

10-11-1923

The Independent, V. 49, Thursday, October 11, 1923, [Whole Number: 2516]

The Independent

Follow this and additional works at: <https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/independent>

Part of the American Politics Commons, Cultural History Commons, Social History Commons, and the United States History Commons

Click here to let us know how access to this document benefits you.

Recommended Citation

Independent, The, "The Independent, V. 49, Thursday, October 11, 1923, [Whole Number: 2516]" (1923). The Independent Newspaper, 1898-1952. 1322.
<https://digitalcommons.ursinus.edu/independent/1322>

This Newspaper is brought to you for free and open access by the Historic Trappe at Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Independent Newspaper, 1898-1952 by an authorized administrator of Digital Commons @ Ursinus College. For more information, please contact aprock@ursinus.edu.

For the Independent. MAKE DREAMS COME TRUE

The world is waiting now to hear from you. Improve the shining hours, make dreams come true.

ABOUT TOWN NOTES

Mrs. Henry Graber spent Saturday in Pottstown.

Miss H. Fields, of New Jersey, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. George F. Clamer and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Robinson and family, of Ardmore, visited Mr. and Mrs. Newton Warner on Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. Homer Smith spent Saturday in Philadelphia.

A number of Collegeville people attended the Harvest Home service at Rivercrest on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown and family spent Sunday at Moorestown, New Jersey.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence McCormick entertained relatives on Sunday.

Mrs. James Jacoby, of Summeryton, is spending the week with Mrs. Horace Kimby.

Master Robert Jones spent the week end in Philadelphia visiting relatives.

Mr. C. A. Fulmer spent Saturday in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. Carey Groff and family, of Perkasie, were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wenhel.

Miss Anna Francis, of Oaks, spent Saturday with Misses Bertha and Mary Francis.

Mrs. Hendricks entertained the "500" club on Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fetterolf, of Allentown, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Goshall.

Mrs. C. E. Fry and Miss Helen Buckwalter were the week end guests of Mrs. Emily Lachman.

Miss Baals, Virginia Glassen and Geneva Anderson spent Saturday at the Harvest Home services at Rivercrest.

Mr. Metz, of Philadelphia, visited his daughter Mrs. Edward Noon for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kratz and Miss Mary Kratz, of Lower Providence, Mr. and Mrs. James Long and daughter, of Norristown, and Mrs. C. B. Quinn, of Thomasville, Georgia, visited Miss Kratz during the past week.

Miss Harriet Miller spent the week end at Swarthmore.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Essig entertained on Sunday: Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Levan and family, of Harrisburg; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Levan, of Reading; Mr. and Mrs. Baker, of Norristown; Mr. and Mrs. Tyson Allebach and family, of Norristown.

Mrs. Brunst and Mr. Arthur Culp, of Linfield, spent Sunday with Mrs. Emma Prider.

Miss Cordelia Tyson, of Schwenksville, visited Mr. and Mrs. Nevin Renninger over the week end.

Miss Mary Granahan spent one day of last week in Philadelphia.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cooper, of Pottstown, were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Renninger.

Miss Eleanor Pugh spent the week end in Rutledge, Pa.

Mrs. Raymond Rutter, of Pottstown, visited her sister, Mrs. George Ullman on Friday.

Prof. and Mrs. R. B. Munson and daughter spent Saturday in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Mary Renninger is visiting friends and relatives in Sassafrasville.

Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Buckwalter and Miss Sarah Buckwalter, of Ironbridge, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Jacob A. Buckwalter.

Mrs. H. Dreyer and Mrs. H. C. Free, of Newark, N. J., Mr. and Mrs. W. Polleman and children Mildred, William and Robert, of Logan; Mr. and Mrs. A. Davis and daughters Georgianna and Bertha and Mr. Milton Price, of Philadelphia, and Mrs. M. Williamson were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Backmire.

Mrs. G. H. Backmire spent several days of last week in Philadelphia.

Mrs. W. C. Price was the guest several days last week, of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Englehart.

FOOTBALL ON PATTERSON FIELD. The Ursinus Reserves will tussle with the football kickers of the West Chester State Normal School, on Patterson field, Ursinus College, next Saturday at 3 p. m. An exciting contest is anticipated. Admission, 50 cents.

THE DEATH ROLL

Wednesday evening of last week Wm. K. Cassel, of Collegeville, died from a stroke of apoplexy while walking home from the residence of his neighbor Elmer Mack. He was in his 75th year. He is survived by his wife and his brother Josiah K. Cassel, of Norristown. In former years Mr. Cassel owned and successfully conducted a large farm (formerly Joshua Zimmerman's) midway between Collegeville and Yerkas. A few years ago he sold the farm to Elmer Mack and retired, having purchased the Geo. W. Zimmerman property near the railroad bridge. The funeral was held on Monday. Funeral services and interment at Mennonite meetinghouse and cemetery, near Yerkas; undertaker C. M. Pool.

Montgomery Smith Longaker died on Thursday at his home, Limerick Centre, aged 81 years. Six children survive. For many years Mr. Longaker was a prominent citizen of Pottstown and one of the foremost Democrats in the upper end of this county. He was elected Burgess of Pottstown in 1875 and served two one-year terms. He represented Montgomery county as a member of the Pennsylvania Assembly for one or two terms, and was postmaster of Pottstown for a period of eight years—1886 to 1894. Some years ago he owned and conducted the hotel at Limerick Centre and later disposed of the same and retired to private life. The funeral was held on Monday. Interment in Pottstown cemetery; undertaker, F. W. Shalkop.

BOY SCOUTS' HALLOWEEN PARTY.

The Boy Scouts of Collegeville will give a Halloween party and dance in Glenwood pavilion, Friday evening, October 19. Prizes will be offered to the most original and comic masqueraders. There will be two classes—boys and adults. Good music by local talent is assured. Cider, pumpkin pies and delicacies in season will be on sale. A good laugh is worth dollars, but the Scouts will admit you for 50 cents per.

TRANSFER OF PROPERTY.

Charles Kuntz has sold and transferred to his son-in-law, H. Ralph Graber, the Collegeville Bakery property, including a double brick house and store room and fixtures, good-will &c. Mr. Kuntz will remain as assistant in the bakery and store, a position which his long experience has enabled him to fill with entire satisfaction. The new owner of the property and to the numerous patrons of the Collegeville bakery and confectionery store.

OFF TO AUSTIN.

Mrs. E. S. Moser left Wednesday evening for Chicago, Illinois. There she will join her daughter Bertha M. Haines and her son-in-law Charles Grove Haines, Ph. D., and proceed to Austin, Texas, with the expectation of remaining there for some weeks to convalesce from the effects of a serious surgical operation, reference to which was made several weeks ago.

LOCAL ORDER OF I. O. O. F.

The local order of Odd Fellows celebrated installation of officers by special ceremonies at a feed in their lodge hall, Collegeville, Saturday night, with a Pottstown order as their guests. The feed consisted of over 900 oysters, served in every style prepared by the Arcadia restaurant.

ELECTION TIES BROKEN BY LOT

There were 168 tie-vote cases decided by lot by the County Commissioners, Friday. As a rule the ties occurred where persons wrote the names of candidates, principally for municipal offices.

ICEMAN'S TRUCK HITS AND UPSETS BUTCHER'S TRUCK.

Saturday morning shortly before 12 o'clock the Reo speedwagon used to deliver ice by Edward Keyser of near Evansburg, the local ice dealer, struck and upset the Ford butcher truck of Wm. H. Bossett, of Schwenksville. The accident occurred just a short distance below Wm. Ogden's hotel at Ironbridge. Miss Bossett, who runs the butcher truck, accompanied by Mr. Grosser the butcher were crossing the road from Ogden's side to the houses on the opposite side and were not quite across when the Reo also going south and traveling at a pretty high rate of speed according to witnesses struck the rear end of the Ford and plowed through it, smashing and otherwise bent from the occupants of the Ford escaped with bruises while the ice dealer, driver of the Reo, and Rader, who was with him, escaped without any injuries. The Reo truck was slightly damaged.

