BACCALAUREATE SERMON BY REV. A. O. REITER

Takes Text From Mark, 8-24—I See Men,
For I Behold Them as Trees Walking

Baccalaureate services for the graduating class was held last Sunday night in Bomberger Hall. The principal speaker of the evening was the Reverend Amos O. Reiter, pastor of the Trinity Reformed Church, Pottsville. The order of service was as follows: Processional—"Forward Be Our Watchword," Alford, by College choir; scripture lesson (from 8th Psalm) and prayer, Dr. Omwake; sermon, Reverend Amos O. Reiter; hymn—"Guide Me O Thou Great Jehovah," Williams, by congregation; recessional—"O Jesus I Have Promised," Bode, by College choir; benediction, Rev. Reiter.

A resume of Rev. Reiter's sermon is as follows:

There was a blind man Since his birth he had never beheld anything of the world. His conception of objects had been gained by what people had told him. But one day he heard of a great healer, Christ, and went to him. Christ laid his hands upon the

ALUMNI ATHLETIC CLUB MEETS

Elects Officers and Reaches Important
Conclusion Concerning Athletic Field

The Alumni Athletic Club held its annual meeting at dinner on Saturday evening. In the absence of Dr. D. R. Faringer, president, Dr. Omwake was made chairman of the meeting. W. R. Douthett, secretary, presented a report of the Club's recent activities. Since some forty members of this body have been absent in military service; the work of the club was suspended during the past year. Now, however, it is intended that its efforts in behalf of athletics at Ursinus shall be pushed harder than ever.

The club voted to purchase a strip of land adjoining the present field on which it has had an option for several years and to proceed, as soon as funds can be secured, with the enlargement and improvement of the field. This will include the resurfacing of the plot and the building of a quarter-mile track. The committee placed in charge of this work consists of the executive officers of the club together with Chas. F. Deiningner, Germantown, and M. W. Godshall, of Collegeville. This committee will aim to largely increase the membership, all fees to be devoted to the making of the contemplated improvements. The membership of the club prior to the war was approximately one hundred.

Officers for the coming year were elected as follows: President, Sergeant Harry W. Mathieu, Trappe, Pa.; vice president, H. R. Miller, Collegeville, Pa.; secretary, W. R. Douthett, Wayne, Pa.; treasurer, Ralph E. Miller, Collegeville, Pa. Members of the Executive Council, the Athletic Director, Dr. D. R. Faringer of Philadelphia and H. P. Tyson of Collegeville.

THE URSINUS WOMAN'S CLUB HOLDS MEETING

Discusses a Number of Important Questions and Plans for the Future

The Ursinus Woman's Club held its annual meeting on Saturday afternoon in the Philosophy Room. The President, Miss Marion Spangler, presided.

Mrs. G. Leslie Omwake, the treasurer, announced a balance in the treasury of $216.94.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. Helen Neff Tyson, president; Mrs. Bertha Shipe Miller, vice president; Miss Miriam Hendricks, secretary; Mrs. Adele T. Miller, treasurer. On the Governing Board: Miss Marion Spangler, Mrs. L. A. Shiffert, Miss Ruth Craft, Mrs. Colonel Regar and Miss Mary Stoner.

The Ursinus Woman's Club, always alive, is now intensely so, with great plans for the future, amongst them being added means of raising money, and the starting of an endowment fund. Of particular interest to the girls now at Ursinus is the announcement of an increase in the salary of Miss MacCann, assuring us of another year of her excellent work.

Following the business meeting, supper was served, and Derr Hall echoed to the animated conversation and laughter of friends and the singing of the Girls' Glee Club. Miss Markely presided as toastmaster in her gracious manner introducing the speakers: Mrs. Tyson, the new president, Miss MacCann, Miss Sheaffer, Miss Kate Gregor, Mrs. Wm. O. Yost, Mrs. Barnard and Miss Bunnell.

It was a special privilege to hear the inspiring words of Mrs. Barnard, the wife of a former professor at Ursinus, and of Miss Bunnell, most pleasantly remembered as teacher of elocution here. She recited two gems—poems of her own.

The girls of the class of 1919, Miss MacCann, Miss Ham, Miss Ermold, Mrs. Barnard and Miss Bunnell were guests of the evening. The singing of the campus song brought to an end a very delightful occasion.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB RENDERS HOME CONCERT

Large Audience Hears a Most Enjoyable
Program

As a fitting climax to their successful season away the Girl's Glee Club gave a delightful concert before a large and appreciative audience in Bomberger Hall last Saturday evening. The entire program was indeed full of glee, first by the catchy encores, especially "K-K-Katy" in Latin, and then the sketch entitled, "Trouble at Ursinus."

