GIFFORD PINCHOT'S PLAN.

Gifford Pinchot has issued a statement embodying a plan for a public forum, or, an "industrial clearing house in Pennsylvania. The main feature of the plan is to encourage open discussion respecting all matters which cause unrest among the people. In elucidating what he has in mind Mr. Pinchot says:

We cannot blind ourselves to the present menace of unrest. Even though we agree that Bolshevism has small chance to survive in America, we cannot forget that it is here. Bolshevism levels downward and uses murder to accomplish its purposes. Privilege levels down the many for the profit of the few, and uses cunning to accomplish its purposes. Democracy levels upward, and uses open discussion as its means of protection and as its means of progress. Such discussion can do no harm and may do much good ... Merely as a suggestion, the Legislature might be asked to authorize a Board or Commission or Forum consisting of fifteen members to be appointed by the Governor. Three of the members might be recommended by the State Federation of Labor, three by the State Grange, three by the State Chamber of Commerce, three by an impartial body like the Academy of Political and Social Science, and three by the Governor as representing the consuming public. The number of members suggested, and the suggested division of that number among the various interests, are both purely tentative, and are intended as an illustration and nothing more. At the worst, open discussion by such a Forum could do no harm. At the best, by compelling clear statements of opposing points of view and getting them before the whole people of the State, it might avoid threatening difficulties, settle actual conflicts, remove misunderstandings, and be the means of saving the Commonwealth from the loss of many millions in money, perhaps from loss of life, and surely from at least a part of the untold injury to our people which goes with industrial disturbance, class discontent, unsettled business conditions, disorder and general apprehension.

A commission or forum, as Mr. Pinchot suggests, would doubtless be productive of some general good. It would encourage free and open discussion and tend to create coherency of public opinion with relation to the causes of unrest and social disturbance and the best remedies to be applied. The plan is worth a trial. Anything that will stimulate the interchange of opinions, frankly and freely expressed, should always and everywhere be encouraged.

THE KNOX RESOLUTION.

The Philadelphia Record says:

The resolution and preamble offered by Senator Knox occupy considerable space, but the only part that is of any importance is a few lines: "The treaty-making power of the United States has no. authority to make a treaty which in effect amends the Constitution of the United States.'

In the language of medical prescriptions, there is a great deal of vehicle and a very little of the active principle.

The charge that the covenant of the League or Nations violates the Constitution has been made since the fight against it opened. It is the only plausible objection to the league. The other objections have not even the merit of looking as if they meant something. Mr. Taft, Mr. Wickersham, and several other eminent Republican lawyers have expressed the conviction that the covenant does not violate the Constitution.

The league proposed by Mr. Knox himself last winter would have been just as unconstitutional as the one now illicitly before the Senate. The leagues projected by Mr. Roosevelt and by Senator Lodge are just as open to the charge of unconstitutionality as the one which originated in Paris.

Congress has the Constitutional power to declare war, and yet we have many arbitration treaties in which that power is waived, and the Senate has assented to a compact under which a dispute between this country and another shall be referred to arbitration instead of being settled by force. If the League of Nations violates the Constitution, every arbitration treaty is invalid.

If there is anything in the Constitution prohibiting the United States from being a party to a peace compact that gives reasonably good promise of preventing another world war, Senator Knox has not discovered it. He would not be claiming to have made such discovery if President Wilson belonged to the Republican party. The Senator has an established reputation as a promulgator of contradictory constitutional interpretations.

PARTISAN SENATORS—NOT STATESMEN.

The partisan efforts of a number of Republican U. S. Senators are more in harmony with public sentiment in Berlin than in harmony with the opinions of their fellow countrymen. Count Bernstorf should invite them to visit Germany and fraternize with him. The Public Ledger is right in noting that "the Senate leadership is doing its best to make the honor of the nation in international affairs a party issue. They have done their best to destroy whatever influence the President has in Paris because, forsooth, he is a Democrat." What a spectacle! Leaders of the highest legislative tribunal of the nation playing party politics instead of raising themselves to the heights of real American statesmanship! The Senate is using time that should be devoted to needful work in denouncing the League of Nations—in denouncing the only promising plan thus far devised to prevent another world war; to prevent the drenching of the earth with human blood. Shame upon the Senators who would make capital for their political party by affording encouragement to the autocrats of Germany!

A DISPATCH from Washington says that President Wilson, facing a divided Senate, has decided to carry his fight for ratification of the League of Nations covenant directly to the people in a country-wide speaking tour, immediately upon his return from Paris. This will be welcome news to the people of the United States. They will give very close attention to what their President shall have to say about the League of Nations and the terms of peace in general. After all the horrors of the world war they will be found ready to stand by President Wilson and endorse the position he has takenthe position that he will successfully maintain. The Senators of the United States are not as yet as powerful as the people, whose interests they are misrepresenting.

It is not surprising that Republicans gifted with politica settled. And again it is the same with sense are alarmed on account of the belligerency of some of the life. Men of judgment treat accidentals for what they are worth. But they Western noisemakers of their party. The New York Tribune is aim to keep life to its regular course. right in saying that "there is danger in such extreme opposition as Some lives are ruined by a love for the exceptional. They seem to be unthat voiced by the radicals of the Republican majority in the Senate, able to follow the necessary routine of Senator Johnson and Senator Borah," and that "the purpose of the Republican majority must plainly be quite the reverse." If the Republicans want to make sure of losing their control of the Senate, let them encourage Borah, Johnson, and others to keep up their men by meeting daily needs with the let them encourage Borah, Johnson, and others, to keep up their best that's in him. opposition to the adoption of the League of Nations.