POTATO GROWER STILL AHEAD.

For some years past Clinton Crist has been growing the leading potato grower (in product per acre or fraction thereof) in the Yerkas region of Upper Providence. His crop this year is up to the mark in yield. He estimates that his patch produced at the rate of 300 bushels per acre.

"Can't men talk at a dry banquet?"

"Oh, they can talk, but nobody will listen."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Another infernal triangle consists in an insurance policy, a business reverse and a fire.—San Francisco Chronicle.

People are forever telling poor pa that they can save him some money, but when the final settlement comes he finds that they haven't done it.—Milwaukee Journal.

A WARNING TO PARENTS AND BOYS AND GIRLS.

Here is a warning to parents and the boys and girls of Collegeville and elsewhere: Tuesday noon I rode in an automobile from the Independent office to Fifth avenue. The gentleman at the wheel was operating a car at not more than 15 miles per hour—nearer 12 than 15. Nearly opposite Glenwood avenue a car, coming down Main street, approached. A small boy rushed by the rear of the other car and ran right in front of the car in which I was riding. The movement of the lad was such that he could not be observed until he ran right in front of the car wherein I was seated. Neither my friend at the wheel, nor myself, could see him until he was almost immediately in front of the car. There was just about ten inches between the front wheel of a heavy car and that small boy when he escaped death—when his parents escaped the indescribable anguish of forever parting with a loved one. Had the man at the wheel not been a cool-headed expert in managing a car, had he not succeeded in bringing the car to a very quick stop, the boy would surely have been crushed under a front wheel of the same and retired to private life. The funeral was held on Monday. Interment in Pottstown cemetery; undertaker, F. W. Shalkop.

LONG TIME FOR BRIDGE REPAIRS

An exchange tells of the falling of a sunken span of the bridge at Ironbridge and then observes: "It will be a long time before this bridge can be repaired?" How so? Is the county treasury bankrupt? Are the County Commissioners laid up with rheumatism, gout, or some other disabling ailment? Work upon the wrecked bridge at Ironbridge or the construction of a temporary bridge should be started at once because many people are being much inconvenienced by the closing of a section of a much used avenue for travel. If the work is not promptly started the court should be petitioned to prod the Commissioners in such manner as will arouse them to action!

BIBLE LECTURE, SUNDAY NIGHT.

The public generally is taking a good deal of interest in the agitation in religious circles of fundamentalism versus the liberals. The lecture to be given in St. James' church, Evansburg, Sunday night by the Rev. Dr. Heysham will therefore be of especial significance. He will present the views of modern scholarship and illustrate his talk by means of a chart which he has worked out which makes very plain the sources of our Bible knowledge. The subject is "The Birth of the Bible."

EVANSBURG.

A meeting of greatest interest was held in St. James' parish house, Saturday. The ladies of this parish, together with a delegation from St. Peter's parish, Phoenixville, were addressed by Mrs. Frances Crawford, from the Diocesan headquarters. Mrs. Crawford is an eloquent advocate of mission study and as a result of her visit a class will be formed to meet weekly under the leadership of Deaconess Morris. Further announcements as to date and course of study will be made later.

The men of St. James' church will give an oyster supper in the parish house on Saturday night, October 20. This is no joke. Come and see.

The services at St. James' church on Sunday will be morning prayer and sermon by the rector at 10:30 o'clock; evening services with address by the Rev. Theodore Heysham at 7:30 o'clock. Subject, The Birth of the Bible.

A new sanitary drinking fountain has been placed in the lobby of the Henry K. Boyer school.

Columbus' birthday will be observed at the school tomorrow.

Postponed: The date of the oyster supper to be given by men of St. James' church has been postponed from the 13th to the 20th of October.

SPECIAL DANCE AT GRATERFORD.

A special dance will be given at A. H. Espensh's Riverside pavilion, Graterford, Saturday evening, October 13. The Duffy orchestra, of Phoenixville, will furnish the music. Special entertainment by Mr. J. O. Rousker and Mrs. Sara Quinn, dancers and musical artists.

FOOTBALL AT COLLEGEVILLE HIGH SCHOOL IN FULL SWING

After losing to the Perkasie High eleven in the first game of the season, Collegeville High came back with determined effort to Coach Zimmerman's fighting football team held Swarthmore to one touchdown on Saturday afternoon at Swarthmore. Ursinus put up a stone wall defense and time after time held Swarthmore for downs, several times when within the shadow of the goal posts, but on the offense could do nothing. Time after time Zim's athletes would take the ball on downs from Swarthmore and then because no gain could be made would be forced to kick. This kept the ball in the midfield the greater part of the game with both sides punting frequently. Ecker, the big fullback did the kicking for Ursinus. Swarthmore tried the Ursinus line in the first quarter, but it was probably the one person most responsible for last year's success has graduated and his successor has not as yet been found. Messrs. Frank and Fulmer, have jumped in and are helping the boys to fill the breach in a creditable manner. The men left from last year's squad around whom the nucleus for this year's team are being formed are: In the backfield, Captain Waldo, who is very speedy in running the ends, Garrett, the all around athlete, and Francis who calls the signals and does the forward passing; on the line is Thomas the big guard who forms the backbone of the line, and another stalwart guard, Wismer center and Rushing end. The new men are Carl the big fullback who is the best line plunger on the team, Meng, Smith and Horrocks who are three big husky line players on the line, Smith, Cassel and Bean are another promising trio of line men. Seaward looks like a promising end and is a sure tackler. There is also a large squad of substitutes showing up for practice every night with hardly a day's rest. The team will develop into varsity material later in the season.

Saturday's game again clearly showed the need of a coach for the local lads. Man to man Collegeville played as well as any team in the East. The local lads missed one excellent chance to score when with the ball on the 25 yard line Francis heaved a forward pass to Rushing who had a clear field but the pass was grounded. This was the nearest the home team came to scoring.

Collegeville Offner ... L. E. ... Rushing Gerhart ... L. T. ... Meng Smith ... L. G. ... Horrocks Hartenstam ... C. ... Wismer Rapp ... R. T. ... H. Smith Bauman ... R. E. ... Seaward Blank ... Q. ... Francis Stonaback ... L. H. ... Waldo Hoffman ... R. H. ... Garrett Rutter ... F. B. ... Meng Substitutions: E. Greenville—Fisher for Smith; Collegeville, Cassel for Wismer, Reiff for Smith, C. Bean for Meng.

The remainder of the schedule will include some of the best high school football in this section to Collegeville is found below. All home games will be played on the "Commons." Admission, 35 cents. Come out and give the boys your support at the game this Saturday.

October 13 At Home Home October 19 Conshohocken October 24 Spring City Home November 3 Pottstown Away November 10 Downingtown Home November 24 Sellersville Away

ARCADIA RESTAURANT SCENE OF BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY.

On Tuesday evening a birthday anniversary was held for S. L. Rambo, of Norristown, who is connected with the James Lees and Sons Co., Bridgeport, by his business associates, immediate family and a few friends. The gay party started the merry-making by a toast to Mr. Rambo and then proceeded to stow away a full course roast chicken dinner. The menu consisted of oyster cooking, french oysters, roast chicken and filling, tomatoes, corn, lima beans, celery, fruit, nuts and ice cream. The feature of the dinner was a large birthday cake placed in the center of the table and the best of decorations with 40 candles upon it. After the dinner Mr. Krause turned over the merry-go-round building to the guests who enjoyed several dances to the strains of the carrousel orchestra.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.

