URSINUS COLLEGE.

The opening, this month, of the fall term of Ursinus College will be marked by the largest attendance in the history of the institution. The imposing and roomy dormitories, added to the equipment of buildings on the college grounds, are about completed. They will afford the added room to meet the requirements of a larger student body. The changes in, and additions to, the Faculty give promise of increased educational strength in adequately imparting the knowledge comprehended by effective college work. This consideration is worthy of note, in connection with other attractive features of the college which, to a gratifying degree, has come to be recognized as one of the outstanding institutions of higher learning in Eastern Pennsylvania, and as occupying a prominent position among the colleges of the United States. Therefore, it is altogether in order that the citizens of Collegeville and Montgomery county should take especial pride in whatever measure of success is attained from time to time by Ursinus College, and to graciously facilitate President Omwake, the Board of Directors, and the members of the Faculty, because of their devotion and efficiency in discharging their respective duties.

THE WORLD'S ENDING.

When? Many have wondered, since the far-off epoch when men began to think about the earth, and began to wonder about how it came to exist and when it would end. They are wondering now. The end continues to be prophecied. Once upon a time the Millerites were sure the end was coming ; positively certain. They had the date fixed. They sold all their worldly belongings, attired themselves with white sheets and climbed up grade to high ground and-and waited, and waited, and waited. They sang and prayed, and then waited some more. Then they went back to housekeeping. The old earth kept right on swinging in space along the line of its orbit, just as it keeps on going in the same old way and, as it probably will keep going many millions of years. The prophets of old died-everyone of them, and the old earth never gave them a thought or a care. The prophets of the present are also predicting the end of the world. They have gotten into the habit; they have become obsessed with an hallucination. By and by they will die-it will be the end of the world with them, sure enough. And the old earth will go right on revolving, and circling about its orbit. It has been fixed in its habit of revolving and circling for many, many, millions of years. The prophets and all others are only incidental, infinitesimal specs on the flywheel of time. If their descendants, generation after generation, remotely survive for a sufficient length of time they will probably freeze to death. Just because the old earth is more likely to become (millions of years hence) a cold and barren planet than it is likely (meanwhile) to end in a general smash-up-in a catastrophe involving the solar system. . . . The human race is prone to obsessions. Obsessions are characteristic vagaries of imaginative faculties. Vagaries devoid of reason or common sense. And there is a reason why. To be sure. There is a reason why, a cause for everything, including every vagary of every human brain in existence. Reason, alone, is the only known eliminator of obsessions, except-death !

TOO MUCH LENIENCY.

____0___

Early Sunday morning a motorist was arrested on the Bethlehem pike. His erratic progress attracted police attention. He was arrested and found to be intoxicated. As a drunken car driver he was released under $600 bail. He should have been placed in jail until the next term of court. Intoxicated drivers are a deadly menace on the highways. They cause numerous accidents, cripples and deaths. There is entirely too much legal triffing with dangerous motorists, including those who are in part crazy in their recklessness, without being drunk.

LIVING BEYOND INCOME.

An exchange puts it this wise :

If you are living beyond your income and kidding yourself with the belief that in some rosy future an increase of pay or the death of some mythical relative will enable you to get straight with the world, you are flirting with dishonor. If you are standing on life's rugged shore waiting for your ship to come in and doing nothing toward building that ship, you are going to die waiting. In your secret heart you know you haven't a ghost of a chance to come clean. . . . When you live beyond your income you are mortgaging your honor. There is not any honorable way to live beyond your incomenot one. You aren't fooling yourself. In your secret heart you know whether you will be able to pay for the things you buy. And if you know you won't be able to pay, the difference between you and your "Charge it" and the thief who snatches a pair of silk stockings from the counter is wholly in your imagination.

PENNSYLVANIA ABANDONED FARMS.

In a pamphlet issued by the Census Bureau, giving statistics of Pennsylvania agriculture for 1925, there is food for thought for the consumer of the products of Pennsylvania farms. In 1910 the population of this State was 7,065,111; in 1920 it was 8,720,017; in 1925 it was estimated by the Census Bureau at 9,476,116. The number of people who are largely fed by our farms increased in the 15 years by 23 per cent. The number of farms in the State in 1910 was 219,295, totaling 18,586,832 acres. In 1920 there were 202,250 farms, totaling 17,657,513 acres. In 1925 we had 200,443 farms, of 16,296,468 acres. While our population was increasing 23 per cent. the number of our farms was decreasing nearly 9 per cent., and the acreage in farm land was decreasing over 12 per cent. The acreage of farm land per head of population has shrunk 29 per cent. in 15 years.

Abandoned farms will continue to be numerous until decreasing farm production lessens the food supply and people begin to suffer hunger because of scarcity of food and of exorbitant prices. Then there will be considerable migration from cities to farm lands.

Several compilations have been made as to how many of the people who are included in Who's Who in America are college bred, based on various editions. The results have been about the same. In round numbers, 77 out of every 100 persons give ing educational data, whose names appear in the 1922-1923 edition, attended college; 64 out of every 100 were college graduates.
