SCHAFF DEBATING TEAM WINS FROM GETTYSBURG

Adds Another to Victory Previously Gained at University of Pennsylvania

On Friday evening the Schaff debating team won fresh laurels for its society by gaining a unanimous decision against Gettysburg College debating team. The question was, "Resolved, That Labor Unions, as at Present Constituted and Operated, are Detrimental to Society in the United States." The Schaff team upheld the affirmative side of the question as in their previous debate with the Zelosophic Society at U. of P. while Gettysburg took the negative.

The debate thruout was marked with "pep", argumentation, and oratory which kept interest at a high pitch from beginning to end. Each side showed an extensive knowledge of the question as well proved by the neglect of formal quibbling over minor points and devotion to the many important and forceful arguments which each side was able to present.

The Gettysburg team was composed of Messrs. Keller, Sharett, and Capt. J. H. Peeling. They logically outlined their debate and each one presented their arguments forcefully. Mr. Keller, speaking first showed the benefits of labor unions thru their improvement of citizenship and mo-

Girls' Glee Club Makes Concert Tour

The trolley company took sudden interest when it last week conveyed twenty fair damsel warblers from our mild college town to the lively cities of Souderton and Perkasie.

The first concert given in Zwingli Reformed Church of Souderton was quietly (?) but appreciately received by a comfortably filled church. The program consisted of a series of chorus numbers for the first part intermingled with a few quartet selections and readings. This was followed by a short sketch portraying snatches of life at Ursinus.

On Friday morning the club was afforded the pleasure of returning to childhood days. At the request of the High School and grammar school they entertained the younger generation with a few choral selections and readings by Miss Ash.

The concert at Perkasie, expected by some to be a "grim" affair, fell far from meriting that adjective. The attractive auditorium was filled with an enthusiastic audience whose clapping even echoed encores.

The "Wandering Minstrels" returned home happy, hopefully anticipating the next little journey—to Bangor and Easton next week-end.

J. LEROY MILLER, '20
Retiring Editor of the "Weekly"

With the issue preceding the Easter vacation Mr. Miller's term as Editor-in-chief of the "Weekly" expired. Thruout the past year Mr. Miller has placed the "Weekly" at a recognized high standard both with respect to selection and arrangement of news items and with respect to timeliness and strength of its editorials.

Since his entrance to Ursinus upon graduation from the Spring City High School four years ago Mr. Miller has taken an active and prominent part in all literary work. As a Sophomore he was one of the prize winners in the Schaff Essay Contest. In 1918, as author of a parody on the Schaff play, he produced a comedy which on every hand received favorable comment for its genuine wit and humor. In addition to his work on the "Weekly" staff he was assistant editor of the 1920 Ruby. By his extensive reading, his able work as a writer, and his general knowledge of English Mr. Miller has established for himself a deserved reputation of ability in all branches of literary work.

Announcement of Junior Play

The Junior Class will present the comedy, "What Would a Gentleman Do", by Gilbert Dayle on Saturday evening, May 1. The play promises to be a good one. On the afternoon of May 1 the Varsity plays Albright at Collegeville. This week end promises to be an entertaining one, and well worth the while of any alumni who are contemplating visiting their Alma Mater.

1920 Class Honors

Since the last issue announcement has been made of the Salutatorian and Valedictorian of the class of 1920. These honors have been awarded to Mr. John E. Wildasin of Littlestown, Pa., and Miss L. Bernice Wagner of Reading, Pa., respectively.

VARSITY NOT YET IN PROPER FORM

Villa Nova Victor in first game of Baseball Season

With some of the outfield force suffering with stage fright, the pitching staff with stiff arms and part of the infield with bone-headedness during the first few innings, the main liners piled up an overwhelming lead in runs. After the first few innings, when Weisel had ascended the mound our boys began to look like ball players and the scoring of the Villa Novians ceased.

Our team has had very little decent practice owing to weather conditions and the change of fields. Inasmuch as the team was practically raw and green, while the opponents had played previously we can lay the loss of the game to circumstances and bad breaks.