The County Superintendent J. Horace Landis, has issued the program, in pamphlet form, of the forthcoming Montgomery County Teachers' Institute, in the High School Building, Norristown, beginning, Monday, October 15, 1923, closing with Friday afternoon, October 19. Many topics of special interest respecting public school work will be presented and discussed. Morning sessions at 9:30. Afternoon sessions at 1:30.

URSINUS HOLDS SWARTHMORE TO 6-0 SCORE

With almost the whole student body, a large number of alumni and nearly one-third of the population of the town to cheer them on, Coach Zimmerman's fighting football team held Swarthmore to one touchdown on Saturday afternoon at Swarthmore. Ursinus put up a stone wall defense and time after time held Swarthmore for downs, several times when within the shadow of the goal posts, but on the offense could do nothing. Time after time Zim's athletes would take the ball on downs from Swarthmore and then because no gain could be made would be forced to kick. This kept the ball in the midfield the greater part of the game with both sides punting frequently. Ecker, the big fullback did the kicking for Ursinus. Swarthmore tried the Ursinus line in the first quarter, but it was probably the one person most responsible for last year's success has graduated and his successor has not as yet been found. Messrs. Frank and Fulmer, have jumped in and are helping the boys to fill the breach in a creditable manner. The men left from last year's squad around whom the nucleus for this year's team are being formed are: In the backfield, Captain Waldo, who is very speedy in running the ends, Garrett, the all around athlete, and Francis who calls the signals and does the forward passing; on the line is Thomas the big guard who forms the backbone of the line, and another stalwart guard, Wismer center and Rushing end. The new men are Carl the big fullback who is the best line plunger on the team, Meng, Smith and Horrocks who are three big husky line players on the line, Smith, Cassel and Bean are another promising trio of line men. Seaward looks like a promising end and is a sure tackler. There is also a large squad of substitutes showing up for practice every night with hardly a day's rest. The team will develop into varsity material later in the season.

THE RELIGIOUS COMPLEXION OF URSINUS

From the registration slips in the Dean's office, it is learned that 269 of the students in College this year are members of some religious body. These are distributed among seven denominations as follows: Congregational, 1; Christian Science, 1; Universalist, 1; Quaker, 1; Moravian, 1; Evangelical, 2; Church of the Brethren, 3; Mennonite, 5; Hebrew, 5; United Evangelical, 6; Roman Catholic, 8; Baptist, 11; Protestant Episcopal, 11; Presbyterian, 21; Methodist Episcopal, 44; Lutheran, 44; Reformed Church in the United States, 103.

The College authorities, are submitting the lists to pastors of nearby churches and inviting them to exercise such pastoral care over the students as they may deem fit as this as may be possible for them to give.

MR. KREKSTEIN UNDER BAIL ON ACCOUNT OF DRUG THEFT

Henry Krekstein upon whose farm, in Lower Providence, $500.00 worth of poisonous drugs were discovered several weeks ago, is now under $2500 bail upon the charge of illegal possession of narcotic drugs. Mr. Krekstein is held to appear when wanted. The warrant for his arrest was furnished by the United States District Attorney's office. He continues to stoutly deny all complicity with or knowledge of the illegal doings of the dope dealers who stored the narcotic drugs, and has expressed his intention to prosecute representatives of the U. S. District-Attorney for false arrest. However, the fact that he is held to appear when wanted may ultimately mean that he will be wanted as a witness and not as one presumed to be a part of the charge preferred against him.

FRIENDLY BOXING BOUT HAD SERIOUS ENDING.

Knocked backward while engaging in a friendly boxing bout, Raymond Brey stumbled over a loose stone in an enclosure in the rear of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad station, Lansdale, Monday, and fell, striking the back of his head. He has concussion of the brain, although his physician says there is a chance for his recovery. Brey is a Lansdale taxi-cab driver. He put on the gloves with Howard Reed, a railroad station employe. "Here's where I get killed," he jokingly remarked to his pals as the engagement started. The pair had not been boxing more than a few seconds when Brey received a light blow on the face and falling, as he stumbled backward struck his head. He was unconscious when rushed to a Lansdale physician in an automobile. Three other bouts were engaged in prior to the one that resulted in the accident. It is the custom of the Lansdale taxi-cab drivers to engage in pastimes between the arrival of trains or calls for taxi service.

HIGH PRICED ANTIQUES.

High prices were realized, at the recent sale of the personal property of the late Anna Miller, Yardley, Bucks county. A few of the articles sold as follows: A grandfather's clock, $355; cherry and mahogany tables with folding leaves, $38 and $28; cherry sewing stand, $20; mirrors with mahogany frames, $32 and $14; ottomans with worked tops, $31 each; tray, $15; goose feather beds as high as $1 per pound; down pillows $2.10 per pound.

PINCHOT'S CRUSADE LEGAL SNAPE AGAINST BUMP

Governor Pinchot's Crusade snaped against a legal snag, Monday afternoon, when Federal Judge Thompson of Philadelphia refused to grant preliminary injunctions closing a 1x Schuylkill county saloon. He further embarrassed the prosecuting official by notifying District Attorney Coles that the Federal Courts here "would not entertain a flood of injunction suits" evidently contemplated by the Governor.

Despite the fact that District Attorney Coles himself, in the presence of Mrs. Mable Walker Willebrandt, Assistant United States Attorney General in charge of prohibition cases, made an impassioned plea for the application of the padlock clause of the Volstead act, Judge Thompson not only refused to grant the temporary injunction closing these saloons, but almost literally declared that he and his colleagues, Judges Dickinson and McKeehan, were giving all the time they could to the disposal of liquor cases, and it would be impossible for them to handle the hundreds of injunction suits that are to follow the Governor's recent order to the saloonkeepers to dismantle their places.

The significance of the decision lies in its destruction of the high hopes which the Pinchotelement placed in the spectacular crusade. Judge Thompson said he would not grant a temporary injunction unless the usual legal formalities were gone through with. He said to grant the injunction would be contrary to all legal precedent and dicta of the Supreme Court. There was a lively fight between the Judge and Mr. Coles, in which several important sideights were thrown on the brief situation.

In brief review, Monday afternoon's cases involved these points: "It was shown that six saloons in Schuylkill county continued to sell whisky and beer after Pinchot's order had been served. On the strength of these affidavits Mr. Coles asked for a temporary injunction closing these saloons. Judge Thompson refused to grant the injunction, and in consequence Pennsylvania and Philadelphia saloons which are still operating cannot be closed until the regular legal notice has been served.

When the District Attorney was presenting his case, amid oratory which surprised even his friends, Judge Thompson interrupted and said: "In view of the large number of saloons in this County, and the scarcity of trials for second offenses, I would hesitate very much to grant any restraining order under the circumstances." Several moments later, in describing how all equity demands a more speedy service of the law, whose establishment is to be closed, he added: "The Supreme Court has ruled that no temporary injunction be granted without the serving of the usual notice."

EXTENSIVE FIRE AT LINFIELD.

A fire which started in an explosion of dust caused by sparks from a piece of metal which became lodged in a grinding machine, totally destroyed the large plant of Jacob Trinley & Sons, at Linfield, Thursday morning. The loss is about $50,000 partially covered by insurance. Firemen from Linfield, two companies from Royersford and one from Spring City responded to the call for help, but the flames spread with such rapidity that attempts to fight them were useless, except as to saving some nearby property. The offices, located in a separate building, were saved, and heroic efforts removed several cars of coal and coke, in the path of the flames, were saved from destruction through the efforts of the firemen. Two large frame buildings, each two stories in height, were entirely destroyed, with their contents. The company manufactures fertilizer, and deals extensively in feed, etc. Coal is also sold, and a number of employes are kept busy. The fire spread with amazing rapidity, and jumped across the narrow roadway which separates the two buildings, almost in an instant.

