The Ursinus Weekly, September 17, 1934

George Leslie Omwake
Ursinus College

Jesse Heiges
Ursinus College

Follow this and additional works at: https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly

Part of the Cultural History Commons, Higher Education Commons, Liberal Studies Commons, Social History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Click here to let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation
Omwake, George Leslie and Heiges, Jesse, "The Ursinus Weekly, September 17, 1934" (1934). Ursinus Weekly Newspaper. 965.
https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/weekly/965

This Book is brought to you for free and open access by the Newspapers at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. It has been accepted for inclusion in Ursinus Weekly Newspaper by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. For more information, please contact aprock@ursinus.edu.
Dr. H. T. Spangler

Dr. H. T. Spangler, president of Ursinus from 1903 to 1904 and a member of the faculty for more than 50 years, died on September 5, 1934.

Dr. Spangler was born at Myerstown, Pa., on November 14, 1856. He entered the Collegeville Seminary at this time and graduated in September 5, 1934. His early education was given in the public schools and at the Reformed Church at his home near Hanover, Pa., where he was graduated in three years before entering the seminary at the age of twenty-four.

Dr. Spangler's first service in the Church was at the Collegeville Seminary, where he was ordained as a deacon of the Reformed Church in 1883. He then entered the Thielological Seminary at the age of twenty-four, where he was graduated in three years before entering the seminary at the age of twenty-four.

During the more than two decades following this appointment, Dr. Spangler, on July 6, 1893, elected Henry T. Vomacka to the position of assistant to the president, took a trip to the World's Fair, and visited Lord Mayor at his home near Hanover, Pa., where he was graduated in three years before entering the seminary at the age of twenty-four.

Dr. Spangler's first service in the Church was at the Collegeville Seminary, where he was ordained as a deacon of the Reformed Church in 1883. He then entered the Thielological Seminary at the age of twenty-four, where he was graduated in three years before entering the seminary at the age of twenty-four.

Dr. Spangler's first service in the Church was at the Collegeville Seminary, where he was ordained as a deacon of the Reformed Church in 1883. He then entered the Thielological Seminary at the age of twenty-four, where he was graduated in three years before entering the seminary at the age of twenty-four.

During the more than two decades following this appointment, Dr. Spangler, on July 6, 1893, elected Henry T. Vomacka to the position of assistant to the president, took a trip to the World's Fair, and visited Lord Mayor at his home near Hanover, Pa., where he was graduated in three years before entering the seminary at the age of twenty-four.

Dr. Spangler's first service in the Church was at the Collegeville Seminary, where he was ordained as a deacon of the Reformed Church in 1883. He then entered the Thielological Seminary at the age of twenty-four, where he was graduated in three years before entering the seminary at the age of twenty-four.

Dr. Spangler's first service in the Church was at the Collegeville Seminary, where he was ordained as a deacon of the Reformed Church in 1883. He then entered the Thielological Seminary at the age of twenty-four, where he was graduated in three years before entering the seminary at the age of twenty-four.

During the more than two decades following this appointment, Dr. Spangler, on July 6, 1893, elected Henry T. Vomacka to the position of assistant to the president, took a trip to the World's Fair, and visited Lord Mayor at his home near Hanover, Pa., where he was graduated in three years before entering the seminary at the age of twenty-four.
EDITOR OF THIS ISSUE: ANNA D. GRIMM 75

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 17, 1934

Editorial Comment

WELCOME FREEMEN!
The Weekly congratulates you on your admittance to Ursinus College in the class of '38, and most heartily and cordially welcomes you to all the next four years that will hold for you.
The value of these four years will depend largely upon the foundation which you lay during these four years; and upon the effort you make to build upon that foundation during the next few weeks. It is then that you must make choices that shall determine all your future steps. Fortunately for you, it is no longer true that a freshman is likely to go with you all through life to help you or hinder you. College life is full of problems that must be met and solved. You are all at the beginning of your real life. Your goal must look out for himself and take what comes. You have liberty to fall or rise. You are free to choose the good or the bad. The responsibility lies in your life lies in your choice.