Besides the numerous varied numbers by the entire Glee Club there were several individual numbers of merit. Miss Sheaffer sang a very beautiful collection of Japanese songs in the early part of the program and Miss Greta Hinkle, the club's leader and soprano soloist sang two pretty selections and an equally well enjoyed encore.

Needless to say the sketch was chuck full of local personalities. The plot as played involved the planning and rehearsal of a sketch for Society. However, Nora, the Irish maid, (Frieda Ash) upon overhearing a conversation on the plans becomes excited and tells Miss Waldron (Rebekah Sheaffer) of the plot to kill her. Nevertheless Miss Waldron seems to understand the situation and at the rehearsal, Nora is nearly frightened into hysterics by the arrival of the ghosts. Her shriek brings Miss Waldron to the scene and the girls are reprimanded for talking after the ten-thirty bell.

The season of the Girls' Glee Club has been quite successful. Miss Sheaffer, the business manager, deserves special commendation on the successful season which included trips to Spring City, Phoenixville, Oaks and Norristown.

The program was as follows: I. "Morn—Rise," Czibulka; "A Dreaming Rose," A. Harris; "The Romance of a Cake Shop," Osborne—Glee Club. II. "Japanese Songs," Fay Foster—Rebekah S. Sheaffer and Glee Club. III. "Dear Lad of Mine," Brauscombe; "Knitting," Risher—Glee Club. IV. "Danza Tripolina," Yon—Dorothy A. Mentzer. V. "Woo, Thou Sweet Music," Elgar; "Stars of the Summer Night," West; "The Drummer Boy's Song," French Air—Glee Club. VI. "Louisiana Lullaby," Fay Foster; "Just Smile," Parks—Glee Club. VII. "Love is the Wind," MacFayden; "Why," Wells—Greta P. Hinkle. VIII. Sketch—"Trouble at Ursinus," Emily R. Phillips, Pauline B. Davis, Elizabeth M. Lattell, Ruth E. Snyder, Marguerite Z. Moyer, Frieda Ash, Rebekah S. Sheaffer, Glee Club.

Editorial Comment

Another highly successful term in the life of Ursinus College is fast coming to a close. And no other year in the forty-nine of her existence, has been so checkered with innovations and change. Starting out as a military school—a part of the United States army—the term is ending as all others have done, with the College on a civilian basis. Last summer, before the government announced its plan of taking over all the colleges, it appeared as if Ursinus would be entirely without male students. Now we have before us prospects of the most prosperous of all terms—a school filled to a capacity of students and the largest freshman class that has ever entered Ursinus.

This year's senior class totals thirty-two—an average number. Last fall everyone would have prophesied that this year's commencement would be for a class made up entirely of girls. But with the war's end those who would have been called into the army were allowed to continue their studies and a number came back from the camps and are now graduating.

The undergraduate body numbers about a hundred and sixteen so that with the men returning from France the three higher classes will have a combined membership of at least a hundred and twenty-five. With a large number of freshmen the term of 1919-20 ought to be famous in the annals of Ursinus.

* * * *

It can be supposed that some of the most pleasant memories that a student carries away with him from Ursinus are crammed into the days immediately after final examinations until the end of the term. With all studies completed and the exhilarant feeling of examinations well passed, everyone lays back on the oars and lets the tide drift him where it lists. The campus is a mighty fine and cool place on these days and how pleasant it is to sit there and dream of what one is going to do until school begins again.

SCHAFF LITERARY SOCIETY

It has long been the custom of Schaff to devote the last meeting of the year to the Seniors. This in a way gives the members of the departing class an opportunity to make their final appearance before the society and bid farewell. Much effort is usually expended on this program for the Seniors naturally deserve that their last performance be a good one. Last Friday evening's program was very entertaining featuring the Senior class history, Senior class prophecy and presentation of Schaff tokens.

The program was as follows: Piano solo, Miss Shiffert; recitation, "The Bridge"—Longfellow, Carroll Deisher; "Senior Class, History," Miss Boyd; violin solo, Mr. Paladino; oration, "The Chorus of a Million," Greta Hinkle; "Senior Class Prophecy," Mr. Raetzer and Miss Wickersham; "My Father's Comical Mule" and "Repetition of Our Four Years at School," by mixed quartette, Miss Sheaffer, leader, assisted by Miss Greta Hinkle, Mr. Rutschky and Mr. Raetzer; "Presentation of Schaff Tokens," Miss Chandler and Miss Schweigert; "Farewell Speech," Mr. Rutschky; Gazette, Mr. Krekstein.

The prophecy by Mr. Raetzer and Miss Wickersham was very humorous and portrayed the life of each member of the Senior class ten years hence. Raetzer and Wickersham, theatrical directors, had just been engaged to take a company to the opening of the new Ursinus theatre and the managers incidently related queer facts concerning their former classmates.