The fire began about 9:30 o'clock. Employees were engaged in grinding material for fertilizer when, in some way, a bit of metal became caught in the grinding machine. The concentrated sparks, and these, in an instant, ignited the dust which filled the large room. Employees had to flee for their lives, and, almost in a twinkling, the fire had spread to every corner of the structure. Within an hour, the structures were in ruins. None of the firms trucks were caught by the flames, all being out of the buildings at the time. All the firm's machinery is in ruins, including new motors, etc., which were only recently put into place. The loss is partially covered by insurance. The firm is made up of three brothers, J. William, Webster and J. Allison Trinley.

RUNAWAY HORSE ELECTROCUTED.

Saturday night the hoofs of a horse came in contact with the third rail on the bonded track of the Philadelphia and Western railroad in Bridgeport. Instantly the powerful electric current penetrated the horse. The groaning of the animal in progress to use his revolver and end its suffering. The horse was one of a pair of horses belonging to Mrs. Earl F. Honez. They escaped from the stable and were running about the town when they came upon the railroad tracks. The one cleared the tracks, the other struck the third rail.

Young man, don't go west. Thousands of movie-made girls are out of work in Los Angeles.—Reading Times.

"They keep that closest carefully locked." "Think it a skeleton in the closet." "It is something more interesting.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

(Continued on page 4)

NEWS FROM TRAPPE

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heany spent Sunday with Mr. Heany's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Heany, of Salfordville.

Mr. and Mrs. William Zollers, of Collegeville, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Casey.

Mr. and Mrs. Little and son, of Philadelphia, and Mr. and Mrs. William Rommel and daughter Ruth, of Reading, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rommel.

Messrs. David and William Howe, of Phoenixville, are spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Heany and family.

Mr. Edward Thomas, of Philadelphia, spent the week end with his mother Mrs. Sallie Thomas.

Miss Annie Reiff, who is a nurse in the Pottstown Hospital, visited her aunt Mrs. Ida G. Harley on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kline, of Telford, visited Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Bradford on Sunday.

Mrs. Peter Josten, of Philadelphia, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kutschbach. Mr. Josten has been spending several weeks with them.

Miss Esther Heany visited friends in Phoenixville on Sunday.

Miss Susan Custer, of Norristown, spent Sunday with Miss Clara Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Getz, of Philadelphia, visited Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kutschbach on Sunday.

The regular monthly meeting of the Fire Company will be held in the Fire Hall on Saturday evening. Every member is urged to attend as the final arrangements for the chicken supper to be held on the evening of October 27 must be attended to.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Wilson, of Philadelphia, visited Dr. and Mrs. William C. Samuel on Saturday. They entertained Mr. and Mrs. Holden McWilliams, of Shamokin on Sunday.

The first grade up to any age are admitted. At present the classes meet in the Sunday School rooms on Tuesday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock. All children who desire to do so are urged to come.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Rambo spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Josiah B. Slotter, Zieglerville.

Mr. and Mrs. Norris Johnson, of Virginia, visited Mr. and Mrs. Guy Johnson on Saturday.

Mrs. C. B. Quinn, of Thomasville, Georgia, and Mr. and Mrs. Isiah C. Reiff and Mr. William Reiff, of Oaks, and Mr. Allen G. Harley, of Newark, Delaware, spent Sunday with Mrs. Ida G. Harley.

Preaching service will be held in the United Evangelical church on Sunday, October 14, at 10 a. m. Sunday school at 9 a. m. C. E. on Saturday evening at 7:45 o'clock. Every-body welcome.

Mr. Lloyd M. Baker, principal of the borough schools, is taking a course in educational psychology at Temple University, Philadelphia, this winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Schmozer and sons, of Pennsburg, were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer G. Pennapacker and family.

Mr. Ralph F. Wismer has purchased a new Nash coupe.

Mrs. Ella Wisler, of Pottstown, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stearly.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Detwiler and daughter Grace, of Eagleville, spent Sunday with Mrs. Detwiler's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Allebach and family.

Miss Florence E. Fegeley, of the high school faculty of the Cape May, New Jersey, schools spent the week end with her parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. Fegeley and family. Miss Helen Boyer, a teacher in the Yardley, Pa. high school, also visited them on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Walters and daughter Betty, of Los Angeles, California, who have been spending some time with Mr. Walters' parents Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Walters, left on Friday for their home in California.

The following members of Auxiliary No. 3 to Rivercrest helped to serve dinner and supper at the annual Harvest Home exercises on Saturday: Mrs. Earl B. Moyer, Mrs. E. C. Pennapacker, Mrs. C. G. Wismer, Mrs. W. C. Price and Mrs. Frank Rahn.

Rev. W. O. Fegeley attended the fall convention of the Norristown Conference in Zion's Lutheran church, Indiantown, Rev. C. R. Fetter, pastor, on Monday and Tuesday.

Misses Alice and Emma Roberts, of Willow Grove, visited Mrs. J. Harold Brownback on Monday.

Dr. M. C. Moller has purchased a new Chevrolet coupe from the local dealer Mr. Sylvanus Tyson, Jr.

Regular services in St. Luke's reformed church will be held on Sunday morning at the usual hour. Dr. Spangler will preach.

The Pastor's Aid Society of Augustus Lutheran church will meet in the lecture room of the church on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The program will include a discussion on the topic "West Indies" which will be led by Mrs. N. C. Schatz.

Augustus Lutheran church has opened a week day school for religious instruction to which children from

The following pupils of the Trappe Grammar School, Mr. Lloyd M. Baker teacher, hold a perfect record of attendance for the first school month: Marie Miller, Ernest Ste

THE INDEPENDENT

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

COLLEGEVILLE, MONTGOMERY COUNTY, PA.

E. S. MOSER, Editor and Proprietor.

Thursday, October 11, 1923.

OKLAHOMA'S BRAND OF CIVILIZATION.

Governor J. C. Walton, of Oklahoma, was tremendously defeated by the voters of that State on the Ku Klux Klan issue. The Oklahoma Legislature will meet on the 17th at the call of the Governor to investigate masked mobs that have long been committing violence in the State. And on the 17th it will meet at its own call for the purpose of investigating the Governor and seeing whether it is practicable to get rid of him by impeachment. The Springfield Republican estimates as follows the situation in Oklahoma:

Nature seems to have cast Governor "Jack" Walton for the role of dictator. A State usually gets what is coming to it, and this Governor has been coming for a long time. That he and the Ku Klux Klan arrived simultaneously is no surprise to those who are familiar with the history of the Commonwealth, the early settlement, the adventurous character of the original population which "rashed" the public lands under the supervision of the Federal Government, the later discovery of oil in the Indian reservations, the mushroom growth of the cities and the sudden appearance of the oil millionaires and gasoline plutocracy.

There are half-civilized men in Oklahoma who were blanket Indians a few years ago, and now they distinguish themselves by buying new $10,000 automobiles every time they get tipsy.

The State is culturally half-civilized, and that's the trouble. It is saturated with racial and religious bigotries and has dabs of every living form of radicalism besides. Corrupt in its politics and with the conventional social constraints only partly recognized in many counties, demagogues have flourished in its public life and grafters have been happily sitting in the sun. The Ku Klux Klan has broken out like a pox on the skin, revealing the internal rottenness of the Commonwealth.

Oklahoma is only in the baking; partly baked; not baked. Its electoral units, just like many of the electoral units in other States, are more or less obsessed with false ideas respecting that which genuine citizenship stands for. Half-baked ideas are sometimes more dangerous than mobile ignorance, and that's sufficiently dangerous when directed by sinister influences.

THE DESTRUCTION OF SODOM.

The Philadelphia Record reminds, in particular, its Philadelphia readers of the fate of Sodom as recorded in the eighteenth chapter of Genesis. However, the Record shows some circumspection in this part of its reminder:

"We have no reason to suppose that even in ancient times Divine wrath ever fell upon a city for its political sins; but sometimes we wonder what kind of showing Philadelphia could make if the crimes perpetrated in the name of the Republican party were to bring threats of retribution."