Captain Hefren played a good game at third, while Miles Miller covered the first sack in fine fashion. "Ike" Isenberg showed up well at the backstop position and Moser is living up to his usual form out in the garden. Knipe played a good game between third and second. Weisel shows signs of being a real pitcher.

The hitting was not so good, but when once our team gets its batting eye we're going to go.

MONTAGUE OPERA COMPANY ENTERTAINS

Concludes Year's Successful Entertainment Course

The last number of the lecture course was given Saturday evening in Bomberger Hall by the Montague Light Opera Company. Preceding the opening of the performance Dr. Omwake, the chairman of the Community Entertainment Course, gave an interesting resume of the course in which he spoke of the quality of the presentations and the gratifying patronage they had enjoyed. He gave no financial statement but intimated that a tidy sum had been realized which will be used in putting forth next year's series of entertainments. A meeting of the general committee will be held in three or four weeks to arrange next season's program and every effort will be made to maintain or even surpass the present high standard. Patrons are urged to communicate with the members of the committee if they have any suggestions to make as to the choice of particular lecturers or type of entertainers.

No better ending to a successful season could have been desired. The four members of the company were introduced as

Editorial Comment

With the issue of March 29 another epoch in the life of the "Weekly" closed. The past year has been a year which the retiring editor and staff can review with satisfaction and pride. Altho handicapped by lack of space due to decreased size of the "Weekly", resulting from war conditions, the editorial staff made the paper thruout the year a true mirror of events at Ursinus, a well edited paper, and a paper whose news items and editorials properly reflected and guided events at Ursinus.

In some lines of work assumption of a new office necessitates an inaugural address, a program of contemplated work. This, however, the new editor and staff prefer to postpone, not because they enter upon the work without forethought and plan, but because they prefer to reserve the privilege of later recounting work done rather than now merely reciting work planned. Never has there been a time when college journalism had the deserved prominence it has today. Last year an association of college papers of the Middle Atlantic States was formed. Prominent city dailies are showing more than passing interest in college journalism. College papers everywhere are growing in number and developing from the old "cut and dried," super philosophical reviews, into modern, wide awake publicity agents, meanwhile forming strong bonds of interest between students, alumni, colleges, and the public in general.

The war with the ensuing conditions hindered publications everywhere. The "Weekly" did not escape as is evidenced by a 50 per cent. reduction in size. The library campaign demands space in the diminished columns. As soon as possible the first condition of reduction in size will be remedied while regarding the second we hope alumni and friends will soon enable us to print headlines of "Library Building Begun" instead of columns remarking subscriptions long overdue.

A college paper belongs not to one or a group of individuals. It belongs to faculty, students, alumni, and friends. During the coming year we hope to have the cooperation of all to a greater extent than ever before. Suggestions and constructive criticism will always be welcomed. We want everyone to feel the college paper is his paper. We trust that the "Weekly" by an impartial representation of events and opinion will, thruout the coming year, do its share toward the realization of "The Greater Ursinus."

Major Braden Speaks to Y. M. and Y. W.

Bomberger was the scene of the first public, happy gathering of returned vacationists Wednesday evening, when Major Braden, of the Italian army, appeared and gave an interesting and inspiring talk. The theme of his speech was the benefits and joys of physical training under Christian leadership and following are a few general points which he mentioned.

This work is not exactly new and unheard-of, but should be far more popular than it is, inasmuch as it is one of the most valuable pursuits one may follow. Major Braden, having done much in patriotic service and being in need of rest, was unexpectedly called to Camp Meade where he trained 900 out of 1500 officers. Later he was sent to Italy where he entered the convalescent camp and there organized a remarkable system of physical training. Previous to this action he had been in France where he introduced athletic training, but his bigger work was done in Italy. Here he not only trained normal soldiers but subnormal ones, entering hospitals, etc. In the convalescent camp he planned games for those wounded ones who were confined to their beds. For those who were able to walk about he arranged relay meets and soccer football games until the officers who had glared with disapproval at first, finally forgot their dignity and dark looks enough to actually join in and play with their men. This naturally was considered a big triumph for physical training in Italy.