Miss Chandler and Miss Schweigert were the presenters of the Schaff tokens and each Senior received some small present. As each individual came up for their gift some tune that best told of that person was played on the piano.

Miss Boyd read the history of her class and told of its exploits in a most heroic style. The oration "The Chorus of a Million," by Miss Greta Hinkle was an excellent tribute to the powers and charms of music. The program was concluded by a few remarks by John Willauer, ex-'19.

Immediately after adjourning, tables were set up in Schaff and ice cream, cake and punch were sold to members of both societies. The profit went to the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Hinkle, chairman of the Schaff Essay Contest committee, awarded the three prizes for the best freshman and sophomore essays. The first prize of ten dollars went to Miss Hershberger who had written on "Modern Americanism." The essay, "Women in War Times," by Miss Bookman drew the second prize of five dollars, while the third prize of two and a half dollars went to Miss Walker for her essay, "Chemistry as a Science."

CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS

The campus meeting on last Wednesday evening marked the close of the year's work in Christian activity. It was a joint meeting of the associations, led by Miss Beddow. Following the custom of former years this meeting is generally addressed by the two ex-presidents with a word or two added by the incoming executive officers. Miss Maurer, as the ex-president of the Y. W. C. A., gave us the story of the centurion who loved his slave to such an extent that he sought the Master to come and heal him. This picture represents that spirit with which we must meet every-day problems.

The work of the Y. M. C. A., under the direction of Mr. May, was carried on through an indeed trying, unsettled time. Although great plans had been laid by the delegates to the Northfield Conference last June, with the coming of the S. A. T. C. conditions were so changed that the plans, which had been made, had to be put aside. But with the signing of the armistice, the association went back to the civilian basis and the work was carried on more successfully. However, as we look back on the year's activities we can see that a great change has come over the College. The very evidence that about ten men are going to the Student Conference at East Northfield, Mass., speaks for itself.

Miss Gingrich, as the new president for the new year gave an outline of the work anticipated for the next year in the Y. W. C. A. Plans of any definite nature could not be laid, of course, until after the summer conference at Eaglesmere, Pennsylvania. The Y. W. C. A. will be represented by sixteen members from the College which is a larger number by far than has ever represented Ursinus at any conference. The plans outlined for the work in the men's association were discussed by Mr. Wildasin. The Y. M. C. A. is making big strides these days and has completed plans for a "Y" social rooms in Freeland Hall. The association has had the use of these rooms ever since February, but the furnishing, etc., has been somewhat slow in development, due mostly to the numerous financial campaigns which have been conducted this spring. With the women's association, the Y. M. C. A. is publishing a College "Hand Book," to fill the need of new students coming into contact with the life at Ursinus for the first time.

Paul E. Elicker, '14, head of the department of mathematics in The Collegiate School, New York City, has been appointed on the College Entrance Examination Board. He has charge of the Newark, N. J., section. Mr. Elicker is to be congratulated on this appointment since it is rather unusual for a man so young in the profession to be placed in so responsible a position.

The "Weekly" takes great pleasure in announcing the marriage of Dana F. Griffin, '19, to Helen M. Smith on May 30 at Elkton, Maryland. Miss Smith is the Assistant Secretary at the Harrisburg High School. Mr. Griffin is a member of this year's Senior class and while in College has been a prominent athlete.

The Tower Window

BEGINNING next fall only such students will be admitted to Ursinus as agree to refrain from all forms of hazing and class rushing. These practices have been carried on in American colleges but they are not American either in origin or spirit. In our institution hazing has never been vicious and yet incidents have occurred which have brought shame and censure on the fair name of the College. Usually following such an occurrence there has been a well-meant attempt at regulation or control on the part of the students themselves. But generations of students pass quickly and the good purposes of one are not handed to the next with any degree of dependableness.

The worst vice is the insufferable interference with college work occasioned by class rivalries with their clandestine activities, robbing students of time and perverting their energies, when they are especially needed for study. Many new subjects are begun at the opening of the year, and in beginning a new study it is essential that individual attention be given to the fundamentals then presented and upon which further mastery of the course depends.

By recent action of the Faculty, a start will now be made on a new epoch at Ursinus in which hazing and class rushing will not occur, because of the united action of the students, individually pledged, by which these practices will be placed under the ban. No student who does not freely enter into this agreement will be admitted. The personal freedom and comfort of every student in College regardless of the length of time he has been in the institution is thus assured.

This does not mean, however, that the student body as a whole acting through its representative bodies, the councils, may not make rules and maintain customs affecting the life of the College, and it need not be expected that the regulations governing the action of freshmen and seniors shall be the same. All such regulations having the approval of the Faculty or governing officers will also have their backing for enforcement. Thus all needful co-operation necessary to a happy and consistent life in Ursinus is assured. G. L. O.