The Record might have gone a little further in the matter of referring to some ancient history with its mythical setting. It might have wondered why the more modern Sodom centers of population have so long escaped the particular kind of wrath that frequently has been known to frighten, if not reform, wrong doers—political and all other. "Divine wrath" is not frightening the moral defectives of Philadelphia, who thrive because of those who exert more effort (in the matter of setting mankind straight) in erecting fossilized scare-crows than in actually exercising aright their intelligence and moral sense on election days. If the direction of the public affairs of Philadelphia is to any great extent lodged in latter day political and other kinds of Sodomites, the correct exercise of the elective franchise, regardless of party name, will furnish enough humanly "divine" wrath to reform, not destroy, Philadelphia. It will require more than the threatening of "Divine wrath" to reform and regenerate political and all other kinds of corruptionists. At this distance it appears that a considerable number of Philadelphians have received more instruction in partisan politics than they have received in good citizenship. This conclusion is a reflection upon the intelligence and moral sanity of Philadelphia, as well as upon any other city or community where the same conclusion logically applies. If the Record is right in diagnosing conditions in Philadelphia, then an application of humanly "divine wrath" in the form of ballots, is very much needed in that city. The average partisan politician will never find himself worrying very much about the old, old story of Sodom, and the recorded disposition of it by the exercise of "Divine wrath." No use in erecting that kind of a scare-crow in Philadelphia or—anywhere else. It will not scare!

FORMER PREMIER LLOYD GEORGE.

Lloyd George, former Prime Minister of Great Britain, and a long time participant in European politics and statecraft, is now placing himself on exhibit and making addresses at various points in Canada and the United States. The people of the United States are noted for the stirring receptions they accord prominent foreign visitors. No exception is being made of the former Premier. He is receiving such evidence of the fulsome demonstration as to make him feel that he has been cutting a wide swath on the other side and that Americans know about it. The distinguished visitor, while engaged in mixing emotional gush with his brand of more or less straddling statecraft, might persuade himself to dissertate on the why and wherefore of England's real, discouraging attitude toward France, respecting the latter's occupancy of the Ruhr district of Germany. Such dissertation would be received with much interest in many quarters of the United States.

GOVERNOR PINCHOT'S CRUSADE.

Governor Pinchot is entirely within proper bounds in exerting his strongest efforts in directing the prosecution of all saloon keepers and others who are engaged in the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors. There is no room for argument on that point. But the Governor's wild attempt to close all the saloons in the State, and to cause the removal of all bars, (counters) &c., whether intoxicating drinks are or are not sold in the saloons, is most ridiculous. Also, ludicrous. The saloon-keepers and any one engaged in the sale of near beer, soft drinks, and so forth, cannot be put out of business, if such public places are kept within the law, and they are within the law in fitting up as they please, or maintain as at present the equipment of their places of business. The power of the law cannot be laid upon those who are not lawbreakers. A man presumably wise enough to be the Governor of a great State should know as much as that.

NAUGHTY NEW YORK TIMES.

The New York Times was not overly considerate of a Governor who is supposed to nurse "high moral ideals" when it shot off the following:

However history may rank Gifford Pinchot among statesmen, it will have to put him near the top of the list of inventors. Not since the Teddy bear and Eskimo pie has any device been manufactured comparable to his Patent Indestructible Rubber Run Devil. Whenever things are going badly for the Pinchot ambitions his Excellency distracts attention by drying up Pennsylvania once again, knocking the run demon for the count. But the ingenious thing always bobs back into position, ready to be knocked down again.

That's awfully unkind!

WATER-OUSEL UNUSUAL BIRD

Dives to Bottom of Stream and Walks About in Search of Food.

The name water-ousel might suggest to the unfamiliar mind something in the nature of a fish. But it is a bird, closely related to the European black-bird, although possessing strikingly aquatic habits for a bird. The water-ousel either dives or swims quickly to the bottom of a stream and walks about or enters crevices in search of food.

It is a remarkable fact that a Passerine bird should have adopted this aquatic mode of life, says a bulletin of the American Museum of Natural History. It illustrates again the attempts made by birds to avoid competition with other forms of bird life by a definite change of habits which leads them into a less frequented area of nature. Exactly how this bird keeps under water has not yet been learned. When it rises to the surface it shakes its heavy plumage dry in an instant. Its song is strangely sweet, probably owing to its relation to the thrush family.

The water-ousel is found over the greater part of Great Britain, Europe, northern Asia, Algeria, Asia Minor, the Himalayas, and in the Americas from Alaska to Peru, along the Rockies, Sierras and Andes. They live only along torrents and rapid mountain streams.

SOCIAL STATUS OF TUAREGS

Strange Sahara Tribe is Divided into Five Classes, Headed by the Nobles.

Socially the Tuaregs of the Sahara are divided into five classes—thugaren or nobles, marabout or priests, imghad or serfs, tragennaten or cross breeds, indicating the contempt of the Tuaregs for impurity of blood, and the slaves. The nobles are all pure blooded and supply the tribal sheiks. They do no manual work, living in the saddle always. Their only occupation, if such it may be called, is providing safe conveyance for those caravans that have paid blackmail to the chiefs or attacking caravans that have not placated them. The imghad or serfs are hereditarily in this position and cannot rise above it. Their condition is very much like that of the serf class of Europe in the Middle Ages.

The cross breeds are mixtures, and they are considered to be below the dignity of serfs through the fact that they are of mixed blood, even though their fathers might be of noble stock. The slaves are of Sudanese Negro stock and are well treated, being considered members of the family. Intermarriage with them is, however, forbidden very stringently.

She's a Heating Engineer.

Another field of endeavor which up to the present has been deemed exclusively masculine has now been "invaded" by a member of the feminine sex. It is the heating and ventilating field, and the "invader" is Miss Helen R. Innis, whose official designation is "heating and ventilating engineer" and who is meeting with great success in her chosen line of endeavor.

She began her technical career in an office, but later became a student at Pratt's Institute, where she was the only girl in the class. Her aptitude for the career soon became so apparent that she was enabled to start an office of her own, which she now conducts with efficiency and happy results.—New York Herald.

Idle Rich to Aid Science.

Science has developed a new method of financing costly explorations to far-away places—the scheme being to take along rich idlers and let them foot the bill.

This plan will be put into practice as announced, when the schooner St. Georges leaves London for a ten months' cruise among the little known islands of the Pacific. In addition to eight scientists, about thirty passengers will be aboard, each of whom will pay $500 for the trip. Sale of motion pictures and descriptions of the explorations will aid in financing the expedition.

The party will travel more than 20,000 miles, covering a period of about 170 days at sea and 140 days ashore.

Grandfather Was Right.

Grandfather had been down town all day, staying rather late on account of a whisky party. Consequently, he did not know the dressmaker was staying overnight. The following morning he went around waking his daughters, as was his custom when feeling unusually fine by stinging and telling them the time of the day. When he went into one of his daughters' rooms he noticed she was "playing possum" with the covers over her head. So with much gusto, singing "Fon my word, 'tis a lady," he threw the covers back. It was a lady, the poor dressmaker, not his young daughter. Grandfather left for town before the dressmaker came down.—Exchange.

Putting it Up to Mother.

George is in the habit of excusing all his faults by putting up a good argument to mother. But he is not quite so lucky with dad, who has to be away from home much of the time.

Dad sentenced him to an afternoon in the house for some misdemeanor.

After he had gone, George put his arms around mother's neck and said: "Mother, won't you explain to daddy that boys like me need a lot of fresh air?"

Observations of Oldest Inhabitant.

It used to be that you could give old Dobbin his head and he'd take you home, but when you give the car gas somebody else is liable to take you home—in an ambulance.

Of Today.

Our better selves, our ideals, are of no time, but our faults are personal responsibilities and strictly contemporary.—John Erskine in the Literary Digest.