After giving other interesting details of his work, he concluded by speaking of the large opening for men who are interested in furthering this great work—work which is really worthwhile.

Attention—Teacher Alumni!

The executive offices of the College have on file a list of vacant positions in a number of high schools for next September. The salaries mentioned range from $1000 to $1800. One high school principalship at $1800-$2000 in a borough of 15,000 population is listed. We are placing our Seniors in such positions as require no experience, but there are opportunities for those alumni who have had some experience, and we shall be glad to put you in touch with them. Address the College, attention of Mr. Mertz.

Quartette at Schwenksville

On Thursday evening the male quartette of the College rendered a very interesting and enjoyable concert at Schwenksville under the auspices of the High School. A large and appreciative audience greeted the performers. In the first part of the programme, the quartette numbers, "Blow Hard Col' Norf Win'" and "Mistah Boogaman" were especially enjoyed, while the readings by Mr. Shellenberger and the vocal solos by Mr. Tysen represented very well the individual numbers. The second part of the programme, devoted to a sketch, "Thirty Minutes in a Students Room," proved very real and entertaining. The vocal solo of Mr. Tippin and the college songs accompanied with the ukelele were the main musical features. The members of the quartette, Shellenberger, Tyson, Tippin, and Fretz, were royally entertained by the people of Schwenksville and returned to Collegeville with a very kindly feeling toward their hostesses.

ALUMNI NOTES

H. W. Willier, '01, this spring completes his seventh year as supervising principal of Frailey Township Schools, Schuylkill Co. The township high school is located at Donaldson. This he has established and raised to second grade until it now has a four-year's course with two teachers. This year Mr. Willier was handicapped in his work by an attack of thrombosis early in the term. From this he is now happily recovered.

John L. Alexander, '01, is professor of religious education in Boston University, and also Superintendent of the Young People's Division of the International Sunday School Association. The Malden (Mass.) Free Press, in its issue of March 12, gives a lengthy account of the work of the Malden Council of Religious Education in which Mr. Alexander is having a prominent part.

Through the courtesy of Rev. Asher R. Kepler, '98, the College Library has received a copy of the First Year Book of the Siangan Community Guild, 1918-1919. Although printed in Chinese characters it is a very interesting pamphlet, for it is illustrated with portraits of foreign and native missionaries and other views of mission work, and it contains a number of advertisements which go far to show that all the world is akin.

William W. Baden, '19, has accepted a position as teacher in the Recruit Educational Centre at Camp Upton, Long Island. Captain Garry C. Myers, '09, is director of the work.

Do you need an Ursinus man in your business? Several alumni have written us concerning responsible positions which will be available to our graduates in September.

Three Ursinus alumni are teaching on the faculty of the Spring City High School. They are A. M. Dixon, '17, William S. Diemer, '16, and Mrs. Trinna Fryer Moser, '10.

A. J. Spacht, A. M., '09, is combining religious and educational work in Sawyer, North Dakota, where he is superintendent of schools as well as pastor of a splendid congregation.

Students Mass Meeting

In order to arouse enthusiasm and interest in the improvement of Patterson Field the student body assembled in Bomberger after Y. meeting, Wednesday evening.

Moore opened the ceremony with some rousing cheers for the baseball team, its captain and coach. After the singing of a few songs Mr. Braden, former athletic director of the Italian army, gave a short and fiery speech. "Red" Grove, Professor at Penn State, followed with a talk on college spirit. Then Coach Mitterling very concisely laid before the students the plan for the reconstruction of the field. The students are to receive a holiday some time this month upon which day the entire re-leveling and re-grading will take place.

The baseball team will play its games this season on the Collegeville commons.

The meeting closed with every one joining in the old familiar Campus Song.