You are free, that you wish to acquire self-control, reason, and character. You want to understand what you wish to go to college to be able to thing more and to know more about your real-ity. You are here to learn the value of morals; to acquire the art of study; to establish habits of promptness, accuracy and thoroughness. Nothing but your own place counts.

The services of trained and devoted professors; the fellowship of hundreds of alumni and fellow-students; the name of Ursinus, the tradition and history of your alma mater; the varied work of study and social life among yourselves— all are yours on the single condition that you use them for your own good. Here is your opportunity!

A SCHOLAR AND A GENTLEMAN

The high regard in which Ursinus students have always held Dr. Homer Smith was manifested early in his thirty-one years of service. The 1909 edition of the Alumni Register states: "Among its alumni of known interest in the welfare of the College, his scholarly attainments in the department of his choice, and his general culture, all make Professor Smith most attractive and acceptable.

Even though Dr. Smith worked under a physical handicap in his classes during his last few years, his courses continued to be much sought after by students. The Weekly offers our sympathy to his passing, since Dr. Smith was a member of the governing board of the college.

His appreciation of beauty wherever found, but especially in music and nature, is not to be minimized. The service of trained and devoted professors; the fellowship of hundreds of alumni and fellow-students; the name of Ursinus, the tradition and history of your alma mater; the varied work of study and social life among yourselves—all are yours on the single condition that you use them for your own good. Here is your opportunity!

ALUMNI NOTES

"22—On August 8 the engagement of Miss Harold E. Lentz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Lentz, Norristown, Pa., to Rev. John Myers, of Philadelphia, was announced. Mr. Lentz has for several years been a teacher of English in the Eichhorn­ er High School in Philadelphia, and is the son of the late John Lentz, who was the first president of the Ursinus Woman's Club.

26—On August 18, 1934, Miss Mary A. B. Coburn, of Haddonfield, N. J., was married to Mr. Macdonald R. Logan, of Philadelphia, by the Rev. Dr. Paul S. Siebert, of the Sunny Oil Company at Somerville, N. J., where the marriage of her mother Miss Coburn was a teacher in the Easton School. Miss Coburn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Coburn, of Philadelphia, and is a graduate of Ursinus College in 1929. She and Mr. Logan will go to Rev. Edwin Cunning's Philadelph, to reside.

33—The marriage of William M. Steele, Jr., of Potomac, Pa., to Miss Elma G. Landes, of Huntingdon, Pa., on September 4, 1934, at Westfield, N. J., was announced.

35—Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hummel, of Marble, Pennsylvania, announced the marriage of their daughter Ruth rose to Mr. David Thomas Burhans, of Reading, Pa., on June 30, 1934.

37—Mr. and Mrs. Evie L. Light­ ner, of York, Pennsylvania, announced the marriage of their daughter Rose to Donald Basley in June. Mr. and Mrs. Shelly left soon after their marriage for a trip abroad. Mr. Shelly has been awarded a scholarship by the University of Maryland for study of art.

27—On August 6 Margaret E. Jewett, of Norristown, Pa., was married to Kenneth A. Fink, of Philadelphia, N. J. Miss Jewett was connected with Elkhorn and Renwick Schools in Philadelphia, and Mr. Fink has received his master's degree at New York University and is a member of the faculty of the high school at North Philadelphia, N. J.

29—Ex 29 ex '29—H. Godbold, ex 72, of Collegeville, Pa., married Miss Marguerite Godbold, ex '28, of Collegeville, Pa., to Miss Ezell B. Allen, of Highland, Md., on July 14, 1934, at Westfield, N. J. Miss Ezell was a teacher in the Easton School. Miss Ezell, before her marriage, was impressed by her wife and profound knowledge of many fields of study. In the death of Dr. Smith, Ursinus loses the service of a most able scholar and the presence of a gentleman of true scholarship.

The Friend!...
How Refreshing!

The clean Center Leaves—these are the mildest leaves. They Cost More.

Lucy's

The world's finest tobaccos are used in Lucky— the "Cream of the Crop"—only the clean center leaves— for the clean center leaves are the mildest leaves—they cost more—they taste better.

"It's toasted"

✓ Your throat protection—against irritation—against cough.