From Our Woman Mater.

Our tame misogynist grows that admiration for a beautiful woman and a beautiful landscape are very similar. They both tire when you live too close to them.

Where All Are Selfish.

Where all are selfish, the sage is no better than the fool, and only rather more dangerous.—Froude.

Humor of the In-laws.

"Seems to me," said the ladder, "I'm always up against it."

EDITORIAL COMMENTATION

FOR UTILITY SHOCK TROOPS

This is by way of a bit of praise for some unsung "Heroes of the Street." Detroit rocked Tuesday in the throes of a forty-mile gale, followed by a terrific downpour. Then came the lightning—and then the report:

"Harper Hospital has been struck!" Bells begin to jingle. It was the call for the "Trouble Shooters" of the Edison Electric Company, the wreckers from the Detroit Street Railways, the minute men of the Fire Department. They rushed to the installation. The wards, clinics and operating rooms were in darkness. Who knew but that a patient under anesthetic might be on the table and a surgeon, with his scalpel, waiting for the light to make an incision that would mean life—or death? Dazzling flashes were followed by deafening thunderbolts. The rain came down like a cloudburst. With amazing swiftness the crews of "trouble shooters" dashed up in their cars and jumped out before their momentum was spent in front of the darkened hospital. A quick glance and up the nearest pole they scrambled. Drenched by the rain—and water is one of electricity's best conductors—they worked with plyers. In a surprisingly few moments the connections were restored and the prayed-for light shone in the wards, clinics and the operating rooms. Down the poles they scrambled to make "the next call." Soon they had "cleared their slate." The juice was on again all over town. Then back to wait for another summons. There was another call. They had risked their lives, but they had done their task well. All about us, every day, men smile in the grim face of danger, and do their work without complaint. They are heroes of the battlefields of business and commerce.—Editorial, in the Detroit Times.

THE DEVIL'S WELL.

The "Devil's Well" is a natural curiosity located in Washington 35 miles north of Spokane. This well is a cylindrical shaft 40 feet in diameter, sunk by some natural agency in solid basalt rock on a mountain top. The water level varies according to atmospheric conditions, the average being about 30 feet below the mouth of the well. The swirling water with logs floating on it is said to inspire a feeling of awe as one stands at the brink and looks along the smooth, sheer walls into its unfathomable, blue depths.

SHOE REPAIRING

SHOES and HARNESS Stitched

I now have a first-class stitching machine—none better. Soles sewed on shoes and all kinds of harness stitching. First-class work. Prices reasonable.

N. S. SCHONBERGER
Collegeville, Pa.
Near Post Office.

GARAGE

GRATERFORD, PA.

Repair Work, Out-of-Shop Work, and Towing.

Tires, Tubes, and Accessories.

Geo. Walt.
8-18 Phone 82-2-6

IRVIN L. FAUST

YEKES, PA.
BUTCHER AND DEALER IN
Fresh and Smoked Meats
Pork in Season

Visits Collegeville, Trappe and vicinity every Wednesday and Saturday. Evansburg, Tuesdays and Fridays.

WANAMAKER INSTITUTE

23rd and Walnut Streets, Phila., Pa.
ANNOUNCES
Shorthand, Typewriting, Bookkeeping and Calculator Classes (leading machines) for men and one for women. You are cordially invited to join one of these classes. Church at 10 a. m.; Junior and Senior congregations worshipping together. Junior C. E., 1:30 p. m.; Senior C. E., 6:30 p. m.; Church at 7:30 p. m. Services every Sunday evening at 7:30; short sermon and good music by the choir. All most cordially invited.

Low tuition rates—excellent teachers.
Study and Typewriting Rooms open at 4 o'clock in the evening for use of students.
Write for catalog—Many other courses.
ENROLL NOW

CHURCH SERVICES

Trinity Reformed Church, Collegeville. Rev. William S. Clapp, pastor, services for next Sunday as follows: Sunday School at 9 a. m.; Two adult Bible classes, one for men and one for women. You are cordially invited to join one of these classes. Church at 10 a. m.; Junior and Senior congregations worshipping together. Junior C. E., 1:30 p. m.; Senior C. E., 6:30 p. m.; Church at 7:30 p. m. Services every Sunday evening at 7:30; short sermon and good music by the choir. All most cordially invited to attend the services.

St. Luke's Reformed Church, Trappe. S. S. at 8:45 a. m.; Preaching at 10 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. Meeting of the Junior League at 7 p. m. Bible Study meeting at 7:30 p. m. Study responds when his ministrations are desired. Holy Communion on first Sunday in month on Holy Days.

St. James' Church, Perkiomen, Evansburg. Rev. Charles F. Scudell, Rector. Services Sunday morning at 10:30. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m.

St. Eleanor's Church, Roman Catholic. Mass at Collegeville every Sunday at 8 a. m.; at Delhi at 10 a. m.; William A. Hunsicker, Rector.

Evansburg M. E. Church—Sunday School at 9:30 a. m. Preaching at 10:30 a. m. Prayer meeting, Wednesday evening.

Episcopal Church, St. Paul's Memorial, Oaks, the Rev. J. Caleb Cresson, Rector. Sunday services at 10 a. m., 7:45 p. m. Every Sunday. Every other Sunday preaching at Oaks P. O. Pa. Bell Phone Phoenixville 2-25-11 study responds when his ministrations are desired. Holy Communion on first Sunday in month on Holy Days.

Methodist Brethren in Christ, Graterford. Rev. W. N. Cassel, Pastor. Sunday School at 9:15 a. m.; preaching at 10:15 a. m. every Sunday. Every other Sunday preaching in the evening at 7:30 o'clock. Every other Sunday evening at Harleysville.

River Brethren in Christ. Preaching at 7:30 p. m.

AMERICAN STORES CO. AMERICAN

Special Flour Sale!
For this Week-end Only

Again We Prove to You Where Quality Counts Your Money Always Goes the Furthest

Gold Seal FLOUR 12 lb bag 47c
Family

Milled from the finest selected wheat. The best flour for all purposes.

ASCO Baking Powder can 5c, 10c, 20c

Victor Bread 5c
Big, generous, creamy loaves. Good to the last crumb.

Bread Supreme Extra Big Wrapped Loaf. 9c
Our master bakers' masterpiece.

ASCO Self-Raising Buckwheat pkg 10c
Makes the most delightful hot cakes you ever ate.

ASCO Syrup can 10c Pure Honey tumbler 10c

White MASON JARS
They Last! Pints 59c; Quarts 69c dozen
With caps and rubbers complete.

ASCO Whole Spices pkg 5c Fine Table Salt big bag 10c

Our Regular 16c ASCO White Distilled
Cider Vinegar cut to 14c bot Vinegar cut to 10c bot

Gold Seal Rich Creamy
Macaroni pkg 9c Cheese
3 pkgs 25c lb 33c

Try some baked with a little of our creamy cheese. Very nourishing. You'll like it immensely.

We Sell Only One Blend—One Price—One Quality—and That the Best Cup You Ever Drank!

Asco Coffee lb 29c
You'll taste the difference!

ASCO Evaporated Milk can 11c
It's richer and better. Nearly half cream.

Blue Rose Rice lb pkg 9c
Choice Tender Peas can 15c
ASCO Quality Peas can 17c, 19c, 25c
ASCO Sugar Corn can 15c
Sweet Sugar Corn can 10c, 12 1/2c
ASCO California Asparagus can 25c

ASCO Pork & Beans can 9c Gold Seal Rolled Oats 3 pkgs 25c ASCO Peanut Butter lb 23c

Asco Teas 1/4 lb 14c, 55c
Five quality blends—Orange Pekoe, Old Country Style, India Ceylon, Black, Mixed.

Pride of Killarney Tea lb tin 65c
Extra heavy drinking super tea.