Second Performance of "It Pays to Advertise" by American Legion

The American Legion paved the way for several hours of enjoyment for the town-folk of Collegeville and vicinity by presenting the play, "It Pays to Advertise", in Bomberger Hall on Thursday evening. Second performances are usually somewhat tedious but the laughter and applause thru-out the play testified to the pleasure of the audience. The synopsis and cast of this play previously given for the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. have been printed in an earlier issue of the "Weekly" and it is only necessary to note one change in the cast, the part of Miss Burke, the stenographer, which in the first performance was taken by Miss Gingrich, was in this instance performed by Miss High.

GROUP MEETINGS

The often postponed meeting of the English-Historical Group finally found place enough to creep into last Monday evening, March 29, 1920. Attendance was scanty, to be sure, as are all pre-vacational attendances, but that did not mar the quality of the meeting, in fact we might apply the much-used maxim, "quality made up for lack of quantity."

Everyone enjoyed the piano solo by Miss Wagner, "The Old Refrain," by Kreisler, and another well-rendered selection. The life of J. M. Barrie was then read by Miss Fussel in an interesting way, after which Miss Muschlitz gave a quite pleasing reading from Barrie's "Sentimental Tommy." Doctor Smith concluded the program very ably with what might be called a resume or criticism of Barrie. The evening's enjoyment was crowned by refreshments.

L'Assemble du Groupe des langues modernes was held at Olevian Hall, Monday evening, March 29. True to the interests of the group, they revelled in French, thus: Un chant francais, Mme. Slamp; Une lecture francaise, Mme. Kunkel; La vie de Moliere, Mme. Schlotterer; Moreau a deux Mains, Mme. Hassler; L'Americaine francaise salle de gloire, Mme. Fahringer; L'echo des langues Modernes, Mme. Harclerode; L'Adresse, Professor Baden.

Dr. Baden's disciples were delighted to have Mrs. Baden back with them after her long illness. Without her the group meetings are not complete. The Easter Bunny, thru Dr. Baden, remembered the group with a real Easter token.

Mississippi River Power Company, Keokuk, Iowa

A casting for one of the huge water-wheel driven generators installed in the Mississippi River Power Company's plant at Keokuk. This installation will ultimately consist of thirty of these machines, giving a total capacity of 2,600,000 kilowatts (900,000 horse-power). It is the largest hydro-electric development in the world. The General Electric Company builds generator for water-wheel drive in sizes ranging from 37½ to 32,500 kilowatts and the aggregate capacity of G-E units now in successful operation is in excess of four million horse-power.

Utilizing Nature's Power

ELECTRICAL energy generated by water power has grown to be one of our greatest natural resources—and we have only begun to reach its possibilities. It mines and refines our ores, turns the wheels of industry, drives our street cars and lights our cities and towns. The power obtained from Nature saves many million tons of coal every year.

At first the field of its utilization was limited by the distance electricity could be transported. But soon research and engineering skill pointed the way to larger and better electrical apparatus necessary for high-voltage transmission. Then ingenious devices were invented to insure protection against lightning, short-circuits, etc., which cause damage and interrupt the service. And now all over the country a network of wires begins to appear, carrying the magic power.

The General Electric Company, with its many years' experience, has played a great part in hydro-electric development. By successfully co-ordinating the inventive genius of the company and its engineering and manufacturing abilities, it has accomplished some of the greatest achievements in the production and application of electrical energy.

The old mill wheel of yesterday has gone. Today the forces of immense volumes of water are harnessed and sent miles away to supply the needs of industry and business and the comforts of the home.

"Bob" Matz '12, was seen in Reading Terminal a few nights ago on his way home from Bloomfield, N. J., to spend the Easter vacation. On the same evening "Shorty" Alleva was encountered. Alleva was with the army of occupation in Germany.

Dr. Ira J. Hain, '08, who has been Assistant Health Commissioner of Reading, Pa., has been appointed Chief of the service. Dr. Hain is reported to be doing splendid work toward making Reading a better place in which to live.

"Jing" Johnson, '16, and wife were callers at the College on March 30. "Jing" has accepted a position with the Bethlehem Steel Company at Bethlehem and will pitch for the company's baseball team during the coming season.

