equal to, if not better than, last year's team. That team won six and lost five and finished in a tie with Gettysburg for second place in the league, only one-half game behind Lebanon Valley.

Outdoor practice will start as soon as temperatures permit. The Grizzlies play their first game against Lebanon Valley on April 7.

At present the following are going their arms into shape to take the mound. If need be, Beyer, Gaumer, Zoll, Brown, Geppert, Klink, and Edwall will be available.

DERR HALL COLLEGIALS WIN TWO EXTRA-MURAL CONTESTS

Phoenixville, Pottstown Teams Fall Before Inter-dorm Champs

Derr Hall's basketball team continued their extra-mural competition Monday evening when they met and defeated Company L of the National Guard at Phoenixville by a count of 36-34.

The Derr Collegians plied up on their team and were ahead by only two points at the half. Then the Rec halls rallied to lead by eight points. The final whistle found the Derr team in front by a two point margin.

Clague Discusses Social Security at Final Open Forum

Clague continued by saying that if the problem of social security is to be attacked it must be done by the community. He termed the Townsend plan for old-age security "a crazy scheme" but added that "no one can lose sight of the drive back of that plan.

Concerning the Social Security Bill, providing for unemployment insurance, old-age pensions, and for the education of people over 30 years of age, so that their productive capacity might not be curtailed 30 years before, they are rendered physically unable to work.

Dr. Clague pointed out that the important Committee on Government and Employment in the United States has been appointed to investigate methods for the education of people over 30 years of age, so that their productive capacity might not be curtailed 30 years before they are rendered physically unable to work.