New Crop ASCO Choice Med. Size
Calif. Evap. Oleomargarine Santa Clara
Apricots lb 17c lb 25c Prunes lb 10c

It Always Pays to Deal Where Quality Counts
and Your Money Goes Furthest!

MAIN STREET, COLLEGEVILLE, PA.

$22.50 FUR COATS $22.50

REMODELED SEIDEL THE OLD RELIABLE FURRIER

1204 ARCH STREET, PHILADELPHIA, PA.

BALDNESS

A Thing of the Past
It has been proven conclusively that hair can grow on any head regardless of age by the famous Thos. A. Kridos' Genuine Discovery. Dandruff, itchy scalp and falling hair are scalp ailments which are disregarded by the majority of men and women. But these are the real causes of baldness. We can positively remove them permanently. Free advice on how to take care of your hair.

THOS. A. KRIDOS
Genuine Discovery of Growing Hair
Philadelphia Office: 411-12 Washington Square Bldg.
7th & Chestnut Sts. Please Note the Hours—11 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Walter & Becker Himself

has selected a most distinctive line of Men's Fall and Winter Clothing. The material is exceptional—the tailoring is done by hand and with each suit is two pairs of trousers. Such Suits cannot be duplicated at our price range of $35 to $50 and yet these values we add our unique services which make buying a pleasure.

11th and Chestnut Sts. Philadelphia, Pa.

We didn't know that our British cousins were really cannibals until we read in the London Chronicle the following ad: "Wanted, a butcher, must be able to cut up and serve a customer."—New Orleans States.

Fair Customer—"You told me the colors of this bathing suit were fast." Clerk—"And aren't they?" Fair Customer—"They ran all over the beach." Clerk—"Why, then, you must admit there's some speed in them."—Boston Transcript.

The British have a society for henpecked husbands which meets once a year. Over here the Society of Pocket Picked Husbands meets regularly after every payday.—Milwaukee Journal.

"Might give you a little item," whispered the press agent confidentially. "My star has had $100,000 worth of diamonds stolen from her." "How is it she hasn't put up a holler?" demanded the New York reporter. "She hasn't missed them."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

AUTUMN AND FALL SHOW DAYS

INTRODUCING
The SEASON'S NEWEST COATS SUITS DRESSES WAISTS FURS

Materials also for those who make their own Garments

WARNER'S DEPARTMENT STORE

"The Better Place to Shop"

NORRISTOWN, PA.

For Your Needs

in the following lines, we will be pleased to deliver them to you at moderate prices:

Fresh Meats, Smoked Meats, Canned Goods, Vegetables, Fruits, Butter, Eggs, Cheese, Coffee, Tea, Canned Milk, Bread, Etc.

YEAGLE and POLEY

5th Ave., & Main St. COLLEGEVILLE, PA.
Yes, We have a 'Phone and Deliver the Goods.

Do you know there is a NOVELTY Square Sectional Boiler for Hot Water or Steam Heating of 5 to 10-room houses where only round boilers were used in the past?

You can now enjoy the great saving in fuel, for which these boilers are noted. Our electric automatic Water Systems are giving the best of service year after year. Our twenty-five years' experience is at your service, if you are in need of Steam Heating, Hot Water Heating, Vapor Heating, Pipeless Heating, Electric Water System or Plumbing and Draining System.

We also carry a full line of Electric Appliances. Electric Washers Electric Irons Electric Hair Curlers Electric Hair Dryers Electric Fans Electric Sewing Machines Electric Motors Gas Water Heaters Gas Room Heaters

GEO. F. CLAMER : COLLEGEVILLE, PA.

Frank W. Shalkop JOHN L. BECHTEL
UNDERTAKER & EMBALMER COLLEGEVILLE, PA.

TRAPPE, PA.

Furnishing Undertaker and Embalmer.

Funerals entrusted to my charge will receive my careful and painstaking attention. 'Phone No. 18.

MOTHERS! LOOK OVER THE BOYS' STOCK OF SCHOOL CLOTHES

DON'T MISS OUR BIG SALE OF

SCHOOL SUITS

We Have Grouped Our Entire Stock of Durable and Dependable Suits into Two Price Lots:

Lot 1—All Our $8.50 and $10 Two-pants Suits $6.75

Lot 2—All Our $15 and $17.50 Two-pants Suits $10.75

SPECIAL VALUES IN

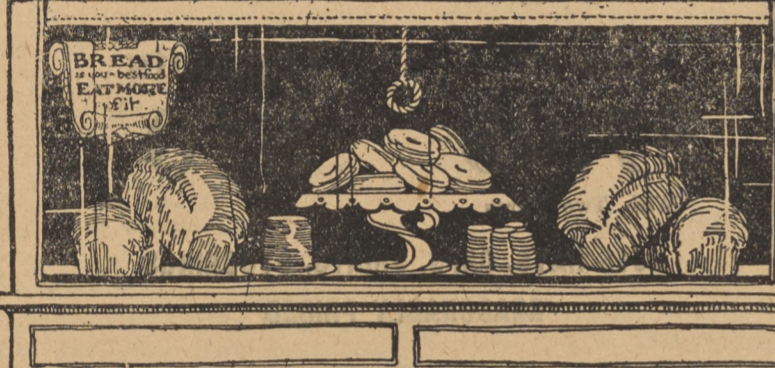

Boys' Separate Trousers

At $1.50, $2, and $2.50

A Full Stock of Caps, Belts, Blouses, Hosiery Ready for Your Visit

Mosheim Clothing Co.

207 HIGH STREET, POTTSTOWN

COLLEGEVILLE BAKERY

High Grade Baked Goods

ICE CREAM CONFECTIONERY ORDERS A SPECIALTY

Bell 'Phone 84-R-2

KUHNT & GRABER

"Twice the Results with 2-3 the Fuel."

When you know how simple this perfect Heater is in construction, how easy and economical it is to operate, you will realize that its installation is an actual economy.

No matter what system you have at present in operation, you should at least investigate the advantages the FREED Heater affords.

Call, write or 'phone

FREED HEATER COMPANY

Bell and Keystone 'Phones No. 59.
Factory and General Offices, Collegeville, Pa.

— or —

H. R. MILLER

Bell 63-R-2 Keystone 100
COLLEGEVILLE, PA.

Boroughs, Townships and Contractors

Notice!

Crushed Stone in all sizes and Screenings

Delivered by auto truck (within hauling distance) from

E. J. LAVINO CO.'S STONE QUARRIES

Green Lane, Montg. Co., Pa.
Call Pennsburg 5-2 for information.

A WINNING COMBINATION

For Dairy Cows

Here is a dairy feed combination that has proven a winner wherever used. By feeding these two feeds in combination you will have the most simple, easy-to-feed ration possible to compound—one that will not only produce exceptional results in milk production and keep your cows in the very best physical condition, but will also save you a lot of time and labor and the guess-work incident to your own mixing.

These feeds are manufactured by The Quaker Oats Co., the leading feed manufacturers in the world. These feeds are the result of long experience and have the endorsement of the foremost dairymen.

Let us supply you with these results-producing feeds.

COLLEGEVILLE MILLS

Collegeville, Pa.

Chevrolet Sale and Service

Chevrolet Parts

Automobiles Repaired

Sylvanus Tyson, Jr.

TRAPPE, PA.
Opposite Reformed Church.

More Headaches are relieved with glasses than with medicine.

This is a very simple remedy but effective. Come and see us.

A. B. PARKER & BRO.
Optometrists

210 Dekalb St., NORRISTOWN, Pa.

Perkins—"I wonder why they named this picture theatre the Beehive?"
Parkin—"Have you ever seen any of the pictures?"
Perkins—"Well, if you ever do, you'll know the reason, all right, because after each one you feel as though you'd been stung!"
Houston Post.