From the Rochester Herald: "Germany much encouraged by unrest in Washington," says a headline. That's the reason there is a duel between a motorcar and a lionunrest in Washington. The G. O. P. has got to have the pro- ess. The affair, it says, happened at German vote next year.

NEW TELEPHONE RATES

LOCAL SERVICE RATES

The costs of telephone operation have been rising steadily during the past few years. And now, despite the fact that every possible economy has been introduced, a point has been reached where telephone revenues in Pennsylvania are not sufficient to meet expenses and to provide a reasonable return upon the investment. The situation compels an increase in telephone revenues.

The Company prepared and submitted to the United States Telegraph and Telephone Administration a revised schedule of rates for local service in Pennsylvania which, after careful consideration, was approved by the Federal Authorities and will become effective June 16, 1919.

Accordingly, all rates for local exchange service in Pennsylvania (except local messages originating at public telephones) will be increased 20% June 16, 1919.

TOLL SERVICE RATES

On January 21, 1919, new schedules of toll and long distance rates were established throughout the country by order of the Postmaster General. The application of these schedules to messages originating and terminating within Pennsylvania was set aside on January 29, 1919, by order of a Pennsylvania Court.

The Supreme Court of the United States, on June 2, confirmed the authority of the Postmaster General to regulate all telephone rates. Consequently, the Pennsylvania Court on June 11, 1919, dissolved its injunction of January 29, 1919.

The new rates, therefore, will be applied to all toll and long distance messages from and after May 21, 1919, the beginning of the current toll billing period. All telephone directories issued since January 1 contain the new schedules and an explanation of them. Please consult the front pages of your directory, so that you may be familiar with the various classes of toll service that we offer.

(Copyright, 1919, by the McClure News-paper Syndicate.)

The night clerk at the Barclay house was sleepy that night. It was about 11:50 when the boat train got in, and the bus met it on time, more from habit and precedent than any actual gain in patronage.

Few guests ever wandered to the island after the first spring rush up the river. A rambling tramp steamer from Seattle or Vancouver would sometimes bring a few belated passengers up, who, finding themselves marooned at Barclay's, with no chance of getting any farther up the river, would take the next steamer down.

But tonight there was an expected guest. Reservations had even been made for her, special privileges requested, and a new fire built in the little low-ceiled north room next the office. And on the old canvas-bound registry was written in a bold, splashy hand: "Craig Fallon and wife." Fallon had arrived on the river boat the day before, a big good-looking youngster who had spent the past two years up around Nome, and had finally taken a steady position, he told Jimmy, the clerk, with a trading company. "Soon as I was sure I sent for the young lady I'm going to marry," he added confidentially. "Coming way up here from Nebraska. Miss Kendall's her name. Who's the minister here?" "I don't know where you'll find any, unless it was Sandwiches." Jimmy meditated in friendly fashion. "He's got a little shack over the south shore, questioning. There was no mystery about her. She told Jimmy's mother, the landlady, all about herself. She had gone to school with Craig Fallon and they had been sweethearts before he had gone away. She had waited for him to send the corner, where there is for her so they could be married.

"Oughter hev married him before he started out," advised Mrs. Barclay, "Never let them outer your sight. Ain't any stability in any of em, not a one. I had three husbands and I know what I'm talking about. Here you are, stranded dead on this forsaken dab of earth in the middle of nowhere and land knows where he is. # Concerning Toll Service

Under the schedules of toll and long distance telephone rates now applying to messages originating and terminating within Pennsylvania, several classes of service are offered. These classes of service are the same as those which, since January 21, 1919, have been available for messages from points in Pennsylvania to points in other states. The following explanation of the various classes of toll service will aid telephone users in determining the class of service best suited for their needs and will explain the methods of making the several kinds of calls.

The "station to station" rate is the base rate upon which all rates for the various classes of service offered are computed. This rate is determined by the air line distance between toll points and is computed, for the initial period, on the basis of 5c for each 6 miles up to 24 miles and 5c for each 8 miles beyond that distance.

For toll calls where the calling party does not specify a particular person to be reached at the called telephone, "station to station" rates are charged.

For toll calls where the calling party does specify a particular person to be reached at the called telephone and the connection is established and conversation held with that person, "person to person" rates are charged. As this service requires a greater amount of operating effort, the rate for such calls is about one-fourth greater than the "station to station" rate. The minimum "person to person" rate is 20c.

Toll calls involving an appointment to talk at a specified time, or involving the use of messenger service to secure attendance of a designated person at a public telephone at a distant point may be made at rates usually about onehalf greater than the "station to station" rate, plus the cost of messenger service. The minimum rate for such calls is 25c.

For all toll calls other than those made on the "station to station" basis, where connection is established but the conversation is not held because the calling or called party is not present or will not talk, a "report charge" is made, equivalent to about one-fourth of the "station to station" rate. The minimum "report charge" is 10c; maximum $2.00. No Report Charge is made if the call is completed before midnight of the day it is placed.

Night rates applying only to calls made on a "station to station" basis, are quoted between 8.30 P. M. and 4.30 A. M. The rate between 8.30 P. M. and 12 midnight is about one-half the "station to station" day rate and between 12 midnight and 4.30 A. M. about one-fourth the "station to station" day rate. The minimum night rate is 25c.

"Station to station" calls must be made as far as possible by giving the telephone number of the called telephone. When the number is not known and telephone directory information is not available the number should be obtained from "Information," or if the called telephone is at a distant point, the name and addres of the called subscriber should be given to the Toll Operator or to the Long Distance Operator, as the case may be, stating that it is a "station to station" call.

The "station to station" rates are substantially lower than the "person to person" rates. In order that patrons may effect the greatest economy in their charges for toll service, and also maximum speed of connections, they are urged to study their toll service requirements and to make the widest possible use of "station to station" calls.