H. P. Group Enjoys Sociable Evening.

The H. P. Group met for the last time Thursday evening in the Field Cage, which was artistically decorated with greens of different kinds. The hanging branches of trees gave to it almost the appearance of a forest. Miss MacCann, Miss Ham and Mr. Deitz were the guests of the evening. Games were played and refreshments served. Everyone concluded that it was a fine meeting and a typical one with which to send off the Seniors.

blind man and told him to look up. He exclaimed "I see men for I behold them as trees walking." His conception of men had always been wrong; it took a second touch from the hand of Christ to make him see clearly.

Most of us are as this blind man when he first saw light. We need a second touch to make us see clearly. A poet, a child, an artist, a botanist, a thief, a lumberman, or lovers go into a forest and all see it differently. To one it is a thing of beauty; to another it is only a source of wealth. Parents, associates and schools have opened up our eyes; we need another and a greater power to make us see clearly. We can not comprehend the glory and dignity of church and state for we see "men as trees walking." The great need of humanity is clearness of vision. Some look to Democracy, Socialism, Anarchism or Bolshevism for the saving of the world, but these are only dimly understood by those who most strongly believe in them.

The individual can never place himself at the center of things. That place is for God. There are two foci which we must never lose sight of; society and then ourselves. It is thru Church and State and the rational working out of our institutions that the nations will better themselves. If one clings fast to the State and forgets the Church, he is beholding things with a dimmed vision and visa versa. The League of Nations should be established but it will not bring peace to the nations of the world and they will never attain peace until they harken to the words of the Great Teacher.

A man may know the name that the learned have given to every star in heaven but if he does not know the star of Bethlehem he sees "men as trees walking." In 1914 the world was gripped with the fury of hate and plunged into war with a vision that was dim and with blinded eyes. What we need is men and women of vision, not visionaries, who have the faith that in the end all will be well with the world.

Recital By Music Students

The last recital of the year by students of music was given last Saturday afternoon in Bomberger Hall. The program given was as follows: "The Jolly Workman," Gaynor, Norman Stockett, Jr.; "A Spanish Romance," Sawyer, Anna Grim; "March of the Forest Sprites" and "A Goblin," Gaynor, Eveline Omwake; "Sing On," Denza, Josephine Xander; "The Evening Bell," Martin, Katherine Tower; "My Ain Folk," Lemon, Catherine Heindel; Prelude, C Minor, Concione, and "The Mill," Frank, Emma Tower; "What's in the Air," Eden, Mildred Erney; "Fur Elise," Beethoven, Elizabeth Clapham; "Prelude Op. 28, No. 15," Chopin, Mildred Erney; "Norwegian Bridal Procession," Grieg, Miriam Boeshore; "I Long For You," Hawley, Cynthia Messinger; "L' Hiver," (Winter), Albeniz, Ruth Snyder; "Two Roses," Gilberte, Matilda Maurer; "Poupee Valsante," Poldini, Jeanne Stevens; "Ave Maria," Raff, Rebekah Sheaffer; "Serenade d' Arlequin," Dutton, Bernice Wagner.

The statement published in last week's "Weekly," that Kerr Thompson, '11 would probably be in charge of athletics and physical training at Ursinus next year, is incorrect. He has received a tempting offer from the Slippery Rock Normal School, and it is likely that he will take a position at that place.

ZWINGLIAN LITERARY SOCIETY

Senior night was observed in Zwinglian hall on Friday night. The members from the Senior class took part in rendering the best miscellaneous program that was given this past year in Zwing. The fact that it was the last appearance of the Seniors as active members of the society made the program more impressive.

Miss Phillips opened the program with a violin solo. An encore was given. This was followed by a vocal solo by Mr. Beers. Miss Maurer was the accompanist to both these numbers. Mr. May read the interesting and amusing "Zwinglian Senior Records." This was followed by Miss Macdonald's charming rendition of "The Apple Orchard," a short poem. A quartette composed of Miss Lattell, leader, and Misses Barnes, Phillips and Maurer then sang two beautiful selections. The second selection, "When We've Gone," was very appropriate. A humorous sketch was next presented by Misses Moul and Jones and Messrs. Savage and Hunter.

The oration of the evening was delivered by Mr. Yaukey. "Democracy of the Newer Age" was his subject. Miss Grater read the "Zwinglian Review." In her editorial she pleaded with the three lower classes to do their best in everything. Mr. Griffin gave the Senior's "Farewell Address." The response to this was given in behalf of the undergraduates by Mr. Wildasin. He very forcibly and pointedly expressed the appreciation of the Senior's work and wished them Godspeed.

The Zwinglian members of the Class of 1919 were then elected to honorary membership in the society.