If expert engineers succeed in building the proposed island between the three-mile limit some people believe it will be necessary to have it connected to the mainland by a bridge of size.—New Orleans States.

"Will you appraise my engagement ring for me?" "What kind of stone is this supposed to be?" asked the jeweler. "Turkwhals." "Turkwhals, may be, but not now. This is glass."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

When Ed Got a Jolt

By CORONA REMINGTON
(© 1923, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Ed Vance watched the girl as she sat on the rug at his feet holding a slice of bread before the cheery fire. As she drew it back and turned on the fork the crispy brown odor came up to him.

"You're a regular little home maker," he said, admiringly, as he crunched into the buttered toast and sipped the hot chocolate she had placed at his side.

Sarah Scott flushed with pleasure and gratitude and passed him another piece.

"But I think Mrs. Wade is the dear to let us do this in her parlour—many people would," she told her fiancé.

"She certainly is pretty decent," he admitted, "but then she looks on you as her own child."

"Yes, she's just about been a mother to me since I came to town to work. This feels almost as much like home to me as my real, sure-enough one does now."

"Eh, it feels more like home to me than anything I've had since I was a little boy. When I'm here with you, like this, why I don't want anything better—ever. It's perfect! All the bliss of a home of your own without the responsibilities," he said, laughing lightly.

A tiny little form appeared on Sarah's face. He was joking, of course, but somehow the words jarred. They sounded so shiffling, so weak-backed.

The rest of the evening fell flat for her—she sat beside him in front of the fire, as was her custom—he in the big armchair, she on the rug at his feet. Occasionally he would put out a hand and draw her head against his knee, usually brief moments of happy silence while the two stared into the fire and dreamed and rested, rested from a hard day's work. But tonight!—she felt almost irritated by his touch; she wanted to jerk her head away, to jump up and run away upstairs and leave him puzzling over her strange behavior.

The evening wore away somehow, and at last Ed took his departure, perfectly happy and totally ignorant of his fiancée's disturbed condition—dense male that he was.

"Well, he's gone," Sarah said a second later, as she walked into the little dining room where Mrs. Wade sat rocking and piecing quilt scraps. The latter glanced up from her work at the young girl standing there before her.

"Well, child, you said it as if he was a book agent or a collector or some other human varmint."

Sarah tried to laugh, but it was rather a failure.

"Oh, no, he's lovely, but somehow I felt all out of sorts tonight. I'm blue and can't tell exactly why it is."

"Don't tell me anything's gone wrong between you and Ed," said Mrs. Wade, taking off her spectacles and looking more closely at Sarah.

"No, nothing that I can put my finger on."

Sarah was silent for a moment and Mrs. Wade, with sixty years' knowledge of human nature, knew that something was forthcoming, so waited patiently for the girl to speak.

"It's funny, Mrs. Wade, but Ed hasn't said anything about getting married for nearly three months now," Sarah said after a while.

"Been engaged nearly a year—haven't you?"

The girl nodded silently.

"Too long. Time you got married. Trouble is Ed's too comfortable sitting in my parlor chairs and warming himself by my fire."

With a little start Sarah remembered what Ed had said that very evening, and she flashed a glance of wonder at motherly Mrs. Wade.

"I been thinking about this right along," she said, almost as if she had read the girl's thoughts, "and I want to tell you something: Ed's a fine boy, but he needs a jolt—a great big hard one. Now, I got a letter from your mother this morning—aimed to tell you about it at supper, but didn't get time—and she says the rheumatism's settled in her knees mighty bad and she has a hard time doing the work. She didn't want me to tell you, because she thought you were happier down here than you were in the country—more opportunity and such—and she didn't want you to lose your job, but I didn't live near Mrs. Scott thirty years for nothing and I know when my grumps, she's got something to grump about. So if I were you I'd throw up that good-for-nothing job and go home, and I wouldn't be writing to Ed every minute, neither."

"Oh, oh, poor mother! I'd never have forgiven you if you hadn't told me. I'll go home tomorrow," Sarah's face was quite white with grief.

"That's right. You go along and pack your things so you can catch that six o'clock train in the morning. I'll explain to Ed and your boss."

That morning, as the train hurried her to Cumberland, she had just a little sense of satisfaction in picturing Ed's face when he found her gone and without a word of explanation, either. She might have enjoyed it more if she had been able to witness it. Mrs. Wade was in her most disarming mood.

"Sarah's gone home," she told him.

"Yes, her mother's not well," she rattled on, ignoring his gaping astonishment, "but she's not as sick as Sarah thinks. I just got to worrying about that young girl down here all by herself. And down at that office working with Lord knows what kind of men. A city's so full of wickedness and crime it ain't no place for a girl that ain't got a husband to look after her, and especially a sweet little country girl that don't know nothing about sin. So I just telephoned her boss she had to go home to take care of her mother, and he's not coming back here till she's married. I'm sorry, Ed, but you'll have to do without her till you can go and get her."

For a second Ed was speechless. He looked wistfully at the big leather chair, now holding its owner so comfortably in its embrace—at the vacant spot on the rug where Sarah had sat only the night before, and a feeling of loneliness swept over him. It was all so sudden, so brutally unexpected.

"But—I must have her," he said at last. "I can't do without my little Sarah."

Mrs. Wade lowered her eyes to hide the glint of triumph in them.

"I know, Ed," she said, all motherly sympathy, "but we all have to stand some things and I reckon you'll have to wait until you can afford to start housekeeping. You'll enjoy it all the more when it comes. I'll be grand having a little house all your own with Sarah to greet you when you come home from work and a nice hot meal setting on the table. My, my, I don't blame you for being impatient the way you must be banged from bad boardin' houses to worse."

"I can't wait and, what's more, I won't!" The man spoke with masculine determination as he started toward the door. "I'm going to get Sarah right now. In the morning you'll see I'll boss my mother's sick, too," he said, turning back.

Mrs. Wade looked up, her mild gray eyes meeting his.

"My, my, you're such a hasty young man!" she remarked innocently.

PECULIAR FLAVOR OF PEKOE

Silvery Hairs Which Appear on the First Two Leaves of This Tea Give It Distinctive Taste.

The tiny, silvery hairs in your orange pekoe tea and the small white pieces which look like stems are not something which should not be there, but are really these things which give orange pekoe its delicate flavor. In a tea plant constantly throws out new shoots at the end of each twig and the leafbud which is just unfolding, together with the small leaf next to it produces the finest quality of tea; the leaf at the end of the small branch being the best of all and quality of the leaves of the lower twigs of the branch becoming poorer in proportion to their proximity to the trunk, says Consul C. L. E. Hoover, Batavia, in a report to the Department of Commerce.

These first two leaves are covered with hairs, which, when the leaf is dried, give a silvery appearance to the tea and it is this which comes the name "Pekoe," the Chinese words "pek ho" meaning "white hairs." This tea produces an orange-colored beverage, hence the name, "orange pekoe." The small white pieces which look like stems are not its delicate flavor, but the very finest part of the leaf, the tip, and tea made from them is very strong and has the most delicate aroma. The dried tea leaves are graded by women who screen the tea by placing it in a flat tray made of woven bamboo and throwing it into the air until all the lightest leaves are on the top. The lighter tea is the last to come down and after carefully working the tray load to the point where all the leaves of the same quality are on top, the tray is quickly withdrawn from beneath the light leaves, which fall into another tray at the feet of the woman who is doing the fanning. The heavy tea is then tossed into the tray of the woman, who submits it to still further manipulation.—New York Times.

Cebu Founded in 1565.

The oldest European settlement in the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions gathered for the first mass in the Philippines. A short distance from the Orient is the city of Cebu, Cebu province, Philippine Islands. It was founded by Legaspi in 1565, 44 years after the island was discovered by Magellan. On the main plaza of the city is a small building, which houses a large cross which was erected to mark the spot where Magellan and his companions