Schaff Team Wins From Gettysburg
rality. Mr. Sharett showed how they benefited the employees, and Capt. Peeling forcefully presented arguments in favor of the paradoxical proposition that labor unions benefitted even the employers.

The Schaff team was composed of Frank I. Sheeder, Capt. Oliver K. Maurer, George P. Kehl, and F. Nelsen Schlegel, alternate. Mr. Sheeder, with splendid logic and oratory, showed that labor unions are detrimental because they injure society by forcing men to strike unwillingly and by imposing hardship upon innocent people. Mr. Maurer logically and convincingly quoted statements and figures proving that unions are detrimental from an economic standpoint. Mr. Kehl showed the injury caused to society by the political activities of unions.

The rebuttal was even more interesting and intense but in this the fate of the negative was sealed by the general trend of the rebuttal of the Schaff men who showed that labor unions, over conscious of power, are now working greater injury than benefit to society.

The judges for the debate were: Dr. O. S. Kriebel, Principal of Perkiomen School, Pennsburg; Nicholas H. Larzelere, Esq., Norristown, and Aaron S. Swartz, Jr., Norristown.

Before the debate opened, Mr. Willauer, president of Schaff, who presided, introduced Miss Boeshore and Mr. Stock, who entertained with a piano duet and encore. Miss Sutcliffe, with a reading, and Mr. Peterman with a violin solo, both of which were well rendered and much enjoyed, also assisted in the program of the evening.

Coming Events

Northampton County alumni will be glad to know that the Ursinus Girls' Glee Club will be in their vicinity this week end. The girls, who have already given a number of most successful concerts, will be at St. Mark's Reformed Church, Easton, on Friday evening, April 16, and on the following evening will give a concert in St. John's Reformed Church, Bangor. A rare treat is in store for those who can find it convenient to attend.

A joint meeting of the Montgomery County Teachers' Association and the Schuylkill Valley Schoolmen's Club will be held in Bomberger Hall on Educational Day early in May. The exact date will be announced thru these columns as soon as it is definitely decided.

On Wednesday afternoon, April 14, the Varsity nine will meet Swarthmore College at Swarthmore. On Saturday, April 17, they will journey to East Orange, N. J., where they will meet the strong Seton Hall team of that place.

Make your plans now to be at the College on Saturday, May 15. Baseball at three o'clock with Lebanon Valley, May Day exercises at six, and an operetta, "Miss Cherry Blossom," on the campus at eight. The latter is being rehearsed under the direction of the departments of music and expression.

Miss Curtis, soprano; Miss Montague, alto; Mr. Isenberg, tenor, and Mr. Thomas, bass. They were highly talented vocalists and rounds of applause followed every selection. The first part of the program consisted of solo work as well as selections by the whole company. The Churning Scene from Robin Hood and the Italian character song by Mr. Isenberg were especially appreciated. Between the first and second parts of the program Miss Montague gave a reading which had to do with a delightful little love affair in a quaint old English town during the period of Napoleonic wars. A complete operetta entitled the "Japanese Romance" was given for the last half of the program which was as follows:

"Spirit of Spring", "Provincial Song", "An Old Fashioned Town", Miss Curtiss; selection—"Red Feather", "Sweet and Low", selection—"Persian Garden", "Big Bass Viol", "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep", Mr. Thomas; Churning Scene from "Robin Hood"; "Modern Version of Old Nursery Rhymes"; "The Slave Girl," "Moon Behind the Cotton Bush", Miss Montague; Italian Character song, Mr. Isenberg; reading, Miss Montague, and the operetta, "The Japanese Romance".

Berks County Club Entertained.

The members of the Berks County Club were entertained by Miss Louise Hinkle, '22, at her home, 305 South 4th Street, Reading, Pa. Games were enjoyed and a delightful repast was served. Vocal selections were rendered by Miss Wagner, '20, and Messrs. Walton, '20, and Fretz, '23, accompanied at the piano by Miss Hinkle. The guests included Misses Sarah Hinkle, and Catherine Palm and Mr. Walton, '20.
